Mr. Gibson's resolution, that in the opinion of this House provision should be made for the admission of women to University College, opened to discussion a question of much importance. The Speaker's gallery was almost filled with ladies, to whom the subject has an interest. The debate on Mr. Gibson's resolutions was one of the most thoughtful and dignified of the session. The ventilation the subject received can scarcely fail to be of value to the cause of education. The House remained well-filled during the whole debate, which occupied nearly six hours. The resolution was carried on division.

FEMALE FRANCHISE.

A very animated discussion took place on Mr. Waters' bill to confer the franchise in municipal elections on widows and unmarried women holding property. Messrs. Fraser and Meredith opposed the bill, largely on the ground that any extension of the franchise in this direction would lead to still further extensions of female suffrage. Hon. Mr. Ross supported the bill on the ground of justice, and was supported by Messrs. Grey, Roe, and several other members. The vote in favor of the bill was 42 to 26.

NO SALOONS.

A deputation representing the Licensed Victuallers of Ontario waited upon the Attorney-General yesterday with the request that the law be so altered as to debar saloons from being licensed.

"SARAH'S" SCRAP-BOOK.

Mr. Carnegie's scrap-book scandals, gathered and scheduled with conspicuous care, and Mr. Creighton's figures, tabulated with back-aching perseverance throughout many weary months, are chief among the humiliating Opposition failures of the present session of the Legislature. It is well, indeed, that the session is nearly over, in order that the scrap-book and the figures may have further revisions, and be if possible supplied with a basis of fact. Surely Mr. Meredith's lieutenants cannot expect him to sustain his consuming indignation on such unsubstantial food. Change the diet. The strong man from London wants meat.

THURSDAY.

LICENSE LAW AMENDMENT.

Mr. Hardy's Act amending the liquor license law was up for discussion. The bill includes a large number of amendments on the first draft published. The local option principle is applied more liberally than under the McCarthy Act, which provides that no new license shall be granted in a polling sub-division where three-fifths of the voters petition against it. Mr. Hardy's Act gives a mere majority the power to prevent the issue of a new license, or a transfer of an old one. An important amendment is that by which it is made compulsory upon a license inspector to prosecute for a second and third violation of the license law. Appeals from convictions must be made direct to the County Judge.

NOXIOUS WEEDS.

The Act introduced by the Provincial Treasurer to prevent the spread of obnoxious weeds and diseases affecting fruit trees very naturally gave rise to a great deal of discussion as to the best methods of accomplishing the objects aimed at by the bill. The members from the Agricultural districts were among the chief debaters on the subject, but the lawyers displayed an unexpected acquaintance with the subject. A number of amendments were made to the bill, which passed its second reading.

FRIDAY.

COUNTY COUNCILS.

Mr. Drury moved his resolution for a committee to consider the desirability of so amending the Municipal Act that the number of members in county councils may be reduced, and to collect evidence on the subject. He does not contemplate action being taken this year, but very properly appreciates the growing agitation in some counties where the county councils have proved to be unnecessarily large and expensive. The Chancellor's labours will no doubt serve to enlighten the public as to what means can be taken to reduce the expensiveness of such councils, and may result in some modifications in their constitution, but the difficulties in the way of effecting any radical change at present seem to be great.

WIDE TIRED WAGONS.

Mr. Snider, in bringing before the House his bill to regulate the width of wagon tires, has adopted a good plan for bringing the merits of wide-tired wagons before the public. What should be the minimum weight of a load in the carriage of which a wide tired wagon should be made compulsory is a matter of detail on which the experience of practical men will no doubt be brought to bear; and how far legislation should go in making wide tires compulsory cannot be decided without much consideration, but the saving effected by the use of wide tires in the maintenance of roads, in the lesser draught of horses, and the avoidance of cutting up fields is a matter which experience has decided to be very great. Mr. Snider quoted his own experience and that of others in favor of wide tires. Mr. Laidlaw showed how roads in his township, which had previously cost much for repairs, were now kept in good condition at little expense since a by-law compelling the use of wide tires. Messrs. Phelps and Creighton gave testimony to the same effect, and also in regard to the saving on horses. The bill, which if adopted would not go into force for five years, has been referred to the Municipal Committee.

A Startling Discovery.

Mr. Wm. Johnson, of Harcs, Dak., writes that his wife had been troubled with acute Bronchitis for many years, and that all remedies tried gave no permanent relief, until he procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which had a magical effect, and produced a permanent cure. It is guaranteed to cure all Diseases of Throat, Lungs, or Bronchial Tubes.

A MAD ENGINEER.

A startling event happened at an early hour this morning in connection with the mail train from Brest, which is due at Paris at 4:50 o'clock, while proceeding at full speed the passengers observed the brakes to be put on with such suddenness that fears were entertained that a collision was imminent, especially as the spot at which the train was drawn up was in utter darkness. Upon the guard reaching the engine he found the stoker endeavoring to overpower the driver who had evidently lost his reason. After blocking the line the guard joined the stoker and succeeded in securing the unfortunate man, but not until after he had offered a desperate resistance. The locomotive was then put in motion, the nearest station reached without further misadventure, and the driver was placed in custody. The train ultimately arrived in Paris after two hours' delay.

An End to Nose Scraping.

Edward Shephard, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let sufferrng humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c. per box by Taylor and Macdonald's.

FORTY YEARS AGO.

Just forty years ago to-day (March 5th) the first number of the Toronto Globe was issued, with the late Geo. Brown, Editor and Proprietor. The Globe in its news column heralded the "Arrival of the Hibernia," with "full files of the London and Provincial papers of Feb. 3rd, news one month and ten day old. It was thus that our forefathers got the news prior to the days of the telegraph. The Globe in its initial number contained the constitution of the Reform Association of Canada, and among its office bearers was the late J. Shuter Smith, Esq., one of the recording secretaries. The taste of the Torontonians was as depraved as now, for amongst the advertisements, William Henderson, of 48 King Street, offers for sale 20 bbls. of "Port Hope whiskey."

A Laughing Devil.

"There was a laughing devil in his sneer," and consumption in his cough. Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry could cure the cold but nothing the devil. This Balsam possesses wonderful properties for the cure of all kinds of lung and throat diseases. Mr. L. A. Miles, of Burleigh, Ont., had been troubled with a bad cough for six months, and could find nothing to relieve it until he got a bottle of Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam, and the second left him entirely cured.

ALL USE THREE LANGUAGES.

Lord Coleridge, speaking in America, said that every educated speaker of English uses at least three different languages. When he talks he uses colloquial English; when he writes he uses literary English, and when he reads his Bible he uses an antiquated form of English, which, from its relation to modern culture, may almost be called sacred English. So, within the one language there are at least three languages, blending with and overlapping each other, yet each independent of the other, having its own forms, its own vocabulary, and its own rules of use.

DEER ON THE K. AND P.R.

A. Hoppins, who spent some days along the line of the Kingston and Pembroke railway, says there are deer in abundance at Crotch lake, and that they can be caught without difficulty, as they sink through the crust of the snow and become helpless. One man named Crane saw a deer fastened in the snow. He released it and led it home. He said it walked along as quietly as a cow would have done.

WEDNESDAY.

NUMBERS THE SENATE.

The usefulness and dignity of the Senate as at present constituted was well exemplified to-day. Long before the third reading of the Pacific Railway Loan Bill was passed, and before the result of the vote was supposed to be known, the speaker received a note informing him that Chief Justice Ritchie, Deputy of the Governor-General, would come down to the Senate Chamber at 5.20 o'clock to give the Royal Assent to the bill. This was respecting the dignity of the Senate with a vengeance. The necessities of the Pacific Railway Company were great, and ordinary courtesy was not to be shown to the grave and reverend seigneurs. Messrs. Stephen, Abbott, Drinkwater, and other Syndicate magnates were hovering about the Chamber, just as, according to mariners, sharks follow a ship from which somebody is soon to fall or be cast into the sea. Mr. Plumb was speaking on the motion that the bill should pass, when the Deputy Governor appeared and the Niagara orator was told to cut his address short, which he did. The bill was then formally passed. The members of the House of Commons were summoned and the bill assented to in due form. The representatives of the Syndicate seemed happy, as well they might be.

UNEARNED SUBSIDIES.

The Public Accounts Committee also brought out the fact that Mr. F. J. Chadwick, of Guelph, a well-known Tory partisan, was advanced $200 on account of surveys in the North-West; that he never did any surveying, and that all the efforts of the Government to recover the money have thus far been unavailing.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER'S EXPENSES.

All the efforts of members of the Public Accounts Committee to-day to extract from Sir Charles Tupper some explanation respecting the $1,550 paid to him by the Immigration Department for alleged services in England in 1882, were unsuccessful.

FRIDAY.

EXODUS.

Mr. John Lowe, the Exodus Investigator of the Dominion Government, seems to have got into trouble. His statement before the Immigration Committee as to how American immigration statistics are obtained and compiled has become the subject of international correspondance between the United States and the Canadian Government. Mr. Lowe's zeal has over-stepped his discretion. The affidavits which he produced are repudiated by those who are alleged to have made them, and every one of his statement is flatly contradicted by the Chief of the Washington Statistical Bureau. The fact that the Government adopted such desperate and suicidal efforts to discredit American immigration returns shows that the exodus question is a cause of much anxiety. The British Minister at Washington reports that 64,000 Canadians settled in the United States last year, and all reliable returns go to prove that the exodus from Canada has quadrupled since the Tories came into power.

BUDGET SPEECHES.

The speeches of Messrs. Charlton and Mills on the Budget to-day were brief, but practical and effective. Mr. Charlton thoroughly exposed the failure of the Tories to fulfil a single one of the promises with which they deluded the people in 1878 and 1882. Mr. Mills pursued a similar line of argument, and showed the ridiculous and contemptible position in which the Ministry find themselves, since time and experience have proved their professions and pledges worthless and depression again prevails to a greater extent than ever. The only speech delivered on the Ministerial side of any consequence was that of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, who laboured for an hour and a half dealing out stale fallacies about the benefit of high taxation. The only speech of any value that Mr. McLean ever made was in the Nova Scotia Assembly, when he described Sir C. Tupper as the "Great High Priest of Corruption and Jobbery," and as one of the "swell mob who were in the habit of travelling in public conveyances with false arms folded across their breasts to lull suspicion, while their real hands were going through the pockets of the passengers." That was before Sir C. Tupper bought him with a Railway Commissionership. To-night he read a list of epithets which members of the present Ministry and their organs had applied to Sir. Richard Cartwright, and asserted that these has been used by Sir Richard himself towards his opponents. The thorough skinning he received at Sir Richard's hands must have taught him a lesson. Sir Richard quoted from Mr. McLulan's speech against Tupper, and said that he had no doubt the description of the Minister of Railways then given was far more accurate than any of the statements or statistics given this evening. After the House went into Committee, Mr. Blake and Sir. Richard Cartwright amused the House by showing how densely ignorant the Finance Minister is in regard to the probable effect of his tariff changes upon the commerce of the country.

ELEPHANTS ON THE RAMPAGE.

While the animals of Sanger a menagerie were being removed from a train at a depot in a town in Kent, England, two elephants alarmed at the whistling of engines broke loose and ran wildly through the streets, breaking the massive gates of the depot and colliding with three persons, two of whom were seriously injured. They finally made their way into a house, the flooring of which gave way precipitating the animals into a cellar. Afte two hours of work they were drawn out by other elephants. The wildest excitement prevailed on the streets.

PETERBOROUGH, MARCH 13, 1884.

"Our Member."

In his representative capacity Mr. Carnegie has been a failure, and a great source of disappointment to his most ardent admirers. It was expected by them that when he went to Toronto this session, the Government would be demolished in short order. Mr. Mowat and his colleagues were to tremble in their boots for a short space, and then step down and out. But they have withstood all the terrors of the scrap-book, whose bumptious owner has never risen even to mediocrity. Some of his failures we have already alluded to, and we may add another instance to show that "Scrap-book Sarah" falls far short of the ability and astuteness as a financial colossus, his followers have claimed for him. Last Thursday, in the discussion on Supply, Mr. Carnegie got a severe snub at the hands of Hon. Mr. Fraser. Mr. Carnegie thought that the item for salaries and expenditure in the Public Works Department, amounting to $17,880, being an increase of $200, should not be passed, and that the expenses of the Department should be diminish instead of increase. In 1873, according to the "scrap-book," the expenses were $1,500 less than they were at the present time. Mr. Fraser, in reply, said it was evident the honorable gentleman did not know what he was talking about. He understood that he (Mr. C.) was making the criticism as compared with some previous year—that there was a slight increase, and that the work was less now. It was the first time that he (Mr. Fraser) had ever heard his Department accused of extravagance—of there being too large a staff. During the past ten years there had been a large increase of work. Mr. Carnegie was certainly not aware that a large number of public buildings had been added to the Public Works Department, and all these involved additional expense. He was satisfied that if any other person took charge of the Department he would find it necessary to have an increased staff. The present staff had frequently to work over-time, and he was sure that they made more time in the Public Works than in any other Department.

Mr. Carnegie was greatly chagrined to find that his childish criticism had not only fallen flat, but that it had evoked an explanation that fortified the position of Hon. Mr. Fraser, and established the fact of the economical management of his Department. If Mr. Meredith depends on the assistance of Mr. Carnegie and others of his calibre, to clear a way to the Treasury benches, it will be a long time before he sits in Mr. Mowat's seat.

The farmers are beginning to appreciate the blessings which the protective policy of the Ottawa Government are showering on them. The Dominion Grange has veritably boarded the lion in his den. At their meeting held in Ottawa last week they demanded, among other things, the abolition of the tax on agricultural implements. The farmers know what they want, and it will take more than Sir Tilley's twaddle to convince them that taxing the tools they use is a good way to add to their prosperity. The farmer helped the N. P. the first year by supplying good crops to make the country prosperous, which the promoters of the fiscal fraud claimed the credit of for their panacea. But the moment the farmer fails in his crops, the house of cards built up by the Colossus tumbles into ruins.

Novelties in Millinery are arriving daily at Turnbull's. To arrive, a choice stock of Feathers, Flowers, Shapes, &c.

The Legislature.

The most important question discussed in the Legislative Assembly during the past week was the proposal of the Ontario Government to charge a higher fee for licenses given by the Dominion Government, under the McCarthy Act, than for licenses given by themselves under the Crooks Act. The Opposition assailed the proposal on the ground that it was intended to defeat the McCarthy Act by deterring liquor sellers from taking out licenses under it, and this was virtually admitted by Mr. Mowat in his reply to Mr. Meredith's criticisms. He justified this course, however, on the plea that the measure was forced on the Province by the Dominion Government's action, and there is little doubt about his being sustained by public opinion. He explained to the House that he had repeatedly tried to get the Ottawa authorities to come to some understanding and have the matter referred to the Privy Council for final settlement, and that his efforts had been useless. The right to impose this extra fee cannot be questioned. It is conferred by the British North America Act, and as, if to place the matter beyond all doubt, it is expressly stipulated in the McCarthy Act itself, that each Province shall have the right to impose fees on Dominion license holders. The only ground on which Mr. Meredith could assail the policy was the one he took when he moved that no scale of fees should be arranged under the Dominion Act, which the House regarded as unconstitutional. In other words, in order to obstruct the policy of Mr. Mowat he was willing to have the House affirm that Sir John Macdonald's policy was wrong, and his knowledge of constitutional law defective. Having made this declaration the Opposition must be prepared to stand by it, and to back the Government up in its efforts to have the McCarthy Act set aside. Wherever it is attempted to be enforced it is sure to throw the liquor traffic into confusion. Fortunately, Mr. Mowat's plan of discriminating against Dominion licenses in the amount of the license fee is causing liquor dealers almost everywhere to flock for shelter under the ægis of the Crooks Act, where they know they are safe. Those who do not will have to pay the heavier fee, and, as the constitutionality of the McCarthy Act remains unrecognized, they will also be liable to prosecution at the hands of the Ontario license officials. The McCarthy Act, being as unpopular in other Provinces as it is in Ontario, it is difficult to see what Sir John Macdonald has to gain, from any point of view, by enforcing it; but this is a matter about which no one need concern himself very much, except those who will suffer from his obstinacy—the members of the Opposition in the Ontario Assembly.

At the same sitting the House resolved to add to the fees now payable under the Crooks Act, but so as to leave the increased amount still far below that chargeable under the McCarthy Act. This was not much objected to by any one, and the proposal was agreed to without a formal division. It is expected that a considerable addition to the Provincial revenue will result from this change, but this expectation may be disappointed, should any considerable number of counties adopt the Scott Act. As this is a matter entirely beyond the control of the Legislature, the latter must, of course, go on and make such improvements as it can in its own license system, and leave the rest in the hands of the people. If they prefer the abolition of all licenses the Government must put up with it, and look elsewhere for a revenue.

There has been standing on the notice paper of the Assembly since early in the session, a motion to the effect that as the Senate of Toronto University has for several years permitted girls to come up to its examinations, and thus secure academical standing, the Council of University College should allow them to attend the lectures given by its professors. This implies recognition to a certain extent of the principle of co-education, namely, the presence of men and women in the same class-room to listen to the same lectures. This does not imply living in residence together, or, indeed, anything more than the practice which has been in vogue for a generation in the Normal School, and which has been for at least 15 years in most of our High Schools. Mr. Gibson, of Hamilton, in moving the resolution made an able statement of the argument for co-education, and he was no less ably supported by Mr. Harcourt, both being distinguished graduates of the University and ex-students of the College. Several others spoke on the same side, and only two or three gave a mild opposition to it, the most noticeable instances being the Hon. C. F. Fraser and Mr. Gibson, of Huron, while Mr. Meredith was, though doubtful about the expediency, willing to give it a fair trial. The House was so evidently in favor of the motion that no attempt was made to take a vote, the resolution being declared "carried on a division" merely to indicate that the House was not unanimous. It is not expected that the number of girls in attendance at University College will ever be very great, but those who are ambitious to secure a University education will now have an opportunity of gratifying their desire.

On the same day the House passed the second reading of Mr. Waters' bill to confer on widows and unmarried women the ordinary municipal franchise. This is a measure of relief from an unjust disability, which ought to have been granted long ago. Mr. Waters' bill should have given the same relief to all women, married or unmarried, of the required age, who hold property in their own right; but such a measure would not have been assented to, and half a loaf is better than no bread. If no harm is found to result from the present concession, the rest is only a matter of time. When the bill comes before the Municipal Committee some difficulty may be found in providing the machinery necessary for giving it effect, but an earnest, honest effort will be successful. As women have now the school franchise, and can vote on municipal money by-laws, this last concession puts them in a very good position under the law. Their getting a further instalment of reform depends on whether they make a proper and general use of what they now enjoy, and therefore the future of the woman's suffrage movement is virtually in the women's own hands.

Other municipal matters have taken up already a considerable share of the time of the House, and will occupy a good deal more of it. Many bills have been brought in amending the Consolidated Municipal Act. Some of these have been rejected by the Municipal Committee, some of them have been held over for a year, and others of them are being incorporated into a single bill, which will be reported to the House. The Municipal Committee is this year presided over by Mr. Fraser, who is an admirable chairman, and who, in dealing with special legislation, always has a keen eye for anything that looks like a violation of sound principles of general jurisprudence.

Sir Tilley's Promises.

When the fiscal policy of the present Government was first inaugurated the country was regaled with the most magnificent promises of the unlimited prosperity that should fall upon it. The phrase, "hard times," was to be forever blotted out of the lexicon of commerce, perennial prosperity was to inundate the land in one grand financial flood. The manufacturer was to live in the midst of an unending boom, labor was to be everlastingly abundant, and wages were to remain for ever in the highest notch. The farmer was to secure the highest prices for his produce; in fine, the country was assured that a commercial millennium had set in. In the beginning of its history the N. P. did not fulfil all these grand promises, and its advocates said it had not time to develop its virtues. Time went on. In 1881-2 a general wave of prosperity moved over the world. There were good crops, good demand for lumber, factories were busy, and the receipts flowed into the Dominion treasury largely in excess of expenditure. Then great was Sir Leonard's jubilation; his policy was a great success. Prosperity continued, and in 1882 Sir Leonard repeated his boasts, and as late as 1883 he made greater boasts, and also made a prophecy that seven years of fat kine and full ears were before the people. But he proved to be a false prophet. Within a few months hard times set in, and the Tory organs were beginning to make excuses for the depression and for the business failures, that multiplied alarmingly. The Dominion receipts are now falling off, and the expenditures are increasing. There is no reason to be surprised that the expenditures are increasing, for in every Department there is the most lavish and corrupt waste of the public money, and the Pacific "loan" will add greatly to the burdens of the people. When times were good, labour plentiful and wages high, people did not feel the burden of taxation as they do now, with all these conditions reversed. But the taxes are still laid on; and, now, when hard times, scarcity of labour and low wages, are with us, is when the poor man will feel the oppression of heavy taxes. Not one of the many great promises made in the name of the N. P. has been fulfilled. Manufacturing has not been developed, except in the ratio which would have obtained under a period of financial prosperity without it. The labour market has not been kept up to the the promised rate of demand, and wages have fallen off to hard times figures. Business failures have been abnormally abundant, and everything goes to show that the N. P. has increased the cost of living and added to the taxes of the people, without giving a corresponding benefit. There is no need to multiply instances; the failure of the N. P. to do one-tenth of what Sir Leonard Tilley has promised in its name is too patent. The people have been ground down by taxes, and the resulting revenue has been squandered by the Government, to a great extent, corruptly. Such a state of things must come to an end; it cannot last. The people will sooner or later become aroused to a realization of the financial quackery Sir Leonard has been practising for years, and when the reaction comes the awakening for the Tory party will be terrible.

In spite of the disastrous failure of his fiscal policy, Sir Leonard is still clinging to high taxation. The Monetary Times, a first-rate authority, deals trenchantly with the bungling policy of Sir Leonard in crushing the people with high taxes. The Times says:

"An industry which is not self-sustaining, but is propped up by high duties which artificially increase the cost of the product to the consumer, lives on enforced charity; it is a pauper organization leading a useless life at the expense of the rest of the community. Useful it cannot be if it cannot, without State aid, earn enough to support itself; if it imposes a burthen on the public, it is not, and cannot be, a public benefit. Even if an infant manufacture may legitimately be nursed, for a while, there will come a time when, if it cannot go alone, it must be left to its fate. The coal duties are a blight and a mildew to the very industries in the name of which protection lives and breathes; the taxes on food are a delusion and a bane; and yet Sir Leonard Tilley elects to retain both."

Another triumph for the great N. P. Oats 43 cents a bushel in Buffalo, and 37 in Toronto. Farmers in love with the National Policy please make a note of this fact.

Cost of Licenses.

Sir John admits the validity of the Crooks Act, for he has advised hotel keepers to take out licenses under both the Crooks and the McCarthy Acts. Let us see what this ingenuous advice will cost in Peterborough:

UNDER CROOKS ACT.
A tavern license, municipal tax	$200 00
A tavern license additional under act now being passed, to Ontario Legislature	60 00
	$260 00
UNDER DOMINION ACT.
Fee collected by Dominion on application	$ 10 00
Fee collected by Dominion on granting license	5 00
Payable to Ontario Government before license can issue	300 00
Total	$575 00

The total cost therefore to a Peterborough hotel keeper who follows Sir John's advice, will be the modest sum of $575. If a hotel keeper is foolish enough to throw away $315 on a License Act which the Imperial Privy Council has decided Sir John has no power to pass, it is their own concern, and they are welcome to all the fun they can extract from such a course of action. Some license districts are ignoring the McCarthy Act entirely. Welland, Centre Wellington and Lincoln, have resolved to take out licenses under the Crooks Act only, and they are wise in so doing.

Badly Sold.

The Tory party in Ontario has, through its representatives in Toronto, been so sat upon and squelched the present session that a single ray of comfort of the most dubious kind, was hailed as a beacon of light. Such was regarded the defeat of the nominee of the Reform Convention in South Oxford—a Reform defeat and a Tory victory—to be exultingly crowed over. Mr. Cooke was put down gleefully by the Tories as an Independent member, who would oppose the Government. It was hailed as a gloriously encouraging sign that Mowat must go, when there was a prospect that his majority of fourteen was liable to be reduced to thirteen. But despair was their doom, and blank were their faces, when, on Friday last, the new member for South Oxford entered the House, supported by the Provincial Secretary and the Ministerial whip. The fact is, Mr. Cooke, the new member, is a thorough Liberal, and fully in accord with the Mowat Administration. His opposition to Mr. Noxon was purely personal and local in its character. Mr. Cooke was elected by Reformers (he couldn't be elected by anything else in South Oxford), and will support the wise and patriotic policy of a Reform Government.

Editorial Notes.

Financially, under Sir Leonard's brilliant management, we are getting on. During the past seven months of the current fiscal year the Dominion revenue has declined $2,557,177, as compared with the corresponding period of 1882-3, and the expenditure has increased by $1,392,123.

If any proof were needed of the Dominion Government's interference in Provincial elections, the narrow-minded and tyrannical dismissal of Daniel McCourt, lock-keeper on the Cornwall Canal, is a direct admission. After the last Ontario election, Mr. Darby Bergin, of Cornwall, complained that his fellow-Irishman, McCourt, had been canvassing against the Dominion Government, or in favor of the Mowat candidate, which meant the same thing, and demanded his dismissal. The matter was referred to the Superintendent of the Canal, who reported that McCourt was a most faithful and competent man. But Bergin was wroth, and demanded his dismissal. Sir Charles Tupper having "no confidence in the breed," McCourt was dismissed without enquiry, after twenty years service, and deprived of his pension. And his only crime was that he favored the Mowat candidate at the local election. This incident shows not only the petty tyranny that the Tory Government exercises, but also the importance the Dominion Government attached to their undertaking to defeat the Mowat Government.

The labouring mountain brings forth a mouse, and a ridiculous muse Mr. Meredith and his subordinates have made of it. Mr. Meredith was terribly doughty on the election stump, and at the beginning of the session he and his following were going to overwhelm and bury in political oblivion, Mr. Mowat and his Cabinet, with the mountain of corrupt conduct they were going to rake up out of the remains of the Algoma contest. But instead of bringing the matter up in parliament, an action had been entered in the courts, and then Mr. Meredith finding that their was nothing in the stolen telegrams, brings in fishing motions for the purpose of securing evidence. In other words he indicts the Ministers as criminals, and coolly asks the accused to supply the evidence to convict themselves.

The Member with the Scrap Book.

Here is a pen and ink sketch of "Scrap Book Sarah," the cognomen which has been substituted in Toronto for the name of the member for West Peterborough. It is drawn by the pen of an independent journal, the Toronto Telegram:

From beneath o'erhanging eyebrows the optics of Mr. John Carnegie, the member for West Peterborough, look upon the legislators with an air of ineffable complacency. An iron-grey beard, a broad expanse of forehead encircled by fast silvering hair, and a smile of aristocratic langour give Mr. Carnegie the outward semblance of a typical English politician. He is apparently aware of his advantages for the assumption of this character, and a chimney pot hat with other accessories of apparel enable him to preserve inviolate the Anglican identity amid his present plebeian surroundings. Mr. Carnegie is a relic of "pre-Mowat" times. His sonorous eloquence and vote strengthened the waning fortunes of the Sanfield Macdonald administration in its closing days. At the close of that regime, West Peterborough's representative retired from the forum and sought the calm and tranquility only to be found in a rural newspaper office. After twelve years' absence, he returns to political life with ripened experience and a scrap book. This interesting volume is a sort of political "Newgate Calendar." It is replete with harrowing instances of the moral obliquity of the unspeakable Grits of Mr. Carnegie's district, and is a notable addition to the literature of contemporaneous politics. In his maiden speech Mr. Carnegie fell short of expectations.

THE MANITOBA UPRISING,

(Ottawa Free Press.)

The North West crisis is a most serious affair.

For years the Liberal press has been warning government and people that the Macdonaldite policy must inevitably produce the state of affairs now actually existing.

Having, by singular good fortune became possessed of a magnificent and almost illimitable virgin, territory an opportunity was given the government for creating a nation on the freest and noblest principles. They had in this opportunity the certainty had they so chosen, of making for themselves a reputation for wisdom and statesmanship that would have handed their names down to remotest time with those of the greatest benefactors of humanity.

But what have they done? They have erected on new soil the most detestable, the most degrading, the worst possible institutions; these are: Monopoly! Landlordism! Syndicatism! Trade restriction! Oppression! Injustice! Tyranny!

Having done all this, they may boast like Othman, the Bone-breaker, that no grass will grow where they have ever planted their feet.

And what have these works of Macdonaldism caused? Poverty! Discontent! Loss of millions of money! An exodus of settlers! Stoppage of immigration! A feud same for the country! The cry of secession! Resistance to authority! And, perhaps, Rebellion!

The people of Manitoba are in terrible earnest. The wrongs inflicted on them by Macdonaldite misgovernment are such that they cannot be endured. Whatever course they may please to take, it is plain that they cannot be coerced. It is equally plain that the government at Ottawa cannot accede to their demands without reversing the whole Tory policy. Can the ministry abandon the N. P.? Can they take away the C. P. R. monopoly clause of the charter? Can they surrender the provincial lands? Can they grant the right to charter local railways (repeal the Tupper Railway Act)?

Yet all this and more must be done, or Manitoba will set up as an independent colony on her own account.

The temperance people decided at a recent meeting in Cornwall to raise $1000 to assist in carrying the Scott act in the united counties.

(From Another Correspondent.)

The unusual storm and severity of the weather has caused some delay in business, which we suppose is a common result of the late storm to all the cities and towns within a limited radius.

During the past month our worthy powers, wishing to locate the new town hall, left the matter to be decided by a popular vote. The result being unsatisfactory, and it being considered of some importance, the directors of the Agricultural Society were notified to meet and fix a location. We understand decision was given in favor of Centreville.

The Trent Valley Canal has not been seen lately. Probably its progress has been somewhat retarded owing to the severity of the weather, but the anticipations of some would not be more than equalled, if some fine morning in the near future, we found it either in course of construction or in actual operation.

Mr. S. Perrin, formerly of Rice Lake, hrs returned from Brandon, and considering circumstances, is looking well. Many of those who migrated from the prairies last fall, will return during the present month to enjoy the healthful climate and balmy breezes of the North-West during the coming summer.

Oh by the way, I met one of the would-be violinists the other evening, who, although apparently in good humour, was nevertheless quite arduous in showing up my defects as a contributor to the press, judging from my little innocent item of the 20th ult. I of course, attempted vainly to show the merits of my production, stating my insufficiency to report to be only lack of knowledge regarding proceedings, while my worthy critic even called it spoony, saying that I should either consult a little dictionary, or one of the school boys for correct spelling, not saying anything of childishly using any person's name whose reputation merits and demands respect. However, I might say that my intentions both with regard to correctness and personals, were not out of the way.

The telephone question is again before the public. The folk in the village imagine if they had one it undoubtedly would be a decided advantage, and, whereas, their communications are now limited, with aid of a telephone it would not be so. Well it may do the people good to have one, but I fear their patience would go back on them because many of them are so accustomed to talk right a head that this thing of screaming out Halloo would become very irksome and the person at the other end might hear more than he bargained for. So friends, carefully consider before you invest.

The teacher in this neighborhood has been kind enough to forward us the report for the month of February and while in converse with him he said the school was not as largely attended as was desired owing to the severity of the weather and the great amount of sickness in this section. The Fraserville House has recenty been remodelled and looks well.

The legion of readers that this paper has, will undoubtedly corroborate my statement when I say that "The Winter of '84 is noted for storms, not only storms pertaining to the weather but matrimonial ones as well. Financially it's a good year for the ministers and many times have the inmates of the manses been led to rejoice when a fee of ten or fifteen dollars has been laid on the table. Marriage is becomming such a common affair now, that really it seems to me that many of them will be postponed until '85, for fear of impressing the public with the unpardonable fact that leap year had something to do with it, whereas the lady performed the beseeching instead of the gentleman (that is if beseeching is essential).

Few localities can boast of having a resident whose birthday comes but once in four years. As Mrs. Wm. Laing's birthday so occurs, she had a very pleasant time in connection with it on Friday, February 29. Most of the family were present on that auspicious occasion, also, many of their immediate relatives.

ANSTRUTHER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

On the occasion of completing a lumbering contract for Messrs. Ullyott & Co., by F. Elmhirst Esq. (Reeve of Barleigh), a number of friends assembled at his hospitable abode on Tuesday evening and spent a pleasant evening in celebrating the event. Musicians with violins, banjos and guitars in due time arrived at the scene and striking up a lively air, the floor was soon occupied by lads and lasses both blooming and gay, who kept up a continued series of quadrilles, reels and waltzes till morning dawned and reminded each and every one that pleasure must cease and work begin. A substantial repast was served up at midnight to which ample justice was done.

KEENE.

The contract for the new Presbyterian church, Keene, has been let to Messrs. Harper Bros. Norwood; for $9,950. The handsome sum of $7,000 has already been contributed to the building fund by the members of the Presbyterian church alone.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Doings at Ottawa, in and out of the House.

SATURDAY.

THE SYNDICATE CHAMPION.

Sir Charles Tupper was absent from the House of Commons all day, and as the members of the Pacific Syndicate are still here it is supposed he is engaged in handing over the $30,000,000 of "swag" to these gentlemen. Nobody supposes that Sir Charles' knowledge that he is not a member of the House of Commons would preclude him from taking a seat in the Chamber and fighting for the interest of the Syndicate.

WHY HAWKINS LINGERS.

The cause of Mr. J. J. Hawkins' continued sojourn in Ottawa has been discovered. He is doing his utmost to get the session brought to a close because every day that the House of Commons sits now means a loss of $6 to Mr. Hawkins. He is entitled to $1,000 less $6 a day from the time of the delivery of the Supreme Court judgment against him until the session closes. It is therefore his interest to have Parliament prorogued as soon as possible, and until that event takes place the accountant will not know how much to pay him. Mr. Mills will also be entitled to $1,000 less $6 every day that Mr. Hawkins held the seat, so that the cost of Bothwell's representation will be greater than that of any other constituency.

A PROCRASTINATING PAIR.

[After a courtship of forty years a couple in Sylvania, Ga., have just been married.]

Forty years of constant courting,
O, procrastinating pair!
Forty years of gay escorting
To the picnic and the fair.

Forty years of steady swinging
In the summer on the gate;
Forty years of tally flinging
In the winter by the grate.

Forty years—what blissful joy shire
In the heart to think of this!
Forty years of cream and oysters,
Flavored with the willing kiss.

Forty years of osculation,
Passing like a summer dream;
Forty years of preservation
Make the nectar sweeter seem.

Forty years of swiftly dodging
Sundry dogs behind the fence;
Forty years of meals and lodging
At her parents' own expense.

Forty years of dilly-dallying,
While their friends were wood and wed;
Forty years of shilly-shallying,
Till unhatched became each head.

Forty years! What time doth cover
With deep wrinkles youthful bloom,
Yet that bride will lie in clover
With her venerable groom.

DECEPTION.

"A dreary place," said Hugh Keppel, to himself, with a shrug of the shoulders, "but still—home!"

The damp, brown leaves were matted by rain and tempest, where they had drifted up around the steps; the ampelopsis vine which garlanded the old tower has lost its scarlet glow in the cold touch of snow and frost; the cedars shuddered in the blast. For Keppel Tower was on a commanding hill, which, although delightful enough in summer, was not without its disadvantages in the month of December.

Mr. Keppel had been absent for three months now, and this was his first homecoming since he had returned from Paris.

His mother's eye brightened as she stood—a commanding figure in black satin and rich old Mechlin lace—beside the fire in the round drawing-room, with one hand on the gold-headed cane, which was her constant support, the other extended toward him.

"You are back again," she said. "Oh, Hugh, I thought you never would return to me!"

The room was very pretty, with the cheerful fire-light flickering on the blue and white tiles of the chimney-piece, the curtains of wine-colored plush, and decorations of old gold ribbons, ancient brass, and art embroidery. In all these things he recognised Alice Amadine's taste—the taste of the distant cousin who had always lived with Mrs. Keppel since he (Hugh) was a boy. They had grown up together, in fact, and Mrs. Keppel had made no secret of her earnest wish that Hugh might eventually marry Alice.

But Hugh Keppel, with all a man's perversity, had rather chosen to fall in love with Myrtle Vennor, the blue-eyed daughter of the old judge, who lived in the pretty country house down the river. To be sure—which was some comfort to Mrs. Keppel—there was no regular engagement, but everyone knew that the young people liked one another.

"Don't mind, aunty, dear," said Alice Amadine, with her gracious smile and slow, musical accents. "Love can neither be bound in fetters nor driven in harness. Myrtle Vennor is a very sweet girl, and no doubt everything is for the best."

"My love," said Mrs. Keppel, kissing Alice's rich brunette cheek; "You are an angel! and how Hugh can be so blind is far beyond my comprehension."

"I can endure anything so long as you love me," said Alice Amadine; effusively returning the caress.

Alice was as beautiful as ever, in her garnet-red gown, with cardinal roses in her hair, as she smiled her greeting; and presently they were seated at the little round table, at tea, by the softened light of a student lamp.

"And how are the Vennors?" said Hugh, after he had inquired after every one else, vaguely hoping that Alice or his mother would mention the subject, without his suggestive question.

"Oh," smiled Alice, carefully measuring out the exact number of drops of thick cream which Mrs. Keppel liked in her tea, "the Vennor's are very gay this season! They are to remain at the Grange until Twelfth Night, and there are all sorts of balls and parties and festivities going on. And the last time I was at Miss Torrance's, the dressmaker, I saw Myrtle's wedding-dress being made."

"Her wedding-dress?" echoed Hugh.

"And, oh," said Alice, still intent on the duties of the table, "It was such a beauty! Old white brocade, trimmed with lace that must have been perfectly priceless, and a white velvet tablier front breadth. Auntie, will you have some preserved cherries? And there were flowers embroidered in seed-pearl on the sashes, too utterly lovely to describe. Are the Vennor's so very rich, Hugh?"

"Then she is going to be married?" he exclaimed, gnawing fiercely at his lower lip. "Myrtle Vennor—I could not have believed it; and never to tell me!"

Alice Amadine laughed softly.

"Dear me, Hugh!" said she, "as if a girl confided that sort of her secrets to her miscellaneous gentlemen friends. And Myrtle Vennor always belonged to the secretive kind, you know."

"Who is he?" he asked, hoarsely.

"The man, I mean?"

"How am I to know?" said Alice artlessly. "Colonel Fitz Urse has been staying at the Grange all the autumn, and Doctor Fenimore, from New York, comes there often; and there's Mr. Atwater and those two young Yale collegians, and—oh, dear Myrtle is very gay this year!"

Hugh sat silently, looking into the fire. The poisoned arrow had sped to its destination as Alice Amadine well knew. All the life and animation had gone of him that night; and when he had departed to his room in the central round tower, where the windows looked out on the surging tops of the cedar grove, Alice laughed exultantly.

"Dear auntie," said she, "do not look so grave. It isn't pleasant to take a dose of quinine, but one feels so much better after it. Well, this news is a dose of quinine to poor, dear Hugh?"

"Alice," said the old lady, "do you think we have done right? Is—not this like deceit?"

"Where is the deceit?" lightly questioned Miss Amadine. "I did see the wedding dress; didn't I? The very one that Myrtle's mother wore when she was married, and that Myrtle herself is to wear next New Year's week. Auntie, you know as well as I do that Hugh never would have been happy with that silly frivolous, little Myrtle Vennor?"

"No," said Mrs. Keppel, slowly, "I do not believe that he would. Oh, Alice, it is my hope and my prayer that he may marry you!"

"Wait?" said Alice composedly smoothing the plush table-cover. "Don't you remember the old Spanish proverb? 'that all things come to those who know how to wait.' Only have little patience, auntie. There is nothing in all the world so easy to catch as a heart in the rebound."

And in the meantime, sweet Myrtle Vennor secretly devoured her own heart, and wondered why Hugh Keppel never came to the Grange.

"Can it be that he has forgotten me?" she asked of herself. "After all that he has looked and spoken—after the flowers he gave me, and the little, old fashioned ring, with the black pearl that he placed on my finger? Do men's hearts change in such a fickle fashion as that?"

Myrtle Vennor was as unlike Alice Amadine as a sweet English rose is unlike a vivid cactus bloom.

She was fair and delicate, with a complexion like pink and pearl; bright hair, short with golden threads; and blue, deep eyes, full of wistful appealing light. And her nature, too, was dissimilar to that of the wily brunette.

It was, therefore, her first impulse to go to Hugh Keppel, and ask him what dark shadow had come between them.

But Myrtle had all a woman's pride, and so she kept within her own heart the secret of her grief.

And Alice Amadine was well pleased at the success of her subtle scheme feeling, as she did, that Hugh was drifting slowly and aimlessly into her toils.

"Why should I not?" he asked himself "One woman will be very much the same to me as another, now that I have lost confidence in Myrtle. My mother is fond of Alice, and I think Alice will not be unwilling to be the mistress of Keppel Towers."

And he made up his mind, one chill, bright day, when the hard-frozen snow gleamed white in the valleys, and the hemlocks were freighted down with feathery fringes of pearl, to settle the matter definitely that selfsame evening.

"It will make mother happy," he thought. "And as for myself, what avails it?"

Yet nevertheless a pang came through his breast as he stood there, under the shadow of the giant forest oaks, where last year, he and Myrtle had gathered mistletoe to adorn the great saloon at Vennor Grange.

"Never again!" he muttered between his teeth. "My lost Myrtle, never again!"

A light step on the crackling snow, the gleam of a scarlet cloak, disturbed the melancholy thread of his meditations, and turning he saw that Myrtle Vennor herself had emerged from the evergreen thicket, on her way across the glen, and stood there, with cheeks glowing with exercise, and large, startled eyes.

"Mr. Keppel!" she involuntarily exclaimed.

"Myrtle!" he responded, taken by surprise.

"I—I did not know that you were here," said she, in hurried accents. "I hope you are quite well. We are having lovely winter weather. Good morning!"

And she would have gone had he not put forth his hand to check her flying footsteps.

"Do not go, Myrtle!" he said. "There is no reason why we should avoid each other."

"You have avoided me," she flashed out.

"But I will not hereafter," said he, trying to speak composedly. "Beside, I have not yet congratulated you, Myrtle."

"Upon what?" she said. "Upon my faith in mankind?"

"No, upon my your marriage."

"Mr. Keppel!" she cried, flushing to the roots of her hair, "you are wilfully insulting me."

"I, Myrtle!"

"Then why do you use such language as that!" cried Myrtle, wringing her small, fur-gloved hands. "Who should know better than you that—that I have no idea of being married?"

"You cannot deceive me, Myrtle," he said, sadly. "Alice Amadine, herself, saw your wedding-dress being made. She told me—"

"My wedding-dress?" For a second Myrtle's pretty brow contracted with perplexity, and then it cleared instantly. "Oh, I know, now!" she cried, "She must have meant mamma's wedding-gown, that Miss Torrance is re-making for the tableaux vivants next week, when I am to be Ginevra, in the 'Old Oak Chest.' But as for my being married, Alice Amadine knew that was not true!"

Her cheek kindled with crimson-bloom; her lip quivered; the blue lightning of her indignant eyes were quenched in coming tears.

"Speak those words again, Myrtle!" cried Hugh, in a voice that shook with repressed emotion. "Let there be no mistake in a matter that is so vitally essential to my happiness. You are not to be married this next week?"

"I am not!' she answered, earnestly. He took the little, trembling hand in his.

"Sweet Myrtle, forgive me!" he said. "But my heart was torn with hot jealousy and burning anguish. I believed that you were lost to me, and life was scarcely worth having without your love. Now, let us begin the world over again. Promise me, dearest, to become my wife. Let no more cruel doubts rise up between us for evermore! Will you promise, Myrtle?"

And Myrtle answered, in scarcely audible tones:

"I promise!"

Hugh Keppel's face was radiant when he came back to the round drawing-room at the Towers that afternoon. His mother looked earnestly at him.

"Dear Hugh!" she said, "you have had good news?"

"The best of news," he answered, brightly. "News that Myrtle Vennor will become my wife soon; news that the report of her marriage to any one else is unfounded!"

And as he spoke he looked full into Alice Amadine's face. She colored deeply under the scorching light of his eyes, but she knew that it would be fatal to quail at this juncture, or to show any consciousness of her own guilt.

"Dear me!" said she smiling as graciously as ever, "what ridiculous stories do get trumped up among the neighboring gossips! And so you are to be married, Hugh? I am sure I wish you every happiness."

And no one who saw Alice Amadine at that moment would have dreamed that her life-hopes had been cruelly smitten down; for women are heroes at heart.

Beecher remarks that you often see a man with a little, bullet head, having a vigorous stomach to drive his body and brain, accomplish more than the big-headed man who makes a small quantity of blood, and that poor and thin. To enable mind and body to endure protracted mental and physical exertion, there must be perfect digestion and assimilation of food, and the formation of pure blood to vitalise the organs tissues. Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya perfects nutrition, and furnishes material for bone, muscle and nerve, to supply the waste of vital force going on from over-work, dissipation, bad habits, and all prostration diseases.

If and If.

"If you are suffering from poor health 'or languishing on a bed of sickness, 'take cheer, if you are simply ailing, or 'if you feel weak and dispirited, without 'clearly knowing why, Hop Bitters will 'surely cure you."

"If you are a minister, and have overtaxed yourself with your pastoral duties, or 'a Mother, worn out with care and work, 'or a man of business or laboring workbruised 'by the strain of your everyday duties, or a 'man of letters, toiling over your midnight 'work, Hop Bitters will surely strengthen 'you."

"If you are suffering from 'over-eating or drinking, any
'indiscretion or dissipation,
'or are young and growing
'too fast, as is often the case."

"Or if you are in the workshop, on the 'farm, at the desk, anywhere, and feel 'that your system needs cleansing, toning, or stimulating, without intoxicating, if you are old, blood thin and impure, pulse feeble, nerves, unsteady, 'faculties waning, Hop Bitters is what 'you need to give you new life, health, 'and vigor."

If you are costive or dyspeptic, or suffering from any other of the numerous diseases of the stomach or bowels, it is your own fault if you remain ill.

If you are wasting away with any form of Kidney disease, stop tempting death this moment, and turn for a cure to Hop Bitters.

If you are sick with that terrible sickness Nervousness, you will find a "Balm in Gilead" in Hop Bitters.

If you are a frequenter, or a resident of a miasmatic district, barricade your system against the scourge of all countries—malaria, epidemic, bilious and intermittent fevers—by the use of Hop Bitters.

If you have rough, pimply or sallow skin, bad breath, Hop Bitters will give you fair skin, rich blood, the sweetest breath, and health. $500 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help.

That poor bedridden, invalid wife, sister, mother, or daughter, can be made the picture of health by a few bottles of Hop Bitters costing but a trifle. 11-4t

WHAT SHALL I GIVE HIM?

Is a puzzling question. It is easy enough to find things for the "here," in fact the variety is embarrassing; but the selection of a present for the male sex is more difficult. We have known Ladies to present their Husbands with useful Household Articles and it is not a bad idea, but if you wish to give the man something for personal use, the list to choose from is rather short. CLOTHES are Staple—always in demand. Why not a new OVERCOAT or SUIT? A SET OF SHIRTS, some fine HOSIERY, HANDKERCHIEFS, or NECKWEAR? or, if that is not appropriate, give the Domestic Man a HOUSE COAT OR WRAPPER. While to the Gay Young Man, SHIRT STUDS, SCARF PINS, SILK TIE or SCARF. Now that you have the hint what to get, we will modestly add that a good place to get everything of this sort is right here, where we are making a Special Holiday Display of Useful and Ornamental Wearin Apparel for Men and Boys.

A few extracts from the numerous endorsements by the leading artistes of the World as to their Superiority:—

The pianoforte of your make used at my last concert is the most admirable instrument I have ever seen. Please send to my address in London one of your Upright Pianos. This, I think, is the best endorsement of your instrument I can give you.—CHRISTINE NILSSON.

In all the qualities an artist can require your Upright Pianos surpass anything I have ever seen.—SOFIA SCALCHI.

It is superior in quality of tone and evenness of action to any instrument I know of. CLARA LOUISE KELLOGG.

THE THREE RIVERS.

TWEED, TEVIOT AND KALE.

For the Examiner.

Oh, Scotland! dear Scotland! I still thee admire;
To leave thee and stay with thy borders it was my desire;
'Tis thirty long years since I left that loved vale
Where Morbattle stands on the banks of the Kale.

I cannot forget Kale and Teviot most dear—
They join hands with Tweed, so gentle and dear—
They glide slow along by wood-glen and lea,
Till their course at last ends in the wide, rolling sea.

But, flow gentle rivers, till you can find rest;
I love you all dear, but there's one I love best;
I love one the best, and the reason I tell:
My parents, my children there sleep by the Kale.

And there lie the teachers that taught me in youth—
In church and in school, they were teachers of truth;
In sorrow's dark hour what else can avail,
Like the truths that were taught me close by the Kale.

Oh, yes, Kale! I love thee as onward you flow;
By thy side I've had pleasure and sorrow and woe;
And, though I have left thee, I still can bewail
The loss of the dear friends asleep by the Kale.

I played by thy side when I was a child—
I've seen thee run gentle, I've seen thee run wild;
And, when nothing could stay thee, I still loved thee well,
And I fear for to sleep on the banks of the Kale.

But, where are the playmates that I left behind?
Though far o'er the seas, they are still in my mind;
But few will be left that with me trod the vale,
As we sported with glee on the banks of the Kale.

I'm now seventy-two. Oh! it seems but a dream
Since a girl by thy side, with my feet in the stream;
When I climbed up the braes and skipped thro' thy vale,
To pull the wee gowan that grew by the Kale.

But, since I have left thee, no more will I see
The heather, the thistle, nor the flowers on the lea;
No more will I visit my dear native vale—
I will sleep by my sons that lie far from the Kale.

But, now, gentle stream, I must bid you adieu,
You're beloved by many, and not by a few,
For many, like me, o'er the seas still bewail
The loss of the dear friends asleep by the Kale.

THE BEST FOOD FOR SHEEP.

The question is often asked: What is the best food for sheep? It appears to be answered conclusively. Sheep will not do their best on any one kind of food.

They need a greater variety than any animals kept on farms. In a pasture seeded to the best kinds of grass and clover sheep will eat weeds and the leaves of bushes. They will relish dry hay and straw when grass is green and clover is in bloom. In the winter when horses and cattle are satisfied with hay and grain sheep will, if permitted, wander about in quest of something green. At times they should have some cabbage, turnip or other roots. Unless they have some green food during the winter they are likely to become constipated. Peas and beans furnish excellent food for sheep though other kinds of animals will not eat them if they can avoid it. It is not necessary to grind any of the common grains for sheep, though it is advisable to grind the seed of Hungarian and millet. In order that sheep may properly digest common grain, they need some green food every day. The success of sheep husbandry in England is largely due to the turnip crop. Sheep have become accustomed to eat turnips in the field where they grow, and the climate in many parts of that country admits of their remaining out of doors all winter. So far as the experiment has been tried ensilage furnishes a fair substitute for turnips and other roots it keeps the digestive organs in good condition and renders the usual winter diet more varied.

Lindsay's Wharf, Aug. 22nd, 1883.

Messrs. Churchill & Co., Gents,—I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum for the past three years, and have been treated by some of the best doctors in Eastern Ontario without any lasting benefit. I was recommended by Mr. C. J. Lindsay, of Kars, to try your Fountain of Health. After using five bottles of the Fountain and two bottles of your Climax Salve, I believe I am perfectly cured. My general health is also much improved, and I now feel like a new man.

Yours truly,
RORT. BURNETT,
Engineer Str. "Olive," Montreal and Portland Line.

There was great rejoicing among the Republicans of Philadelphia over the election last week of their candidate, Mr. W. B. Smith, for mayor. It is no small honor to a comparatively young man like Mr Smith, an Old Countryman, a Glasgow boy, to be chosen by a majority of nearly nine thousand—or by about eighty thousand people—to be chief magistrate of the second city in the United States. The Philadelphia Press declares Mr. Smith "has manfully won the honor which crowns him," and it looks for a "vigorous, successful, and beneficent administration." Mayor Smith has many acquaintances in Canada, and not a few in Stratford, who rejoice at the noble victory he has won by fair and honorable means.

August 29th, 1883.
Dalmeny P. O., Tp. Osgoode.

Messrs. Churchill & Co., Dear Sirs.—I have been troubled with Piles for the last five years, during that time I have taken medicine from five doctors which failed to effect a cure. I have used only one box of your Climax Eye Salve, which I purchased from W. F. Ritchie of Osgoode Station, and can recommend it as a safe cure to all afflicted with the same disease. I consider your Fountain of Health an excellent tonic to build up the system.

Yours truly,
ARCHIE McDIARMID.

Mr. Thos. White is reported to have said in a recent speech that the Manitobans want to be "spoon fed" and ridicules their demands as unreasonable. The people in the Prairie Province are not in a mood to brook such treatment just now. The Ottawa Free Press announced the other day that "the Manitoba farmers' deligates left for home thoroughly disgusted. They will report on their return that nothing is to be expected from the Government. It now remains for the people of Manitoba to act, that they will act in a decisive manner we cannot doubt. Startling news from Winnipeg may be anticipated."

Mr. John Magwood, Victoria Road, writes: "Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure is a splendid medicine. My customers say they never used anything so effectual. Good results immediately follow its use. I know its value from personal experience, having been troubled for 9 or 10 years with Dyspepsia, and since using it digestion goes on without that depressing feeling so well known to dyspeptics. I have no hesitation in recommending it in any case of Indigestion, Constipation, Heartburn, or troubles arising from a disordered stomach."

A Question to the Point.

Reader, have you a languid, weak and tired feeling, with nervous exhaustion, especially in the early spring? Then your liver is inactive and circulation poor. Arouse the torpid liver, cleanse the sluggish blood and regulate the secretions with that purifying tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters.

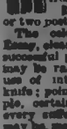
MANHOOD
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED



We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.
Price in a sealed envelope, only 6c. or two postage stamps.
The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land

Arrested for Forgery.

The Chief Constable of St. Thomas, came to town on Monday for Thomas Goodfellow who was arrested by constable Pidgeon on a telegram on Saturday. The constable and his prisoner left on Monday evening.

Nipped in the Bud.

The police made example of Thos. Purcell, who, while filled with drink, disturbed the first meeting of the Saved Army, and thus nipped rowdyism in the bud. On Friday he was fined $10 and costs, and having invested his cash otherwise, he went up to jail for ten days.

Vennor Vindicated.

The weather for once again has been kind to Vennor. He predicted that the first week in March was to be the coldest of the season, and he was right. In his almanac his forecast for this week was mild, open weather, and on Tuesday morning the thaw came. If Vennor could only truthfully predict a decline in the price of cordwood and an increase in the size of a cord, he would be a public benefactor.

The Grand Concert.

The public are again reminded that the grand vocal and instrumental concert, in aid of St. Paul's church organ fund, takes place to-night (Thursday) in the Opera House. The talented vocalists mentioned in our last issue will be present, and the concert will be the best musical entertainment the people of Peterborough have been favored with in a long time. Make all engagements with reference to this concert, and don't miss attending.

Loch's Fur Store.

Mr. Wm. Loch having decided to enlarge his premises, addresses the public as follows in respect of saving furs:—The steady increase in business, in particular of orders from distances, makes it necessary to enlarge the premises, and as this will require the time of two or three months, it is impossible, on account of the great risk, to receive furs from my customers for safe keeping, but I will give them all information to take care of them by applying. Our stock of hats is now complete comprising all the latest styles and novelties in English and American goods.

WM. LOCH.

Peterborough, March 10th, 1884.

Entirely Satisfactory.

PETERBOROUGH, 7th March, 1884.

D. BELLEGHEM, ESQ.,

DEAR SIR,—Enclosed find cheque for amount in full of your contract for the fittings in my drug store. I could not allow this opportunity to pass without expressing my entire satisfaction of the manner in which you have completed the contract, both in workmanship and proptitude. You have faithfully carried out every detail I gave you, and had it all finished on the day specified.

Yours truly,

G. W. MORGAN.
Druggist.

This is but an echo of the universal expression of satisfaction of those of the public who have patronized Mr. Belleghem's establishment.

Devlin's Dandy Domain.

The reader may be surprised to hear, but nevertheless, it is a fact, that Mr. W. J. Devlin, in enlarging and improving his harness shop, Hunter street, has made it one of the completest and most elegant shops in Ontario. The show room is 30x90, feet in size. The floors have been relaid with hardwood. The ceiling is of matched pine, oiled and varnished. The walls have been calcimined a bright blue tint. At the left hand side is a splendid glass case for fancy harness, 30 feet long and three feet deep, with nine sliding glass doors, beautifully finished and filled with beautiful specimens of work. The opposite wall is fitted with shelving for the display of a huge stock of hand bags, valises, satchels, etc. In the rear of the room is a neatly fitted up office, and form hooks, in the rear part of the ceiling are suspended the heavier sets of harness and parts of harness. In fact everything about the show room is neat, bright and tasty, and commercial travellers say that there is not a finer shop between Montreal and Sarnia. In the rear of the show rooms is the work shop, 20x20 feet, well lighted, and a hive of industry, where workmen are busy in filling the numerous orders which Mr. Devlin's superior work, both in quality and style, continually brings. Mr. Devlin is bound to keep pace with the times. His fine, new shop is well worth a visit.

Funeral Sermon.

On Sunday morning last Rev. Mr. Shaw preached the funeral sermon of the late Joseph Ford in the George Street Methodist Church.

Snow Stuck.

On Monday morning the Port Hope train came in with the engine covered to the smoke stack with snow, a snow bank outside the town having delayed its progress.

And Still the Sale Goes On.

Notwithstanding all the talk of dull times and bad roads, Fairweather & Co.'s great sales keep crowded every day. It is a positive boon to the town and county of Peterborough. The Immense Stock, the Enormous Reductions, the Great Bargains, the Daily Crowds, are sufficient proofs that this firm holds the confidence of the public.

A Convenient Utensil.

Messrs. Robert Fife and John A. Bennitt have been appointed agents for the Combined Milk Bucket and Stool, manufactured by the Ontario Milkbucket manufacturing company, Toronto. This is an excellent apparatus for the farmer, ensures cleanliness and makes milking easy. With two such reliable and trustworthy gentlemen as agents, the farmers, know with whom they are dealing and can rely on everything being square and as represented.

Must Be Cleared Out.

The biggest chance for bargains ever offered in Peterborough is presented at James Dolan's clothing store in the market block. Within the next three weeks the premises occupied by him must be vacated and the stock must be cleared out at any sacrifice. The goods must be sold and the public can come and dictate their own prices. Immense bargains all the go for the next three weeks.

A Grand Home and Farm Book.

Mr. J. A. Metcalfe, of Keene, has been appointed agent for the Canadian Home, Farm and Business Cyclopoedia, the most practical home book, farm book and business book now published, and truly practical and plainly scientific work on farming. The farm department being from the pen of Prof. Brown of the Agricultural College, Guelph, is one of the highest commendations. The printing, illustrations, binding and general make up are of the highest order. The work is a most invaluable one to the farmer or business man.

Forestry.

The Canadian Forester has the following in reference to Court Peterborough, No. 29:

"We are glad to be able to state that the above court is rapidly growing. Court Peterborough is one of the oldest courts in Ontario, and they have always kept up their end and have been live and energetic. They have had quite a number of initiations during the month and their candidates have been of the very best. In fact that is the secret of their success, they have always been careful to select their candidate, get in such members as would be useful and hard working, hence their success."

It may be added that at the last meeting there were five initations, four candidates balloted for and six propositions for membership.

License Notes.

Mr. W. C. Sanders, of Lakefield, has been appointed Sub-Inspector, under the McCarthy Act, for Lakefield and all the district north of that village, within this county.

Mr. Charles O'Reilly, Asphodel, has been appointed Sub-Inspector for Otonabee, Asphodel, Belmont and Methuen, Dummer, Douro and Norwood.

The district of the Inspector, Mr. Collins, is Bridgenorth, Peterborough and Ashburnham.

Up to the 1st of March, the limit of time for applications, only forty-six persons in the whole county had applied for licenses under the McCarthy Act.

The License Commissioners for the East Riding, under the Crooks Act, will hold their first meeting on Saturday, April 12th.

The Hamilton Times pronounces Mr. C W. Ewing, organist of St. John's Church, one of, if not the best of his profession in Canada.

The Winnipeg Times says that Mr. Geo. A. Stewart, (a former resident of Peterborough,) with a surveying party leaves this week to survey the route of the proposed Northern Pacific Railway.

The Government Inspector of Prisons, in his annual report speaks highly of the efficient manner in which Mr. H. Nesbitt, performed the practically double duties of turnkey and jailor, which thus engaged.

We are pleased to notice that Mr. J. J. Wright of Ashburnham has been elected Managing Editor of the Queen's College Journal. Under his tutelage the general matter is much improved and we congratulate him on such an auspicious entry into the editorial field.

Mr. F. Stancliffe of Montreal, the General Manager for Canada of the British Empire Life Insurance Company, arrived in town yesterday and is registered at the "Oriental". Mr. Stancliffe is on his way west having just returned from England. This old established Company are going to invest largely in Canadian securities in addition to the half million already invested in Canada.

MASQUERADE CARNIVAL.

The Season Closes with the Greatest Success of All.

The closing masquerade carnival of the season, held at the skating rink, on Friday evening last, was the greatest success of the series. There was an immense attendance, the galleries being crowded with spectators.

An important new feature was a refreshment room, kept open by Mr. Thomas Gemmell, of the Star restaurant, a welcome retreat where the hungry found—hash.

Though the number of costumes was not very great, yet there was a general excellence both in selection and make up.

Many were of unusual excellence and richness, while nearly all were in good taste. The following is a list of

THE PRIZE LIST.

The position of judges of costumes was no sinecure, the large number of really excellent costumes, making a selection difficult. Yet the judges performed their duty to general satisfaction. The judges on the ladies' costumes were Mesdames Dr. Geo. Burnham and Geo. Cluxton, while Messrs. R. W. Hall, J. R. Stratton and A. McNeil, awarded the prizes to the best dressed gentlemen, and to the best fancy skating. The list of the awards is as follows:—

BEST DRESSED LADY IN FANCY COSTUME.—Miss L. A. Mayhew, "Art."

BEST DRESSED LADY IN FANCY COSTUME.—Miss C. Carnegie, "Lady of time of Henry VIII." There being no ladies present in comic costume, this prize was awarded to the second best fancy dress.

MOST GRACEFUL LADY SKATER.—Miss M. Wrighton, as "Queen of Hearts."

BEST DRESSED GIRL (under 15 years.)—Miss Annie Fawcett, as "Milkmaid."

BEST DRESSED GENTLEMAN IN FANCY COSTUME.—Mr. Henry Neil, of Ashburnham, "Knight of Red Cross."

BEST DRESSED GENTLEMAN IN COMIC COSTUME.—Mr. S. B. Downs (McKee's drug store) "Burdock Blood Bitters."

BEST DRESSED BOY (under 15 years.)—Master H. Scholfield, Lakefield, "Chiffonier."

The competition in fancy skating, brought out a very creditable exhibition by Messrs. R. T. Hartley and M. Cottingham. The first prize, a silver medal, was awarded to the former, and the second, a silver cup, to the latter.

The music supplied by the Fire Brigade Band, was one of the most pleasant features of the evening's entertainment. A novel, but delightful variation introduced, was the singing in the first figure of the "Dream Faces" Waltzes, of the words, "Sweet Dreamland Faces," by several members of the band, while the remaining horns played the accompaniment. It was highly appreciated.

Altogether this most successful carnival was a fitting close to a most successful skating season.

THE RAMPARTS OF SIN.

Vigorous Attack by the Saved Army.

On Wednesday evening, of last week, a detachment of the Saved Army made a descent on Peterborough, and began their attack in the Opera House.

The detachment consisted of General Lindsay, Lieut. Munt, Lieut. (Mrs) Willis, Lieut. (Miss) White, and Sergeant Hughson. At 7.30 the Army came marching down George street, in full uniform, to the stirring music of "Way over Jordan," and entered the Opera House. On the stage were a table and four chairs, arranged something like those of minstrels. As they ascended the stage each officer knelt a moment, and then rising, turned and faced the foe, which was gathered in strong force, and before the battle was over the building was packed throughout.

The uniform worn by the officers is very neat; the gentlemen's consists of a navy blue frock coat and trousers, decorated with gold lace; the lady officers' uniform consists of dresses of navy blue cloth, with skirts reaching to the boot tops, and trimmed with horizontal stripes of gold lace, they also wear a rather cunning looking modification of the jockey cap, trimmed with gold lace, which caps they wear throughout the services.

General Lindsay delivered a brief address, which was followed by a hymn, the last verse sung kneeling. Lieut. (Mrs.) Willis then said prayers, in which she was followed by the others, the whole interspersed with singing. Lieut. Munt then read and explained a passage of Scripture. This was followed by a solo by Lieut. Willis, "A New Song in my Mouth." The relation of the religious experience of the soldiers followed, after which prayers again, and then a general "prayer meeting." The soldiers left the platform and moved among the people, exhorting them individually to repent and be saved.

The above is an outline of the usual procedure adopted at the meetings, which are not all sensational.

THE FORCE

at present on active service here is commanded by Captain Willis, who took command on Monday, his wife Lieut. Willis, Lieut. Munt, Lieuts. White and Peverett, (both ladies) and Sergt. Hughson. All are Canadians, except Lieut. Munt, an Englishman. Lieut. Willis seems to be the liveliest spirit in the band. She is a small lady, with a very pale countenance, but exceedingly sharp and vivacious. In the meetings she leads the singing with great spirit, beating time with her right arm with genuine military flourish, and she is intensely in earnest. She told our reporter that recruits must repent and believe to make them eligible to join the army, and every convert is exhorted to join the church of his or her choice. All the soldiers here are members of some branch of the church. Capt. and Lieut. Willis and Miss Peverett, are members of the Church of England, and the others are Methodists.

Lieut. Willis says the Saved Army was organized at Portsmouth, near Kingston, a year ago. There are now 22 stations, garrisoned by a vast army of soldiers. The only support of the work the nightly collections, which do not not always meet expenses, but Lieut. Willis says the "Lord will provide," and they always come out right in the end. They have never yet trusted in vain. Collections generally diminish in sum as the meetings progress. She also says that the army never retires from a place they invest. "No surrender" is their motto. They recruit a garrison, and then the officers look about for other towns to conquer.

THEIR SUCCESS HERE.

So far in Peterborough, they have succeeded in making several converts. "They have had eight or nine souls," as they express it in their peculiar phraseology. Of the resident ministers, Rev. Messrs. Manning, Shaw and Butcher, have recognized and assisted in their work. They are greatly pleased with the order maintained in Peterborough at their meetings.

The Saved Army seem to be deeply in earnest, and their sole object is to make people better. It is certain that they attract to their meetings a class that is never subject to any religious influence—never see the inside of a church—and if they can effect even a temporary reformation in these classes, a great deal will have been accomplished. Port Hope papers say that they have done a great work there, scoffers and revilers having been converted.

Any body interested in the movement should visit these meetings. Good order is preserved so far. Every class of citizens has been represented in their audiences.

British army officers are apparently never better pleased than when they sniff a war. In one day recently, no fewer than 300 officers applied at the War Office for liberty to serve in the Soudan, but only a small portion could be accepted.

Searching Parliamentary Investigation Begun.

The "Coalition" Ministry with "Sarah" Left Out.

The scene enacted last Monday night on the floor of the legislative assembly was as exciting and memorable as any ever enacted in a Canadian parliament. Though the intended revelation of a base conspiracy to buy up the supporters of the Mowat Government was known to a considerable number of persons, they kept their counsel well, and the explosion therefore came with stunning effect, not merely on the opposition, but apparently also on many members on the Government's side, and on all the spectators, who got a spicier performance than they had bargained for. There was nothing in the proceedings in the afternoon or early evening to indicate that a storm was impending. The House, at eight o'clock, went into committee of supply and passed the estimates for "legislation." After this was over the premier, about half-past nine, moved the speaker into the chair and commenced to address the house on a question of privilege. His first words were

A BOLT OUT OF THE BLUE.

Mr. Mowat said, I now rise to call the attention of the House to a very important matter of privilege, and in calling the attention of the House to it I have to make the most startling statement ever made in it, and, perhaps, the most startling statement ever made in any Assembly in this Dominion, and such a statement I never thought it would be my lot to make. We have discovered a deliberate conspiracy on the part of certain persons, not members of this House, to corrupt members of this House. Before I go further, Mr. Speaker, I will ask you to open certain letters which I am told have been placed in your hands.

The Speaker proceeded to open one of two letters addressed to himself as follows:—

MONDAY MORNING, March 17, 1883.

"Mr. Speaker, the inclosed $1,000 was yesterday paid to me to influence my vote in the Legislative Assembly by Mr. Wilkinson, I place it in your hands at the earliest opportunity on your return to the city. I remain yours truly, ROBERT MCKIM."

The Speaker proceeded to count the bills and said this envelope contains ten $100 bills.

Mr. Morris—May I ask to whom the external envelope was addressed?

The Speaker—The external envelope was addressed to myself, and the second one was also addressed to myself, endorsed: "This envelope not to be opened until requested by the Attorney-General."

Mr. Morris—I request that they be kept together.

The Speaker—I have another one with the same endorsement, that is not to be opened till requested by the Attorney-General. This was received from Wm. D. Balfour, member for South Essex, and reads as follows:—

"House of Assembly, Toronto, March 17th, 1884: 2 p. m. Dear sir, I hereby enclose you the sum of $200 in $100 bills, handed to me at 2:20 p. m. today, and now handed to you by me. It was given to me by a man named Big Push Wilkinson, in room 9 Walker House, to influence my vote against the Government during the present session. I made no promises. Yours faithfully. William D. Balfour."

Mr. Mowat,—Mr. Speaker, that money has actually been paid for the purpose of influencing votes in the House. I need not say it is a high crime and misdemeanour, and that the House will deal with the bribers, when the case is proven, is also perfectly clear. I will mention the names of the conspirators so far as we know and so far as we have evidence to prove from the actual facts which have come into our possession, and whilst we have only just received real evidence to prove that money has been paid, in addition to this promise of still larger sums has been made to some members for the same corrupt purpose. Offices have been promised likewise, and the conspirators declared that in offering the offices for this purpose, in connection with the Dominion Government, they had the sanction and and authority of the Minister of the Interior to do so. Other personal advantages beside this have been offered with the same corrupt intent.

Mr. Morris will the hon. gentleman repeat that?

Mr. Mowat.—These conspirators, in making these offers of offices in the gift of the Dominion Government, declared that they had the authority of the Minister of the Interior to make such offers. It is satisfactory to know that all the temptations offered had proved unavailing, and not a single member of this House swerved from his duty in any particular. (Cheers.) Not a single member faithless to his trust and I congratulate the Reform party on the fact in choosing their representatives here, they chose men whom no temptations either in money or promises of offices, or personal advantage had the slightest influence over. (Cheers.) We have reason to believe, I may say we have reason to know, that this conspiracy was formed early in the session, and that it began its work early in the session. But the temptations then made wholly failed and the parties to them abandoned their efforts in despair of effecting their purpose. They were, however, renewed later by the same parties and others with the result which we now know. The several honourable members approached in this way thought it would be a fitting thing to do on their part, and that they would only be doing their duty to this house and their constituents, by disclosing what was taking place, and they accordingly did disclose the matter to members of the Government. Every approach made to them; every conversation which took place; every step in the negotiations and every act that was done was immediately disclosed to one or more members of the Government. Nothing was done without the knowledge of every member of the Government, or without the advice and sanction of one or more of us. By this means we have come into possession of indubitable proofs of the grossest corruption of which there are any records in this Province. No I don't mean to add any further words of mine in regard to this matter, but I will read a statement of what I have reason to believe and do believe. Any words of mine, Mr. Speaker, would detract from the horror and indignation with which this conspiracy will be regarded by the whole Dominion and by good men of all parties. I make this statement, which I embody in a resolution, as follows:—

THE RESOLUTION.

That the Attorney-General, a member of this House, has from his place in the House stated that he is credibly informed and believes that divers persons named by him, including Christopher W. Bunting, John A. Wilkinson, Edward Meek, F. S. Kertland, and one Lynch, have entered into a conspiracy to accomplish the defeat of the Government in this House to vote against the government and Government measures.

That the first-named three persons are well known and active members of the party in this province opposed to this Government, and that the last-named two persons are American citizens.

That for the purpose of corruptly influencing the votes of members of this House, the said five persons have at divers times during the present session of this Legislature approached several members of this House with money, offers of money, promises of offices in the gift of the Dominion Government, and promises of other personal advantages to such members.

That divers members of this House so approached, being indignant at the criminal conduct proposed to them, have deemed it to be the fitting course of their part, and a duty to their constituents and the public, acting herein with the advice and approval of members of the Government, to seem for a time to entertain such approaches in order to the detection, exposure, and punishment of the persons guilty of making such corrupt attempts, and have in pursuance of their duty from time to time disclosed to members of the Government the approaches from time to time made to them, and the several acts therein of the guilty parties; that among the members of this House in regard to whom such corrupt attempts have been made are Mr. Robt. McKim, member for the West Riding of Wellington; Mr. William D. Balfour, member for the South Riding of Essex; and Mr. John F. Dowling, member for the South Riding of Renfrew; that in carrying out the objects of the conspiracy the said Wilkinson, to influence the vote of the said McKim, repeatedly offered him money, and has at length delivered to the said McKim one thousand dollars; that McKim immediately on receiving the money placed it in the hands of Mr. Speaker, to be by him produced to this House: that both the said Wilkinson and the said Bunting for the same corrupt purpose undertook to pay to Mr. McKim a further sum of $1,000 on a future day; that the said Bunting was a party to the payment of the former sum and to the promise to pay the latter sum for the corrupt purpose already stated, and that to secure the same corrupt object the said Wilkinson and Bunting further offered and undertook that the said McKim should be appointed Registrar at Regina, in the North-West, with a salary of one thousand dollars a year; that both the said Wilkinson and the said Bunting assured the said McKim that the Dominion Minister of the Interior had pledged to them his word that their said promise of the said office would be carried out, and the said Bunting on his own part pledged his word to the same effect; that for the same corrupt purpose already mentioned, and to influence the vote of the said William D. Balfour, the said Wilkinson repeatedly offered to pay, and did this day deliver to the said Balfour, the sum of eight hundred dollars in cash, and undertook to pay a further sum of seven hundred dollars on a future day; that for the same purpose the said Kertland also offered to pay him the sum of twelve hundred dollars; that immediately on receiving the said sum of eight hundred dollars Mr. Balfour placed the same in the hands of Mr. Speaker, to be by him produced to this House; and that further to secure the same purpose the said Wilkinson undertook that the said Balfour should be appointed by the Dominion Government to a Registrarship at Regina, in the North-West; that the said Wilkinson, for the corrupt purpose already mentioned, and to influence the vote of the said John F. Dowling, offered him the sum of two thousand dollars cash, and to pay him a further sum of two thousand dollars at a future period: that the sum so offered to be paid down was exhibited to him by the said Wilkinson, and that there is reason to believe that other corrupt offers were made by the said conspirators to, and rejected by, other members of this House, and it is hereby

Resolved, That the charges and matters referred to and set forth in said statement of the information and belief of the Attorney-General be forthwith referred to the Standing Committee on Privileges and Elections, with instructions to enquire and report thereon, and with power to send for and examine all necessary persons and papers in or concerning the premises.

Mr. Balfour—Mr. Speaker: I trust that other opportunities than this will be presented in order to explain the whole matter that has been submitted to the House. From the time I was first approched in this matter by those parties who were base enough to seek to purchase my support, I made up my mind that I would be doing my duty to my Province by seeking to bring them to justice. (Hear. Hear.) I may say that no step that I took in the whole matter from the time I was first approached—no step was taken without the knowledge and approval and advice of the members of the Government of this House. (Hear. hear.) I can only assure the hon. leader of the Government in this matter—I can only assure my fellow-members—I can only assure the country, that not an office in the gift of the Dominion Government of the present day, not all the money at their command—could induce me to betray the trust that my constituents repose in me. (Hear, hear, and loud cheers.) Not all these things Mr. Speaker, could induce me to assist in their defeat: and I can assure them that as long as I am in this House they will have my hearty and unswerving support, let tempests come from where they may. (cheers.)

The Opposition leader, Mr. W. R. Meredith, agreed with the Attorney-general that the charges should be promptly and thoroughly investigated, but held that the members who had been approached would have occupied a more creditable position if they had spurned the offers made them instead of appearing to accept them for the purpose of leading others into criminal acts. His speech was a dead-lift effort to weaken the condemnation which is sure to follow the exposure, but even so mild a deprecation met with little or no response from his own followers.

Mr. Morris took much the same line as his leader, going so far as to charge Mr. Mowat with being accessory before the fact to the crime committed, ignoring the probability that Mr. Meredith might have had some dim suspicion that such a conspiracy was on foot.

Mr. McKim said the hon. member for East Toronto talked of honour and dishonour. He (Mr. McKim) was one of the leading members in this matter, but he appealed to the Speaker, who had known him for a quarter of a century, to say what he had done that he should have been approached in this way. He held his political principles dear, and when he was approached by these gentlemen he was approached upon his financial standing. (Hear, hear.) He thought his honour had been dragged in the dust, and it was when those offers had been made to him and he had consulted with one of the members of the Government that he went up, and he desired the Speaker who had known him longer than any other member of the House, to say what he had done that he should have been approached in this disgraceful manner by leading members of the Conservative party. (Cheers.) He considered that he had neither dishonoured himself, his party, nor his constituency. (Loud cheers.)

Mr. Fraser said he must confess his utter surprise that two men occupying the important position which the members for London and East Toronto occupied in this House should on so grave an occasion, when the honour, the credit and the reputation of the House were at stake, and when they themselves were to some extent taking strong ground against the conspiracy that had been divulged, only to get up and make excuses for the scoundrels who had been seeking to degrade the honour of the House.

Mr. Morris—No, no.

Mr. Fraser—The hon. gentleman said the occasion was a grave one, and he knew why it was grave. It was because it was pregnant with disastrous results to himself and his friends. (Cheers.) The hon. gentleman disclosed that the only feeling he had in the matter, the only thing that roused him at all, was when the attempt was going on to bring about the utter degradation of the House these men should have been found out, and so weaken his chances of crossing the floor of the House. (Cheers.) He (Mr. Morris) had only words of reproach for those gentlemen who deserved at the hands of the House as a whole, and at the hands of the Province at large, credit and honor and reputation for having brought this villainy home. (Cheers.) His hon. friend said that it was a grave and serious thing that members of the Government should have allowed this matter to go on, but he knew, and the House knew, that if any one on his side of the House had risen to make such a charge without having evidence in his possession, he would have been laughed and sneered at for making charges without foundation. (Cheers.) It was necessary for public purity—(Hear, hear)—and in order to clear the political sky that such steps should be taken that when the matter came before the House they should be able to place beyond peradventure the conviction of these men. They had snared this brawling brood of bribers that had been hatched out under the eaves of the Mail office during the session. (Loud and prolonged cheering.) He told his hon. friends from South Essex and Wellington that they would get, as they deserved to get, credit and honour from the people of this Dominion from one end to the other. (Cheers.) He told his hon. friend from East Toronto, as he had told his friend from Wellington, that there was no dishonour in bringing home guilt where guilt lay. (Cheers.) There was no dishonour in making conviction sure; there was no dishonour in putting one's self in the breach, and he said if there were two men in the House who deserved the esteem and credit of every honest man on both sides of the House they were the members for South Essex and Wellington. (Cheers.) When the question came to be further discussed in the proper place, his hon. friends from London and East Toronto would probably not find it worth their while to rise in their places and decry those who had been the instruments of justice in this matter. (Loud cheers.)

Mr. Graham said that he had been approached by men with money, but they could not carry enough money to buy him. (Cheers.) What money he had was got by honest labour, and he was determined that his political name should go down with honour. He had another proposition made to him, and when he told the gentleman he could not vote against the policy of the Government, he was told that he might manage to make a speech in favor of the Opposition, and he (Mr. Graham) would be remunerated for it.

Mr. Cascaden believed the hon. member for East Toronto had attempted to cast a hollow political prejudice around the investigation of this case. It was to be regretted that the case had not been allowed to go to the country through the privileges and Elections committee without an attempt to conceal the iniquity and crime. The hon. gentleman opposite had said that it would have been better for the hon. gentleman to have spurned the efforts made by these intriguers and by this brood of bribers. He (Mr. Cascaden) knew that efforts had been repeated to buy members of the House from the beginning of the present session. In the first place he was induced to pledge himself to secrecy by an old acquaintance of many years standing, a particular friend of his but a political opponent. He had been offered the Registrarship of Regina. (Hear, hear.) His health being somewhat impaired at the beginning of the session, this was taken into account, and if the very severe climate of Regina would not do him he had a carte blanche that he might select a position in British Columbia. He might have had almost royal equipage. (Hear, hear.) His best judgment told him it was necessary, to capture these culprits, that he should carry on negotiations. Mr. Bunting's name had been mentioned in the affair; he could only say that the first man who approached him came as an emissary of Mr. Bunting, and said he wished him to go and see Mr. Bunting. At a subsequent interview he had an opportunity of talking directly to that gentleman, but he was unable to do everything necessary to be successful in the purpose which he thought it was his duty to carry out. He could only say that he felt it his duty at once to acquaint the Government with the offer which had been made to him. He would have embraced the opportunity to mention it from his place in the House the next day had it not been that similar offers had been refused and the evidence was insufficient to bring home a conviction to those bribers. He, therefore, submitted to the advice of those more able to manage such matters and did not expose the matter as he probably otherwise would have done. He felt it his duty to express his obligation to the hon. member for Essex and the hon. member for Wellington for having so successfully achieved this great service in the interests of the country. These men had attempted to bribe the members of the House with the people's own money, which came into their hands in some roundabout manner. They had attempted to trifle with the will of the people who had only expressed that will within the past twelve months. This was a crime which he hoped would not be again repeated in the history of this Province. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Wood (Conservative) would like to see this matter investigated as rapidly and as thoroughly as it could be done, so that no horrible suspicion should rest for a moment upon one single member of his side of the House. He spoke for himself with an amount of feeling that he could scarcely express in words. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Awrey simply rose to say as a member of the House, and one who regarded the honour of the legislature equally with any other member, to assure his friends that whatever imputations might be made from the other side of the House that the stain would not rest upon the escutcheons of those individuals who had so nobly done their duty. Their regard for these gentlemen of whom he spoke was not in the least impaired by the course they had taken. There was not an honourable man in the Legislature or an honourable man in this country who was not at a critical time in his country's history prepared at some self-sacrifice to bring criminals to justice. (Cheers.) He thought that it came with ill-grace from any member of this house to assert that the stain rested upon these gentlemen. This was the plea brought forth by the hon. member from East Toronto as the only excuse for the bribers having been caught. These bribers had attempted by a single payment to ruin the institutions of the Province, and allure these men to political ruin.

Mr. Baxter had had the honour of representing a constituency in this House since the first Parliament. He had seen a good many public men; a great many of whom had gone to their long home, but at no time since he had occupied a seat in the House had he felt that matters of such importance had been submitted to them. He regretted exceedingly that it had been necessary to bring a matter of this kind before the House. He had known his hon. friend (Mr. McKim) for years, and he felt satisfied that he would not enter an action against any man with the view of punishing anyone without there was the greatest necessity for it. He (Mr. Baxter) felt that these hon. gentlemen had done a great public duty in, bringing this matter before the House in the way which they have done. He did not think his hon. friend from East Toronto had taken the right course. He thought the members of the House would justify these hon. members in the course they had taken. It was well known to the members of the House and the people of this country that the men who were charged with this crime were the very men who for months past had been known in the country as the chief bribers of the Conservative party. It was fortunate that these men had now been caught, and there might be an end put to this system of bribery, which might be the means of accomplishing so much evil in this country. He thought the course suggested by the Attorney-General, to refer this matter to the Committee on Privileges and Elections, was one which would commend itself to everyone who had the welfare of the Province at heart.

Mr. Broder, (Conservative), said the matter had greatly surprised him. He felt that the honour of every member of the House was involved. The views of the people of this Province had to be respected. (Hear, hear.) He believed that the integrity of every member of the House was something that should be maintained. He had nothing to say as to the means by which these facts would be brought to light, but it was the duty of the House to deal with the facts as they were found. (Hear, hear.) He believed that while they had their differences in the House as politicians, they were alike equally responsible for the purity of the House. (Hear, hear.) He believed that every man should stand up for the purity of the House and see that justice was done not alone to the House but to the country in this matter, which involved a grave responsibility at the present time. He thought that it was a great pity that it should only be brought forward just before the close of the session.

Mr. Fraser said the second payment was only made at 3:20 this afternoon.

Mr. Broder admitted that there was nothing in his argument on that score. He saw the Committee on Privileges and Elections was called for Tuesday at 10 o'clock, and he hoped that the investigations would bring all the facts to light.

Mr. Grey (Conservative) said he would do his best, as far as he was concerned, to bring the guilty parties to justice.

Mr. McLaughlin regretted very much the attitude assumed by hon. gentleman opposite. He was sorry that the leader of the Opposition and the hon. member for East Toronto had endeavored to throw the blame on hon. gentlemen on the Government side of the House who had done their duty to the Province.

Mr. Young said the circumstances which had been brought to the attention of the House were most painful. As a Canadian he had always felt proud of their legislative leaders as compared with some other countries. The legislatures of the Domin-

STILL HOVERING AROUND.

The Pacific Railway magnates continue to hover around the House of Commons. "What do they want?" is the general enquiry. They have got control of the whole North-West, together with the Credit Valley and numerous other railways; they have got $30,000,000 additional cash subsidy, and what more is there for them? It has been suggested that possibly the Syndicate desires to obtain a gift of the Parliamentary and Departmental buildings for general offices.

THURSDAY.

THE DOMINION LICENSE ACT.

Houde's resolution to repeal the License Act of last year is a dead letter, and nothing will be heard of it this session. Up to the time of the meeting of the Tory caucus on Wednesday, it was a well known fact that nearly all of the Quebec members had promised to support Houde's resolution. The matter was brought up in caucus, and to the surprise of Houde and many others, the French bolted, and when the matter comes up in the House have promised Sir John their allegiance, even at the sacrifice of the interests of the Province they represent. There are a few honest, independent members who should not be placed under the same category as those who are willing to sell their Province to Sir John. Such men as Ouimet, Houde, Amyot, Bolduc, and a few others, although staunch Conservatives, do at least manifest some independent spirit.

FRIDAY.

THE BREWERS' DEMANDS.

A deputation from the Ontario Brewers' Association had another interview with the Ministers this afternoon, when Mr. Carling, who is regarded as the special representative of that industry in the Cabinet, was present. In addition to the modification of the Inland Revenue regulations and the settlement of the license question, the brewers urged that the Dominion Government should interfere to prevent the separation of the grocery from the liquor traffic, and that the Scott Act should be amended so as to permit the sale of ale, porter, and light wines in counties where the Act is put in force. Sir John Macdonald promised to consider the representations of the delegates, but could not make any definite promise as to what course the Government would adopt.

THE LICENSE QUESTION.

Sir John Macdonald has been obliged to fix a day for the discussion of Mr. Houde's proposition to repeal the Dominion License Act. He has given notice that on Tuesday he will move that the resolution on the question be made the first order of the day for Wednesday. The license question will therefore be discussed on that day.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER'S "POVERTY."

Sir Charles Tupper was seated in the Senators' gallery this evening surrounded by a personal retinue, while his whitewashing bill was under discussion. He seems to take pride in his own moral and legal outlawry. It has been discovered that the real reason why Sir Charles' political dying speech and confession was published in the chief Tory organ about a year ago, was to excite sympathy for him in the Tory ranks, because of his alleged "poverty," and to cloak his greed in seeking to grab the allowances and perquisites attached to the office of High Commissioner, amounting to over $5,000 a year, in addition to his salary as Minister of Railways. Sir Charles drew over $13,000 last year as Minister and High Commissioner, though it will hardly be pretended that his services are of more value than those rendered by Sir John Macdonald or Sir Hector Langevin, who received only $8000. Now it is proposed to replace Sir Charles in the seat in the House of Commons which he has forfeited by accepting an office.

THE TUPPER WHITEWASH BILL.

The weakness of the Government reasons for seeking to whitewash Sir Charles Tupper, was fully equalled by the utter worthlessness of the arguments advanced in support of his Indemnity Bill. Mr. Chapleau seems to be a master of claptrap. Sir John offered neither argument nor apology in support of his bill. Mr. Girouard endeavored to show that Sir Charles Tupper's commission was null and void, that he had never been legally appointed High Commissioner, and that therefore his seat was not vacant. This view was repudiated by Messrs. Cameron (Victoria) and Beatty, who followed him on the same side. The speeches of Messrs. Cameron (Huron,) Lister, Mills, Davies, and Weldon, were logical and conclusive. None of their arguments were controverted in any degree; in fact the main purpose of the Tories in the debate was to approached the question as to the right of Parliament to reinstate in his seat a member who has accepted an office. No excuse was offered for the proposal that Parliament should select a member for the county of Cumberland in place of Sir Charles Tupper, who, to use the proper phrase, "hath accepted an office of emolument under the crown." Mr. O'Brien, the only independent Conservative who spoke on the bill, declared that Sir Chas. Tupper should have sought re-election, and that he voted for the second reading of the bill under protest.

SATURDAY.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER'S UNFAILING CAUTION.

Sir Charles Tupper was again obliged to take refuge in one of the ante-rooms of the House of Commons to-day when the division upon Mr. Casgrain's bill was about to be taken. The High Commissioner is careful of his skin, and does not consider himself out of the woods yet. It is hinted to-day that the whitewashing bill may not be necessary, because Sir Charles is expected to forsake Parliament and the Ministry one of these days and bloom out as a director of the Pacific Railway Syndicate.

THE TORY RECORD.

The Tories have been during the past few days showing their hand as opponents of all efforts at useful legal and social reforms. Yesterday they voted down a proposition to make mock marriages punishable; they rejected the bill making incest a crime; and to-day voted almost solidly against placing any restraint upon the business of contract broking and the debauching of constituencies by contractors' money. The Ministerial majority also some days ago managed to defeat Mr. M. C. Cameron's bill to permit prisoners charged with misdemeanours to give evidence in their own behalf, and have also got Mr. Charlton's Anti-Seduction Bill in such a position that it will not in all probability be reached this session.

Turnbull is showing a nice range of Cretonnes, in New Patterns, for the Spring trade. Ladies will find it to their advantage to call and inspect before purchasing elsewhere.

Toronto Legislative Topics.

WEDNESDAY.

The Opposition held another caucus to-day, and no doubt more of the results of Mr. Meredith's recent conference with the leader at Ottawa were communicated to the Toronto faithful. It is understood that the result of Mr. Meredith's visit to Ottawa was that he received careful admonitions against embarrassing Sir John, and that he agreed to a rather short tether, while on the other hand the Big Chieftain gave his subaltern leave to kick up his heels within the rather circumscribed limits of the tether, and make a harmless show of frisky independence. Mr. Meredith since his return has appeared pleased with the little liberty he will probably on occasion exercise, but he shows unmistably the mark of the tethering rope on his leg.

THURSDAY.

Mr. Pardee introduced his resolution with regard to the railway system of the Province. In the course of a short speech he pointed in the strongest possible language to the grave injustice which had been done to the Province by the Dominion Government taking over the whole railway system of the Province, and showed that it was not justified either by the letter or the spirit of the British North America Act. He showed that while Provincial control over railways was a matter of explicit declaration, the plea upon which the claim of the Dominion Parliament rested was one of interference only, and quoted Sir Charles Tupper to show the flimsy nature of it. He concluded by an eloquent appeal to the patriotic sentiments of the members.

Mr. Ross (Middlesex) contended that by the action of the Dominion Government the clause in the Federation Act relating to Provincial control of railways had been obliterated and had no meaning at all. The only reason he could find for the Dominion taking control of the railways was, that in all emergencies those railways would have to come to the Government for for aid and support, and the consequence was that it placed the Dominion Government in a position to control, for political purposes, the various counties in which these railways were.

FRIDAY.

The bill respecting married women's property gives married women the same standing in regard to property, real or personal, which is now possessed by single women.

ROADWAYS.

The Attorney-General's bill to amend the General Road Companies Act has been read the second time. It makes the provisions of other Acts respecting tree-planting along public highways apply to these roads; authorizes the Council of any town or village through which the road runs or any person by the permission of the Council, to plant trees, grade or level the land on the side of the road, and build sidewalks, as if the road were an ordinary street. The Council of any municipality is given in effect powers with respect to making crossing, laying sewers, etc., along or across such roads, the same as it now possesses with regard to ordinary roads, but of course with the condition that the road shall be put in good order. The Act will relieve municipalities from various inconvenicnces and doubts under which they have sometimes laboured in connection with toll roads.

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTES.

Collegiate Institutes which desire to maintain their present status and designation, and High Schools which aim at becoming institutes, will hereafter, under the Order in Council ratified by the House on Saturday, require to possess a library and laboratory. The old regulations about staffs and salaries are not interfered with, the Minister of Eduction having withdrawn that portion of the order requiring four qualified teachers to be employed at an aggregate salary of $4,500.

MUNICIPAL POWERS ENLARGED.

A very important series of amendments empowers a municipal council to pass by-laws establishing, regulating, or closing public and private wells, and reservoirs, for procuring analyses of water; for seizing and destroying tainted or unwholesome food; preventing or abating public nuisances; compelling the closing up of wells, water-closets, privies, which may be considered dangerous to health; regulating or preventing the erection or continuance of slaughter-houses or other manufactories or business places which may prove to be nuisances; prohibiting or regulating the keeping of cows, and other animals; the construction of cellars, sinks, water-closets, etc.: the filling up or regulating of filling up, draining, clearing of vacant lots, and private drains, and generally the making of such other regulations as may be necessary for sanitary purposes.

MUNICIPAL POWERS.

The Municipal Bill also provides for municipalities regulating the width of tires and tracks of all vehicles used for carrying merchandise, for prohibiting heavy traffic, and the driving of animals in certain streets and places. The regulation of rates of animals and the prevention of the use of deleterious substances in bread is also committed to municipal councils. The powers of city, town, and village councils to regulate the erection of buildings is extended generally, with the object of diminishing the danger of fires. Amongst the changes which to cities are of considerable consequence is that placing one-third of the whole cost of a sewer with a sectional area of four feet on the council and relieving local ratepayers from the burden of expense they have hitherto had to bear for the construction of sewers at the intersection of streets. Counties and townships are authorized to appoint salaried constables, and these as well as city and town constables are to have the same authority as constables appointed by the Courts of General Sessions.

FEMALE FRANCHISE.

A section of the Municipal Bill makes provision for widows and unmarried women rated in their own rights for property or income sufficient to qualify male voters, exercising a right to vote at municipal elections. The discussion on this clause was good-humoured and interesting. When the vote was called for a prolonged din of "carried" and "lost" arose in equal volume, and when the chairman called for yeas and nayr to rise it was difficult to say which was in the majority. The chairman, however declared that the clause had passed. Both sides of the House divided wholly regardless of party lines. On the section passing Mr Ferris proposed that the words "widows and unmarried" be struck out, thus giving married women the same privileges as their unmarried sisters. But Mr. Ferris found when the count was taken that himself, Messrs. Robillard and Kerns were the only champions of the married women. They received an ovation from the ungenerous majority.

GRIP'S PRINTING HOUSE.

The Grip printing and publishing company have settled down in their new and commodious premises at 26 and 28 Front street west, and can now boast with pardonable pride of having the largest and best equipped establishment of the kind in the Dominion of Canada. The building is admirably adapted for the purpose to which it is put. It has five flats and a basement, the dimensions of each being 40x120 ft. It is well and substantially built and supplied with all the latest improvements in the way of ventilation, fire escapes, hoists, conveniences, etc.

The Grip printing house takes the lead in their business. Their facilities and equipment are complete for doing everything and anything, promptly and in the highest style of typographical art. Besides doing the Ontario government printing, they do the work of a number of legal and commercial firms and large corporations, as well as publish several periodicals for outside parties. Grip itself is also being advanced at a rapid rate. The circulation has been increased over 3000 during the past few months and now subscribers are coming in at the rate of over 100 a week. An enlargement to sixteen or twenty pages is contemplated at an early date. With a capital of $100,000 and ably managed the company are bound to succeed.—World.

Mr. T. C. Berchard, public school teacher, Norland, writes: "During the fall of 1881 I was much troubled with Biliousness and Dyspepsia, and part of the time was unable to attend to the duties of my profession. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure was recommended to me, and I have much pleasure in stating that I was entirely cured by using one bottle. I have not had an attack of my old complaint since, and have gained fifteen pounds in weight."

THE "MASHER" DESCRIBED.

The word "Masher," an Americanism to describe a man who glories in his ability to win the admiration of women, has come into use in London, where that kind of human being is plentiful. "He is a fungus," says the London Truth; "not an honest mushroom, on even a respectable toadstool, but a wet, spongy, and unwholesome emanation from a rotten and poisonous soil. Ridiculously overdressed, starched up to the very eye lids, smothered like a girl in jewelry, decked out with flowers like a footman, idiotic in countenance, and sparse in conversation, with a knobbed stick to suck, he has become an observed form of social cold veal."

John R. Vert, Hamilton, says; "McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia and Indigestion is cheap at fifty times the price asked for it. I am a commercial man, and travel continually, and would no more think of leaving home without a bottle McGregor's Speedy Cure in my valise than I would of leaving my team at home and going on foot." DROWNED AT HER MOTHER'S DOOR.

Thursday afternoon a two year-old daughter of Thomas Keeswater, Collingwood, was accidentally drowned not twenty feet from its mother's door, in the Westwark Creek. The mother had left the child for a few minutes, and when she returned the child had disappeared. The body was found in the creek, where the child had accidentally wandered.

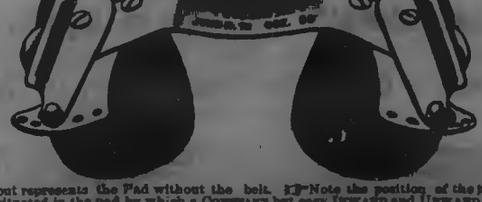
The Tucker Spring Pad Truss

FOR HERNIA OR RUPTURE.



(This cut represents the Pad without the belt. Note the position of the ▷ shaped spring situated in the pad by which a CONSTANT but easy INWARD and UPWARD pressure is conveyed to the Hernia when the Pad is adjusted.)

This Truss, which is placed before your notice and consideration, is wholly unlike any other appliance in construction or principle. It dispenses with the ever uncomfortable Body Spring, having the means to convey a proper pressure just where it is required, that is in the Pad. The Tucker Truss is very light, single one weighing about 4 ozs., and the double one not 8 ozs., it completely and comfortably retains the Hernia under all positions and exertions of the body. A swivel attachment to the belt prevents displacement by locomotion or stooping, and its ready and constant adjustability by which each Pad is made either RIGHT or LEFT at once or fixed at any desired angle commends it, and also, it is more durable than any other, as there is nothing to rust or break, all the metal work being nickel plated

SCIENTIFIC BUTTER MAKING.

CARE OF THE CREAM.

(From the Ontario Government Manual for Scientific Butter Making.)

No. 2.

RIPENING.

As very few dairies are large enough to make it an object to churn each milking by itself, it is usually necessary to churn the cream of two or more milkings together. Where this is the case the following points are important: Never keep in separate vessels the cream that is being accumulated for a single churning; always put the cream for a whole churning in a single vessel, which must be large enough for that purpose. A failure to do this will result in loss of quantity. As each skimming of cream is added to what has been put in before, let the whole be well stirred together. It is always well, and is sometimes necessary, to stir the cream occasionally between the times of adding new lots, especially toward the last when there is greater difference between the old cream and the fresh skimmed. After the last cream has been added, the whole should stand well mixed until it has become equally "ripened." The time required for this will be twelve hours, at the average temperature, or 60°. At a higher temperature it will not require so long a time; at a lower temperature it will take longer. This is necessary in order to have the cream equally ripened. If not equally ripened, some of the cream will be farther advanced than the rest, and will churn first leaving some of the cream in the butter-milk.

If, therefore, it be desired to churn sooner, the cream may be heated up, and when ready, cooled to the proper temperature. If it be an object to delay the churning, always let the cream stand at a lower temperature than the average, until ready for churning, when it may be warmed up to the necessary degree.

The Hon. Harris Lewis advises that a small quantity of salt be added to the first cream that is put in the cream-holders. The object of this practice is to make the cream keep longer and in better condition.

HOW TO WARM AND COOL CREAM.

Always warm and cool cream gradually. Sometimes the churn may be cooled or warmed by cold or hot milk so as to make a difference of a few degrees in the cream. Cold or warm milk may be added to the cream, where the cream needs to be made thinner to lower or raise the temperature. Ice or hot water are objectionable. If more than this is required, let the vessel holding the cream be set in another vessel containing water, cold or heated, as the case may require. Or, if it be more convenient, place a bottle, or other vessel, containing cold or warm water in the cream till the desired temperature has been obtained.

SWEET CREAM FOR CHURNING.

Though cream should be somewhat advanced towards souring, or ripened, it is not necessary that cream be sour, either to churn it or to get a first quality of butter. Cream should have some age and airing. This may be obtained before skimming if it remains long enough on the milk but it will usually be better to give it a little time to age and ripen after it has been skimmed. If the cooling be slow and not low, so that it will be from twenty-four to tairty-six hours raising, the cream may be churned soon after it is skimmed. If milk has been heated up before setting and cooled down to a moderate temperature, it may be churned soon after being taken from the milk, even though it be less than twenty-four hours raising; but if milk be set without previous heating and raised in a short time by reducing it to a very low temperature, the cream should stand, after being skimmed, twelve hours or more before churning.

SOUR CREAM FOR CHURNING.

There is no objection to cream being sour before churning if it be not too far advanced. Where different skimmings are mixed to be churned at one time it is even better that the cream be sour, as it is more likely to get evenly ripened. The slightest souring is the best; there can be no object to keep it after it has first turned except where the different skimmings have been mixed, and the time when the whole is to churn has not been sufficient to equally ripen it. In this case the fresh cream, if well mixed, keeps back the souring of the old cream until the whole has reached a like condition. After the cream has sufficiently soured, the longer it is kept the poorer the butter. The acidity is increased after it has ripened the butter, in all cases, for the worse.

Chronic Colds.

A cold that may be cured by a teaspoonful of Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam to-day, may grow into consumption before two years and defy the highest medical skill. Why not cure it, then, in the beginning by the teaspoonful of Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam. But even after the cold becomes chronic there is no better remedy than this. Mrs. Felix Manotot, of St. Jean, P. Q., who was a sufferer from a chronic cold for over twenty years, which was accompanied by the spitting of blood and general weakness, was completely cured by it in a wonderfully short time.

SHE LAUGHED TOO SOON.

A woman stood at the front gate watching her neighbor's dog coming down the street with a kettle tied to his tail. It amused her vastly.

Presently the owner of the dog emerged in hot pursuit, whereupon the woman at the gate laughed a coarse, unmaidenly laugh.

Then a little boy rounded the corner with a look of deep joy upon his face.

He stopped and said to the woman at the gate:

"What are you laughin' at?"

She replied with great glee: "The dog with the kettle tied to his tail."

"Is awful funny, isn't it?" the little boy said, as he hurried on. "The kettle is yours."

Then the woman at the gate suddenly stopped laughing.

A Lawyer's Opinion of Interest to all.

J. A. Tawney, Esq., a leading attorney of Winona, Minn., writes: "After using it for more than three years, I take great pleasure in stating that I regard Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, as the best remedy in the world for Coughs and Colds. It has never failed to cure the most severe colds I have had, and invariably relieves the pain in the chest." Trial Bottles of this sure cure for all Throat and Lung Diseases may be had Free at Taylor & Macdonald's Drug Store. Large size, $1.

EYES IN THE BACK OF HER HEAD.

"Ma, I didn't know you had eyes in the back of your head," said Johnny Simpson to his mother last night.

"Why, I haven't, my dear. What put such an idea into your head?" returned Mrs. Simpson in surprise.

"Well, I heard pa tell nurse last night to run along because you had eyes in the back of your head an' could see through a ten foot wall," replied Johnny.

There is a new nurse up at the Simpson mansion now, and the new nurse is 46 years old and has a moustache and one green eye.

Figures Won't Lie.

The figures showing the enormous yearly sales of Kidney-Wort, demonstrate its value as a medicine beyond dispute. It is a purely vegetable compound of certain roots, leaves and berries known to have special value in Kidney troubles. Combined with these are remedies acting directly on the Liver and Bowels. It is because of this combined action that Kidney-Wort has proved such an unequalled remedy in all diseases of these organs.

NOT EXPECTING HIM.

"Ah," said the nice young man with bangs, as the little boy let him in the other evening, "ah, my little man, is your sister at home?" "Yes, she's at home, but she isn't expecting you." "And how do you know she isn't expecting me?" "'Cause I heard her tell ma that you're to mean to hire a horse and sleigh, and she didn't expect to see you while the snow lasted."

High Priced Butter.

Dairymen often wonder how thier more favored competitors get such high prices for their butter the year round. It is by always having a uniform gilt edged article. To put the "gilt edge" on, when the pastures do not do it, they use Wells Richard & Co's. Improved Butter Color. Every butter maker can do the same. Sold everywhere and warranted as harmless as salt, and perfect in operation.

THE PEACH PROSPECT.

Fear is expressed that the peach buds have been destroyed in the Niagara peninsula by an ice-storm, and that this year's crops will not exceed ten per cent. of an average. The peach orchards of that section of country have been very unfortunate of late, as for each of the last two years they have produced less than half a crop.

An Unhappy Father.

Johnson has a new baby at his house, and he little stranger is not permitting him to have much rest at night. The other morning when he was getting ready for breakfast and felt like he had been on a two week's drunk, his wife said to him:

"My dear, what shall we call baby?"

"What?" very curtly

"I said what shall we call baby?"

"You can call it anything you please; I call it a darned nuisance."

The Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya has become a great favourite on account of its perfect reliability in treating derangements of the stomach, liver complaint, and diseases of the kidneys, which are the cause of poor blood and breaking down of the general health. It restores vitality to all the organs, removing suppressions, irregularities, and exhausting discharges, and every description of humors which disfigure the body. It is adapted to all ages and conditions of life, being a blood food and nutritive tonic, sold at $1.00.

HORSES FROM PUBLIC BUILDINGS

Mr. Fraser's bill for securing greater safety of persons from public buildings provides, that before we, they all doors and gates of every such building shall open freely outwards, and lays down explicit directions as to the width of the doors. In no case shall they be less than four feet each in width, and where the audience hall of the building is on the ground level, or not more than ten feet above it, there shall be an additional foot of width for every sixty of the largest audience which that audience hall is intended to accommodate. When the audience hall is more than ten feet above the ground level there must be an additional foot of width to each door for every forty of such largest audience. As to the stairs, stair-ways, and passages in such buildings, it is directed that they must be at least equal to the width of all exit doors leading directly to them, that stairs and stair-ways must be provided with a hand-rail on each side, and where they are more than seven feet wide, with a hand-rail in the middle as well.

Provision is also made by which every Corporation will be obliged to appoint some qualified official to examine all public buildings within its limits, and report as to their compliance with the provisions of the Act. An important point refers to the numbering of exit doors in city theatres, concert rooms, lecture rooms, or other places of a similar nature. They must all be numbered differently, and in such a plain manner as to be easily seen by the audience. Besides this, on every programme or hand-bill distributed among the audience there must be printed in conspicuous type a plan or diagram, with explanation, showing each such exit-door with its number. A fine not exceeding [illegible] costs provided for contravention of this requirement. As for churches, it is enacted that congregations and persons holding churches under any Act, shall be liable as trustees for neglect of the provisions of this Act. Councils are granted the power of, by-law, exempting buildings for the provision of [illegible] for a period not exceeding twelve months.

There never was, and never will be, a universal panacea, in one remedy, for all ills to which flesh is heir—the very nature of many curatives being such that were the germs of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient—what could relieve one ill, in turn would aggravate another. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtainable in a sound unadulterated state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual and judicious use, the frailest systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence which Quinine exerts on Nature's own restoratives. It relieves the drooping spirits of those with whom a chronic state of morbid despondency and lack of interest in life is a disease, and by tranquilising the nerves, disposes to sound and refreshing sleep—imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which, being stimulated, courses throughout the veins, strengthening the healthy animal functions of the system, thereby making activity a necessary result, strengthening the frame, and giving life to the digestive organs, which naturally demand increased substance—result, improving appetite. Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, have given to the public their superior Quinine Wine at the usual rate, and ganged by the opinions of scientists, this wine approaches nearest perfection of any in the market. All druggists sell it.

EXPLOSION IN A VIRGINIA COAL MINE.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY MEN LOSE THEIR LIVES.

An explosion occurred at the coal mines Pocahontas, Virginia, last Thursday night. The work of destruction was horrible and complete. There were 150 men in the mine at the time of the explosion, not one of whom is believed to have escaped. Those who were not killed outright most likely perished from the after-damp. The cause of the explosion is not yet definitely ascertained. The entries to the mines are full of bad air. The presumption is that one of the miners struck a fissure of gas. Several parties ventured in the mine this morning, but could not long endure the foul atmosphere. A number of bodies were discovered, all horribly mangled—some with heads torn off, others with limbs all gone. Houses 200 or 300 feet from the mines were overturned and several demolished. A large ventilator of the Southwest Improvement Company was blown to atoms, and the mines cannot be entered until another is constructed for the purpose of freeing the atmosphere of suffocating fumes. This work is now progressing. Large forces are constructing coffins and perfecting the arrangements for interment of the dead, most of whom are foreigners. It is ascertained that the accident was caused by the men going to far with lamps.

An Answer Wanted.

Can any one bring us a case of Kidney or Liver Complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure? BEAUTIFYING SCHOOL GROUNDS.

The Horticultural Society of Michigan set on foot an undertaking two or three years ago for the ornamenting of country school grounds. The plan of the society is simply an arrangement with a leading seed company whereby all teachers or schools who apply may get flower seeds at cost. Many schools have availed themselves of this offer, and a marked improvement has already been made in the appearance of their grounds. The work of preparing the ground, planting the seeds, and keeping the plots clean and neat is done by the children under the supervision of the teacher, and there is no doubt now as to its value as an educating influence; the scholars take a just pride in their work, and the cheerlessness so common in the appearance of school premises has already disappeared to a large extent. The Horticultural Society of Ontario might do worse than follow the example of the Michigan society in this respect. There is great need of some movement to beautify the grounds of country schools.—Rural Canadian.

The laws of the Medes and Persians were not more immutable than those of nature. If we transgress them we suffer. Sometimes, however, we break them inadvertently. Damages frequently take the form of Dyspepsia, Constipation and Biliousness which can be easily repaired with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, the Great Blood Purifier and renovator of the system.

Failing!

That is what a great many people are doing. They don't just know what is the matter, but they have a combination of aches and pains, and each month they grow worse.

The only sure remedy yet found is SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS, and this by rapid and thorough assimilation with the blood purifies and enriches it, and rich, strong blood flowing to every part of the system repairs the wasted tissues, drives out disease and gives health and strength.

This is why SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS will cure kidney and liver diseases, consumption, rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fevers &c.

PETERBOROUGH, MARCH 20, 1884.

The Great Scandal.

Those who witnessed the scene which took place on Monday evening in the Legislature of Ontario will not soon forget it. We have already made our readers aware of the fact that persistent efforts were being made almost from the beginning of the session, and in some few cases even before the session began, to seduce Liberal members elect from their allegiance to the Mowat Administration. The number of Government supporters on whom such attempts were made is almost incredible, and the variety of the means resorted to scarcely less so. Money in considerable sums was offered to men who were known to be in financial difficulties. Offices at the disposal of the Dominion Government—the registrarship of Edmonton, the registrarship of Regina, a post in the Customs in British Columbia, not to mention other positions of emolument—were offered to one after another, sometimes along with large sums of money, sometimes without any accompaniment. The evidence on which these charges are based has already been partially developed, and before it is all brought to light, Sir John Macdonald and the party he leads will be worse discredited than they were even by the Pacific Scandal.

The nefarious conspiracy to bribe members of the Legislature was unearthed by two of the men on whom the arts of the seducer were plied. Taking the Government into their confidence, and acting with the full knowledge and consent of the Attorney-General, Mr. McKim, of West Wellington, and Mr. Balfour, of Essex, decoyed the agents of the conspirators into such a position that they have hopelessly committed themselves, nothing but formal testimony being necessary to their conviction. These two gentlemen, by pretending to yield, led their seducers into giving them money, a thousand in one case and eight hundred in the other, each being promised an office in addition, by Senator Macpherson, the Dominion Minister of the Interior. That Messrs. McKim and Balfour did right, under the circumstances, there will be few to deny. Their duty was an unpleasant one, but it was perfectly plain. Dr. Dowling, of South Renfrew, was engaged in the same skilful decoy work, but the mine had to be sprung before he got his money.

The method of exposure was putting the money, in sealed envelopes, in the hands of the Speaker, with a request that the packets should not be opened till the Attorney-General requested them to be unsealed. This was done early on Monday evening, and immediately afterwards Mr. Mowat read a formal charge against Mr. Christopher W. Bunting, of the Mail, Mr. John A. Wilkinson, of West Durham, and two Americans, named Kirkland and Lynch, accompanying it with a resolution to refer the whole matter for investigation to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. The remarks made by the Attorney-General in support of the motion were dignified and appropriate. He took on himself the full responsibility of all that had been done, justified Messrs. Balfour and McKim, denounced the conspirators in the warmest terms, and congratulated the country on the proved incorruptibility of its representatives. His remarks were seconded by a warm outburst from Mr. Fraser, who described the conspirators as a "hawking brood of ballots, hatched under the eaves of the Mail building."

Mr. Meredith and Mr. Morris sought to break the stunning force of the blow by throwing odium on the men who had decoyed their agents into the trap, but not a single speaker, except Mr. Clarke, West Toronto, on their own side endorsed this view, while some of them commended Messrs. McKim and Balfour. A number of speeches were made by Government supporters, each speaker warmly congratulating the gentlemen named, for their skill and success in unearthing the most nefarious plot that was ever exposed in the political history of Canada. The motion to investigate was passed without a dissenting voice, and after an exciting and memorable sitting, the House adjourned.

To make matters more exciting, the news came into the Chamber that Kirkland, Lynch and Wilkinson had been arrested and lodged in one of the Toronto police stations, to appear before the Magistrate next morning. Mr. Bunting was allowed to spend the night at home, on condition of appearing in the morning to answer to the charges made against him. It does not appear at this writing what penalty will be finally inflicted; but, meanwhile, the men who have allowed themselves to become the catspaws of corrupt politicians have manifestly got themselves into a most unpleasant predicament.

The question at once arises—assuming the guilt of the agents to be indisputable—who employed them to bribe Mr. Mowat's supporters to betray him. The country will give but one answer—Sir John Macdonald, in whose hands Meredith is a mere puppet. The hatred and malignity of the Premier of the Dominion towards the Premier of Ontario are so intense and consuming, that the former would run any risk to secure the downfall of the latter. He raised funds for the purpose, and gave the money to his emissaries to spend in debauching the constituencies at the last general election. In this way he succeeded in winning several Liberal strongholds, and almost succeeded in overthrowing the Government. Exasperated by defeat, he has sought persistently ever since to win members elect away from their allegiance, until at last both he and his agents became too reckless, and thus fell into the snare.

Poor Meredith! He has forever destroyed his chances of distinction in public life. No one but an utter and incorrigible idiot would have dreamt for a moment of defeating the Government by such clumsy means. It is useless to say that he may have known nothing of the plot. He did know of it. He was at Ottawa a few days ago helping to hatch it with his chief. Shortly after his return to Toronto "Big-Push Wilkinson appeared on the scene. Bunting began again to interview members and haunt the hotel. The previous exposures by ourselves and others made the lobbies too hot to hold him, but the Mail office was available, and to it the marked men were invited, to receive the reward of their treachery to their leader. No man who relies on such means to get into power in this Province need think of ever holding up his head again, and the sooner Meredith retires into private life the better for himself. His usefulness is gone, while Mr. Mowat has, by this attempt to cut the ground from under his feet, been indefinitely strengthened in popular esteem. Truly, the way of transgressors is hard, as even Sir John will find out.

The Government at Ottawa know well that their ruinous North-West land policy is retarding the settlement of the country, and, in order to mitigate the effect of their criminal blundering, the report of the Minister of the Interior is made to cover eighteen months instead of twelve, so that the show of the sale of lands thus produced, would tend to conceal the immense falling off in settlement. Yet compared to the sales for twelve months of 1881, the sales for eighteen months ending December 1883, indicate an alarming decrease. In twelve months of 1881 the cash sales of North-West lands amounted to $1,228,424.37, while for the eighteen months included in the last report of the Minister of the Interior, the sales amount to only $119,947.79. This is plain proof that the Dominion land policy is not only a great blunder, but a great drawback to the country. It is no wonder now that Sir John sneaked out of responsibility in this matter and shoved the burden on the shoulders of Hon. Mr. Macpherson.

The Knight of the Tea-Pot.

During the greater part of the present session of the Ontario Legislature Mr. Carnegie's achievements, in the way of crushing the Government, have been decidedly disappointing to his friends. But it would appear that they have been rather impatient and premature in their conclusions. The member for West Peterborough has not been lagging around his scrap-book and digging away among the Public Accounts for nothing. He has at length come triumphant to the surface, bringing with him the facts of a terrible scandal, which should demolish the Government and swamp the Grit party from power. He has unmasked a startling instance of political depravity and administrative corruption, showing that the Mowat Government actually squandered fifteen cents of the public money on Colonization Roads, which Mr. Carnegie has always found hard roads to travel, and upon which he has at last struck a soft spot—the first token of comfort. Although we have always warmly supported the Mowat Administration, we did so honestly and in ignorance of the facts Mr. Carnegie's vigilance has disclosed. But we must admit that his disclosure of their ruinous extravagance causes us to waver in our allegiance. Our duty to the public outweighs even the most exacting party considerations, and we shall, therefore, expose as fully as possible the nefarious acts which the Solon of the Scrap-Book has brought to light. The damaging facts are briefly these: It appears that Colonization Road supplies are sometimes purchased in Toronto, and if these supplies fall short, they are supplemented by purchases on the ground where the work is going on. Among the items of a Toronto bill for Colonization Road supplies that came before the Public Accounts Committee, was one for five pounds of tea at 43 cents per pound. This does not seem to be an extravagant price; but read further and note the tremendous principle, or rather lack of principle involved. Resting on the apparent moderation of this price, the country would have slumbered on in blissful ignorance of the volcano of extravagance that was smouldering under their feet, had not the eagle eye of Mr. Carnegie lighted on the damning fact that the supply of forty-three cents tea having given out (owing no doubt to the extravagant tea-guzzling of Government labourers), a few pounds were actually purchased in the neighborhood for forty cents per pound! By which criminal disregard of the public interests the public was defrauded out of fifteen cts, the extra price paid for the Toronto tea. Is not Mr. Carnegie worthy to be crowned with laurels—no, tea-leaves—for this astounding and immeasurably important discovery of Grit corruption. Unfortunately he did not find out whether the forty cent tea was of a poorer quality than the other; but that's beside the question. The glaring and humiliating fact stares us in the face that the recklessly corrupt and extravagant Ontario Government has spent $2.15 for five pounds of tea, when they could have bought a like amount for $2.00. What matter if the Toronto tea was a better quality? Is not forty-cent tea good enough, the aristocratic Mr. Carnegie rightly argues, for labourers, especially if they are Grits? All honour to Mr. Carnegie, who has thus unmasked a perfidious Administration, and exposed them to the world, steeped to the lips in corruption and 43-cent tea! It might be suggested that a testimonial be contributed by his grateful constituents, consisting of a tin tea-pot, with this inscription:—"To the magnanimous patriot, who, after dogging the record of the Mowat Government for a dozen years, and accumulating tons of scrap-book, has discovered the astounding iniquity of a reckless squandering of 15 cents, this tea-pot is presented by his grateful supporters."

A public reception should be accorded him on his triumphant return to town after the labours of the session. Never again, after such an exhibition of brilliancy, shall we listen to a word of disparagement of Mr. Carnegie's sublime abilities. And his enemies may look forward with fear and trembling to the use he will make of his discovery when another election campaign shall come around. Won't he make the West Riding ring, from Galway to Rice Lake, with his tale of a tea-pot?

Editorial Notes.

A specimen of the economy practised by the Tory Government, Ottawa, is shown: A notorious ward politician in Toronto presented a bill for supplying "weather-strips" for the doors of Rideau Hall, Ottawa. Now, door saddles of the kin dauphined by this political-utility man can be bought for $1.00 each, retail, in Toronto, and the price paid by the Government was $538.00; so it would appear that there are 538 doors in Rideau Hall, or the political henchman was paid four or five times what the goods were worth.

It has transpired that part of the price paid to the fifty-one Quebec Tories who voted for the Pacific loan was $3,480,000 to the railways of Quebec. As the Hamilton Times points out, each Quebec member earned $68,235.29 for his Province. This amount they have demanded, and this amount they will get. The 52 Ontario Tories, on the same basis of reward, would each be entitled to a like amount. But it is vain to ask if they will make demand as the Quebec Tories have done. Not at all likely. The Quebec Tories, while they are loyal to their party, think first of their loyalty to their Province, and put her interests first. But the Ontario Tories are simply loyal to their party, and will bend themselves with plastic servility to the commands of their party leaders, thinking and caring nothing for the rights of their Province. They unfailingly support and abet Sir John in all his schemes for the humiliation and embarassment of Ontario, and never think of demanding or upholding one imperilled right on her behalf.

The bill whitewashing Sir Charles Tupper and relieving him of the pains and penalties incurred by his breach of the Independence of Parliament Act is the worst blow yet at the liberties of the people, and shows to what a length the Government and Tory party are determined to go to promote party ends. Representative institutions, involving the right of the people practically to make, through their representatives, their own laws, have been trampled on for partizan purposes. The seat of Sir Charles Tupper, Cumberland, was, by his breach of the law, made vacant, and the Tory Government and members, regardless of the people of that Riding, regardless of their right to select their representative, made Sir Charles Tupper member of Cumberland by Act of Parliament. In principle this act was worse and a more dangerous precedent than the Pacific Railway steal, and, if carried out generally, would undo the work of centuries in building up representative institutions. The only redeeming feature about it is, paradoxical as it may appear, its unparalleled iniquity; it has aroused even the fears of members of the Tory party, and it may prove the beginning of a reaction that will recoil upon the present reckless and shameless Dominion Administration. It was so utterly bad and indefensible a measure that some staunch Tory supporters condemned it, and over thirty supporters of the Government abstained from voting, among them being Sir Leonard Tilley, who found the dose more than even he could swallow. Sir Charles Tupper, in the matter, is entirely shameless. After being duly whitewashed by the votes of a servile majority, he, who had been skulking around the lobbies and committee rooms all day, while his case was under discussion, entered the chamber with a theatrical air and took his seat amid applause of the more morally degraded of the Government supporters.

Death of Cetywayo.

The last chapter in the life of this somewhat formidable savage and former opponent of England, has really come to an end. Cetywayo died suddenly, of heart disease, at Ekowe, about the middle of February, and thus his turbulent and chequered career is closed. His presence at Zululand was unquestionably a standing menace to the peace of the country, and his death settles the difficulty which the English Government must have had in again dealing with him.

In life he played a very important part, quite unusual, indeed, among the ablest of savage potentates. He has linked his name with the history of England, both with reference to home and colonial affairs, in no slight way, especially in recent years. A slight sketch of the affairs in which he has been mixed up will, no doubt, prove interesting.

For almost a quarter of a century his power as chief of Zululand was supreme. His military prowess, his unscrupulous methods for self-aggrandizement, his cunning and deceit, and his cruel despotism made him the most conspicuous figure in South Africa for a still longer period.

As far back as 1856, Cetywayo arrived at the conclusion that Umpanda, his father, should give way and allow him to reign in his stead. Too old to fight or work, the King evidently feared the hostility of his children by appointing any one to succeed him, so he said, "the strongest man is King." This naturally led, first, to family quarrels, then to faction fights, and, indeed, numerous pitched battles, in which Cetywayo was victorious, six of his brothers having been slain in a single battle. Then it was that Cetywayo virtually became King of Zululand, his father receiving the position of a sort of Royal Privy Counsellor.

Umpanda died in 1873, after a reign of 35 years, and at that date Cetywayo was crowned in the presence of representatives from the Natal and Transvaal Governments. It was understood that, in return for this recognition of position, he should cease his murderous practices and condemn no Zulu without a fair trial. The covenant was broken by him in the most unblushing way, and he continued to intrigue against the British and the Boers on all sides. He kept up all along a numerous and well-drilled army, which caused no little peril and annoyance to the surrounding colonies. At last, Sir Bartle Frere, Governor of Cape Colony, looking upon his military power with suspicion, and knowing that he had committed outrages on British subjects, in 1878 demanded that Cetywayo should make reparation for his insults, disband his army, and accept a British resident in place of his tyrannous sway.

At this time the hostility of the Zulus became more deadly, owing to Britain having taken over the government of the Transvaal. Cetywayo treated all communications with contemptuous silence. Early next year Lord Chelmsford entered Zululand at the head of 13,000 British troops. It will be remembered how the first weeks of that campaign were signalized by the terrible disaster at Isandlana, followed by the gallant defence at Rorke's Drift. At Ulundi, in July of the same year, the Zulus were completely routed, and shortly afterwards Cetywayo was taken prisoner. His army was quite broken up, and under the gallant Wolseley, Zululand was re-organized, divided into thirteen portions, each under the rule of a separate chief, and all supervised by a British resident.

Cetywayo was kept a prisoner at Capetown, and soon became an object of much interest to thousands in Africa and elsewhere. In some unaccountable way people took up the cause of this cruel, bloodthirsty and unreliable despot, spoke strongly of his dignity, intelligence and noble demeanour, all at once conceived him to have been the victim of deliberate wrong-doing, and almost demanded that he should be restored to his throne and kingdom.

To accomplish this purpose, some astute friend of the untamed savage started the idea of bringing Cetywayo to England, and this was done in 1882. The manner in which he was lionized and talked of is too fresh in our readers' minds to need repetition here. Suffice it to say, that, having so received and honoured him, the English felt that he should, on returning to his own country, be reinstated in his former position. Over-sanguine philanthropists asserted dogmatically, that, of course, humanized and civilized by contact with Europeans, he would exercise a benignant rule over his people, and became instead of a cunning and not over-scrupulous foe, a firm friend of the English race forever.

A few chiefs were accordingly displaced to make way for him on his return, and he was partly restored. In less than six months, through Cetywayo's ceaseless schemings, Zululand was again in a ferment, and the end of the matter was, that he was obliged to seek refuge on the Reserve, prudently kept for this very purpose. From that time he had to be kept under strict surveillance, and several times he attempted to escape.

Up to the time of his death he still cherished hopes of recovering his lost place, and carried on countless intrigues with this in view, his machinations reaching as far as Capetown. Despite his natural ability and unflinching courage and energy, one cannot help but think his death brings relief to those in charge of the administrations of South Africa, and may cause still greater changes for the better in the present condition of Zululand and its people.

Numerous toasts were given and responded to in an able manner, amongst others, the press, which was ably taken up by the correspondents of the Review and EXAMINER. Mr. S. Scott, councillor, of Chandos, spoke in behalf of the farmers of in this part of the country, and proved to all present that this is going to be one of the best farming districts in Ontario, in the near future. During the evening Mrs. Pratt favored us with a few choice songs for which she received well earned applause. Mr. Pratt replied to the toast of our host and hostess in his own good natured way, after which we all joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne," thus bringing to a close one of the most pleasant evenings ever spent in Apsley.

We're Selling Cottons

AT WHAT THEY COST OTHER PEOPLE!

Rather a strong statement isn't it? Very likely it is. But it's one we're perfectly well prepared to back up.

1. To back it up with the Goods.
2. To back it up with the Prices.
3. To back it up with the extent of Stock.
4. To back it up with the range of Grades and Qualities.
5. To back it up by giving you any number of yards for a lower figure than Pressure Sales compel others to part with them for.

There's a platform for you in COTTONS. Try any of other plank. They'll all hold you and they're safe to support our reputation.

We've spoken of Cotton Goods in general, now let us particularize.

We offer you TICKINGS and SHEETINGS, and GREY and WHITE COTTONS, and SHIRTINGS, and if you need them, COTTON TWEEDS and DUCKS as well.

If you've understood that we carry the trade with us in COTTONS, you're well informed.

We're giving you Cottons at about the prices that other houses are paying for them. That's our opinion.

One of our FACTS is that we sell our COTTONS at other people's cost prices, and make our business profits besides.

How do we do it? Come to our counters and see, cross-examine and interrogate, and then buy. We're confident you can't afford to refuse.

FENELON.

The election for the deputy-reeveship of Fenelon resulted in the return of Mr. Smithson by a majority of 119. The vote was—Smithson, 277; Knight, 158. As Mr. Smithson had been elected warden there was naturally some sympathy for him under the circumstances. The contest was very keen and has given rise to some hard feeling.

NORWOOD.

Mr. P. W. Reynolds has rented Mr. Roxburgh's handsome block on the corner of Coleborne and Peterborough Streets, and will occupy it as a store.

Mr. Timothy Fitzpatrick having resigned the assessorship of this village, Mr. Wesley Dafoe has been appointed in his "room and stead," at a salary of $30. Mr. Fitzpatrick discovered there was "no money in it" at $13. Mr. Dafoe's appointment gives complete satisfaction.

HASTINGS.

His Lordship Bishop Jamot celebrated mass in St. Mary's Church in this village last Sunday.

The directors of the Agricultural Society of E. Peterboro' and E. Northumberland held a meeting in the Clarendon on Saturday at which the preliminary arrangements were made in reference to the contemplated Union Exhibition of cattle. Everything was satisfactorily arranged and the date of the show set down for the 23rd of April.

BOBCAYGEON.

A large congregation assembled in the Baptist Church on Sunday last, to witness the baptism of a new member by total immersion.

Mr. Wm. Treanam has met with a serious loss by the drowning of a valuable horse. He was driving from his shanty in Harvey to Bobcaygeon, and whist on the Ball Lake Narrows, near the mouth of Squaw River, the horse broke through the ice. Mr. Treanam was alone, and had a narrow escape from being drowned himself in his efforts to try and save the horse.

OPS.

Another old pioneer of Ops has been called away, at the venerable age of 80 years in the person of Mr. John Gilteaan. The deceased came to this country from county Clare, Ireland, thirty-six years ago, and settled in Ops, twenty-eight years ago. He was a good neighbor and was highly respected. He never had a day's sickness up to within two days of his death, and was in full possession of all his faculties. He had four sons and two daughters, but only two sons survive him, one Mr. Patrick Gilteaan, living in Ops, the other living in Kansas. Mrs. Gilteaan died many years ago.

COBOURG.

There are only seven applications from Cobourg for Dominion licenses.

Owners of billiard tables are complying with the law respecting youths under seventeen years of age playing in their rooms.

The Royal Canadian hotel, formerly kept by Mr. Robt. Craig, has changed hands, Mr. William Niles being the new landlord.

On Wednesday afternoon, Mr. David Wright, father of Mr. McNaughton, Stewart street, fell dead at his own door as he was about to enter the house. It is supposed that death was caused by apoplexy.

EMILY.

On Tuesday afternoon last while Mr. John Faulkner, of Emily, was on his way to Omemee with a load of wood and when nearing the top of Crawford's hill he dropped dead. The supposition is, that feeling unwell he stopped the horses, got off the load and unhitched them from the sleigh, probably with the intention of returning home on horseback, when he sat down and fell over dead. Some months ago while working on the Ontario & Quebec railway he met with a very serious accident by falling off a high load of ties one of which struck him on the back of the head, which was no doubt the cause of his untimely end. Deceased leaves a wife and a number of children to mourn his loss.

PORT HOPE.

Fifty-two applications have been made to the License Commissioners for liquor licenses under the Dominion Act.

The Times understands that arrangements have been completed for the purchase of a new bell for the Methodist church from the Jones Troy Bell Co., the same firm from which the old bell was bought, to replace the broken one.

There are now over 200 members of the Church of England Temperance Society, in this town in connection with St. Mark's and St. John's Churches. These branches were instituted about the latter part of October last, and have made a surprising amount of progress.

CENTREVILLE.

To the Editor of the EXAMINER:

SIR,—Few villages of more pretentious appearance than our own Centreville can boast of a poet and embryo statesman at all rivalling the genius now residing in our midst—a poet whose literary labors are not the least brilliant or useful among the contributions to a neighboring weekly—a statesman whose name has been before a party convention, received a handsome vote, and might have secured the nomination had not an ungrateful party preferred anybody else. But, though prevented displaying his refined manners and exercising his talents for the common good, an opportunity was not wanting, nor left unimproved, to show the party what a star had been lost. A neighbor having entered the convention, our statesman canvassed his vote, suggesting that no one would know whether he was a delegate or not. The vote having been read, crediting our hero with one, and the neighbor assuring him that was his, our statesman emphatically exclaimed, "It's a lot, Oi voited for meself," showing he was not to be imposed on by such an artifice. It will be remembered that the military party was strong at this convention, and our friend accounts for the slightly adverse vote on this ground:—Though a man of determined bravery, our Pegasus considers his life too valuable to be lightly jeopardized; so, when the Fenians, under O'Neil, crossed the border, and the volunteers were called out to repel them, though a member of No. 4 Company, 46th Battalion, our friend preferred remaining at home, but freely went to the front on being hunted up and interviewed by a deputation from the company, then stationed at Cobourg. We believe no better proof of his determined character could be given than his venturing to conjure with the name of Smith. Now, Mr. Editor, though this accomplished celebrity be worthy of the most flattering notice, I must not lengthen it to to the exclusion of other and more import matter from your valuable columns, but will close with an incident, which, among others, has contributed to render him justly popular in social circles. Last fall a few of our young men decided on forming a camp at Rice Lake, and, wishing to have their exploits recorded in heroic verse, invited the poet to be one of the number. Ample provision was made for the inner man, a few exquisite pies forming a tempting part of the viands. It has been remarked that our friend is blessed with a healthy appetite. Grinding poetry, Mr. Editor, is an arduous and hungry business. The boys went out hunting, leaving the poet in charge of the camp, and forgetting to lock up the pastry. Everything was propitious; he ate and was filled. Bob returned, (the pugnacious "Bulger" who is fond of pie); he saw the helpless poet,—the pie-crust crumbs, fell on Pegasus, clouded his optics and otherwise disfigured him while in his semi-comatose condition. Enough, Mr. Editor, the exploits of that party have not been written by the indignant poet.

SATANIC $CHEME.

ing had heretofore been pure from any corrupt influences in the shape of bribery as had been brought before the House at the present time. He felt that the matter was of the greatest importance, and that it should be thoroughly investigated in the interests of the Province, and in the interests of the public. He joined in with the hon. gentlemen who had spoken on the Government side of the House in thanking the members for Essex and Wellington for the course which they had pursued. If such bribery continued he was confident that there would be no Dominion of Canada in ten years from the present time. The check had been put upon it, and he rejoiced that they had been able to check such an attempt to bribe the members and turn out the Government. He rejoiced that the fraud had been exposed and brought to the light of day. Another painful feature was that from the statements made by the Attorney-General it would appear that the patronage of the Government of the Dominion had been offered here to bribe the members on the floor of the House to turn out the Government of the day. The Dominion Government had interfered with the representatives of the Province, and they now propose to go further and turn out the Government of this Province, which had been the choice of the people. Every member of the Government was felt pained at these disclosures which had been made.

Mr. Clarke (Tory)—I wish this resolution had been held over for 24 hours. There is an election to-morrow, and it is quite possible that this news may be flashed over the country, and efforts made to bring reproaches on the Conservative party and influence the result. I think the gentleman concerned in this have done perfectly right in making the approaches to them known to the Government, if there have been any approaches. For his part, he thought it was premature to conclude that that the approaches had been made by friends of the party he belonged to. He did not think the House would be able to do any business, for they would not know whom to suspect. He was very sorry that the name of C. W. Bunting had been mentioned, because no evidence had been offered which really connected his name with the charge. Of course the Attorney-General is responsible for the charge, and he could say that while he was sorry that there was cause for the revelations, he was not sorry that the revelations had been made. He was very glad to know that the parties were in gaol, and he hoped they would remain in gaol if they were guilty. We don't know, said he, whether it is a friend or foe of the Government who has done this. They may have got this money to be offered to these men. (Ironical cheers from the Government side.) It is not proved that Conservatives have done this, and until it is proved you cannot hold us responsible. This affair ought to have been held over until after to-morrow.

Mr. Fraser—Does the hon. gentleman think it would be a right, proper and decent thing to have delayed this for 24 hours after the money was paid.

Mr. Clark—How do we knew the guilt actually exists in these men?

Mr. Hardy—The hon. gentleman bears up very well for a man who is sorry.

Mr. McIntyre said as a young member of the House he felt very deeply the indignity which had been placed upon the members and the House. He contended that this incident was only the natural outcome of that kind of policy which had been so strenuously pursued by the Conservative party during the late election, and the logical outcome of the language they had seen printed daily in the columns of the Mail. While exonerating the members of the Opposition of the charge which might exist in the minds of some, he must hold that men who were cognizant of the manner of canvassing in Muskoka and South Victoria must show the responsibility. He regretted very much the tone of the members for London and East Toronto, and that they should have been more anxious to cast a stigma upon the gentlemen who had laid bare the crime than they were to express horror for the crime. (Hear, hear.) To suggest, as had been done, that Wilkinson was in collusion with the Attorney-General, was a suggestion too monstrous to think about for a moment. And to say that the matter should have been held over was equally wild.

Mr. Murray said the first intimation he got of the matter was this evening when he took his seat beside the member for South Essex. He must say that he was not at all surprised at what has taken place. He had occasion himself to go to Ottawa shortly after the last general election, and a proposition was made to him, and such an inducement as to be very considerable value for him, to go to the other side. He did not entertain the idea, and on the other hand communicated with one of the members of the Government shortly afterwards. He then mentioned to the member of the Government that if there were any weak-kneed men on the Reform side no doubt they would swing over. He did not think there were any such, and he was happy to see that when pressure had been put upon them they were able to resist it. It was well known that these men under arrest were the party hacks of the Tories, and that they had gone over the country using their sinister measures to influence the election. He knew they had been in South Renfrew, and they had tried to remedy their failure there by offering the member for that constituency money as a bribe. He trusted that there would be a searching investigation into the matter.

Mr. Kerns (Conservative) deeply regretted that the circumstances had happened, but congratulated the Attorney General on the course he had pursued. He hoped the subject would be sifted to the bottom.

Mr. Caldwell was sorry to hear the insinuations made by the members for London and East Toronto. He was sure that when the gentleman come to consider the matter they themselves would regret that the insinuations had been made.

Mr. Loss was surprised that any discussion had followed the motion. He considered it wrong that all that had been said against the men should go to the country before they had an opportunity of defending themselves.

Mr. Waters said the member for South Lanark has scarcely considered the matter or he would not have given utterance to the words he had. Would he have the charges go out to the country and not a word said by the members of the House to express their indignation at such a crime. This was the gravest charge ever made in Ontario, and perhaps in the Dominion, with the exception of one which he would not name.

Mr. Mowat moved that when the House rise it stand adjourned till three o'clock to-morrow, so as to give the Committee an opportunity to sit.

The House adjourned at 10:20.

THE ARREST OF WILKINSON.

The machinery of the law was put in operation on Sunday at noon as the first payment of money was made. The County Attorney was notified and ordered the arrest of the strangers and the summoning of the house accordingly. Kertland was about the house during the afternoon, apparently unsuspicious of danger, and after tea he was arrested in the lobby just after the opening of the house for the evening session. Shortly afterwards Wilkinson was nabbed while on his way to buy up Mr. Dowling, as above mentioned, and both were hurried off to spend the night in the cells of the police station. In addition to any penalty which the law may inflict on the offenders the assembly is empowered by its own constitution to keep them in confinement as long as the session lasts. It is not likely that bail will be allowed even if it is asked, the evidence of the conspirators is wanted by the committee on privileges and elections as well as in the police court.

THE MORAL EFFECT

of the whole affair has been to greatly strengthen the government and correspondingly weaken the opposition. Public opinion will now run strongly in favor of Mr. Mowat and against Mr. Meridith, who will, not unnaturally, be generally regarded as an accessory. Mr. Mowat carried the country fairly a year ago, but with a majority greatly reduced by, as the public will now believe, the money supplied from Ottawa. Ever since that time persistent efforts have been made to unseat his followers in the courts, to carry by-elections thus made necessary, and finally to purchase his supporters in the assembly by the most sordid and material of bribes. Nor can the Dominion Government escape. The offices offered McKim, Balfour and Cascaden are in the gift of the Minister of the Interior, Senator MacPherson, and the tempted members have testified that 'Big Push' Wilkinson promised the offices in Senator MacPherson's name. The whole proceeding is calculated to bring the blush of shame to the cheek of every citizen of the Dominion over the length and breadth of which it will be floated in all its disgusting details.

THE MEN IMPLICATED.

John A. Wilkinson is well known as a Tory politician and an agent of the party. He has been engaged in many elections in promoting Tory interests. It was he who first published the The Big Push Letter in his paper, the West Durham News. After that he was known by the name of Big Push Wilkinson. He was a member of the Ottawa bribery brigade which appeared in Muskoka, Algoma and West Middlesex.

Edward Meek is a lawyer who occupies offices in the Mail buildings. He was a member of the Young Men's Reform club once, but went over to the Conservative party in the N.P. struggles, since when he has been one of the most venomous enemies of the Reform party. He has taken part in many election campaigns. He is a frequent companion of Bunting. Meek will be summoned.

Christopher W. Bunting is managing director of the Mail, and a bitter Tory. He was charged by the Hamilton Times with trying to bribe members some weeks ago. He was not arrested with Kertland and Wilkinson because he has property and cannot fly the country.

F. S. Kertland (or Kirkland) hails from Wisconsin. He has been here since before Christmas and spent a good deal of his time in playing billiards in the Rossin house where he was a guest.

BALFOUR A HERO.

"You are a hero," said one prominent member of the party to Mr. Balfour after the adjournment. "Only a man of pluck would have dared to do what you have done." "I was so annoyed by the approaches that were made to me," said Mr. Balfour, "that I determined to expose the bribers."

THE COALITION GOVERNMENT.

The coalition government which it was proposed to form in case of the success of the iniquitous plot, was to consist of Mr. Meredith (attorney-general and premier), Alex. Morris (minister of education), D. Creighton (provincial treasurer) and three members from the Reform side whose names have not transpired. They will however be given in the evidence of the members.

WHAT DR. DOWLING WAS TO GET.

Mr. Dowling was approached by Kertland, Kertland offered to bet him $2000 that he (Dowling) would vote against the government on a want of confidence motion. To earn this $2000 Dowling had to vote against the government. He was promised other $3000 if he would resign his seat in favor of a Catholic, who was to run for it as a member of the coalition government.

NOTES.

The men approached were Dowling, McKim, Cascaden, Balfour, Lyon, Hart, Murray.

The penalty prescribed by law is two years in penitentiary and a fine of £500.

The detectives working on the case were Murray of Toronto, Wynn of Clifton, Rodgers of Barrie. They have taken a lot of baggage.

The centre of the conspiracy was in Meek's office in the Mail building, and the chief accessories were Bunting, Meek, Kertland and Wilkinson.

BAIL REFUSED.

Wilkinson, Kertland, Bunting and Meek, were arraigned before the Police Magistrate, on Tuesday morning, but the hearing of the charges was postponed till Friday. Wilkinson and Kertland were remanded to gaol, bail being refused, though as much as $100,000 was offered by Wilkinson's counsel.

Housekeepers are invited to look through Turnbull's heavy stock of Scotch Lace Curtains, which has now arrived after many delays, owing to the vessel they were on being disabled at sea, and the snow blockade at Halifax.

The following was the result of the election:

BENSFORT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A musical and literary entertainment in aid of the Organ Fund of the "Church on the hill" took place on Tuesday evening the 11th. inst. The programme was well sustained throughout and the attendance was large, notwithstanding that the evening was a disagreeable one. Considerable regret was expressed that the Rev. J. Shaw did not make an appearance to deliver the looked for address. The Rev. gentleman is very popular in this neighborhood. The proceeds netted $27.00.

Mr. Oliver Turnbull, from Grey county, formerly of this township has been here visiting friends for the last two weeks.

Mr. D. E. Stephenson teacher in the Model school, Cobourg, also paid us a visit.

A FARMER MURDERED.

A report from St John's says a wealthy farmer named Thomas Goddard, of Sutton was murdered last Wednesday at St Cesaire, Que., whither he had gone to buy a farm in that vicinity. The body was found in an open field, with the head split open. Fifteen hundred dollars was found in his room at the hotel, and it is supposed $600 was taken from his pockets. No clue to the murderers is yet reported.

AT REST.

Ah! silent wheel, the noisy brook is dry,
And quiet hours glide by
In this deep vale, where once the merry stream
Sang as through pleasure and gleam;
Only the eye in sunny leaf-shaded rest
Murmurs of rest.

Ah! weary voyager, the closing day
Shines on that tranquil bay,
Where the storm-beaten soul has longed to be;
Will night and angry sea
Touch not this favored shore, by summer blest,
A home of rest.

Ah! fevered heart, the grass is green and deep
Where these are laid asleep;
Kissed by soft winds and washed by gentle showers,
Upon their clay are flowers;
Poor heart, the long in this mad world oppressed,
Take now thy rest.

I, too, perplexed with strife of spirit and ill,
Long to be safe and still;
Evil is present with me while I pray
That Good may win the day,
Great Giver, grant me thy last gift and blest—
Thy gift of rest.

"OLD MR. BINNEY."

All their friends had said, when Mrs. Binney died, "Now, what a good thing it would be if Mr. Binney would but marry Miss Bright!"

Miss Bright had not been without her troubles, and very hard ones they had been, too, but she bore them with a brave heart, and carried a smiling face, and had a thankful spirit within her, striving always to remember her blessings, and how much they out-numbered any evils she was called upon to bear.

Indeed, to listen to Miss Bright's showing, you would have counted her as one of the luckiest persons ever born. She had had the kindest of friends, the most comfortable of situations, and the girls she had taught were endowed with an amiability of disposition which made it a positive pleasure to be with them. The only accusation she could bring against them was that they were all in such a terrible hurry to grow up and get married, and then Miss Bright's occupation was gone, and she had to step out into the world and find a fresh field for her labors.

As years rolled by, each one adding to the score of Miss Bright's age, these hunting grounds of instruction became more and more narrowed. Children of eight began now where girls of eighteen used to leave off, and history and geography, to say nothing of the parts of speech and grammar, were all so altered, that poor little Miss Bright had to acknowledge that at times she really did feel quite confused. "Very soon I shan't be left with anything to teach," she would say, pathetically, and then Mr. Binney's nephew, Joe, or some other good fellow who heard her, would declare she should set up a school for wives, for there never were such wives as the girls whom Miss Bright brought up. She had taught Joe's wife Sally and her sister, and though since then she had had other situations, at holiday time, or when-ever she was seeking employment, she always returned to the house of Dr. Breadon, their father.

When Mr. Binney dropped in, as he frequently did, to inquire after his old friends, the Brendons, he from time to time found Miss Bright there, and happening on the occasion of one of his visits to bring the news that Mrs. Binney was ill, with no one whose business it seemed to look after her, nothing was more natural than that Miss Bright should volunteer, and a great comfort they found her.

So sprightly, yet unobtrusive was the cheery little woman that Mrs. Binney, herself, was influenced in her favor, until, with an eye to their mutual comfort, Mr. Binney proposed Miss Bright staying with them altogether. "Why not?" he said. "We could well afford to pay her a salary." But that word salary, acting like magic on Mrs. Binney, seemed to bring her to her senses immediately. She would be very glad to have Miss Bright as a visitor as long as she liked to stay, but as to living with them altogether, "No!" she would not give her consent to that; she had always objected to having in her house a third party. It was then Miss Bright's friends pulled very long faces indeed. What would she do? they asked her.

"Oh, something is sure to turn up," she would say, hopefully. "Whenever I have come to my last ebb an opening has been made for me, so I am not going to despair now."

And she said this all the more emphatically, because in spite of her confidence she could not help feeling that a voice, which she could not subdue, still kept repeating: "What will you do when you get older? Teaching will get harder than ever." That was true enough, but what else was there for her to do?

When Mrs. Binney died, which happened about a year after, there had been some talk as to Miss Bright going to Mr. Binney as housekeeper, but this proposition had been made without the knowledge or consent of the principal person concerned, who, as soon as the hint was given, negatived it.

Mr. Binny thoroughly appreciated Miss Bright, but he had lost his taste for matrimony; he remembered that he had spent forty excellent years without a wife, and, notwithstanding that he was now a widower, he could not conscientiously say that he felt his state to be so very unhappy.

Susan the cook, respectable and staid, would, he felt sure, manage his household properly, and if, it proved that she should give way to extravagance, as people seemed to say, Mr. Binny fancied he could better put up with that evil than with too much of the economy from which he had suffered already.

So all the hopes, that on the death of Mrs. Binney, Joe and Sally and the Brendons had cherished for Miss Bright were ruthlessly dashed to the ground. Evidently Aunt B. was not to have a successor.

"If we could but have got her there as housekeeper," said two of those arch-conspirators, "the rest would have been easy." But though they returned to the attack several times, no good came of it. Mr. Binney shared in their regret at the loss of Miss Bright's pupils, wondered as they did what would become of her, and, his visitors gone, to make his sympathy apparent, he sat down and wrote a kind little note with a check for $40 folded within it.

"He's an old stupid," said Sally "and now she is going away altogether, ever so far"—for Miss Bright had another piece of news to tell. An old pupil of early days had been recently left a widow; her health was as delicate as her heart was kind, and when she made the proposition that Miss Bright should come and spend the remainder of her days with her it was not entirely of her own comfort she had been thinking. Miss Bright had readily accepted her offer and she had written to tell Sally that the next week she should come up and see them.

She could only stay a few hours with them when she came. The farewell visit was to be paid later. "But I think," she said as she was going, "I will call on my way home and say good-bye to Mr. Binney in case I might not have another opportunity."

"Do," said Sally, and away she went.

Mr. Binney was at home. He had not been quite well lately; nothing more than a cold, but it had kept him a prisoner. To-day he might have gone out, but he had not felt inclined to, and he gallantly said he was glad to be in, as he should have been sorry indeed to miss seeing Miss Bright.

"And so you are really going to leave us," he said, and almost regretfully too. "Well you will be very much missed. I don't know what the Breadons will do."

"They will not miss me more than I shall them," and the brave little woman made an effort that her voice need not sound shaky; "but you know Mr. Binney I am not growing younger, am I?"

"No," he said, "that is true. I was saying the same to myself of myself only to-day."

"Yes, only with men it does not seem to matter, but with women the thought always comes with a little shudder, that when we get old and want quiet and rest and a comfortable arm chair by the fire, there is a doubt whether we shall be able to get them."

Mr. Binney did not answer, and fearing she was saying too much about her own feelings she altered her tone, which had been a little sad, and went on in her usual cheerful way: "But then I ought to feel so thankful that this opening has been made for me. I told them that I knew something would come; it has always done so; I have always been so lucky."

"It's your happy disposition makes you say so, my dear Miss Bright; a cheerful spirit shortens the longest day. I wish I could follow your example. I often feel condemned at my want of contentment—of gratitude, I ought to say."

But that Miss Bright would not allow; she reminded Mr. Binney of the many kind actions he had done, and in her own quiet way thanked him for the thoughtful present he had sent to her.

"No, no, no, now you must speak of that," "Mr. Binney hastily interrupted her; and to give a turn to the conversation he said she "must have some tea," and ringing to order it, he hoped she could stay.

Well, yes, she thought she could spare time for that—indeed, to be plain, she was not in such a very great hurry. The fact had been that Joe had had an unexpected holiday; and she saw that, only for her being there, he had come home to go out somewheres with Sally.

"So I hope the little fib I told will be forgiven me, for when I said I was wanted at home, although it was quite true perhaps, I need not but for that have left quite so early. But it was so nice of Joe to come home. I do love to see husbands and wives companions to each other!"

"Ah indeed, yes; that is the object of matrimony, too often, I fear, lost sight of in our day, by the young and the old too."

But Miss Bright did not agree. "No," she "knew so many united couples. There were the Brendons, now—" but at this moment the tea was brought in, and Miss Bright asked should she pour it out. Her offer was accepted.

"Only," said Mr. Binney, "you must take off your cloak, or you won't feel the good of it when you go; and your bonnet, too, wouldn't you be more comfortable without that?"

Miss Bright said "No," she would not take her bonnet off.

"Haven't a cap with you, I suppose?" said the old gentleman, slily.

"Yes, indeed I have—a present from Sally—and a very becoming one, too."

"Put it on then, and let me pass my opinion."

Miss Bright hastened to obey, and when she came for his inspection the smile on her face and the soft pink in her cheek made her look ten years younger.

"Well," she said, "now what do you think of it?"

"I think if you take my advice you will never wear any other."

"Really," and she laughed softly; "but it is for high days and holidays, you know!" And she tip-toed to look in the chimney-glass, saying that it certainly was a very pretty cap, and then she sat down to pour out the tea. "The best tea things!" she said, admiringly; "I am so fond of pretty china!" And then, searching in the sugar basin, she added: "I have not forgotten that you like two lumps of sugar, you see."

Mr. Binney smiled complacently; a feeling of well-being and comfort took possession of him.

Of a certainty it was very pleasant to have a congenial somebody to bear one company, one who could talk well, listen well, and hold her tongue well, if necessary. Experience had assured him of that. Miss Bright possessed each of these good qualities. When she had stayed there when Mrs. Binney was first ill, their evening had passed very pleasantly, and recalling the things they had done, he asked:

"Do you ever play chess now?"

"No, never."

"Cribbage, backgammon?"

"I've no one to play with. That is one thing in my going away," and she swallowed a sigh—"my evenings will be less lonely."

"Ah, yes, I find the time very long after dinner. I don't like to go to bed before half-past ten, although I often feel inclined to."

"And the days draw in so quickly now, there is no afternoon—it is all evening, which reminds me that it is getting time for me to go, for it takes me quite an hour to get to the station."

"Not in a cab?"

"No, but I am going to walk; it is quite fine and dry, and if I feel tired at the Conway road I shall wait at the corner for the omnibus passing."

The engagement upon became general. The infantry and artillery completely routed the enemy from their pits and trenches. WHOLE FAMILY MURDERED

Terrible Tragedy in a Tennessee Farm House.

John Martin, aged 78, his wife, two grown-up daughters and son, aged 12, were murdered in their house, twenty miles from Springfield, Tenn., on Wednesday night. Martin had just returned from Nashville, where he had procured the settlement of a pension claim. The door of the house was broken down with an axe. Martin was found with his head split open in two places and forehead crushed. The walls and floor were bespattered with blood. Mrs. Martin must have been killed, as she started from bed Her arms were broken and her face horribly mangled. The boy was choked to death in the trundle bed. The girls slept in the next room, and were outraged before their skulls were crushed. There was evidence of a frightful struggle. George French, a farm hand, was suspected and arrested. He told a contradictory story and the infuriated citizens strung him up to a tree. On being lowered he confessed that he and Jim and Doc Carter, negro workmen upon Squire Davis' farm, had planned the murder. He said they found $1,200 in the house and divided it. French was immediately jerked up and strangled to death. Twenty shots were fired into his body. The mob then captured the two negroes and hanged and shot them.

DR. JOHNSON'S ADVICE TO YOUNG MEN.

The first years of man must make provision for the last. He that never thinks never can be wise. Perpetual levity must end in ignorance; and intemperance, though it may fire the spirits for an hour will make life short and miserable. Let us consider that life is of no long duration, and that in maturer age, when the enchantments of fancy shall cease, and phantoms of delight dance no more about us, we shall have no comfort but the esteem of wise men and the means of doing good. Let us, therefore, stop, while to stop is in our power; let us live as men who are some times to grow old, and to whom it will be the most dreadful of all evils to count their past years by follies, and to be reminded of their former luxuriance of health only by the maladies which riot has produced.

GRAND TRUNK DOUBLE TRACK.

The Grand Trunk bill was before the railway committee at Ottawa on Friday. Mr. Bell, Grand Trunk railway solicitor, stated that the estimated cost of double tracking the line between Montreal and Toronto was $10,000 per mile, or $6,600,000 altogether, inclusive of rolling stock. Sir Charles Tupper urged that it was of the utmost importance that the Grand Trunk line should be double tracked and that the earning powers of the company would thus be increased to such an extent that the chances of the government's receiving its claim against the Grand Trunk would be improved. The bill passed.

MANHOOD
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.
☞Price 10 a sealed envelope, only 6c. or two postage stamps.
The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

Money.

Mr. John A Bennett, of Otonabee, is prepared to make loans on real estate and to purchase mortgages. Loans will be made at the lowest rates of interest, payable when the borrower deems the most convenient time, the principal, being payable at such times as may be agreed upon. Expenses are very light. 12-tf

A Heavy Horse.

On Tuesday Mr. James Jackson, of Otonabee, weighed on the market scales a Clydesdale stallion two years old, coming three, and he turned the scales at the very large figure of 1,560 lbs. "Honest Tom," the name of the colt, was sired by the well known "Little Scotland," and will be placed at the service of farmers desiring to improve their draught stock.

Explanatory.

In consequence of our desire to give our readers full particulars of one of the foulest pieces of political iniquity ever attempted to be perpetrated in Canada, namely, the conspiracy to buy up enough of Mr. Mowat's supporters to put the Tory party in power at Toronto, we are compelled to omit a large amount of correspondence and local news matter.

Methodist Union.

When union is consummated the Christian Guardian will be the official organ and a good periodical it is. the union opponents of the M. E. Church are trying to get the plant of the Advocate in Hamilton so that they may have a journal for themselves. Dr. Aylesworth is suggested as editor. It would be wiser and more christianlike if the minority accepted the dictum of the majority.

Peterboro' Capital and Carpenters.

The Lindsay Post says that the improvements going on for some time on Lundy's block on William street, Lindsay, are about complete. The work has been well and neatly done under the direction of the builder in charge of the work, Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald of Peterboro.' The effect has been to transform the premises which owing to damages by fire had been unoccupied for some years into a handsome terrace of six comfortable and well arranged houses. These will no doubt be occupied as soon as "moving time" sets in.

A Splendid Chance.

It will be seen by an advertisement in another column that Mr. D. W Dumble offers for sale a number of Building Lots in various parts of the town on ten years credit. No money down, interest only to be paid for first five years, and thereafter yearly instalments with the right to pay at any time as may suit the convenience of the purchaser. This offer enables a poor man to use his money in erecting a building, and so he gets rid of rent, and secures a home for himself. Building will be cheap this year and no doubt many will take advantage of this very liberal offer. Besides lots in town, Mr. Dumble offers a number of lots in Ashburnham, and several park lots on the same terms. Call at his office and see plans, &c. 12-tf

Fine Oil Paintings.

On Monday we noticed at the studio of Mrs. Harriet Esterbrook, two very fine portraits in oil, by Mr. A. W. Mason, Toronto, for whom Mrs. Esterbrook is agent in Peterborough. They were life-like and speaking likenesses of the late Mr. Esterbrook and the late Mr. Wm. Thompson. Acquaintances of both pronounce them splendid likenesses, and the artistic work is excellent. We also noticed a beautiful crayon portrait by the same artist, worthy of all praise. Mrs. Esterbrook's photographic department is now in first-class shape. She makes a specialty of a very fine, new style of cabinets, in water colors, for easels or framing, which are very popular and are produced, we believe, at her establishment alone; which is complete not only in this, but in every other respect, and we have no hesitation in assuring the public who want first-class pictures, that they can obtain them at Mrs. Esterbrook's studio, George street.

At Factory Prices

It will no doubt be a matter of interest to those contemplating the purchase of Furniture, to know that such articles as Sideboards, Bedroom Suits, Bedsteads, Tables, etc., are being sold retail at factory prices, at McKee's furniture factory, Dickson's race. 12-tf

And Still the Sale Goes On.

Notwithstanding all the talk of dull times and bad roads, Fairweather & Co.'s great sales keep crowded every day. It is a positive boon to the town and county of Peterborough. The Immense Stock, the Enormous Reductions, the Great Bargains, the Daily Crowds, are sufficient proofs that this firm holds the confidence of the public.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve is THE BEST salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter Chapped Hands Chilblains, Corns, and all skin Eruptions, and Positively cures Piles. New Time Table.

According to the Post, a change is contemplated in the Midland Railway time table by which the lack of a morning train from the East, complained of by our merchants, will be supplied. Our contemporary states, we suppose on sufficient authority, that the proposed changes in the time table will "include a train morning and evening, leaving Belleville and running as far west as Peterboro' or Lindsay, there to connect with trains running into Toronto."

Special Notice to the Public.

W. Fairweather & Co. desire to inform their friends and the public that they have secured an Auctioneer's License for the town of Peterborough, and rented the large and spacious premises next door to Rush & Elliott's, where they will carry on the business of Trade Auctioneers, Valuators, Commission Merchants, Manufacturers' Agents, and dealers in Bankrupt Stock and Estates, Household Furniture, and Real Estate. An efficient staff of experienced hands always kept, and prompt settlements made. W. Fairweather & Co., Auctioneers and Valuators.

A Dishonest Employe.

On Thursday morning, Robert Duncan, jr. a youth in the employ of the Times office, was arraigned at the Police Court, charged with the offence of purloining tickets belonging to the Gardner Brothers Band and selling 11 of these, which were presented at the door of the Opera House. The offence would seem to a boy to be a trifling one, but the Police magistrate said the law permitted a penalty of two years in the penetentiary, but in this case, the first offence, he would impose a sentence of one week in jail, and payment of $5,50 the price of the stolen tickets, or in default, one month in jail, after the expiry of the first term.

Another Fire.

On Thursday morning about one o'clock, a fire was discovered in Mr. R. White's livery stables, Charlotte Street, or in Mr. I. Robinson's sheds adjoining on the east. Though the fire steamer was out promptly and assisted by two streams from the Water-works hydrants, the inflammable nature of the structure, a wooden building and its contents, made it impossible to save it, but good service was done in preventing the spread of the fire to the adjacent wooden buildings, and saving Mr. Robinson's shed from total destruction. The horses, ten in number and the vehicles were safely removed from the stables, though a quantity of hay and grain was burned. Loss covered with $1000 insurance, but Mr. Robinson, whose loss was not very large, was not protected by insurance.

Counterfeit Silver.

There seems to be an epedimic of bogus silver coin prevailing in Peterborough. It is met with on the market, and in shops; several merchants have been victimised. There is evidence that it is not passed ignorantly. A day or two ago a woman entered a shop on Charlotte street where a young lad only was in attendance. She bought a plug of tobacco and received change for a twenty-five cent piece. She went out and returned in a few minutes, bought another plug of tobacco and received change for another twenty-five cent piece. Both pieces proved to be counterfeit. A day or two after, when the proprietor was in, the same game was tried by a woman, but whether the same one is not known, but she failed to succeed in passing her lead quarter, It behooves the public to be on the lookout. In hard times like these nobody can afford to give cent per cent discount on coin whose true value isn't anything too much.

Presentation and Address

Last Thursday evening at the regular meeting of the Peterborough Lodge of Oddfellows, No. 111, the members paid high compliment to the late Recording Secretary, Mr. R. J. Smith, on the occasion of his departure, for Muskegn Mich. Mr. Smith has for three years filled the above office and the excellece of the manner in which he has discharged its duties is shown in the following address, which was accompained with a beautiful regalia of the order. There were present on the occasion a large representation of Otonabee Lodge and Mount Hebron Encampment. The following is the address :—

J. R. Smith, Esq.:

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER,—We, the officers and members of Mount Hebron Encampment, No. 56, and of Peterborough Lodge, No. 111, I. O. O. F., learning with regret that your contemplated removal from Peterboro' at an early day will sever the fraternal ties that have so long held yourself with us in such pleasant relationship, feel that we cannot allow you to depart without some token of the esteem and friendship in which you are held by us, and of our appreciation of the faithful and very exemplary manner in which you have discharged the duties incumbent on you by virtue of your membership in our noble Order, and of the valuable services rendered by you in your recent official capacity of Recording Secretary.

As a permanent reminder of our grateful remembrance and of our personal respect and fraternal regard, we ask your acceptance of this collar, and beg to add that we feel it could not rest on the shoulders of an Oddfellow more worthy to bear it, or one who would be more mindful of the obligations its wearing imposes.

We trust that you may long be spared to wear it and adorn the principles of our beloved Order, and that wherever your lot may be cast, or wherever you may pitch your tent, that both yourself and family may enjoy the blessings of this life, and that when your earthly journey has been completed you may have a happy entrance into the Grand Lodge above.

Yours in Friendship, Love and Truth,

ROBT. J. LEE,
Past Grand.

Mr. Smith responded in suitable and feeling terms to the address and gratefully acknowledged the beautiful gift which was to him a most gratifying token of the esteem of his brethren.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH CONCERT

In Aid of Music, Music Lends its Aid.

A Splendid Programme Well Rendered—An Immense Attendance—The Organ Fund Increased by $200.

When the Presbyterians, as church members, undertake anything for the benefit of the church it is generally successful, and when the ladies have charge of the management the success is universally marked. Such was the case with the St. Paul's concert, on Thursday night last, under the management of the Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's. Not only was the financial result extremely gratifying, but the musical programme was uncommonly excellent.

The entertainment was opened in a somewhat unusual manner, the first number being "God Save the Queen," "by the company." Miss May Davidson's piano solo, "Heather Bells," was exceedingly well performed, and indicated a large amount of natural talent, improved by excellent culture. Mrs. Chambers, whose rare musical talents have made her a great favourite in Peterborough, fully justified the expectations of the public by her excellent rendition of the "Angels Serenade." This was followed by Mr. Porteous, in Jude's "Deep in the Mine," a selection performed in magnificent style, which brought out delightfully the rich resources of his charming baritone. He was enthusiastically recalled, and responded with "The Village Blacksmith." The recitation, "Lochinvar's Ride," by Miss Rose Hoskin, of Port Hope, was a fine sample of elocution, and such excellence in so young a lady was a genuine surprise. Being heartily recalled, she showed herself equally at home in the interpretation of comedy, and her recitation of "Jack" was cordially applauded. Mrs. Whitehead, also of Port Hope, fully answered the high compliments that have rewarded her appearance elsewhere. Her execution of Gounod's "Ave Maria," was marked by ease, taste and sympathetic flexibility of voice (very sweet and rich, especially in the upper notes) and brought out enthusiastic applause, and an irresistible recall, when she gave a serio-comic selection, "Crossing the Stile," with fine effect. Messrs. Porteous and Elliott rendered the thrilling selection from "Puritani," "Sound the Trumpet," in grand and vigorous style. The instrumental trio, violin, cornet and piano, by Messrs. Best, Sanderson and Loch, was finely given, and received with hearty applause. These gentlemen have, during the past winter, contributed largely to the success of many a church and social gathering, and are entitled to great praise for the generous manner in which they have supplied their excellent music. Mr. Elliott's wall rendered baritone selection, "Staunch and True," was warmly applauded. Sullivan's sweet quartette, "Hush Thee my Babe," was delightfully sung by Mrs. Whitehead, Miss Wells, and Messrs. Porteous and Elliott. Miss Edmison's selection, Listz's brilliant "Rhapsodie Hongroise" (No. 2) was rendered in a most brilliant and effective manner. Her style of playing is marked by vigor and taste rarely acquired by lady performers. It is needless to add that she was enthusiastically recalled. The duet by Mrs. Whitehead and Mr. Porteous, "I Pescatori," was a sublime rendition of a most stirring selection, and was worthy of the warm recall that greeted its conclusion. In "Softly Sighs the Breeze," from Der Freischutz, Mrs. Chambers exceeded herself, and her exquisite rendition of the beauties of the selection is alone to blame for the vigorous encore that brought her back with "Jamie." Miss Rose Hoskin's second appearance was the signal for a burst of applause which was redoubled at the end of her splendid recitation of "Lady Clare." Mrs. Whitehead again delighted the audience. Her singing of Fosti's "Goodbye," was truly grand, and so was her execution of that plaintively sweet and ever-popular song, "Robin Adair," with which she acknowledged her rapturous recall. "The Wolf," by Mr. Porteous, was given in his invariably excellent manner. The splendid programme, which supplied one of the best musical events of the season, was brought to a close by a very excellent instrumental trio, by Messrs. Best, Sanderson and Loch, which was indeed very brilliantly performed. Auld Lang Syne, sung by the chorus, sent the immense audience away, extremely well pleased—nay delighted—with the musical excellencies that had been presented. The accompaniments were played by Prof. Heathfield, with his usual unassuming ease, good taste and good judgment.

Altogether the concert was a splendid success. While the musical portion gave unqualified delight to the public, the promoters were equally delighted by the addition of $200, net, to the organ fund of St. Paul's. The ladies of the committee wish to thank Mr. Bradburn for the free use of the opera house, Mr. Smart for the use of the piano, and all who took part in the concert for the highly appreciated and invaluable services rendered by them.

The Art Interchange.

The Art Interchange of March 13th contains eighteen columns of questions and answers, in which every topic bearing upon art is intelligently discussed. Here are to be found, among many other classes of information, advice as to the artistic furnishing of apartments and houses; full directions for painting in oil and mineral colors; suggestions for screen-panels, sachets, portieres, and instruction in hammered brass. An instructive article on picture-framing and another on stenciling are to be commended. The designs for this issue are more than usually attractive. They embrace the study of an owl (life size) for panel decoration; outline design of Cinderella, for sketching on linen; poppies for panel; oak-leaf design for modeling in clay; ashberry design for cup and saucer; design of cherries for fruit-plate; apple-blossoms for vase; rose design for plate; and two sketches for outline embroidery. "Day-Dreams," a charming reproduction from an etching, and a marine view, are also among the attractive illustrations. The Art Interchange of March 27th will contain two colored studies by Miss Caroline Townsend—one suitable for decorating a handbag, and the other a border for stenciling or embroidery. A beautiful design for ceiling decoration will also appear in that issue, as will a study of a toad, designs for a set of fruit d'Oylies, several designs for small articles in brass repousse work, designs of thistle for cup and saucer decoration, and a panel design of humming-birds. Published by William Whitlock, 140 Nassau street, New York. Sample copy on receipt of 10 cents.

Our New Watchmaker, Mr. Hughan, comes well recommended, and we are sure any work entrusted to him will be done in good style. Office lately occupied by Elias Barnham, Simcoe Steet. 18-tf

TOWN COUNCIL.

Special Meeting.

A special session of the Town Council was held on Friday night, at which there were present: His Worship the Mayor, Messrs. Cahill, Davidson, Allin, Kelly, Green, Volland, Douglass, Rutherford, Menzies, Kendry and Hartley.

EXPLANATORY.

Mayor Cox explained that the special meeting had been called because of an apparent loop-hole in the by-law respecting licenses, as to the amount of fees to be paid for billiard licenses. It was, he thought, necessary to amend the by-law, for some licensees had paid the full amount of the license fee for pool tables, while others had not done so. It would be fair to either refund a portion of the amount to those who had paid the full figure, or amend the by-law.

THE BY-LAW AMENDED.

Accordingly a by-law was introduced and passed through its several stages, amending the license by-law by specifying more plainly the tables for which a license fee of $100 was to be demanded.

THE CHEESE BUYERS AND SELLERS.

His Worship read a communication from Mr. Warren Taylor, Warsaw, asking the use of the Council Chamber for two hours every Wednesday for the meetings of the Cheese Exchange.

Mr. Rutherford was decidedly opposed to the use of the room being granted for the purpose mentioned in the request. He moved that the free use of the old town hall building be given. He further argued that these cheese men would meet in the Council Chamber, chew and spit tobacco, and litter the room with specimens of cheese.

Mr. Menzies seconded the motion, and said he thought the Market Building was good enough.

Mr. Cahill moved, in amendment, that the request be granted. The Council was in duty bound to do everything it could to attract business and business men to the town. The more we had the better.

Mr. Davidson, who seconded the amendment, thought it not probable for cheese meetings to be any more disorderly than the Council was sometimes.

Councillor Rutherford thought the cheese buyers would leave the room in a bad condition. He thought they might as well let the Saved Army in at once.

The Mayor said the meetings would be as cleanly and orderly as a meeting of the stock exchange, and the business was done entirely without samples.

The amendment, granting the use of the Chamber, was agreed to.

RAILWAY WORKSHOPS.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Davidson, that His Worship the Mayor be requested to interview the authorities of the Grand Trunk as well as those of the C. P. R., with reference to securing the location in Peterborough of a portion, at least, of the workshops, and the refreshment stations.

The motion was carried.

CUTTING ICE.

A long, informal and out-of-order discussion arose from a question of Mr. Rutherford, respecting cutting channels in the street ice and snow. It transpired that there had been spent in cutting ice since January, $156, and employment had been given to men who would have otherwise been thrown on the charity of the town.

THE LAST OF THE SNOW.

On motion of Mr. Kendry, seconded by Mr. Hartley, the Street Inspector was instructed to clear off the snow from the walks on parts of Water, Sherbrooke, Hunter and George streets.

The Council then adjourned.

DEAR SIR,—In regard to my catarrh, I can say after about FOUR weeks treatment that I am entirely cured, after being troubled for more than ten years with all the worst symptoms of catarrh of the head, such as spitting of blood and matter, which dropped from my nos into my mouth—snuffing with closing of nostrils, loss of smell, which has now returned, pain in my head, rendering me almost stupid, which disappeared in two weeks after commencing your treatment. Hacking cough, etc. From my experience of catarrh, I consider your mode of treatment the best in existence. Hoping that all may receive the same benefit, I remain, yours,

A Matter of Taste

Quite so. It is a matter of taste. The phrase is a familiar one. But what does the familiar phrase mean? Taste is an outward sign of both character and condition. Its influence is perhaps shown more strongly in the matter of dress than in anything else. Neatness is better than richness, and plainness than too marked display.

TOWN COUNCIL.

Special Meeting—The [illegible] Station Grounds—A Portion [illegible] Street Asked For.

Council met in special session on Monday evening, March 24th. Present,—Geo. A. Cox, Esq., Mayor, Messrs. Davidson, Cahill, Allin, Kelly, Millar, Douglass, Ratherford and Hartley.

OBJECT OF THE MEETING.

The Mayor said he had called the meeting on account of the officials of the O. & Q. Railway informing him that they wished to secure a portion of Wolf street for the purpose of erecting thereon buildings for the use of the Company, and, as a month's notice had to be given, and as the Company wished to proceed with the erection of freight sheds as speedily as possible, he had, therefore, taken the liberty of calling a special meeting, so that no time would be lost. There could be no harm in passing the first reading of the by-law. In the meantime the Company could make arrangements with the private parties interested in the proposed transfer, and at the second reading there would be no difficulty.

A communication was read from Messrs. Hatton & Wood, solicitors of the Company, submitting a plan of the portion of Wolf street the Company were desirous of securing, and asking that the same be granted the Company.

A letter was also read from Mr. Hugh Ryan. The letter stated that the passenger station would be north of the track, on George street, and the freight sheds south of the track. He claimed that the granting of the petition would place on an eligible site a handsome building, instead of a huge, unsightly structure, completely obscuring the view of the station house. The land owned by the Company on the south of the track was too small for the freight sheds, and not large enough for as large a passenger depot as the Company desired to erect. If the Council acceded to the request of the Company the passenger station would be erected on George street, north of the track, and the freight sheds on the south side of the track. He also pointed out that the portion of Wolf street sought was not now used, and could not be safely used hereafter, as parties coming to town from Aylmer street would have to cross the railroad, with its net-work of tracks, twice to reach George street.

[The portion of Wolf street sought to be closed begins at about the south boundary of lot No. 2, Wolf street, and extends westward about 870 feet.]

A by-law in accordance with the prayer of the petition was read a first time, and on motion of Mr. Davidson, seconded by Mr. Hartley, the second reading was fixed for the meeting of the Council to be held on Monday, April 28th, at which meeting all parties interested will be heard if they so desire.

ACCOUNTS.

A number of accounts were presented and referred to the Finance Committee.

On motion of Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Douglass, the Street Committee were instructed to prepare a proper system for checking the measuring of lumber for use on the streets.

Presbytery of Peterborough.

The Meeting at Cobourg—Delegates to the General Assembly—The Next Meeting to be Held in Peterboro'.

The Presbytery of Peterborough met at Cobourg on the 18th March. There were 13 ministers and 7 elders present. Mr. Jamieson, of Garden Hill and Knoxville was appointed Moderator for the next six months. Mr. Patterson, late of Bayfield and Bethany, being present, was invited to sit with the Presbytery.

A CALL WAS SUSTAINED

from 1st., Port Hope, on behalf of the Rev. J. W. Mitchel, late of Mitchel, and has been accepted of by him. The call contains a guarantee of salary of $1 200 per annum—payable quarterly. Mr. Mitchel's induction was appointed to be held on the 2nd of April, at 2 o'clock p. m., Mr. McCleland to preside, Mr. Thompson to preach, Mr. Bell to address the ministers, and Mr. Cook the people.

The ministers appointed, as delegates to the General Assembly, were Messrs. Erving, Bell, Cameron, Cooke and Jamieson. The elders chosen were Messrs. J. Best, Mount Pleasant; H. Carruthers, Cobourg; J. L. Tisdale, Port Hope; Henshaw Little, Garden Hill; and J. Lawless, Baltimore.

The report of the Committee on Augmentation of Stipend was adopted and ordered to be transmitted to the Secretary of the Assembly's Home Mission Committee.

The report of Committee on Presbyterial visitation reports was read by Mr. Bell and considered.

The following recommendation of the report was adopted:—"The Presbytery records its devout gratitude to God for the greatness of his kindness and the evidence of His refreshing spirit manifested throughout the Presbytery."

Messrs. Bennett, Bell, ministers, and Mr. Tully, elder, were appointed a committee to consider the remits of Assembly, and to report at a meeting of Presbytery to be held at the time of the meeting of Synod.

The next ordinary meeting of Presbytery was appointed to be held at St. Andrew's Church, Peterborough, on the first Tuesday of July, at two o'clock p. m.

Mr. Windel was authorised to moderate in a call at Cartwright and Ballyduff, as soon as the people are prepared to choose a minister.

A letter was read from the Rev. W. White, formely of Warsaw and Dummer, renewing his application for leave to retire from the active duties of the ministry, and praying that his retiring allowance date from the time of his first application. There accompanied the letter a medical certificate of Dr. Bell, testifying to Mr. White's illness and the improbability of his ever being able to resume pastoral work.

It was unanimously resolved to renew the application on behalf of Mr. White for leave to retire from the active duties of the Ministry, and Messrs. Ewing and Bell were appointed and instructed to support the application at the meeting of Assembly.

Presbytery held a conference at the evening sederunt on the subjects of the state of religion, Sabbath Schools and temperance. Presbytery agreed to hold a further conference on the subject of temperance, on the first evening of next meeting in Peterborough.

SMALL WOMEN PREACH.

Rev. Mr. Munro Preaches a Sermon on the Subject.

(Held over from last issue.)

On Sunday evening last Rev. Mr. Munro, pastor of the Baptist Church, addressed himself to a very large congregation on the above subject, which he handled in his usual able style. The texts selected were:

"Let your women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but they are commanded to be under obedience, as also saith the law."—I. Corinthians, xiv., 34.

"Let the women learn in silence with all subjection. But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence."—I. Timothy, ii., 11-12.

After showing that the wide scope of the Christian religion required the consecration of every human agency and individual to the promotion of its principles, and pointing out how in many respects the world was hostile to the expression of this principle in practice, he specifically dealt wih with the above passages, which apparently shut out women completely from part cipation in God's work. He showed that throughout the whole Bible women had been employed publicly in divine things, and that the spirit of the Bible warranted her assuming the role of a teacher of God's will. Then why these prohibitory passages? The preacher clearly showed that they were applicable only to the special conditions of the communities to which they were addressed—Christians living in heathen communities. The customs of these heathen communities were peculiar. Women were divided into two classes, the domestic and virtuous, who never mingled in promiscous public gatherings, much less spoke; and another class, the lewd and shameless, who freely moved in public in a manner which, if practised by a woman of another class, would stamp the latter as destitute of virtue. When heathen women became Christians, and entered into the liberty of the Gospel, they would be inclined to disregard these heathenish scruples and attend and participate in public meetings of Christians. When these things became known, public opinion was prejudiced against its progress. Then St. Paul addressed the words of the text to the Corinthian church, which ceased to have any application when the conditions that evoked them were removed, or only when such conditions obtained. The preacher made an eloquent appeal for Christian recognition of woman as a co-worker for Christ. The sermon, which was most attentively heard, was logical in argument and practical in application. We regret that the demands on our space prevent our publishing it in its entirety.

A letter from P. O. Sharpless, Druggist, Marion, Ohio, in writing of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, says: one man was cured of sore throat of 8 years' standing with one bottle. We have a number of cases of rheumatism that have been cured when other remedies have failed. We consider it the best medicine sold.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

Spring Sittings of the Assizes.

A Six Days Criminal Calendar.

Mr. Justice Cameron presided on the bench at the Spring Assizes, whose sittings began at the Court House on Monday last. There being no criminal docket His Lordship was presented by Mr. Sheriff Hall with the customary white kid gloves.

The following gentlemen composed the

GRAND JURY.

John Bertram, Foreman,
J. P. Brown,	P. Gillespie,
Joseph Barnard,	James Horner,
James Bibbis,	Thos. Hetherington,
Robt. Brodie,	Dawson Kennedy,
Wm. Collins,	Jas. McCliggott,
C. Crozier,	D. Moloney,
John Corkery,	W. McKew,
Wm. Davidson,	Wm. O'Brien,
James Foley,	W. E. Sherwood,
John Grady,	H. T. Strickland,
C. H. Sheffield,	John Smith.

HIS LORDSHIP'S ADDRESS.

His Lordship, in charging the Grand Jury, referred to the white gloves, presented him by the Sheriff, as indicative of the freedom of the county from crime, and he congratulated the jury on the lightness of their duty. From there being no criminal charges for the grand jury to investigate at this court, it might be inferred that grand jurors were unnecessary. But that was no proof that there would be no crime in the future. Referring to the proposed bill of the Ontario Legislature to modify the grand jury system by reducing the number of jurors on the panel from 24 to 15, requiring an agreement of 12 to find a true bill, His Lordship made an elaborate argument in favor of grand juries, and submitted the question of their abolition to the grand jurors present for an opinion, because they represented the intelligence of the country. Their opinion would be forwarded to the Secretary of State and the Provincial Secretary. In adverting to the duty of the grand jury to visit the jail, His Lordship touched upon the confinement of paupers and vagrants in jail, and favored the establishment of houses of refuge. The towns and cities and centres of population had, in the absence of such houses of refuge, thrown upon them the unfair burden of maintaining the poor.

THE BAR

Dumble, James Henry, J. O'Meara, Geo. M. Roger, A. P. Poussette, C. A. Weller, C. W. Sawers, Geo. W. Hatton, W. A. Stratton, and E. H. D. Hall.

APSLEY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The snow has about gone and left Apsley where it was and in a very fair condition too.

LUMBERING.—The lumbering operations, which have not been carried on with their usual magnitude this winter are about over. The shanty-men are returning to the front, to enjoy a brief holiday, but they will return with the birds to drive the winter's cut of logs down the streams.

FORESTER'S CONCERT.—A grand and most successful entertainment under the auspices of Court McGill, No. 95. of the Canadian Order of Foresters was held in Apsley on March 19th and 20th. A splended programme was provided and the audience owes a debt of gratitude to Messrs. Barrie and Spencely, of Peterborough, whose contributions were enthusiastically appreciated. They came a long distance to entertain us, and they did it right well, too, and the Apsley brethren of the "Forest Home" will not forget them. Thanks are also due to the three Reynold brothers of Anstruther for their valuable service as instrumentalists, so well rendered. A great deal of the credit of the success of the entertainment was due to the exertions of Bro. Pratt V.C.R who acted as chairman and general manager. The entertainment was on two nights with an entire change of programme each evening. The Court was organized on Feb. 13th and is in a most thriving condition; it not only a benefit to the members, but to all the community at large, for it has taken active steps to secure the services of a regularly located doctor for Apsley. We hope the public will co-operate with them in their endeavour. For the past year and a half the village has been without a physician and during that time the afflicted have been dependent on Lakefield, a good, yet very distant, dependence.

PERSONAL.—On Friday last Dr Grant of Tullamore, in company with the Rev. Mr. Harding came to Apsley to look over the situation, and if satisfactory arrangements can be made, he will settle in the place.

Mr. Frank Thrall of Chandos, was last Sunday greatly delighted with a visit from a daughter of his, that the never saw before. She will stay with him for several years we understand.

Mr. Benj. Clute of Campbellford, the boss hewer of the back country, while at Callaghan's shanty, received a telegram on Tuesday that his daughter was dying, and left for home at once. ARCTIC.

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

RAILWAY WORK.

During the past few days work has been vigorously pushed forward on the Ontario and Quebec Railway in this vicinity. Gangs of men have been sent along the line both eastward and westward from Norwood, clearing the snow off the track, and Mr. Ryan went to Havelock last week to make some preliminary arrangements regarding the erection of the engine house which is to be located at that point. It is also rumoured here that a large number of tenement houses will be erected at Havelock as soon as the spring opens favorably for building. The people residing near the location of the proposed "Round House" look forward to busy times during the coming summer, and a large influx of permanent settlers to that locality.

NORWOOD AHEAD AGAIN.

From the annual report of Major-General Lenard to the Minister of Militia, we learn that the Norwood Company, No. 5, of the 57th Battalion, is credited as being the best shooting company of the 57th, having obtained the highest figure of merit at ball practice while puting in their annual drill at the camp at Cobourg, in September last. The figures set down to the Norwood Company are 24.86, the next highest being No. 6 Company, for 17.66. These figures speak well for our citizen soldiers, and it is to be hoped they will always maintain the reputation of knowing how to make a good use of their rifles. It might also be said here that Col. Villiers, in his report, says that "the 57th again this year carried off the palm, being the best equipped and all round corps on the field," a statement which Major-General Leard concurred in.

SOCIAL.

Another monthly social was given by the Ladies' Co-operation Society of the Methodist church on Wednesday of last week, and, considering the inclement state of the weather, was very well attended. The programme consisted of readings recitations, and vocal and instrumental music, all of which was rendered in such a manner as to give pleasure and entertainment to all present. The ladies of the Norwood Methodist Church have engaged in these monthly socials with hearty enthusiasm, and deserve great praise for voluntarily contributing the "substantials" at these gatherings.

NOTES.

Work has been re-commenced on the new school buildings, and will be pushed forward to completion with all possible speed.

Roads are in a terrible condition, and pitch-holes on most of the highways are deep enough to take in horse and vehicle.

Another reinforcement of navvies arrived in town on Saturday last, among them some natives of sunny Italy.

Business generally is improving.

HARVEY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Harvey Council met at the Clerk's office on the 20th March, instant, the Reeve and Councillors all present.

After the usual routine, a petition was read from Arch. Wilson and thirty-seven other ratepayers, requesting the Council to divide school section number three, Harvey, into two sections, as some of the children are living over five miles from the school house in said section. The Council decided to meet at the Town Hall on the last day of March, to hear and determine the matter.

A by-law was passed, signed, sealed and numbered, appointing pathmasters, fence viewers, pound keepers, D. R. officers and road commissioners, for the current year.

The Clerk was instructed to notify the Trustees, and also to post notices to the ratepayers, of the application from school section number three to divide said section into two sections.

The Reeve was authorized and instructed to sell any timber or trees growing on road allowances within this township, at his own discretion.

The Auditors' Report was received and adopted, and the Clerk instructed to procure one hundred printed copies of the same, in pamphlet form.

A special grant of $16.00 was made to S. S. No. 6.

The Reeve and Mr. McIlmoyle were instructed to view the 14th concession line, and between lots 25 and 26 to locate a road, and report to the Council at their next meeting.

Accounts passed and ordered to be paid: Hart & Co., $5.00; Clerk's expenses, McGuire's Bridge, $4.79; provisions furnished G. Reynard, $6.00; George Oliver, attending land sale, $6.00, also attending on T. V. Canal delegation to Ottawa, $6.

The Council adjourned to meet at Town Hall on 31st March, 1884.

NOTE OF THANKS.

To the Editor of the EXAMINER:

SIR,—May I ask a place in the columns of the "EXAMINER" to return my thanks to the friends in the Bethel and Keene neighborhoods, Otonabee, for their kindness in the past, and especially for their most agreeable surprise on the 20th. inst; when Mr. Wm. Nelson called upon us, and at the close of a pleasant interview, gave tangible proof of their friendship by presenting me with a purse containing $52.

May blessings of a temporal and spiritual character be theirs; and may our friendship formed in the past, renewed at the present, be strengthened and cemented as months and years roll by, until, at last, they be perfect in the "Sweet Bye and Bye."

PETERBOROUGH, MARCH 27, 1884.

THE BRIBERY PLOT

Unravelling the Tangled Threads.

Progress of the Investigation.

Still greater interest if possible, was manifested in the meeting of the Committee on Privileges and Elections Wednesday morning, than on any former occasion. The library was crowded to its utmost capacity, where any one could see or hear parties concerned in the drama now before the people of Canada. There could be no doubt as to the of the Tory member at the turn things have taken, and the result showed that if Mr. Meredith and his party received a damaging blow yesterday, to-day's proceedings were a fitting climax.

It will be seen from the letters and papers exhibited before the committee to-day, that the statement of Mr. Dowling and Balfour are in very many particulars, and in none of them are they in the least contradicted.

Inspector Ward, of the Toronto Police force, was the first witness, and was examined by Mr. Fraser. He testified as to the arrest of Kirkland and Wilkinson and produced papers found on them upon being searched.

The following letter was found upon Kirkland:—

MANISTEE, Mich, Dec. 25th, 1883.

F. S. Kirkland, Esq:

Any arrangement you can make with Mr. Gough or anything else you do in getting favorable legislation in Canada to the end that we can buy the pine lands you have surveyed on the Pigeon River and vicinity, or that we may survey, will be satisfactory to me. You are hereby authorized to make such arrangements as may seem best in your judgment, not to cost over ten thousand dollars.

R. G. PETERS.

Other letters were also read, one being from one Thomas Marks, dated at the Queen's Hotel, Toronto, which stated that he (Marks) had seen several Conservative members and that they all said it was better not to be in too much of a hurry until they got matters well matured. Another letter was also read from a Mr. Peters, saying that he (Kirkland) was pushing him for money beyond his ability, and that the best he could do would be $5,000 by the 20th or 25th, and some more by the 30th. He warned Kirkland that they would milk him for all he could stand, and not to be too free or they would take their hides off. Enclosed was $100. Among papers found on Wilkinson was the following letter marked "Private":

OTTAWA, 1st February, 1884.

Dear Sir,—

I have made up my mind to recommend your appointment as Registrar at Edmonton, N. W. T.

Yours truly,
D. L. MACPHERSON.

J. W. Wilkinson, Esq., Toronto.

Endorsed upon the back of this letter were the words in a different hand writing "I name as my appointment to the within-inmentioned office"—followed by a blank. The envelope bore the initials "D. M." on the lower left hand corner and was marked "free."

A letter dated Guelph, Feb. 14th, 1884, but unsigned, addressed to Wilkinson, was read, to the effect that the writer had met a party that morning and that he was a firm believer in the N. P., but otherwise was in accordance with his party. He would not promise but was not unfavorable. The writer concluded by saying he would like to see him (Wilkinson) and Bunting on Tuesday before an interview with the party alluded to, which he had arranged. The letter was unsigned, and did not appear to have been through the post office. It was written on telegraph blanks and the envelope was sealed with dark sealing wax, which bore the impress, apparently, of the American Express Company's stamp.

The original of the "round robin" was also produced, and was to the same effect as has already been published.

James C. Welch, accountant of the Bank of British North America, Toronto, gave evidence as to the bank bills handed to Mr. Speaker by Messrs. McKim and Balfour. He could not identify them, but said that on Saturday last two men called at the bank and obtained thirty one-hundred-dollar bills for bills of larger denominations similar to those produced. These men were Fred Stimson, who owned a cattle ranch in Manitoba, and formerly of Ottawa, and John Shields, the contractor, FROZEN WHISKEY SHIELDS.

Stimson produced the money and put the bills he received in exchange in his pocket. Witness could not say what the numbers of those hundred dollar bills were, or whether they were identical with the numbers of the ones produced. Stimson produced other Dominion notes to a large amount, but witnesses could not say to what value. Finally, said witness, he kept in the Bank of the Dominion $10,000, and he did not know whether a record of that kind was kept at the Receiver-General's office, where the Dominion notes were issued.

On motion of Mr. Fraser, the documents produced were impounded by the Committee, and the Committee adjourned.

FURTHER DEVELOPMENTS

were brought out when the Committee on Privileges and Elections met on Thursday morning. H. P. Dwight, General Manager of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, was called upon to produce copies of telegrams relating to the conspiracy. He said he had no time to get the telegrams together, but would produce them as soon as possible.

W. H. Higgins, late of the Whitby Chronicle, stated that he had seen Mr. Bunting walking with a man on the street, whom he thought was Stimson, but was unable to say positively who the man was.

Thomas Goldie, Guelph, Conservative, came forward voluntarily and testified that he had not approached Mr. Laidlaw, M.P.P., or offered him money to defeat the Government. He had never made any overtures to that gentleman at any time. He acknowledged having written the unsigned letter referred to above.

Mr. Laidlaw, M.P.P., testified that he had not been approached, in the manner indicated, by Mr. Goldie at any time.

Mr. McKim, M.P.P., made his statement under oath. He said he had been approached by Wilkinson, who asked him to support a vote of want of confidence in the Government. He was offered $1,000 to support a measure which was to be brought forward by the Opposition. He saw Wilkinson several times about the matter, and finally explained the whole affair to Mr. Pardee, Commissioner of Crown Lands. Mr. Pardee pressed him to go on with the negotiations and draw Wilkinson out as far as possible. He (McKim) then went and saw Wilkinson again, and came to satisfactory terms with him. The $1,000 was handed over by Wilkinson to him, on conditions named. In answer to one of the Committee, Mr. McKim acknowledged that he had signed the round robin before the money had been given to him. The Committee then adjourned to meet again to-morrow.

MR. BUNTING POSES AS A CAREY.

One of the leading agents of Sir John Macdonald in the bribery scandal—Mr. Bunting—has used the columns of his paper, the Mail, to defend himself and denounce his pals. In order to sneak out of the responsibility himself he assumes the role of Carey, with the exception that he holds back what he knows about his confederates, because to tell all would be to implicate himself. None of his cowardly denials will convince the public, however, that he is innocent. The case against him is too plain, and there is the testimony of at least a dozen more honorable men than he to contradict what he says.

Kirkland's connection with the conspiracy is becoming clearer as the facts come out.

HE HAD NO POLITICAL INTEREST

in the matter. He had bought timber land on both sides of Pigeon River, and afterwards found out that this did not give him a right to the timber. Then he applied to the Crown Lands Department for the timber, but Mr. Pardee told him he could not buy it except at public auction. This did not suit him, and he must have been satisfied by statements from leading Conservatives that if Mr. Meredith got into office the policy in respect to timber lands would be changed to suit his views. No doubt these lands were to be sold by private sale, just as Sir John sells Dominion lands to his supporters. Kirkland then undertook to buy over some of Mr. Mowat's supporters in order to accomplish his end. This will explain the letter from R. G. Peters, Manistee, Mich.

But Wilkinson's only interest was a political one of Sir John, and he too had money—$10,000, which he said he had received at Ottawa. He was able also to promise offices under the patronage of the Dominion Government, and had in his possession at the time he was arrested a letter from Hon. D. L. McPherson placing at his disposal the Registraship of Edmonton, N. W. T. How many more such letters he had concealed elsewhere has not come out but this together with his political antecedents in Algoma, Muskoka and West Middlesex, are sufficient to connect the Dominion Government with the plot.

HE WAS THE BRIBERY AGENT

The Committee on Privileges and Elections met again on Friday morning. H. P. Dwight, General Manager of the Great North Western Telegraph Company, was asked to produce copies of telegrams called for the previous day. He said he had made a search for the telegrams, but had been advised that the Committee had no power to compel him to produce them. He refused to say whether he had any such telegrams in his possession or not.

Mr. Fraser said the matter would be reported to the House and the witness might be called to the Bar of the House, a thing unknown since Confederation. Mr. Fraser moved that the fact of Mr. Dwight having been summoned and the fact of his appearance and refusal to produce any papers or documents mentioned in the summons, be reported to the House, which was carried.

Hon. Alex. Morris was then asked if he could indentify the handwriting of the letter from the Hon. D. L. Macpherson to Wilkinson, with regard to the Registrarship of Edmonton. He recognised the writing as Mr. Macpherson's but said the writing on the back of the letter, purporting to be a transfer of the appointment was not that of Mr. Macpherson, and he did not know whose it was.

Dr. Cascaden, M.P.P., was then examined. He said some time in January last Meek came to him to ask for a private interview. He assented, never dreaming of its object. Meek asked if anything he said or any communication he might make would be strictly private to which witness assented. Meek said he knew how ill in health witness was, and after a general conversation Meek said there was too much party feeling in the Province, and then witness began to 'tumble' as to what was coming. Meek asked witness to give his support to a resolution to defeat the Mowat Government and replace them by a coalition party. However, previous to that, Meek had asked witness to see Bunting, but witness had refused. Meek assured witness he had authority from the leaders of the Conservative party to speak to him as he was doing. Witness told him his support would be of little use, owing to the state of his health, and that he felt inclined to go home. Meek persuaded, saying if witness would remain at home after giving one vote against the Government it would answer all purposes. Witness thereupon led him on, to see what he was prepared to say. He assured witness if he would only consent to resign his seat and lend his influence to return him (Meek), and manipulate what he called the "Irish vote", it would answer his purpose just as well. In consideration of this witness was to have two or three thousand dollars, besides his expenses to Regina where he could have the Registrarship. He afterwards said he guaranteed witness a nice sit in British Columbia. Witness did not come to any terms and the interview terminated. Next morning Meek met witness in the Rossin House and removed the offers. He said he had already secured five or six Government supporters, who were willing to do what he wanted witness to do. Witness then said, "You had better drop this; nothing can come of it." Meek said the matter was one entirely between themselves. Witness thought it was all over, and remembered that he was pledged to secrecy before the conversation was entered upon, but felt he would be like a criminal were he to observe the pledge he gave. Consequently he at once told a member of the Government. On the night of the 4th February while he was in the House a message was sent in to him to come and speak to some one in the corridor. He saw no one there and went into the refreshment room, when Bunting at once came in and he was introduced to Bunting, who at once began to speak of a coalition party. After what had occurred with Meek, witness understood the situation, and at once intimated his knowledge of the facts to Bunting. Thereupon words passed between them more forcible than polite. Meek had been a personal friend of witness for many years, and from his knowledge of him he believed he was telling the truth in making offers to him. (witness).

The Committee then adjourned.

AT THE POLICE COURT.

At the Police Court on Friday morning Wilkinson, Kirkland, Bunting and Meek were arraigned on the conspiracy charge. Mr. McMaster, Q. C., Montreal, and Mr. Clarke appeared for Mr. Bunting; Messrs Murphy and Murdock for Wilkinson; Dr. McMichael, Q. C., and Mr. Nelville for Meek; and Messrs Cameron & Caswell for Kirkland. Mr. A Irving, Q. C., and Mr. Fenton appeared for the Crown.

There was no fresh indictment. The Police Magistrate said he had made up his mind not to try the cases, as he found he was not bound to do so. He would hear the evidence and discharge any of the prisoners if the evidence did not warrant their committal.

Meek, Bunting, and Wilkinson pleaded "not guilty" and elected to be tried by a jury, and Kirkland pleaded "not guilty" electing to be tried summarily.

Mr. Allan, messenger at the House, and Mr. Speaker Clark were examined as to the production of the documents.

A long argument ensued as to the custody of the documents, when the Magistrate decided that they be retained in custody of the court pending the session of the court.

Inspector Ward gave evidence as to the documents found on Wilkinson and Kirkland when arrested, stating, however, that he (Wilkinson) voluntarily handed over the papers in his possession.

Mr. McKim, M.P.P., was then put in the witness box, all the other witnesses being ordered out of court. His examination in chief was conducted by Mr. Irving, Q. C., and was merely a repetition of that elicited by the Committee on Privileges and Elections. He was under examination when the court adjourned for lunch.

THE INVESTIGATION ADVANCES.

Toronto, March 22—At the opening of the Police Court Saturday morning the Magistrate read the indictment in Dr. Dowling's case. Exception having been taken on Friday that one information had been laid against all the defendants this morning separate informations were laid against them, but Meek was excluded. The evidence on McKim's indictment was then continued, Mr. Balfour, M. P. P., being the first witness. His examination-in-chief was simply a repetition of the evidence given by him before the Committee on Privileges and Elections. In cross-examination he admitted that the $300 given to him by Wilkinson was not in the form of a bribe, but a guarantee that he would get an office in the North-West promised by Wilkinson, and and the money would be returned to Wilkinson when the agreement entered into as to the office was fulfilled. In regard to Kirkland, he said Kirkland told him that he would give him $1,000 or $1,200 if he could conscientiously advocate in his paper, speak in the House and vote for his (Kirkland's) timber policy. Kirkland seemed to think there was nothing wrong in what he was doing as he said he had been used to it on the other side of the line. When Balfour's cross-examination was concluded the Court adjourned till the afternoon.

BEFORE THE COMMITTEE.

Before the Committee on Privileges and Elections this morning Mr. Goldie of Guelph, produced a telegram received from Wilkinson asking him to come to Toronto and see him. He was asked to produce the letter from Wilkinson, but it had been destroyed and the letter merely informed him that Wilkinson had left Toronto for good and was at Cobourg. Mr. Fraser pressed the witness to give his opinion as to the meaning of the letter and Mr. Meredith objected. Mr. Fraser presisted and the witness replied that he did not think it had any political import. He had never received any communication from Bunting. Mr. Fraser asked why he did not sign his letter to Wilkinson and the witness replied that he had written it in a hurry and did not intend not to sign it.

Mr. Fraser said he noticed in the Mail this morning that he was charged with keeping a missing document. He said he never had the document in his possession.

Mr. Meredith said that might be true, but Mr. Fenton, County Crown Attorney, had had the documents and the missing one might have been mislaid.

Mr. Balfour, M.P.P., made an explanation in regard to the Hon. D. L. Macpherson's statement that the Regina Registrarship was not vacant, and therefore could not have been offered. He said he had been told by Wilkinson that Dr. Dukes, the present Registrar, was not doing his duty satisfactorily, and if he did not resign he would be removed.

ONE THOUSAND DOLLAR BILLS.

George Dunston, of the Federal Bank, testified that last Saturday he had changed two $1,000 bills for a gentleman who he believed was Stimson. The change was given in $500 bills. Subsequently another $1,000 bill was changed. Stimson had a large roll of bills in his hands; the outside one being a $1,000 bill. He did not see what the others were. John Shields was with Stimson. On cross-examination the witness said that if the Dominion Government gave a cheque it would be on some bank, and payment would not be given in Dominion notes.

A draft report was then submitted stating that as it would be impossible to finish the investigation before the close of the session it be recommended that the whole matter be referred to a commission of judges. The report was deferred till Monday and the Committee adjourned.

SCIENTIFIC BUTTER MAKING.

WASHING.

(From the Ontario Government Manual for Scientific Butter Making.)

No. 4.

The churning has been stopped when the butter is yet to fine grains. The butter-milk should now be drained off and the butter washed in its hard, granulated state, first with cold water and afterwards with brine.

MANNER OF WASHING.

The method to be employed will depend upon the sort of churn used. Churns with stationary body are not well adapted to the process; but where their is lack of mechanical appliance, experience and skill must make up for the lack. If the churn be stationary, like the dash churn, and if in its construction there be no provision for the washing process the following method may be adopted. After the temperature has been lowered and the butter has been enough advanced, the contents of the churn may be poured out into a strainer or receive that will allow the milk to pass through and leave the butter behind. Water or brine may now be poured on and allowed to pass through, leaving the butter, and carrying off all foreign matter. This must be repeated until the water runs of clear, and the pure butter remains.

If the churn is one with a movable body, and there is provision for the washing process, the work will be much simplified. In this case the butter remains in the churn while it is being washed. The butter-milk is drained off through a strainer. Cold water and brine, in turn, are successively poured in, the butter gently agitated in the usual way, the water or brine then drained off in the same manner as the butter-milk.

Little practice will be required to enable one to do this as easily as to gather in the old way into a larger lump, which makes it necessary afterwards to work out the butter-milk at the expense of the grain of the butter, and at the risk or certainty of leaving shells of cream globules, casein or membraneous matter in the butter, to depreciate both the eating and keeping quality of the butter.

PURE WATER.

The water should be quite fresh, clean, and pure. If only a little defective it may be remedied by making it into good brine by the use of pure salt. There are other ways of purifying it, but if absolutely impure it will be better not to wash the butter but to let it dra n off as much as possible while in its granulated form and given to press and salt it, carefully working out as much as possible of the butter-milk. This process will be likely to involve over-kneading and more or less injury to the grain, but of the two evils—butter-milk or a broken grain, the broken grain is to be preferred. Indeed, butter-milk left in the butter, with or without broken grain, is a worse evil than the use of moderately impure water, if the washing be done quickly and thoroughly with brine while the butter is in fine grains.

Heating stands perhaps first as a means of purifying water. Where there are solid impurities in the water it is well to strain it while pouring it into the heating-vessel. After the water has been thoroughly boiled, it may be removed from the fire and cooled, of course always in a pure atmosphere. As the quantity required for washing the butter need not be large, in need not be a troublesome work to heat the water, especially if a suitable heating vessel be provided. In any case the absolute importance of having clean and pure water, calls for any necessary trouble there may be to obtain it, and the trouble taken will be more than repaid in result.

REMOVING BUTTER FROM CHURN.

There are several ways of taking the butter from the churn. The most convenient way may be employed, provided it removes the butter clean from the churn without breaking the grain or making it stick to the churn, and does not involve injurious contact with the hands. When the brine begins to run off clear, the draining off may be stopped and, the butter may be lifted out with a [illegible] another plan. The butter may be dipped [illegible] into a strainer or [illegible] and the brine may be [illegible] Or, [illegible] been [illegible] the butter compounder. Whole [illegible] be lifted out with a [illegible].

If it Were Possible

To get the testimony of the multitude who have used The Shaker Blood Syrup for spring debility, languor, lassitude, and that general feeling of stupidity, weariness and exhaustion which oppresses feeble during this season, we should hesitate to present our readers such an overwhelming mass of complimentary messages, that the few who have not tried it would do so at once. It is a positive fact, and has been so effectually demonstrated that no one to-day denies it, that The Shaker Blood Syrup contains more real medicinal value than any article now before the public. Hundreds in spite of their prejudices, are taking The Shaker Blood Syrup, and now honestly declare it to be the best medicine ever offered to the public; and they are quite right, and this sentiment must and will extend just as the people will satisfy themselves to be influenced by facts and by the testimony of those people who have tried it and know whereof they speak. In presenting The Shaker Blood Syrup to the public we suffer, because people have been so often humbugged by the weak decoctions with which the country is filled. It is often difficult to make people believe what an advertisement says, because of the evil influence produced by those unreliable, worthless preparations. It is true that honest people are constantly suffering from the effects of dishonesty, and this will probably always be so, but it does not require any remarkable ability to see how the real worth of The Shaker Blood Syrup impresses itself upon people. Our reputation rests upon the value of this medicine, and we are proud of the record it is making. Sold by Ormond & Walsh, Druggists.

MATRIMONIAL PEACE OF MIND.

"Are you as happy now as you were before you were married?" asked Mrs. Yeast of young Mrs. Crimsonbeak.

"Yes, indeed," replied the lady; "and a great deal happier."

"That's strange," suggested the philanthropist's wife.

"Not at all strange," came from the young married woman. "You see, before I was married I used to spend half my time worrying about what dress I should wear when Daniel called."

"But don't you try just as hard now to look well when your husband returns home at night?" interrupted Mrs. Yeast.

"Well, you see, went on the bride of two summers, "I don't worry any about it now, as I have only one dress to my name."

An Editor's Tribute.

BURNED WITH BLAZING OIL.

About 11 o'clock Saturday night Geo Ross coloured, went to his house on McDougall-st Windsor, and found another coloured man named Scott there. A quarrel ensued, and Ross threw a lamp at Scott, striking him on the head and breaking the lamp. The oil took fire, burning Scott in a horrible manner. The physicians say Scott cannot live. Ross was arrested after a desperate struggle by Chief Baines and Officer Well, he defending himself with an axe. He was, however overpowered without seriously injuring the officers.

A Popular Fallacy.

Many people think Rheumatism cannot be cured. It is caused by a bad state of the blood which deposits poisonous matter in the joints and muscles causing lameness, stiffness and swelling of the joints and excruciating pains. Kidney-Wort will certainly effect a cure. It acts on the Kidneys Liver and Bowels, stimulating them to a healthy action, purifies and enriches the blood and eliminates the poison from the system. Go to the nearest druggist, buy Kidney-Wort and be cured.

HE WENT IN.

They were standing at the front gate.

"Won't you come in the parlour and sit a little while, Georgie, dear?"

"N-no, I guess not," replied George, hesitatingly.

"I wish you would" the girl went on, "It's awfully lonesome. Mother has gone out and father is upstairs groaning with rheumatism in the legs,"

"Both legs?" asked George.

"Yes, both legs."

"Then I'll come in a little while."

McGregor's Speedy Cure.

From the many remarkable cures wrought by using McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation and Affection of the Liver, and from the immense sale of it without any advertising, we have concluded to place it extensively on the market, so that those who suffer may have a perfect cure. Go to J. McKee's Drug Store and get a trial bottle free, or the regular size at fifty cents and one dollar. 13-2t

AN INSANE MOTHER'S CRIME.

On Wednesday night Mrs Schaefer, of Oakland, California became insane over the death of one of her children and cut her baby's throat, and then her own. When her husband reached home and saw his wife and baby dead he became crazed and attempted suicide but was prevented. Mrs. Letrelll, who visited the house was so shocked that she became a maniac.

Sore Throat.

This common and painful affection may be readily cured by the prompt application of Hagyard's Yellow Oil, taking it internally at the same time according to directions. In croup, asthma, colds, swollen glands, rheumatism and other painful diseases it is equally efficacious. 13-2t

A FIELD OF CORNS.—Thomas Sabin, of Eglington, says: "I have used Holloway's Corn Cure with the best results, having removed ten corns from my feet. It is not a half way cure or reliever, but a complete extinguisher, leaving the skin smooth and clear from the least appearance of the corns."

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

Doings at Ottawa for that week of last March.

WEDNESDAY.

MR. CHARLTON'S TRIUMPH.

Mr. Charlton scored quite a victory to-night in securing the passage of his bill to punish seduction, notwithstanding the opposition of almost the entire Ministerial party. Every member of the Government who was in the House voted against the bill, and Sir Leonard Tilley, who has been described as the Joseph Surface of the Cabinet, took refuge in an ante-room to avoid voting. Every vote recorded against the bill was that of a Tory, while the 74 supporters of the measure included 56 Reformers and 18 Conservatives. It will now be in order for Sir John Macdonald to order his mechanical majority in the Senate to slaughter Mr. Charlton's bill.

THE LICENSE CONFLICT.

To-day the Government were obliged to define their policy on the license question, and a pitiable exhibition they made. When the bill was about to be read a third time the last session Mr. Fleming moved to delay legislation until the question of jurisdiction had been settled by the Courts. This amendment was of course voted down. To-day Sir Hector Langevin was obliged to move a similar amendment to Mr. Houde's resolution proposing to repeal the Dominion License Act. Was ever a Minister placed in such a humiliating position? They have neither principle nor policy to guide them on this or apparently any other question. Temporary political expediency is the sole rule by which Sir John proposes to be guided. Mr. Houde opened the debate in a temperate but logical address, confining himself closely to the subject. Mr. Amyot's speech was also a model of concise and convincing argument. He showed that the proposal of the Tories respecting the "assimilation" of the License, Franchise, and other laws throughout the whole Dominion, simply meant centralization and legislative union. It could no longer be contended that federal legislation was necessary, but still the Government insisted upon making another effort to wrest the licensing power from provinces by appealing to the Courts. Mr. Fleming's speech was also a very able one and no attempt was made on the ministerial side to meet the powerful argument advanced in support of provincial rights by Messrs. Laurier, Davies, Weldon, Fairbank and Blake. The sole purpose of the Government seem to be to gain time to let the "great constitutional authority" down easy. Now Sir John proposes to bring in a bill to do what the opposition wanted him to do last session.

THURSDAY.

In the House of Commons, to-day, the resolution authorizing the Government to acquire the Eastern Railway was concurred in, and a bill founded thereon introduced. The House then went into Committee of Supply and passed the estimates of expenditure for Legislation, Penitentiaries, Administration of Justice and Militia services. The House adjourned about two o'clock.

DISTRUSTING ALLIES.

The Orangemen here are indignant at the attitude assumed by their allies, the Blues, who after having killed the Orange Incorporation Bill, (defeated on Monday) demand that the Ontario Tories shall support their claim for seven or eight millions upon the Dominion Government for railway expenditure; and after all the Orangemen say the Blues are sure to desert them as soon as a favourable opportunity offers. Mr. Chapleau is greatly mistrusted because two or three newspapers which are completely under his control continue to denounce the policy of the Government on several important questions. It is well-known that these papers would not venture to take such a course without Mr. Chapleau's approval, and therefore the Secretary of State is looked upon as exceedingly dangerous man to be retained in the Ministry.

Color Your Butter.

Farmers that try to sell white butter are of the opinion that dairying does not pay. If they would use Wells, Richardson & Co's Improved Butter Color, and market their butter in perfect condition they still would get good prices, but it will not pay to make any but the best in color and quality. This color is used by all the leading creameries and dairymen, and is sold by druggists and merchants.

A Case Much Talked of.

The case of Mr. John Morrison, of St. Ann's, N.S., who was afflicted with a serious dropsical disease of the kidneys. The best medical aid having failed, his life was despaired of. Two bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him. His statement is vouched for by J. D. McLeod, J. P., who knew of his condition. The cure is considered marvellous in his town. 13-2t

Oh, my Back!

Is there a miserable, weakening pain in the small of the back? Is urination painful? Do you have palpitation of the heart? Do strange, indescribable feelings creep up your back and sides? Does the least exertion weary you? Does your urine show brickdust or albuminous deposit? Does any sudden fright cause an intense, sharp pain in the small of your back? Do you have an aching in the groin? Is your memory impaired? Is your breath short? Are there shooting pains about your vitals? Are you becoming dropsical?

These are all symptoms of kidney diseases. Be on your guard against them. If let run it may end in Bright's Disease, which is sure death.

Your best course is to procure at once a bottle of SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS costing only 50c. It will cure any form of Kidney Complaint, except Bright's Disease, it will relieve the symptoms and defer the evil day sometimes indefinitely.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS is a medicine as harmless as water. The world has not seen its equal as a cure for diseases which attack the Kidneys and for the complaints to which females are alone liable. It is of more value than any medical compound known to the medical faculty.

PETERBOROUGH, MARCH 27, 1884.

Is the Party Implicated?

In considering the recent villainous attempt at bribing legislators at Toronto, the question naturally arises as to the complicity of the Conservative party—as to whether personal or political motives prompted the undertaking. The Tory journals have made, and are still making, frantic attempts to throw all the guilt in connection with the conspiracy to defeat the Mowat Administration, on Kirkland, the Yankee timber broker, and they assert that the money tendered was supplied by him. Now, Kirkland denies, under oath, that he ever paid a dollar to any member of the Legislature. He was simply looking after his personal interests, by trying to secure the influence of Ministerial members to obtain a change in his favour in the timber policy of the Government. Kirkland's affidavit being so positive, and, so far, undisputed, one cannot come to any other conclusion than that the conspiracy is a purely political one. Bunting's denial is not entitled to the most implicit belief; he is doubly interested in denying the damaging charges—first, from a desire to save his own skin, and second, from a desire to prevent the exposure of the part played by the Tory employers and allies, at Ottawa, of himself and his confederates. Again, his denial is flatly contradicted by three members of Parliament, Messrs. McKim, Balfour and Dowling, while Mr. Goldie, of Guelph, a Tory himself, furnishes evidence that Bunting was in the plot. Lastly, as a ground for not hastily yielding credence to Bunting's denial, it is impossible to conceive that a man who has breathed the mendacious atmosphere of the Mail office for the past year or so is equal to the feat of telling the truth at the first attempt. Wilkinson's recognition by Sir Charles Tupper as the factotum and general utility man of the Government is another proof of the entirely political nature of the plot. Senator Macpherson's letter, placing a Dominion Government office at the disposal of Wilkinson, show that the Ottawa wing of the plotters against Mr. Mowat were not entirely ignorant of the attempt by Wilkinson and his "pals", to give effect to the persistent attempts made by Sir John during and since the last Ontario elections to crush, by the most bare-faced bribery, the Reform rule in this Province. That significant visit to Ottawa, made by Messrs. Bunting, "Big Push" and Meredith, and their long confab with Sir John and Carling, don't tend to rob the bribery business of its political aspect. Mr. Meek, the solicitor for the Conservative party, supplies the missing link, or rather clenches the chain of evidence to show the political character of the conspiracy. In his overtures to Dr. Cascaden, M.P.P., Meek said he had full power from the leaders of the Conservative party to carry on negotiation to buy Meredith into power. The fact that Mr. Meredith was to move a motion of want of confidence in the Mowat Administration when it was assured that enough support had been purchased, furnishes additional proof, and shows that he had a pretty shrewd idea of what was going forward. The plotters would not have spent thousands of dollars to purchase a support for Mr. Meredith unless they had some sort of assurance that he would avail himself of it and co-operate with the conspirators. No man, unless he be determined not to be convinced, can for a minute refuse his assent to the statement that the conspiracy is entirely a political one.

The Bribery Plot.

The evidence is concluded in the investigation of the attempt of the Tory conspirators to overthrow the Mowat Administration, and the result is that an immense mass of damaging facts has been brought out, showing not only the hideous nature of the work of the immediate plotters, but unmistakably connecting the Tory powers at Ottawa with the infamous plot. It has been confessed that Kirkland, the Yankee, did not supply the money used, and, though its first source is not yet shown, there is little doubt that it came from Ottawa. The Tory party is deep in the plot, and, in fact, the head and front of it. In spite of Bunting's bluster, it has been proved that he was the foremost of the gang, and Hon. Mr. Morris swore that the canvasses of the Tory party were held in the Mail building—plain proof that Bunting, as well as the Tory party, were in the ring. Through the whole business the peculiar methods used, indicate the guiding hand of the "Chieftain," and, if the truth were known, he would be found at the bottom of the Satanic scheme. This last count in the indictment of corruption against him is the crowning act of a man, whose long and sinuous career in crooked political ways, has resulted in such a terrible degrading of public morality. As a rule, the corrupt nature of his schemes has been surrounded by the glamour of success, and the public, especially the portion that sympathized politically with him, failed to see the iniquitous nature of them. The public were so often confronted with political immorality that familiarity robbed it of its hideousness. But the public awakening to the enormity of the Pacific Scandal showed that there was a limit to the toleration of corruption in high places. The recent outrage in Toronto will, also, we firmly believe, prove that the Tory leaders have again over-reached themselves, and that the hateful plot to overthrow Mr. Mowat will recoil disastrously on their own heads.

Fully Justified.

The Toronto World takes some trouble to show that Mr. Mowat's prosecution of the investigation against the Toronto detachment of the Ottawa bribery brigade, is a confession on the part of the Premier of Ontario of the weakness of his Government. If this be admitted, a brief recital of the causes almost entirely responsible, will justify the course Mr. Mowat has taken to bring the bribers to justice and put a decisive check to the persistent and systematic attacks made by Sir John Macdonald, in almost every conceivable way, upon this Province and the Mowat Administration. To vent his spite on Ontario, for remaining firm to Mr. Mowat and Reform principles and thus forming a stumbling block in the way of accomplishing his schemes, Sir John has persistently, and with malice aforethought, persecuted this province. He has pursued a policy of centralization especially at Ontarios expense. He has refused to grant confirmatory legislation to secure her her territorial rights. He has disallowed her legislation. During the last elections he put an unscrupulous bribery brigade in the field, and when, in spite of that, the Province reiterated its expression of confidence in Mr. Mowat, funds were furnished to achieve in the Election Courts what cash had failed to perform in the constituencies. All these schemes failing, the last iniquitous attempt was made to buy up enough of Mr. Mowat's supporters to drive him from power, and thus nullify the expression of the people as given by their ballots. With all these causes legitimately accounting for the "weakness" the World attributes to Mr. Mowat's Cabinet, he is fully justified in taking the quickest and surest means of bringing the bribers to justice, and visiting upon them the severest penalties of the law.

Out in the Cold.

We have been frequently pained at noticing how "our member," Mr. Carnegie, from whom so much had been expected during the past session of the Legislature, has failed to secure that recognition and appreciation which his abilities, in his own estimation and that of a select circle of local wire-pullers, should command. He has been severely sat on, and occasionally even squelched, but the crowning snub and indignity, he received at the hands of his friend and co-worker, Mr. Wilkinson. That gentleman, in detailing to Mr. Balfour the composition of the coalition Ministry which he and Bunting and their confederates were going to place in power, with Tory gold and Dominion offices, mentioned Mr. Meredith as Premier, Mr. Morris as Minister of Education, and Mr. Creighton as Treasurer, the other three offices to be thrown away on Reformers. But the financial wonder of West Peterborough was left out in the cold—assigned a back seat—the play of Hamlet, with the melancholy Dane left out. This is "the most unkindest cut of all." Perhaps the renown of having discovered the tea-scandal was considered enough of glory for "Sarah" for one session.

Splendid assortment of Gros Grain Silks, Ottoman Cords, Satin DeLyon's etc., for mantles at Turnbull's. Also all the latest Novelties in trimming's to match.

A Bold Tory Journal.

In regard to the recent diabolical bribery plot in Toronto, the Tories are divided into two classes. One, lost to all sense of shame or decency, like the Mail and its following, boldly denies all the facts and alleges that whatever guilt exists, rests on the shoulders of the Reform members who were insulted with bribes. Another class, with a suspiciously sudden frankness, endeavors to weaken the admissions of guilt it cannot help making by saying that its a terribly disgraceful business, and that it is plain that both parties are hopelessly corrupt, and deserve the severest punishment. There is an exception to these two classes, and we are sorry to say, for the credit of the Conservative party, but a single exception, so far. The Brant Review a decided Tory journal deals with the matter as follows:—

POLITICAL INIQUITY.

"In all conscience, the people of Canada have been called upon to bear sufficient disgrace in the iniquitous proceedings of our politicians in their bribery and frauds perpetrated in Muskoka, Algoma, West Middlesex, and many other constituencies, but this week has been exposed one of the most gigantic pieces of political iniquity that ever disgraced the history of a nation, before which the election frauds, perpetrated to some extent by both parties, sink into mere peccadilloes. This was nothing less than an attempt to overthrow the Ontario Government by the purchase of Government supporters who were in straightened circumstances, or who were thought to be dissatisfied, by the payment of large sums of money and the offers of lucrative places under the Dominion Government. A number of leading Conservatives, including Bunting of the Mail, Big Push Wilkinson, Shields, and Stimson, have been implicated in the affair, and it is almost a certainty have failed, and even the plotters could not have expected to be successful, without the cognizance and approval of the heads of the party. Fortunately this vilest of all acts of corruption ever attempted in this Dominion failed in attaining the desired end, and every true Canadian will rejoice in the total confusion of the plotters. More desirable still, the unscrupulous rascals engaged in the disgusting business have been unmistakably caught, and two of them, Wilkinson and Kirkland, taken red-handed, have got gaoled. The searching investigation now taking place must result in some important disclosures, and already evidence gained from letters upon the persons of the prisoners point the complicity of members of the Dominion Government. The discovery of the plot and the evident unscrupulousness of the Conservative agents and their leaders as thereby shown, has fallen like a bombshell among the many honest and straightforward members of the party; in fact it is a very political earthquake, which will send the party in every direction if it does not result in a new division of party lines altogether. The Review, for one newspaper, can no longer continue to support a party whose best arguments are bribes, and the leaders of which will encourage any political villainy, even verging on treason, to place themselves in power in the face of a decided verdict from the citizens of the Province. We have supported the Conservative interests because we believed their policy the best for the country. We shall withdraw our support, as it is our decided conviction that the leaders of the party are not to be trusted with the country's welfare."

Editorial Notes.

The Senate hasn't been of the slightest use this session to the country, but Sir John will make it useful to crush Mr. Charlton's Seduction Bill, which Sir John had not, with all his brass, the courage to defeat in the House of Commons.

The Ontario Legislature closed on Tuesday, and still "Mowat didn't go." In spite of the basest and most brazen attempt ever made to defeat a Government, the session closes with Mr. Mowat stronger than ever.

Sir John has again connived, if he has not indeed, instigated the defeat of the Orange Incorporation Bill. If the Orange order can thus endure the humiliation of being snubbed and see Sir John's promises of incorporation doubly broken, others have no reason to complain; it is only another instance of the manner in which "Old To-morrow" keeps his promises. One thing seems pretty certain, Orange incorporation will cease from this time to have any influence as a political factor. The Orange Sentinel, the organ of the order, says:

"It was the bounden duty of every member of the Government and of the Conservative party, irrespective of creed, to vote and speak for the civil rights of their alleged political friends. The members of the Government sat silent while the society was misrepresented and maligned, and upon a vote being taken nearly half of their followers voted against the bill."

We're Selling Cottons

AT WHAT THEY COST OTHER PEOPLE!

Rather a strong statement isn't it? Very likely it is. But it's one we're perfectly well prepared to back up.

1. To back it up with the Goods.
2. To back it up with the Prices.
3. To back it up with the extent of Stock.
4. To back it up with the range of Grades and Qualities.
5. To back it up by giving you any number of yards for a lower figure than Pressure Sales compel others to part with them for.

There's a platform for you in COTTONS. Try any or either plank. They'll all hold you and they're safe to support our reputation.

We've spoken of Cotton Goods in general, now let us particularize.

We offer you TICKINGS and SHEETINGS, and GREY and WHITE COTTONS, and SHIRTINGS, and if you need them, COTTON TWEEDS and DUCKS as well.

If you've understood that we carry the trade with us in COTTONS, you're well informed.

We're giving you Cottons at about the prices that other houses are paying for them. That's our opinion.

One of our FACTS is that we sell our COTTONS at other people's cost prices, and make our business profits besides.

How do we do it? Come to our counters and see, cross-examine and interrogate, and then buy. We're confident you can't afford to refuse.

BUNTING'S COCK-AND-BULL STORY.

The Hamilton Times says: Bunting dares not confess. He cannot defend, so he instructs the Mail to say that it entertains contempt for Mr. Mowat. By that proffer of reciprocity Bunting will be the gainer; he will get more contempt than he gives. Bunting made out a cock-and-bull story that Dowling came to him, a stranger, without invitation or arrangement, and offered to sell his vote for $1,000, but the proposition was not entertained. Even if Bunting was not lying, the story would not be creditable to him. It would show that he was regarded as a man likely to engage in bribery. But the story bears falsehood on its face. How could Dowling dare to approach the virtuous and unwilling Bunting in that way? Would he not be afraid that Bunting might rise in indignant wrath and expose the whole base proposal in the Mail next day? But did Bunting expose anything? Not much. The weak Tory gag about Reform members going to Bunting for him to bribe them falls flat. Let Bunting denounce Dowling and McKim and rave at Mowat.

No rogue e'er felt the halter draw,
With good opinion of the law.

A LITTLE TOO PREVIOUS.

On Monday evening, at Landes, the night on which the explosion took place in the Legislature, there were wagers made by Conservatives to the effect that Mr. Mowat's Government would be defeated before the morning.

INFORMATION ASKED FOR.

Mr. Blake has given notice of an enquiry as to whether any promise or assurance was given by any member of the Government to J. A. Wilkinson that he would be recommended for or might have the registrarship at Calgary or Edmonton, by whom and when was such an assurance given, and will the Government lay on the table any correspondence or papers in reference to the subject.

THE DODGES TO ESCAPE.

The two main methods by which the Tories are endeavoring to get out of this horrible scrape are:—1, to lay all the blame on Mr. Kirkland; 2, to asseverate that the Reformers came up in procession to Mr. Bunting's office to be bought up. There are two fatal objections to those arguments. First, it has now become quite clear that it was not Kirkland's money which has so unhappily found its way into Mr. Speaker's hands; secondly, all the evidence that has hitherto come to light goes to prove that Bunting was the head and front of the whole business. Not one particle of evidence has been given by anybody to shew that in any one case was the initiative taken by one of Mr. Mowat's supporters.

ANOTHER INDICTMENT.

Just as the people were crowding out of the court-room after the evidence of Mr. McKim yesterday, another little surprise party was sprung upon the prisoners. His Worship desired the prisoners to stand up, when he read an indictment on the information of Thos. R. Wynne, charging (1.) Bunting, Wilkinson Kirkland and one Lynch, with attempting to bribe Dr. Dowling, M. P. P., by offering $2,000 in cash, the withdrawal of a petition against the return of the said Dowling, and a further sum of $2,000 in the event of Dowling being called upon to resign his seat.

(2.) Wilkinson and Kirkland with attempting to bribe Mr. Balfour, by offering him the sum of $600, the publication of official advertisements in a certain newspaper, and the office of Registrar of Regina.

(3.) Bunting, Wilkinson Kirkland Meek and one Lynch, with attempting to bribe Robert McKim, M. P. P., by the offer of $1,500 and the Registrarship of Edmonton

(4.) Wilkinson and Meek with attempting to bribe Mr. Lyon, M. P. P., by offering to secure the withdrawal of the petition entered against his return to Parliament.

Two summonses and two warrants had been issued under this indictment, Bunting and Meek getting the benefit of the former and Wilkinson and Kirkland the favor of the latter.

BACK TO JAIL.

The prisoners Kirkland and Wilkinson at the conclusion of the Police Court session last evening were removed to the cells and some of their friends hustled about to get the necessary sureties to go bail. Mr. Fenton waited in his office till 10 o'clock to examine any sureties who might offer themselves, and was visited by quite a number of "men of straw," but he refused them all, and the two prisoners were driven back to jail in a hack. Kirkland is credited with having remarked, "By—, they have sent me to jail and I'll stop there until I am discharged; I don't want bail.

DRAWING TO ITS CLOSE.

The Committee on Privileges and elections met Monday morning for about five minutes. The draft of the report submitted on Saturday, recommending to the House that the whole matter be referred to a commission composed of Judges, was adopted and the Committee adjourned.

In the Police Court the alleged conspirators appeared at 10.30 o'clock, but no evidence was taken, the time being occupied in reading Balfour's evidence to enable him to sign it before leaving for the country.

DR. CASCADEN'S CONTRIBUTION.

In the afternoon Dr. Cascaden testified that he had known Meek for 23 years, and they were always good friends. About February 27 last Meek met witness in either the Rossin house or the parliament buildings. Meek said he wanted to have a confidential talk, and witness replied all right. After intimating that he understood the doctor's health was bad, Meek began to talk of the necessity of obliterating party lines in Ontario, also adding that the province was too much party-ridden. Meek said he advocated coalition principles, and witness told him that he concurred as to the province being too much party-ridden. Meek gave witness to understand that there had been a good deal of progress made towards forming a coalition government, and that five or six of Mr. Mowat's supporters had consented to join the coalition. He pressed witness for his support. Witness told Meek that for various reasons he could not think of joining in with the coalitionists. The present government had always treated him fairly, and besides he would betray his constituents if he were to do such a thing. Meek told witness that he could resign and he would be given the registrarship of Regina at $1800 per year and a free house, with $3000 or $4000 in cash to pay his expenses up to Regina. Meek suggested that he introduce witness to Bunting, but the former replied that he did not care to know Bunting. Meek said to witness that he was authorised to make the above proposals to him by Bunting. Meek again met witness next day about 11.30 in the Rossin house. Meek renewed his proposals. Speaking of the personnel of the coalition government, Meek said he would not object to two Reformers, and possibly three being taken in. Name of one prominent minister, however, was to be given credit in the new government. Mr. Haverdink was to be the leader. On Meek pressing his proposals of bribery, witness said he would have to break off the interview. Meek spoke of his prospects in West Elgin, and he (witness) told him that he thought he might possibly carry the riding if he got the Irish vote. Afterwards witness was introduced to Bunting by Mr. Ernestinger. After some preliminary remarks, witness accused Bunting of having sent Meek to him (witness) with corrupt proposals, and witness told Bunting when the latter commenced to talk about candidates not to proceed one step further. He then d—d Bunting for approaching him.

Witness was cross-examined by Dr. McMichael and Mr. Macmaster, but his evidence was not materially changed. Witness said that Meek promised him that if the climate of Regina was too severe for him he (witness) could have almost any position he wanted in British Columbia. [Laughter.]

Meek was arraigned on a new charge, that of offering to bribe a member of the legislature. A lengthy discussion took place on this charge, between the magistrate and Dr. McMichael, and the court adjourned without a plea being entered, the magistrate in the meantime saying he would consult certain authorities on the matter.

THE CLOSING TESTIMONY.

The hearing of evidence was resumed on Tuesday morning. Hon. Alex. Morris and detective Murray were examined, but no evidence of importance was elicited. This closed the case for the prosecution. The arguments of the council are postponed till April 2nd.

MIDLAND DISTRICT DASHES.

The Cream of Occurrences Skimmed from Contemporary Columns.

MILLBROOK.

A special train left Millbrook on Tuesday evening for the North-West, consisting of two coaches of passengers and two of baggage. Those on board consisted chiefly of men who had previously taken up land in the new section of the country and who returned last fall for the purpose of removing their families to their new homes. A few from Port Hope joined the party.

NORWOOD.

Finlay's hub and spoke factory is running night and day now. Business must be "booming."

Mr. J. H. Barber, engineer of this section of the Ontario and Quebec Railway, spent several days here this week on business in connection with the road. He states that the road is to be completed and in running order by the 1st of June.

Tenders are invited for the erection of a new Church of England parsonage at Norwood. The building is to be of brick.

BOBCAYGEON.

Mr. D. Belleghem, the energetic proprietor of the Peterborough Furniture Factory, delivered a load of his wares in the village during the week. Mr. Belleghem is doing a very extensive business throughout the district.

Mr. Wm. Kennedy, the foreman of the Government Works, is engaged in strengthening the canal bank, in anticipation of a high flood when the lakes break up. The water has commenced to rise, and ice from the upper lake has passed down the river.

HASTINGS.

The editor of the Star has a "white elephant" on his hands—that is, he has been presented by Mr. F. Birdsall with some potatoes of that variety. The editor is in for one good square meal at any rate.

The editor had another narrow escape. Some person left a letter, with the usual accompaniment, on the office steps. The letter did not disclose the paternity of the waif, and the editor, himself, feeling perfectly innocent in the matter, declined to have anything to do with it, unless the party furnished his real name with his correspondence.

Mr. Raymond opened a dancing class at Hastings on Thursday night last.

Only twenty-six persons have applied for licenses under the Dominion Act in Northumberland.

PORT HOPE.

At the election of President of the Sailors' Union on Monday afternoon last, Mr. Jas. Stone was chosen for the ensuing year.

Mr. F. Wood, of Bradford has been appointed headmaster of the Port Hope Public Schools, vice Mr. D. J. Goggin, who goes to Winnipeg. Mr. Wood gets a salary of $900, and $100 as headmaster of the Model School.

The Guide dolefully inquires:—"What has become of our band? Can any one tell us? Now, don't all speak at once. If the two or three youths, with as many brass horns, who pass up street every other evening or so, making night hideous with their charivari, are the sort of stuff the band is now composed of, the once famous 46th must have woefully degenerated." An explanation may be suggested, that the town fathers monopolise the "wind" of the somnolent little burg to the south of us.

LINDSAY.

As the result of last year's financial operations $2,000 has been added to the sinking fund. At this rate the town indebtedness will have entirely disappeared in 1966.

Mr. J. G. Edwards has won the junior medal offered for competition by the club. Mr. E. has now added to his former honors the degree of "double first"

Sunday evening two lads named Perkin and Gladman were fooling on Ridout street near where they reside with a revolver and by some accident Perkin shot Gladman in the thigh. How it came to be done neither one appears to have a really clear idea except that the weapon "went off."

On Wednesday just at noon Freddy Sanderson, aged 10 years, son of Mr. Matt Sanderson, was shot in the neck by a revolver with which he and a companion named Maddison were experimenting. The revolver was an old one which had been left at Sanderson's house by a former boarder. The boys got hold of it and young Sanderson in some way procured a cartridge which fitted. The revolver was snapped two or three times by the boys and it did not go off. While they were examining it the cartridge suddenly exploded, the ball passing through Sanderson's neck and burying itself out of reach of the doctor's probe. One of the arteries was severed and it was only by having prompt medical attendance that the lad was saved from bleeding to death and a large incision had to be made to allow of the artery being tied.

CAMPBELLFORD.

This year's series given by the congregation of St. Andrew's Church, Seymour east, last week, brought together a large company of people. The proceeds amounted to $61.65.

Mr. T. Blate and Mr. John Duggan do not hold the same opinion as to the speed of their horses, and they talk of testing the two animals side by side at no distant day. The race will be for a purse of $50.

Rev. Mr. Carmichael, of Norwood, preached in the Presbyterian Church, here, on Sunday morning last. He is an native christian worker, and an able preacher of the gospel.

Mr. Thomas Hume, Seymour east, has purchased another thorough-bred animal. This one is an Ayrshire bull, named "Gladstone", bred from imported stock by Mr. Rodden, of Plantagenet, Ont. Mr Hume bought him from Mr. Donald Douglass, Percy township.

The Herald says: An examination at the present time shows that fall wheat has borne up well beneath the great load of snow which has covered it this winter, and the plant appears with good colour and vigorous. A hope will be cherished from this time forth that no reverses in the trying succession of frost and thaw may blight the crop.

A company of gentlemen belonging to the Northumberland Agricultural Society have purchased a lot of ten acres of land from Mr. Cockburn for the purpose of agricultural exhibitions, &c. The site is beautifully situated only a short distance from the village on the old "Campbell Farm" and adjacent to the River Trent.

Mr. J. Leist, Warehouseman for Lantz Bros., Buffalo, N.Y., says he had a swelling in his foot which he attributed to chilblains. He used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and is troubled no longer. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil may be imitated in appearance and name, but not in its virtues.

KEENE.

(From an Occasional Correspondent.)

The sleighing is about gone, and many have laid away their cutters, and sleigh bells, and have taken to the wheels.

Scarlet fever has again broken out in our village; but it is sincerely hoped, that during the time it has been absent from us, it has decreased in malignity, and that those afflicted may speedily recover.

All agree in saying that the recent political rumpus which proved a big push for Wilkinson even, is a disgrace to Canadian politics.

The steady, clear cold winter and Mr. R. McIntyre's kindness have been conducive to a source of much amusement at the skating rink during the season now closing; but the ice is fast giving way to the influence of the warm weather which we now enjoy. The evenings, are, however, let us hope profitably, spent by many of our town and surrounding country, at the revival meetings still going on in the Methodist church, and the "garden gate", even at this early period of the season, groans beneath the weight of—well—we'll leave the rest to themselves.

EXODUS 22; 31. Some of the young men of this vicinity left on the 22nd; others leave on the 31st. the former going to Manitoba and the North West, and the latter forming an exodus whose destination is the broad lands of Dakota.

WEEKLY SCHOOL REPORT—Subject—"Fourth book and Literature:—1st Edith Meesie, 2nd. Maggie Kenneley, 3rd. Walter Bryce, 4th. Dennis Kenneley, 5th. Annie M. Kirby, 6th. Nelly Dickson, 7th Aggie Miller. The subject for examination next week is "Grammar and Composition."

The Victoria Brass Band was out serenading on Wednesday last, and those who listened to their sweet strains, expressed themselves much pleased with the music. We are looking anxiously to the warm evenings of the summer months, hoping that the band will repeat its last summer's practice of giving out-door rehearsals, for you know,

"When griping grief the heart doth wound,
And doleful dumps the mind oppress.
Then Music, with her silver sound,
With speedy help doth lend redress."

TESTIMONIALS.

Rev. R. Large says:

Being for years afflicted with Dyspepsia, and finding my health greatly improved by only a little of the Crowfoot Bitters, I am pleased to recommend it to those in like manner afflicted.

A St. Vincent Farmer says:

This is to certify that I have used the Crowfoot Indian Bitters, and can recommend it as a first-class medicine for the blood. Was very bad with Dyspepsia for ten years. After using the above Bitters I could eat anything I wished without feeling any discomfort after, and feel thankful for the good health I am enjoying through them.

TORONTO LEGISLATIVE TOPICS.

MONDAY.

RIVERS AND STREAMS BILL.

The second reading of the famous Rivers and Streams Bill was passed. Mr. Pardee explained that the only change from the bill of the three former sessions, was that if the owner of the improvements and the party using them failed to agree on compensation, the matter was to be referred to the County Judge with leave to appeal to a higher court. This cuts the ground from under the Opposition on their charge of partizan favoritism. Messrs. Meredith, Morris and Metcalfe opposed the bill contending that it was ultra vires and an invasion of private rights. The House then went into Committee of Supply and several items under the heads of Administration of Justice, Education and Public Institutions Maintenance were passed.

WEDNESDAY.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

Mr. Dryden's bill to prevent the spread of contagious disease among horses and other domestic animals was discussed in Committee of the Whole, and with unimportant alterations the reservation for further consideration of the clause respecting the magistrate's authorization of a veterinary surgeon to examine a suspected animal, was reported.

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS.

The debate on the resolution of Mr. Gibson, of Hamilton, condemning the present Parliament Buildings, caused a long debate or rather discussion, for nearly all the speakers favored the erection of new buildings. Mr. Gibson gave a graphic and scarcely exaggerated description of the old combination of "ramshackledness" here which formed the government pile; dilated with truthfulness on the bad sanitary condition, the dark passages, the crowded state of the departments, and the general dilapidation, which papering and coloring with the first Oscar Wilde could not approve, failed to conceal. Mr. Hagar's speech was equally condemnatory of the buildings, and was exceedingly well spoken. Messrs. Morris, Clarke, Lees, Neelon, Metcalfe, and Gibson (Huron) also spoke in favor of the resolution, and several of these made bids in behalf of their consituencies for the possession of the buildings, Mr. Neelon offered $100,000 for St. Catharines; the member for Kingston went $50,000 better and Mr. Ermatinger not to be outdone named $200,000 for St. Thomas—all perfectly safe offers no doubt. On the subject of erecting new Parliament Buildings, however, Mr. Ermatinger wiggled, as he did not wish to oppose the public sentiments of his leader and party, who, should the Government decide to erect a new building, would be the first to raise a cry as in 1879.

THURSDAY.

DISPUTED TERRITORY.

In moving the reading of the bill for the government of the disputed territory, the Attorney-General made the important announcement that the Dominion Government had agreed to reference of the boundary dispute to the Privy Council. The first question to be decided in the reference is the validity of the award, and other points include the whole question of what the boundaries are, if the award is not to be held legal. The Dominion Government, Mr. Mowat announced, had peremptorily refused to have the question of title to the lands considered. On this question, however, there is no doubt that Ontario has the evidence in her favour, and with the cession of the awarded territory the title to the unsold lands will also go to this Province. This was conceded by Sir John when advocating the Act extending the boundaries of Manitoba. He said, then, that if the part of Ontario annexed to Manitoba went to Ontario, this Province would own the land, timber, and minerals, while if it went to Manitoba the Dominion would claim the title to the lands. As the full conditions of the proposed reference are not yet agreed upon, Mr. Mowat will not submit the Dominion Government's communication to the House.

ELECTION LAW AMENDMENT.

The Election Law Amendment Act, introduced by Mr. Mowat, is chiefly designed to provide better means for the prevention of bribery and corruption at elections. Amongst the principal clauses are those defining certain offences as corrupt practices. Anyone who aids or abets another in personating a voter at an election is to be considered guilty of a corrupt practice, and not only is a person applying for a bal lot paper in the name of another person living or dead, to be considered a personater, but also anyone who votes for a fictitious person, or who having already voted in his own name attempts to vote a second time in the same election. Any candidate or other person betting or providing money for betting or becoming a party to any bet or wager on the result of an election of any event or contingency of an election in his own riding, is to be deemed guilty of a corrupt practice. A much needed amendment of the law is that making punishable any one who procures a person to vote knowing such person to have no right to vote. In case a candidate or agent commits a corrupt act in regard to a voter three votes shall be struck off on scrutiny from the vote polled for the candidate in whose interest the corrupt act is committed. These amendments will do much to prevent abuses such as were witnessed in Muskoka at the last elections.

In the Bill provision is also made for the continuation of the trial of an election petition under the same judges, even when the rota of judges for the year shall have expired. When judges decide that an election is void, the member returned cannot take his seat pending an appeal from the decision. When judges differ in a decision, the member shall be deemed to be returned, subject, of course, to appeal. On the whole the tendency of the sections bearing on election trials is to discourage unnecessary litigation, and to secure substantial justice.

ROYAL COMMISSION.

It is understood that the Government will move for the appointment of a Royal Commission to continue the investigation into the bribery conspiracy, with full powers to compel the giving of testimony and the production of documents.

GLANDERS IN HORSES.

Mr. Dryden's bill regarding glanders was amended, on motion by himself, that the veterinarian ordered to inspect a diseased animal or attend a magistrate's court to give evidence under the Act, should be allowed a fee not to exceed four dollars a day, and also his travelling expenses.

FREE GRANT SETTLEMENT.

The settlement of the free grant territory is progressing rapidly, notwithstanding the attention that has been called to the North-West, and there is little doubt that many of the new townships afford advantages which fully compensate for the rapidity with which a prairie farm can be brought under cultivation. Last year 926, or 134,954 acres, free grant locations were taken up, and 143 purchases amounting to 9,927 acres were made in the free grant districts. Altogether the report is encouraging.

MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE.

A resolution, moved by Mr. Creighton and amended by Mr. Fraser, declares that a new standing committee, to be known as the Municipal Committee, shall be among the standing Committees of the House. This addition is apparently called for, and may lead to facilitating considerably the business of the House.

ALGOMA.

In the discussion in Committee of the whole of the election law, the Algoma election matter came up and caused a considerable amount of good natured cross-firing. Mr. White said that votes polled from Duck Island were those of American fishermen, that he had been informed that there was only one American on the Island. To which Mr. Fraser promptly replied amid roars of laughter, "one American was enough to spoil the whole lot. You know what one Yankee has done here this session."

Dear Sirs,—For over twenty years I have suffered greatly from Nasal Catarrh; sometimes being unable to smell or taste properly. The disease caused a severe pain over the eyes, and frequently stopped my writing from dizziness. The phlegm in my throat gave me much annoyance, especially in company, balls of which would occasionally fall down into my throat, and I could seldom breathe through my nose. I have taken quarts of various medicines without any apparent benefit, until I was induced, by your agent of 69 Muter street, to try your Fountain of Health. After using five bottles I am prepared to give it as my honest opinion that for the cure of Catarrh it is a grand success. I have recommended it to many of my friends, one of whom encloses his testimonial with mine. Wishing you deserved success, I am gratefully yours,

LEFT HANDED PROHIBITION.

"I believe in prohibition," said a man, leaning up against a barroom counter with a glass of whiskey in his hand.

'Well, you don't show any of the symptoms', replied the bar-keeper.

'All the same I'm a believer.'

'I would like to have you explain the principles of the prohibition you advocate?'

'Easiest thing in the world. I think the legislature ought to pass a law prohibiting you saloon keepers from charging ten cents a drink for five cent whiskey.

Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya contains elements absolutely essential to cell-growth and the formation of the system. Dr. Dusart a celebrated Physiologist, of Paris, says that "Phosphate of Lime is eminently an exciting agent of the functions of nutrition; in other words a nutritive tonic—that it induces the albumenoid matter to assume cellular shape, and that it controls the formation of tissues. When taken into the system more food is absorbed, and the weight of the body rapidly increased, owing to the transformation of albumenoid matter into muscular fibre." Sufferers from imperfect nutrition, as in scrofulous and tuberculous diseases, will derive immediate benefit from its use. For sale by all druggists.

A HUNGRY HUNTER'S RESORT.

A hunter who got lost during a late snowstorm near Las Minas, California, became so hungry that he cut off his faithful dog's tail for food, which he roasted and ate. He then gave the bone to the unfortunate canine, not unmindful of the debt of gratitude he owed the sacrificing animal.

"But whether on the scaffold high.
Or in the battle's van,
The fittest place where man can die
Is where he dies for man!"

And the worst place where man can die is where he dies through carelessness permitting his health to be undermined through a cough or cold until he is entwined in the coils of consumption—and all this while a certain cure is to be found in Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam. Mr. R. J. Titus, of Alberton, P. E.I., was confined to his room for three years through lung disease, and became so weak that he couldn't stand. Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam healed him, and now he is quite well.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS.

The congregation of the C. M. Church, in Mount Pleasant, presented their junior minister with a very handsome watch on the eve of his departure from amongst them, as a token of his earnestness and zeal shown during his short stay, and the following address:

Rev. Daniel Halfpenny:

DEAR SIR,—We, in behalf of the Mount Pleasant congregation of the Methodist Church, having in our minds the zeal and earnestness you have manifested in endeavoring to promote our spiritual welfare during your short stay among us, therefore present you with this watch as a token of regard and good will. Hoping that you may ever be able to practice the teaching of the Book which, as a Christian minister, it will be your duty to present to others, knowing that if you do this through life you will have gained the world and saved your own soul, and go out of life not poor, but rich forever and forever; but if, in the future, dark days should come to you, we would remind you of the beautiful lines:

"What though the heavy clouds may be raining,
With the evening comes the light,
Tho' through the dark are low winds complaining,
Yet the sunrise gilds the height.
And faith hath its hidden treasure,
For the patient and the pure,
And time gives its fullest measure
To the workers who endure.
And the Word no law hath shaken,
Hath the future pledge supplied.
For we know when we awaken
We shall be satisfied."

In reply, Mr. Halfpenny referred briefly to the cause of his coming amongst them, and said he had spent a very pleasant time in Mount Pleasant. His commencement was with fear and trembling, and he desired "not to know anything among them save Jesus Christ, and Him crucified;" that he found God's presence had been with him, guiding in counsel, and giving him words to speak, to revive and encourage them. If any good had been done by him during his short stay with them, it was only God working through him; and to Him be all the glory. He thanked the congregation for this beautiful watch, and took it from them as a token of their kindness to him. He should ever prize it, not merely for its intrinsic value, but it would remind him of the reward awaiting the faithful servant of the Lord, and those dear friends of Mount Pleasant. He had found it a place where temperance and morality reigned. He hoped that each one present would be more in earnest in the future in doing the Master's work, and be counted worthy, when life was over, to join that blood-washed throng around the throne in Heaven, to sing the song of redeeming love.

The meeting was brought to a close by singing that solemn hymn, "Shall we Gather at the River?" and prayer.

OBSERVER.

VOLUMES OF BOMBAST have been published about the multifarious and irreconcilable effects of many proprietary remedies. We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.
Price in a sealed envelope, only 6c. or two postage stamps.
The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land

CONFIDENTIAL.
Thousands of young Men and Women—married and single—through the effects of vicious youthful habits, or excessive indulgence in later years, have squandered their general systems as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of their troubles being scarcely ever suspected, they are drugged and doctored for everything but the right one. The ordinary modes of treating troubles of this nature do no good. The Jennerden Combination Remedy is offered as A Speedy and Certain Cure, as hundreds afflicted with every form of disease have been restored to complete health by its use, after all other remedies failed. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, but especially in cases arising from imprudence. Its recuperative powers are truly astonishing

Money.

Mr. John A Bennett, of Otonabee, is prepared to make loans on real estate and to purchase mortgages. Loans will be made at the lowest rates of interest, payable when the borrower deems the most convenient time, the principal, being payable at such times as may be agreed upon. Expenses are very light. 12-tf

Railway Trains Obstructing Crossings.

The delay to general traffic caused by railway trains standing at and obstructing crossings is a matter of considerable local interest. It seems to the public that trains and cars stand unnecessarily long at and across crossings, entirely blocking traffic. The Dominion Government has promised to amend the Railway Act so that trains shall not be allowed to obstruct railway crossings a longer time than five minutes.

A Splendid Chance.

It will be seen by an advertisement in another column that Mr. D. W Dumble offers for sale a number of Building Lots in various parts of the town on ten years credit. No money down, interest only to be paid for first five years, and thereafter yearly instalments with the right to pay at any time as may suit the convenience of the purchaser. This offer enables a poor man to use his money in erecting a building, and so be gets rid of rent, and secures a home for himself. Building will be cheap this year and no doubt many will take advantage of this very liberal offer. Besides lots in town, Mr. Dumble offers a number of lots in Ashburnham, and several park lots on the same terms. Call at his office and see plans, &c. 12-tf

A Bundle of Puns.

The sinful editor of the Bowmanville Statesman, during a recent severe attack of pun, evolved the following outrage on the memory of Dr. Johnson:

"'Cheek' is what the Cobourg World calls the Bowmanville Sun. If the World threatens to collide with the Sun and points such epithets to Warder, the Sentinel-Star should Guide them to the Post of honor, and a Statesman will Express a Messenger to the Craftsman of the Times, requesting an EXAMINER to be appointed to Review the conduct and Enterprise of the Newspapers in question, and report at the annual session of the Press Association."

If it is true that "the man who would make a pun would pick a pocket," the shameless editor of the Statesman, after such a wholesale offence, is just the man to rob a bank.

"Tour in Palestine."

This is the subject of lecture which we understand will be delivered on Tuesday next, April 1st, in the Town Hall, Ashburnham, by the Rev. T. W. Paterson, of Toronto. The lecture will be illustrated by a large number of excellent dissolving views. Admission twenty-five cents. The Toronto Mail, speaking of this lecture, which was recently given at the Cathedral School Room, says:—

"The lecturer, Rev. T. W. Paterson, presented his theme in a vivid and descriptive style, which kept the audience closely interested. The various localities and scenes sacred to the memory of the Saviour were well thrown on the canvas and illustrated by lucid descriptions."

It is seldom that our citizens have the opportunity of listening to anything as good as this promises to be, and we trust there will be a large attendance. Make particular note of the date, and recollect that a similar opportunity for an evening's enjoyment and instruction is not after presented. Track under Water.

The Toronto express, was stopped on Wednesday morning at the "sink hole" on the Missing Link, where there were about 30 inches of water over the track. The train returned and went to Toronto by the old route, via Millbrook.

A Creditable Cut.

A wood-chopper named Harry Lebee, working for Mr. Robert Dunlop, North Monaghan, the other day cut eight and a quarter cords by measure, of black ash in twelve hours. This is good work, some credit perhaps, being due to one of Stethem's Wetmore axes, used on the occasion.

Journalistic.

We welcome the first number of The School Supplement, a new educational journal, published by Eaton, Gibson & Co., of Toronto, with the admiration due to one of the brightest and handsomest publications in Canada. As its name would indicate, it is intended to supplement the regular work of the teacher, and the live, pithy, pointed and practical suggestions with which it abounds, calls forth the warmest wishes of all educationists for its success. It should be in the hands of every teacher and of every pupil sufficiently advanced. A perusal of its pages after the dull, dry routine of the school, is like a draught of water to the toil-tired labourer. It is beautifully printed, and is worth far more than its price, $1.00 per year. Published by Eaton, Gibson & Co., Toronto.

Narrow Escape.

On Tuesday afternoon Mr. E. J. Hare, of Otonabee, while going for a load of ice on Little Lake, met with a very narrow escape from death. He, with his team and wagon, had advanced on the ice about fifty yards from the Ashburnham shore, when the horses sank through the ice. Getting out of the wagon to support the horses' heads, Mr. Hare went in himself, and the continued plunging of the horses drew the wagon in also, one wheel, however, remaining on the ice. Mr. Hare made his way to this wheel, where he remained till help came from shore, with ropes, which were fastened to the horses and the latter were drawn out. The harness having been loosened, they, with the wagon, remain at the bottom of the lake. Mr. Hare was nearly frozen, having been in the water about twenty minutes. The horses, a very fine team, were terribly chilled also, but liberal doses of whiskey and brisk moving about saved their lives. Mr. Hare had a very close call. But for the prompt assistance of the citizens of Ashburnham he would have been drowned.

Sudden Death.

We deeply regret to learn that Mr. G. Oliver, the capable and respected Reeve of Harvey, died on Sunday last of disease of the heart. The funeral took place on Tuesday. Further particulars are not to hand at this writing.

The License Conflict.

The Register says that the Norwood "hotel keepers are in a dilemma, and are anxious to know to whom their applications for licenses should be sent—Drain or Collins." There should be no hesitation in the matter. Every hotel keeper will, of course, take a "Drain"—but he is not obliged to take a "Collins," or any other mixed drink, unless he chooses to do so.

Board of Directors.

We understand that the following gentlemen will comprise the Board of Directors of the Peterborough Steamboat and Fuel company: John Burnham, M. P. R. E. Wood, Barrister, Geo. A. Cox, Mayor, James Stevenson, chairman of board of Education, H. Rush Merchant, & H, Calcutt, We hope the company may prove a profitable enterprise.

Arrest of Driver and Fireman

Messrs. Thomas Mimms driver, and James Clegg fireman of the engine drawing the train that caused the death of Bessie Reid at 'Nichol's' crossing on Feb. 18th., were arrested on Monday by Chief Johnson and police constable Pidgeon, on a warrant issued by Coronor Bell Lakefield. The warrant has been in the Chief's hands about three weeks, but Mimms being ill at Port Hope for some time, took his first train on Monday, and he and Clegg were arrested on their return from Lakefield. They were taken before Police magistrate Dumble, and admitted to bail; personal surety for $1,000 each, and two sureties Messrs. Geo. A. Cox and Aaron Cox, of $500 each, were given.

Cricket.

There are indications that the palmy days of cricket in Peterborough, when the record of the local club was almost unbroken victory, are not over. Other sports and games may have had a temporary popularity at the expense of cricket, but the "survival of the fittest" is shown by the fact that the coming season promises to witness a renaissance of the noble game both in interest and practice. Our cricketers have shown themselves in earnest in their efforts to revive and stimulate the game, and, among other things they are to be commended for the enterprise displayed in securing the exclusive services of Mr. Crosthwaite, as professional coach. Our fellows seem determined to have things as they ought to be. We hope the coming season is the beginning of the return of the good old days, and that while Peterborough cricketers sport the willow more freely, they will be called upon to "wear the willow" less frequently than during the last two or three seasons. A grand concert will be given on the 17th of April under the auspices of the club in Peterborough. The services of the famous young Canadian violiniste, Miss Lenora Clench, have been secured. She is the favorite of the people of Toronto and her superb playing will be the leading feature of the fine musical programme to be provided at the concert on April 17th.

Real Estate Purchase.

Mr. Geo. A. Cox, Mayor, has recently purchased handsome business buildings on King street, Toronto. This makes the fourth large purchase of real estate Mr. Cox has made in the Provincial capital.

House Cleaning.

This is the time of year when persons engaged in house-cleaning, require their furniture upholstered anew. Remember Belleghem's is the place to get this done. The work will be sent for, beautifully done and promptly delivered to the owner.

Still Improving.

Last week a fine new concert grand piano—Mason & Risch—was added to the superior furnishings of the rooms of Otonabee Lodge, one of the best equipped Oddfellow lodge rooms in this district. The instrument will be used for entertainments, as well as at the regular meetings. Its cost was $800.

Devlin's Harness Shop.

A few days ago we noted the vast improvement in the interior of W. J. Devlin's harness shop, which, by the way, is 50x99 feet in size, and not as differently stated. Now, since the front has been neatly repainted outside, Mr. Devlin's harness showrooms need not be afraid to challenge comparison with any shop in Ontario, as to style, completeness and convenience, or its workshop for quality of work.

PERSONAL.

J. R. Dundas, M.P., South Victoria, was in town on Monday.

Mr. F. C. Taylor, ex-Mayor of Lindsay, was in town on Monday.

Councillor H. H. Burnham, of Port Hope, was in town on Wednesday.

The Lindsay Post speaks highly of the St. Patrick's address delivered in Lindsay by Rev. Father Keating, of the Cathedral, here.

Mr. Charles E. Clarke, a former employe of McKee's drug store, and brother of Dr. Clarke, has obtained the senior silver prize medal in the Metropolitan Sunday School, Toronto.

We had the pleasure of a call on Monday from Mr. E. E. Bowie, of London, Ont., formerly of Peterborough. Mr. B. arrived in town on Saturday night from a six weeks' trip to the Lower Provinces. He looks hale and hearty, and his many friends were pleased to see him.

Rev. Alex. Bell, St. Andrew's, at the recent meeting of the Presbytery of Peterborough at Cobourg, was appointed one of the delegates to the General Assembly, and he is also selected to address the people on the occasion of the induction of Rev. Mr. Mitchell into the pastorate of the first Presbyterian Church, Port Hope.

The many friends of Mr. Thomas B. Braden, formerly of the Central School here, will be interested in the following reference of the Calgary Herald to the experience of its "wayward pardner":

"Mr. Braden, of the Herald, who started for Winnipeg by the last train, wired us on Tuesday, March 11th, to the effect that he had only then reached Swift Current. He was stuck in a snow bank for fifty hours, and had only a soda biscuit and one cube of sugar to console him. The 'devil' facetiously remarks: 'Won't that reduce his fightin' weight!' We certainly consider that Mr. Braden does not look a likely person to grow stouter on a diet a la Tanner. But he will doubtless make up for his fast on his arrival at Winnipeg, and wrote a note of super hotel-keeper who undertakes to board him at ordinary rates."

A BEAUTIFUL DRUG STORE.

Peterborough is noted beyond any town in Canada for the beauty and stylish finish of its shops, and the latest addition—Mr. G. W. Morgan's new drug store—in beauty, neatness and conformity to the most advanced styles of drug store fittings and appointments, is well worthy to rank amongst the best. The shop is a double front, with large plate glass windows. The counters and shelving, which extend to the windows in front, are in ash with walnut trimmings, in the Queen Anne style, ornamented with black line carving. The shelving extends to the windows, thus doing away with the old style of dressing windows. The whole fittings of the shop are symmetrical, each side being a counterpart of the other. The line of shelving is relieved by alternate show cases for patent medicines, three on each side. The bottles are new in style, with a foot like a goblet, and the jars are of white French procelain. The counter scales are marble topped, resting on wood fittings of burl oak, and are very handsome as well as delicate apparatus. The counter show cases are of black walnut frames and silver joints and corners, and, like all the other appointments, were made specially for this shop. The dispensing department occupies the centre of the rear of the shop proper. The front is composed of a plate glass mirror 5x3 feet, flanked by novel design show cases, in the form of bay windows, which, indeed they are in miniature. This screen is surmounted with the framed diploma of Mr. Morgan, who learned his business with Prof. Sanders, of London, Ont., public analyist for the western district. Mr. Morgan has been actively engaged ever since in the business, and necessarily understands it thoroughly. On the left hand side of the shop, in the rear, is a neatly fitted private office, which will, as occasion requires, be used as a physician's consulting room. The ceilings of the shop are covered with a neatly patterned paper in buff and gold, and harmonized well with the general tone of the shop furnishings. This was laid on by Mr. H. W. Watson, and is a fine specimen of the thoroughly first-class work he has done in this line, and confirms his claims to a foremost place as a decorative paperhanger. Plain but neat bronze gasaliers descend from the ceiling centre pieces. A novelty is, that the colored show bottles are suspended in the front windows. In fact, everything about the shop is original, and was planned by Mr. Morgan himself, and the result is very creditble to his taste. The wood work was furnished from Belleghem's furniture shop and is, of course first-class style in every respect. This beautiful shop is now open for business, and we cordially commend Mr. Morgan and his establishment to the patronage of the public.

Freshets.

The rain of Tuesday night flooded the streams and in consequence many cellars and stables in the valley in the northern part of the town were flooded. The breaking up of ice at the "sink holes" with dynamite, released water that caused a rise in the creek in town of nearly three feet in 24 hours. There is some obstruction under Hunter street bridge and the creek above is very high.

Our New Watchmaker, Mr. Haghan, comes well recommended, and we are sure any work entrusted to him will be done in good style. Office lately occupied by Elias Burnham, Simcoe Steet. 18-tf

Protestant Home.

The annual meeting was held on Tuesday. The report of the Treasurer, Mrs. Jeffers, shows that the Board has been able to meet all demands on them, with a balance on hand of $165.57. We shall refer more fully to the subject in our next issue. An increasing interest in the Home and its noble work is shown by the public.

Fluid Lightning.

Is the only instantaneous relief for Neuralgia, Headache, Toothache, etc. Rubbing a few drops briskly is all that is needed. No taking nauseous medicines for weeks, but one minute's application removes all pain and will prove the great value of Fluid Lightning. Twenty-five cents per bottle at J. McKee's Drug Store. 13-tf

Housekeepers are invited to look through Turnbull's heavy stock of Scotch Lace Curtains, which has now arrived after many delays, owing to the vessel they were on being disabled at sea, and the snow blockade at Halifax.

SEWING MACHINE

Before the Public to equal the IMPROVED SINGER. Our New High Arm, Light Running and Almost Noiseless Family Sewing Machine, just being introduced.

A FAVORITE STYLE.

THE SINGER MANUFACTURING CO'Y, Head Office for Ontario and the North-West, 66 KING ST. WEST, TORONTO.

Factories at—Elizabethport, N.J.; Glasgow, Scotland; Montreal, Canada; Cairo, Illinois; South Bend, Indiana.

For Range of Work, Perfection of Stitch, and Ease of Operation, it Possesses the following Advantages over all other Sewing Machines:—

1. Uses the shortest needle of any lock-stitch machine.
2. Carries a finer needle with a given size thread.
3. Uses a greater number of sizes of thread with one size needle.
4. Will close a seam tighter with linen thread than any other machine will with silk.
5. The shuttle holds the most thread.
6. Draws the needle thread both down and up while the needle is out of the goods therefore there is less friction on the needle and thread, consequently a tighter and more elastic seam.
7. It has a positive feed that will not choke in sewing any material.
8. Sews faster and with less noise than any other shuttle machine.
9. Will sew a greater number of sizes of thread without change of tension.
10. Will not change tension when sewing with a short or long stitch at varying speed.

A Matter of Taste

Quite so. It is a matter of taste. The phrase is a familiar one. But what does the familiar phrase mean? Taste is an outward sign of both character and condition. Its influence is perhaps shown more strongly in the matter of dress than in anything else. Neatness is better than richness, and plainness than too marked display.

Pure Bred Poultry!

The subscriber is now prepared to dispose of SETTINGS OF EGGS from the following varieties of Poultry:—Plymouth Rocks, Houdans, Black Spanish, White Leghorns, Buff Cochin, Silver Grey Dorkings, Silver Spangled Hamburgs, Pekin Ducks and Bronze Turkeys.

All the above varieties were either first or second prize birds at the fall and winter exhibitions. I have also added since the exhibitions some very fine birds of different varieties to my stock. Having bred the greater part of the varieties for three years, I think I know what suits the country. Every pains has been taken to keep the stock pure, by keeping the birds in different yards, therefore the public can rely on a good article, either in Eggs or Chicks, second to none but in price, any and all of the above varieties being offered at $1.50 per 13, or 26 for $2.50, excepting the Ducks or Turkeys.

Any orders for eggs must be accompanied with the price. I would be glad to fill a large order, if required, with different kinds.

CHARITY COMMITTEE.

Mr. Green, chairman, reported that a bond had been signed in duplicate by the Mayor and Henry and Nancy Tyler—the latter agreeing for the sum of $60 to adopt, properly bring up, and educate the corporation child, and stating $10 was paid at the time, the balance to be paid in two instalments—$20 on the 1st of April, and $30 on Oct. 1st.

On motion to adopt the report, Mr. Rutherford moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Kendry.—That the report be referred to the Finance Committee to report.

The amendment was lost and the original motion adopted on the following division:

YEAS.—Messrs. Davidson, Allin, Green, Millar, Yelland, Douglas, Menzies, Hartley and the Mayor.—8.

NAYS.—Messrs. Cahill, Davidson, Rutherford and Kendry.—4.

FIRE, WATER AND GAS.

Mr. Rutherfard, chairman, presented the report, recommending that the tender of Mr. T. Smith, $399, be accepted (town team, etc.), and that the clerk at once have the proper papers made out to include not only the duties of the tenderer, but also two good and sufficient sureties, contract to begin from 1st of April, 1884, and to continue till March 31st, 1885; and also that the Committee have the power to procure two single watering carts; and also that ratepayers wanting streets watered outside the hydrant limits will have to petition the council.

Mr. Clurton was heard in behalf of the water works company, suggesting payment by the town for the telephone communication with the pump house, and asking the council to appoint a committee to confer with the water works company with reference to street watering; also that the company be remunerated for water used to extinguish fires outside the limits covered by the hydrants rented from the company. He pointed out that the company, since it began operations, had saved more property than any other fire extinguishing appliance since the town was incorporated, and that this was the first favour the water works company had asked of the town. He also suggested the establishment of a fire alarm in connection with the telephone.

The motion to adopt the report brought on a pretty warm discussion, in which it transpired that the tenders for town team, etc., were three in number. A Mr. Twomey at $695, Mr. McClelland at $700, and Terrence Smith at $1,100, including two dump carts, and a separate tender for $980. The Committee met on Saturday night, but took no action. During Monday, however, Mr. Smith had learned what the tenders were, and put in another tender for $1.00 less than McClelland. Considering his past services and the loss of his horse, the Committee concluded to award him the contract.

Mr. Yelland moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Hartley, that the name of Mr. McClelland be inserted instead of Mr. Smith.

The amendment was lost and the report was adopted.

STREETS AND BRIDGES.

Mr. Cahill, chairman, reported, recommending that to secure a check on the measurement of street lumber the contractor be required to send an invoice with each load, the same to be delivered to the Street Inspector; the production of invoice to be necessary to secure payment, and that contractors for supplying lumber be required to furnish sureties. The Committee reported that the contract for pine plank had been awarded to Mr. T. G. Hazlitt, at $9.00 per M.; and for cedar, to Mr. Alfred McDonald, at $10 per M.

LICENSE BY-LAW.

Mr. Rutherford introduced a by-law amending the by-law referring to transient traders who "seek orders by sample from house to house," by increasing the license to $30 per day.

MARKET BY-LAW.

Mr. Millar introduced a by-law to amend the market by-law, to provide that the hour in which grocers may purchase on the market be eleven o'clock, and that licenses may be issued to sell fresh pork, at $5 per year. The By-law was passed.

MURRAY STREET TRANSFER.

Mr. Millar moved the Council into Committee of the Whole on the by-law conveying to the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company a portion of Murray street—40 feet wide, from Reid to Downey street—the company to grade and put in passable condition the the portion remaining.

The by-law was read a third time and duly passed.

BONDS.

Mr. Menzies moved, seconded by Mr. Rutherford, that all the bonds given by any official be subject to the approval of the Mayor and Finance Committee, to report to this Council.

A NUISANCE.

Mr. Stevenson called attention to the filthy condition of the tenement den occupied by Italians on Aylmer street, which was kept in so filthy a condition that the neighbors threatened to leave the houses adjacent.

SPECIAL.

Mr. Rutherford moved, seconded by Mr. Douglass, that Messrs., the Mayor, Miller, Cahill and Menzies be a special committee to look up a site for a lock-up, and to also see to the fitting up of the Bank of Toronto buildings for occupancy.—Carried.

MOTIONS.

On motion of Mr. Kelly, seconded by Mr. Allin, the thanks of the Council were tendered the City Council of Kingston for a copy of the consolidated by-laws of the city.

Mr. Rutherford moved, seconded by Mr. Cahill, that the Street Committee have power to have scraped the following streets:—George street, from Smith to Dalhousie steeets; Water street, from London to King streets; Aylmer street, from London to King; and, also, all cross streets between Water and Aylmer, as far north as London and as far south as King streets, the same to be done by contract.—Carried.

On motion of Mr. Kelly, seconded by Mr. Green, Mr. Clurton's request was referred to the Fire, Water and Gas Committee.

Mr. Mayor reported that on the falling of Wilson' Hotel he had called the Street Committee together to confer with the owner of the property to arrange for removing the debris, and the Committee concluded to join the owner in the expense. It was thought that in view of the heavy loss the proprietor had sustained it was hard to ask him to bear the whole expense.

It was decided to withdraw from further responsibility or expense, the danger of flooding being past.

Mr. Davidson moved, seconded by Mr. Kendry, that the sum of $70 be allowed Mr. T. Smith, in consideration of the loss of one of his fine team while in the service of the town.

By consent an amendment, moved by Mr. Menzies, seconded by Mr. Douglass, to make the amount $40 was substituted and carried on the following division:

YEAS.—Messrs. Cahill, Kelly, Green, Davidson, Douglass, Menzies, Rutherford and Kendry—9.

NAYS.—Messrs. Allin, Yelland and Hartley—3.

The Council adjourned at 12 o'clock till April 28th.

From A. Marling, Secretary of the Minister of Education, informing the Board that the Entrance Examinations had been regularly conducted, and the examiners were entitled to the usual fees.—Received.

From the Department of Education, informing the Board that $732 was due the Board, the appropriation for the last half year.—Received.

An account was presented from the Review, for advertising the annual statement of the Board, $8.33, also a similar account from the Times Printing Co., and both were ordered to be paid.

NON-RESIDENT PUPILS.

From Mr. Stratton, Inspector, giving a return of non-resident pupils in the ward schools, as furnished by the teachers, accompanied with a report touching the co-operation of the teachers in carrying out his suggestions in regard to improvements.—Received.

From Alex. Marling, submitting an extract from the report of Mr. J. E. Hodgson, High School Inspector, in reference to the Collegiate Institute, reporting very favourably on the state and progress of the school.

From Mr. O'Connor, headmaster of the Institute, stating that 132 pupils were in attendance, of which twenty were non-residents, and calling attention to the necessity of providing for the Intermediate Examinations.

From Mr. H. Kay Coleman, making requisition for maps for the Public Schools.—Referred to Committee on School Supervision, with power to act.

From pupils of the High and Public Schools, asking for the customary weekly Easter vacation.—Granted, on motion of Mr. Stratton, seconded by Dr. Burnham.

SCHOOL SUPERVISION.

Mr. Millar, chairman, presented the report of the Committee on School Supervision, in reference to the communication of Mr. Coleman, recommending that a teacher be appointed, capable of teaching in Mr. Coleman's room for half a day, and instructing in drawing and writing half the day; that the old system of a visiting committee—two members of the Board to be named at each meeting—be resumed; that the chemicals and apparatus required for the Collegiate Institute be obtained—cost not to exceed $50; and that the tender of A. L. Davis & Co., for school stationery be accepted, their tender being the lowest.

Mr. Dumble forcibly justified the recommendation. At present Mr. Coleman could not do justice to himself nor the schools under his charge.

Mr. Errett moved, seconded by Mr. Denne, in amendment, that the clause in the report referring to the appointment of an extra teacher be struck out, and that the Inspector be required to perform the duties of inspection and school supervision, and that his salary be increased to $200 to compensate him for the extra work.

Mr. Sproule pointed out the advantages of the proposed appointment, and that the attendance legally called for another teacher.

Mr. Rutherford opposed both the report and the amendment. Mr. Coleman should devote his whole attention to school supervision, or an Inspector appointed capable of doing his work in this respect.

Mr. Coleman was heard. He showed that the attendance would necessitate the appointment of an extra teacher, and the suggestion of the report would promote the efficiency of the Public Schools.

Mr. Wrighton moved, seconded by Dr. Burnham, that the report be adopted, excepting the clause referring to the appointment of a teacher, that to be referred to the Special Committee on Schools.—Carried.

On motion of Mr. Stratton, seconded by Mr. Wrighton, Mr. Errett's name was added to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Sproule called attention to the general feeling that the water of the ward schools was seriously affecting the health of pupils.

SCHOOLS.

On motion of Mr. Errett, seconded by Mr. Denne, the fee for non-resident pupils was placed at 50 cents per month.—

SCHOOL VISITORS.

Mr. Millar moved, seconded by Mr. Sproule, that members of the Board be appointed Visiting Committees for the schools—two for each month The motion was agreed to, Messrs. Sawers and Kendry being the visiting members for April.

SCHOOL SLANG.

Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Mr. Millar, that it is desirable that teachers in the service of the Board should use every effort, by precept and example, to check the use of vulgar and slang expressions, in the hearing of and by the pupils.—Carried.

FIRE DRILL.

Moved by Mr. Dumble, seconded by Mr. Sproule, that the teachers in the various schools be instructed to exercise the children in "fire drill," so that in case of fire or other contingency the pupils may be got out of the buildings without panic.—Carried.

JANITORS.

Mr. Wrighton, chairman of the Property Committee, reported that the janitors of the South and West Ward Schools had listened to reason and agreed to continue on in their duties as before.

The Board adjourned.

SPRING ASSIZES.

Continuation of Report—Presentment of Grand Jury—The Remaining Business.

PRESENTMENT OF GRAND JURY.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR LORDSHIP,—The Grand Jury of our Sovereign Lady the Queen, beg to make the following presentment:

We congratulate Your Lordship and the county that there is no criminal business before you this assize, and rejoice that this is becoming a characteristic of the county of Peterborough.

We have examined the jail and precincts, and bear testimony to their being kept scrupulously clean and neat. Of sixteen inmates in the jail we found six able-bodied men committed as vagrants, who represented themselves as being unable to obtain work, and we would suggest that some permanent employment be found for such cases.

Eight inmates are old and invalid, for whom the jail seems to be simply a house of refuge.

With reference to the continuance of the Grand Jury system, about which Your Lordship invited us to express our opinion, we are unanimously agreed that it should be retained, and while we acknowledge that in civil cases a judge would be more likely to give substantial justice to litigants, yet in criminal matters our opinion is that the present method should remain as it is, as being well understood, having the confidence of all classes, and not to be lightly set aside.

Whether the number of grand jurors should be reduced or not is a subsidiary question, and one on which we are hardly prepared to venture an opinion.

We take great pleasure in congratulating Your Lordship and the country on your promotion to the Bench on this occasion of your holding your first court in this county, and we trust that when you again visit the county for a similar purpose the criminal calendar will be equally light.

JOHN BERTRAM,
Foreman.

COCHRANE VS. DUMBLE.—This is the fifth suit, with various plaintiffs and defendants, arising out of the circumstances involved. The facts relating to the present issue are that Irwin Cochrane, of Douro, heavily in debt, with his land under mortgage and his chattels under seizure under executions and mortgages, decided to retire from the struggle and abandon his farm. He, the defence in this case contended, instructed his solicitor, the late D. G. Hatton, to cause the sale of his chattel property, the proceeds to pay certain debts; and the chattels were sold by Charles Stapleton. The Hamilton Loan Company sold the land under their mortgage. Mr. Stapleton applied part of the proceeds of his sale to the payment of a dept for which Mr. Hatton was security, and in payment of a claim of one of Mr. Dumble's clients. After Mr. Hatton's decease, the present plaintiff brought suit against Messrs. Dumble and Stapleton, on the ground that they sold more than Mr. Stapleton's warrant permitted. The jury was to decide whether the sale in question was with Cochrane's consent. The jury did not agree, and was discharged. Mr. Peck for plaintiff; Mr. Weller for defendant.

STEWART VS. BRADBURN, was an action to recover dower. The action is brought by Mrs. Elizabeth Stewart, a lady of 76 years of age. The property on which she seeks to recover dower was sold fifty years ago, but as her husband only died last year, she embraced the first opportunity to assert her claims. To prove her marriage the plaintiff brought a veteran who witnessed the ceremony, while the third of only the three witnesses examined was between 70 and 80 years old, the testimony of the latter reaching back to 1834. The lot in question was lot No. 1, in the eighth concession of North Monaghan. The plaintiff proved her marriage to Mr. Stewart by Rev. Mr. Armour, father of the present judge. The ceremony took place in Bailey's tavern, which then stood on the present site of the Cluxton block, Peterborough. Judgment was reserved on technical points. Mr. Dumble for plaintiff; Mr. Weller for defendant.

PROTESTANT HOME.

The Progress of a Noble Work.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

We were too short of space in our last issue to give a full report of the annual meeting of the managers of the Peterborough Protestant Home. The meeting was held on Tuesday of last week. Mrs. Gilmour occupied the chair.

THE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

Miss ROGER, Secretary, read the following report of the Committee for the past year:—

"In once more presenting their annual report, the Committee of the Peterborough Protestant Home record with great gratitude the great goodness of God during the past year in sparing so many of the friends of the poor and helpless, and for his abundant mercies poured out upon us since our last annual meeting. Then we had to report a large debt; now as will be seen by the Treasurer's statement, we are in a much better position, having a small balance in our favor and no debt.

Twenty-two persons have been admitted. Of these, three have died. One, who was far gone in consumption, died within a month of his admission; another was brought in in a dying state, as he expired the same evening. These are a few cases showing the extreme need there is for an hospital, as there was no other place these poor creatures could be taken into to be cared for but the Home. The third death was that of an infant two months old, whose mother had died soon after the birth. Thirteen persons have gone out.

There are now in the Home fifteen persons, five men, four women and six children. Mrs. Lowry, the blind woman, who had been nearly nineteen years in the Home, died on the 14th of March.

Eight families have received out-door relief, three all the year and the others as they required it.

Thanks are due to those friends who so kindly visit the inmates and engage in religious exercises with them, which services are fully appreciated; to the medical men, who are ever ready when called upon; to the Curling Club who so kindly remembered the Home in their games; to the editors, who so kindly insert advertisements, lists of donations, &c., free of charge, and to the editors of the Review and EXAMINER, in particular, for copies of their papers regularly delivered.

Respectfully submitted,
ISABELLA ROGER,
Secretary P. P. Home.

The report was received and adopted.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Mrs. Jeffers read the report of the Treasurer, as follows:—

To the President and Directors of the P. P. Home:

Herewith you will please find a statement of the receipts and expenditure in connection with the Home for the eleven months ending on February 29th:

Among the receipts you will notice the large amount credited to the Hall Trust Fund. This is owing to the fact that for some time the annual sum promised by the Trustees had become overdue. Its receipt enabled us to pay off the large bills which had accumulated at the date of the last audit, April 1st, 1883. The generous assistance afforded us by the Trustees of the Fund, and the liberal contributions of the public generally, have enabled the Board, during a very severe winter, to meet all the demands made upon them, and to be able to show a balance on hand of $105.57, with no bills unpaid.

Yours respectfully,
ADELAIDE JEFFERS,
Treasurer.

The President said that they were greatly obliged to Mrs. Jeffers for taking the trouble to prepare this statement.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The following officers were unanimously elected for the present year;—

PRESIDENT—Mrs. Gilmour.
1ST VICE-PRESIDENT—Mrs. Wallis.
2ND VICE-PRESIDENT—Mrs. Hazlitt.
3RD VICE-PRESIDENT—Mrs. Smith.
4TH VICE-PRESIDENT—Mrs. Weller.
SECRETARY—Mrs. Hall.

TREASURER—Mrs. Jeffers.

The Committee of last year was re-appointed, with the addition of the names of Mrs. Nicholls and Mrs. Hay.

The retirement of Miss Roger from the candidature of Secretary, on account of her future absence from town, elicited warm expressions of approval of her manner of discharging the duties of that position in the past, and of the general assistance she had so willingly extended.

Agitation in the world of homœopathic medicine has been its very soul of progress, as in politics and religion—the difficulties of opinion and the individuality of men have been parent to the disagreements by which the standard of these bodies have been elevated. So with most of our famous preparations—foremost in illustration of which truth stands the world-famous remedy to general debility and langnor, 'Quinine Wine',—and which, when obtainable in its genuine strength, is a miraculous creator of appetite, vitality and stimulant, to the general fertility of the system. Quinine Wine, and its improvement, has, from the first discovery of the great virtues of Quinine as a medical agent, been one of the most thoroughly discussed remedies offered to the public. It is one of the great tonics and natural life-giving stimulants which the medical profession have been compelled to recognise and prescribe. Messrs. Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, have given to the preparation of their pure Quinine Wine the great care due to its importance, and the standing excellence of the article which they offer to the public comes into the market purged of all the defects which skilful observation and scientific opinion has pointed out in the less perfect preparations of the past. All druggists sell it.

DIES AT SUNDOWN AND REVIVES IN THE MORNING.

A wonderful case of suspended animation is reported from Egypt, Venango County, Pa. The subject is an 8-year-old boy, who has lived and died every day during the last month. From sunrise to sunset he enjoys good health, and romps around like all children of his age, but at dusk he becomes entirely unconscious and remains so until morning. Physicians are sorely puzzled by the case. One said: "I pricked him with a pin and applied a galvanic battery to his most sensitive parts without creating the least impression. I forcibly raised one of his arms and it remained in an upright position. The members were like wax, and were covered with indentations which I made with my fingers." The child had just recovered from whooping cough when the strange affliction came upon him. It is proposed to take him to New York, where he will be examined by the most eminent physicians in the country.

Dear Sirs,—For over twenty years I have suffered greatly from Nasal Catarrh; sometimes being unable to smell or taste properly. The disease caused a severe pain over the eyes, and frequently stopped my writing from dizziness. The phlegm in my throat gave me much annoyance, especially in company, balls of which would occasionally fall down into my throat, and I could seldom breathe through my nose. I have taken quarts of various medicines without any apparent benefit, until I was induced, by your agent of 59 Muter street, to try your Fountain of Health. After using five bottles I am prepared to give it as my honest opinion that for the cure of Catarrh it is a grand success. I have recommended it to many of my friends, one of whom encloses his testimonial with mine. Wishing you deserved success, I am gratefully yours,
JOSEPH BROWN, 13-2t
Bookkeeper, 25, Sherborne st. Toronto.

OVER-EDUCATION.

The danger of trying to teach young children more than one thing at a time was recently illustrated by little Hoarse, whose Aunt Jane was endeavoring to teach him his prayers, while another aunt was teaching him a popular song; with the result that at night Horace prayed:

"Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep;
If I should die before I wake,
I pray the Lord my soul to take,
'But for goodness' sake don't say I told you.

A business man hasn't much time to devote to getting sick and well again. It is a rather expensive affair to him. His time realy means money, and his loss of time often ruin. It is he who should take time by the forelock. He should check disease at its first appearance. Such dangerous symptoms as coughs and colds should be distroyed at their first appearance by, Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam. This is the best remedy for these diseases known. Mr. B. W Masters, of Hamilton, Ont., says that he had a cough for years which he feared would end in consumption. Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam cured him perfectly.

GAS FROM SAWDUST.

Some little time ago it was announced that preparations that were being made for lighting the town of Deseronto with gas made from sawdust. These preparations has been successfully completed, and on Monday night last the streets of that energetic and thriving little place were brilliantly illuminated with sawdust gas.

Don't suffer any longer with pains and aches of Rheumatism, which make life a burden to you. Relief, speedy and permanent can be procured at the nearest drug store, in the form of Kidney-Wort. Elbridge Malcome of West Bath, Main says: "I was completely prostrated with Rheumatism and Kidney troubles and was not expected to recovar. The first dose of Kidney Wort helped me. Six doses put me on my feet, it has now entirely cured me and I have had no trouble since."

SAVING HIS CAPITAL.

"You're a confounded little goose!" angrily exclaimed an Austin man to his wife, who continually chided him about his excessive extravagance. "You do nothing but cackle cackle, cackle all the time." "Yes, dear," she sweetly replied, "but you must not forget that the cackling of geese once saved the capital of Rome, and if cackling can save your capital I'm going to keep it up." And she did.

The true Philosophy of Medication is not to dose for symptoms, but to root out disease. Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, the Great Blood Purifier, has proved itself equal to this task. It is a most searching without being a violent remedy for Constipation, Billiousness and Indigestion. It is as well adapted to the needs and physical temperaments of delicate females as to the more robust sex, and is a fine preventive of disease as well as remedy for it.

Messrs. Mitchell & Platt, druggists, Londes., write Dec., 1881: We have sold Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil since its first introduction, and we can safely say, no medicine on our shelves has had a larger sale, or gives better satisfaction. We always feel safe in recommending it to our customers.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

The Ending of the Session—The Lieut. Governor's Speech—Resume of the Work of the Session.

On Monday Mr. Harcourt moved the House again in committee on an amendment to the Election Law, making the Canadian law conform to the English Ballot Act with respect to the voidance of the election for certain minor irregularities in the election, and also providing that no candidate shall be disqualified unless two judges agree. The amendment declares this to have been the law on the subject.

Mr. Meredith said the hon. gentlemen opposite were deliberately attempting to affect the elections in Algoma, Simcoe and South Renfrew by changing the law in the cases at present before the courts. He characterised it as an infamous piece of business.

Mr. Pardee explained the amendment to the honorable gentlemen, and Mr. Fraser also replied to the honorable gentleman in fine style. He said the attorney-general did not require any lecturing from the honorable member from London. He had brought up a great deal of fictitious indignation at this amendment. (Hear, hear). He explained the circumstances of the case in East Simcoe and South Renfrew. The honorable gentleman had made charges against these hon. gentlemen. He (Mr. Fraser) made no charges in the recent difficulty.

Mr. Meredith—You are a coward, then.

Mr. Fraser—The honorable gentleman is disgracing himself. (Loud applause.) He is smirching his reputation if he sits in his place and calls any man a coward, (Cheers). It does not lie in his (Mr. Meredith's) mouth to say that I am a coward when I have sat opposite him for so long a time.

Mr. Meredith—You insinuate a charge.

Mr. Fraser—"How dare he talk about insinuating charges when he charges a member in this House with perjury." He then went on to detail the facts of the election contest in South Renfrew, and said the meanest criminal in the land was tried but once on the same charge. He was prepared to defend his position with reference to this bill before the people or anywhere, even against the honorable member for London, who had chosen to call him a coward. (Loud Cheers.)

PROROGATION.

At 3:30 on Tuesday afternoon the Lieutenant-Governor, escorted by a guard of honor composed of 100 men of the 19th Royal Grenadiers proceeded to the Legislative Chambers and prorogued the first session of the Fifth Parliament of Ontario, with the following speech.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the Legislative Assembly:

In relieving you from your legislative duties I desire to express my appreciation of the ability and earnestness with which you have applied yourselves to the arduous labors of the session. It gives me much pleasure to transmit your addresses to His Excellency, the Marquis of Lansdowne and His Lordship, the Marquis of Lorne, congratulating His Excellency on his appointment to a position where opportunity is afforded for the exercise of the statesmanship that has long characterized the noble family of which he is so distinguished a representative, and congratulating the Marquis of Lorne on the close of a career in Canada marked alike by devotion to the interests of the Dominion and by sympathy with all our institutions.

I am glad to give my assent to your bill affirming the provisional agreement entered into between my Government and that of Manitoba for referring to the Judicial Committee of Her Majesty's Privy Council the questions in dispute between the two provinces, and as the Dominion Government has since intimated its willingness to become a party to the reference, I trust that before you are next summoned for the despatch of business a satisfactory determination of the long controversy as to our northerly and westerly boundaries will have been arrived at, and the just claims of the Province affirmed by the highest judicial tribunal in the empire.

I read with satisfaction your bill for the further improvement of the Election Laws. As the main object of the bill is to secure the purity of the franchise and the unbiased expression of public opinion, I trust the efficient administration which you have observed will be maintained, if not [illegible] which [illegible] to prevent, and which the election courts have disclosed.

I heartily accede to your request for the issuing of a commission of inquiry into the nature and extent of recent attempts which you have discovered to have been made—but happily without success — to corrupt the integrity of members of this legislative Assembly.

The act for the preservation of the public health will do much, I trust, to prevent the spread of contagious diseases, as well as to mitigate the suffering of many who, from poverty or indifference, disregard obvious sanitary precautions.

By the act relating to factories additional security will be given to a large class of our population engaged in industrial pursuits. The regulations adopted for their personal safety, and for the protection of their morals and their health, will, I trust, not only lighten their burdens, but also sweeten their labor and promote their happiness. I rejoice no less at the wisdom of the provisions of the act than at the generous motives by which you were actuated in framing them.

By the confirmation of provincial jurisdiction over the liquor traffic, to which I referred at the opening of the House, the way was laid for further legislation on the subject, and I was glad to find that by the bill to which I have assented you have done all that seems at present practicable for further mitigating the evils of intemperance by imposing greater restrictions on the sale of liquor, and severer penalties for the violation of our license law.

The proposal to spread over a longer period of years the payment of the money heretofore voted in aid of railways has my hearty approval. By this means the funds of the Province are less heavily taxed, and our resources are preserved for the other wants of the Province.

The amendments made to the School Laws and the University Act, will tend to the advancement of education.

The measures you have adopted to save farmers, fruit growers and others from injury by checking the spread of noxious weeds and diseases affecting fruit trees, and for preventing the spread of contagious diseases among horses and other domestic animals will, I trust be effective for securing these objects so important to the community, and of such special interest to our agricultural population.

I have given my hearty assent to the various measures which you have passed for further securing the administration of justice and the perfecting of our municipal and other laws. Your private bill legislation has been varied and important.

I thank you for the liberality which you have displayed in making the necessary appropriations for the public service, and I assure you that the supplies you have voted will be expended as economically as is compatible with the efficiency of the public serivce.

In bringing to a close this first session of a new Parliament, I cheerfully bear testimony to its high capacity for the discharge of its arduous legislative duties and to its zeal in guarding its important privileges as a legislative body.

Pale, Poor, Puny, & Pallid.

Considering all the ills that attack little children, it is a wonder that any of the poor little youngsters live to grow up.

There are children who are truly objects of pity. They seem almost bloodless.

Their cheeks are thin and pinched; their eyes are hollow; and their skin is tightly drawn over their foreheads. There is nothing hearty about them. They do not enjoy their lives. They are suffering from the debility that leads to marasmus. Poor things! Do a good deed for the pale, poor, puny, pallid child. Hand its mother a bottle of The Shaker Blood Syrup. Here is life even for the most delicate, the most debilitated; for the child almost given up for dead. Pure blood is what the child needs, to bring it up. The little digestive apparatus will recover. The pale cheeks will fill out. The weary groan of the child will be exchanged for the merry prattle of infantile gladness. Your druggist will tell what wonders The Shaker Blood Syrup has done for very sick children. For sale by Ormond & Walsh.

GUITEAU'S CURSE.

When Guiteau was sentenced he exclaimed: "God will punish you for this!" Some one thinks it singular, if not significant, that Corkhill, the District Attorney should be out of his office; one of his associate counsel be a common drunkard; that two of the jurymen are dead and two have failed in business; that three medical experts who testified to his insanity are dead and one insane; and the chemist who discovered the poison in the bouquet which Mrs. Scoville sent to her brother on the day of his execution, has become insane. If, as Cook maintains, Guiteau was a tool in the Star Route knavery, this view of the effects of his maledictions will be a great comfort to them. For not only have the succeeded in escaping all punishment, but are becoming influential in the party while those who prosecuted them have been snubbed.

METAMORPHOSING A MAN.

"How are you old hoss?" sarcastically remarked a man to Deacon Gilpin, as he entered the store."

"Sir! I do not like to be classed among the quadrupeds."

"Oh, ye don't, eh? Well, I called you old hoss, 'cause I see by that bill you sent me yesterday that you was a pretty good charger."

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

Doings at Ottawa, In and out of the House.

WEDNESDAY.

LAGGARD WHITEWASH.

A meeting of the Privileges and Elections Committee was called for this morning, but their was not a quorum of members present Sir John Macdonald, it seems, was sick; and Sir Charles Tupper did not relish the idea of submitting to a cross-examination at the hands of Mr. Blake or Mr. M. C. Cameron, with respect to the allowance that he has been receiving from the Government. It is now suspected that if Sir Charles can only get a vote of $42,000 to purchase his London palace he will leave for England at once, without waiting to be whitewashed.

SUPERANNUATION ABUSE.

Mr. McMullen's speech on the superannuation question this afternoon was a forcible exposition of the shameful manner in which the whole superannuation system is being abused by the present Ministry. When political favourites want to retire from service, five, six, or ten years are added to their term of service in order to swell their annual allowances, while efficient officers are often retired against their will, to make way for political hacks. In no case has the amount paid into the superannuation fund by a retired official been sufficient to pay one year's allowance.

THE PROHIBITION DEBATE.

Mr. Foster appeared in his true colour to-night. After having wasted about four hours in arguing that a prohibitory liquor law was desirable, and that the people of Canada were ready for such legislation, in order to avoid a vote on the question he accepted an amendment moved by Mr. White, of Cardwell, the effect of which must be to defer all legislative action on the subject indefinitely. The genuine temperance members, of course, cried out shame at Mr. Foster's treachery and cowardice, and his little game was frustrated. Mr. Robertson, of Shelburne, moved another amendment, proposing to deal with the question at once, and then Sir Leonard Tilley and Mr. Bowell displayed their consistency as prohibitionists by endeavouring to have Mr. Robertson's amendment ruled out of order. In this they failed, and were forced to show their hypocrisy by voting against it. Fifty-five votes were recorded in favour of Mr. Robertson's resolution, whilst those who voted against it numbered 107. The minority was made up of forty-two Liberals and Tories. The majority comprised 95 Ministerialists and Opposition members. Sir Leonard Tilley made a characteristic speech. He spoke in favor of prohibition, but voted against it.

THURSDAY.

PROVINCIAL SUBSIDIES.

In addition to the $3,200,000 promised to Quebec on account of the railway subsidy, the Government have resolved to yield to some of the demands of the Provincial Ministers with respect to readjustment or increase of the Provincial subsidy. To-day Sir Leonard Tilley gave notice that he will move on Monday next the following resolution:—"That it is expedient to provide that in the accounts between the several Provinces and the Dominion, the amount to which the subsidy to each was increased by Act of 36 Vic., chap. 3, as to Nova Scotia, shall be calculated and allowed to the Provinces respectively as if the said Act had denoted that the increased subsidies should be allowed from the day of the coming into force of the B. N. A. Act of 1867, as respects Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and as respects British Columbia, Manitoba and Prince Edward Island, from the day of their respective admission into the Dominion, and the amount of such increase from the said period respectively to the 1st July, 1873, shall be deemed capital owing to the said Provinces respectively, and bearing interest at five per cent., as part of their subsidies." By this new construction to be placed upon the statute before referred to, about three and a half millions of dollars will be taken from the Dominion Treasury to be sub-divided among the Provincial Governments.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE NORTH-WEST TROUBLES.

Hon. D. L. Macpherson made another effort to-day to shift the responsibility for the present discontent in the North-West from his own shoulders to those of some other parties whom he did not think proper to name. Mr. Macpherson is no doubt well aware that the prevailing agitation in the North-West is wholly due to the unjust, foolish, and tyrannical policy adopted by himself and his Ministry towards the settlers in that country. Mr. Macpherson knows that the principal leaders of the North-West agitation against the land and tariff policy of his Government are Conservatives, but has neither the honesty nor the manliness to acknowledge it. What the Liberal press and the Liberal speakers have done to bring the great resources of the Canadian North-West to the notice of the world and encourage immigration to that country, has been counteracted by railway monopoly and high taxation imposed by the Federal Government. The people of the North-West know that Mr. Macpherson's cowardly assertions are wholly untrue. The condition of affairs in the North-West has not been misrepresented by the Opposition, and Mr. Macpherson knows it.

NO AMENDMENT BY CONSERVATIVES.

It seems that though he declared by his vote last night against Mr. Cameron's resolution that the Government's North-West land policy was wise, just, and all that could be desired, Dr. Orton, M. P., is preparing a memorial to the Government on the grievances of the people of the North-West. The learned Doctor says that the Government's policy is bad, but that it will never do for a Conservative to amend it.

AGAINST RECIPROCITY.

Mr. Davies made an eloquent and earnest speech to-night in support of his proposition that the Government should at once take steps to secure continuance of the present arrangement by which fish are admitted into the United States free of duty, and that they should also endeavour to bring about reciprocal trade relations with the neighboring republic. By opposing the Davies resolution the Government pronounced against the whole principle of reciprocity, and it is just as well that the people should know where the Tory party stand on the question.

PETERBOROUGH, APRIL 3, 1884.

The "Examiner" Bindery.

We are now in a position to inform our patrons that THE EXAMINER Book-bindery is in operation. We are ready to receive orders, which, we can assure the public, will be executed in a manner not to be surpassed anywhere. Wishing to add completeness to THE EXAMINER Printing Establishment, we started the bindery in connection, and we can now feel a pride in soliciting public patronage for the most complete, well-equipped and best furnished printing establishments in every department in Central Ontario. The bindery was made necessary by the demands of our patrons, and we confidently look to them, by their liberal patronage, to make the investment a paying one. THE EXAMINER bindery has been equipped with the most modern and improved mechanical appliances for the business, and a thoroughly first-class binder is in charge of it. Nothing has been left undone to make this department complete in every respect. We feel certain that a trial of our bindery will justify all that we claim for it in the way of substantial and artistic work and reasonable prices. During the past two years we have been making frequent improvements, the liberal support of the public first suggesting and then justifying every step taken in advance. Though the bindery is the last step in the way of departments, we shall not rest satisfied. Arrangements are being completed for the second enlargement of THE EXAMINER newspaper within a year. Within a very short time we hope to present our readers with a greatly enlarged and improved sheet. We gratefully recognise the liberal support the public has extended us in the past, of which it shall be our endeavour to make ourselves continuously more deserving.

A thoroughly First Class Competent Cutter in charge of the Ordered Clothing Department at Hall, Innes & Co.'s. Give him a trial. Satisfaction Guaranteed. 14-3t

The adoption of a protective policy was, the country was assured, to "boom" everything. Among other things, the value of real estate was to be advanced and maintained. But this promise, as well as dozens of others of N. P. assurances, was a delusion. From 1873 to 1876, the increase of real estate in Montreal, which, as a great commercial centre, was to derive the greatest amount of benefit from the N. P., increased in value from 54 millions to 61 millions. This was during the Mackenzie regime, under a revenue tariff. After five years of high taxation the value of real estate in Montreal has fallen to 54 millions. What is true of Montreal is true of the whole country generally, in a proportionate degree.

Corruption-Conspiracy Case.

Four of the persons named in the Attorney-General's statement in connection with the attempt to bribe members of the Ontario Legislature had been proceeded against in the Toronto Police Court, the fifth—Stimson alias Lynch—having made good his escape. The revelations to date may be thus summed up: Kirkland, the American promoter of timber schemes, who was at first denounced by the Mail as the great sinner, has received a certificate of character from that journal, which now declares that he never paid any money. But if he did not, some one else did, and the evidence as to the source from which the $1,800 came is all but complete, the missing link being the Stimson alias Lynch aforesaid. Mr. McKim received his $1,000 on Sunday and Mr. Balfour his $800 on Monday—the day of the arrest. On the previous Saturday a man named Stimson was seen on the street in company with Mr. Bunting, of the Mail. On the same day he called at the Federal Bank with a large roll of bills in his hand and accompanied by John Shields. On the testimony of the teller of the bank, it appears that he changed three $1,000 Dominion notes for six $500 notes of the same class, and on similar testimony from the accountant of the Bank of British America, it appears that he changed in that place the six $500 bills for thirty $100 bills of the bank, being still accompanied by Shields. It will be remembered that the money paid to McKim and Balfour was in $100 bills of the Bank of British America.

It is known who Stimson is, and the evidence as to his appearance makes it morally certain that he and the Lynch, who endeavored to seduce members in the Walker House by the betting ruse are one and the same person. Stimson is engaged in ranching in the North-West. It is said that he has an associate in the business named Lynch, whose cognomen he assumed. He left for the east so quickly that the detectives failed to get him, and at the earliest possible moment he crossed the St. Lawrence to the United States. The most reasonable way of accounting for his presence in the case, is that those who advanced the money for the purpose of buying up members to defeat the Mowat Government, knew Wilkinson and Shields too well to trust them with any considerable quantity of the funds, after the manner in which the Algoma and Muskoka bribery funds were manipulated, and that Stimson, who is a personal friend of one of the Ottawa Ministers, was entrusted with the "bank." Whether he was anxious to keep all he could for himself, or was anxious only to buy the Liberal members at as low a price as possible for the sake of his employees, does not appear. At all events he disbursed only $1,800 out of a large roll of $1,000 bills, and muddled matters in such a way that, while he escaped with the skin of his teeth, Wilkinson, his co-plotter, was left in the toils of justice.

The connection of Mr. Bunting with the case is, so far as the evidence goes, easily explained. He assisted in the effort to seduce McKim and plied his arts on Dowling, both of whom met him in his own office by appointment and at his own request. He was too wary to put his name to a note, which Meek told McKim he would sign, but he stands in a very suspicious relation to the whole conspiracy. In fact the evidence goes to show that he was the centre and soul of the movement. He it was to whom Goldie, of Guelph, the man to whom was allotted the task of corrupting Mr. Laidlaw, was directed. McKim and Dowling were sent to him, and a meeting was arranged for him and Balfour, but the latter failed to keep the appointment. We venture just here the prediction, that whatever may be the immediate result of the present criminal prosecution, Mr. Bunting will not very soon attempt again to seduce any member of the Liberal party from his allegiance to the Mowat Government.

Mr. Meek, a Toronto barrister, is charged with endeavoring to corrupt McKim and Cassaden. He admits drawing an illegal document for McKim and charging four dollars for doing so—an offence which may yet bring him into trouble with the Law Society. He approached Cascaden as an old friend, and was gently drawn into the noose for his pains. He was evidently part and parcel of the conspiracy, and boasts of being high up in the councils of the Conservative party.

The criminal prosecution is for conspiracy, which is a combination of persons either for the attainment of an unlawful end, or for the attainment of a lawful end by unlawful means. The penalty is imprisonment for any period up to seven years. On the evidence taken so far in the court, there seems to be little chance of any of the accused escaping a committal to the assizes. While the House of Assembly was in session the Committee on Privileges and Elections pursued its investigation of the matter, but as it was not convenient to go on in this way, the Government have been requested by the House to appoint a royal commission, clothed with statutory powers. One of the commissioners must be a superior court judge, and already it has been rumoured that Chancellor Boyd will be asked to take the chairmanship. Should he do so, the proceedings of the commission will command the entire confidence of the public, for Mr. Boyd is known as a singularly able and fair-minded man. It is generally believed that the other two members of the Commission will be county court judges, and amongst the names mentioned are those of Judge Dean, of Lindsay, and Judge Macdougall, of Toronto, both of whom would be accepted by all parties.

It is the duty of the Government to press the inquiry to the uttermost, so as to ascertain, if possible, whence the money came. It would be well to find out at the same time how much the Hunting members of the Opposition in the Assembly knew of the conspiracy. The votes of the bribed members were to be cast against the Government on a timber resolution moved by Mr. Meredith and seconded by Mr. Morris. They must have been let into the secret in order that they might be aware of the right time to proceed. They must be put on oath before the commission, in order to either clear themselves from suspicion or admit guilt. If they do not clear themselves the stigma at present resting upon them will be deepened. Their promptitude in denouncing Balfour and McKim as informers, showed that the exposure of the plot did not make them acquainted with anything new about it. The whole affair has for them a dark look, and its appearances is not much lighter for Sir John Macdonald.

Sir John's Backdown.

Perhaps the squarest backdown ever made by Sir John,—and he should be credited with doing something square at last—was when he and his supporters voted want of confidence in themselves on the Dominion License Act. Mr. Houde, a Quebec Tory and supporter of Sir John, brought in his bill to repeal the McCarthy Act, because it was an infringement on provincial rights, and unconstitutional. Did the "greatest constitutional authority" defend his Act? Not very much. He instructed Sir Hector Langevin to move an amendment to refer the License Act to the Supreme Court and Privy Council for a decision as to its validity, and his supporters, to let the bragging chieftain down lightly, carried the amendment. After all his bluster about the Crooks' Act not being worth the "paper it was written on"—about free trade in whisky in Ontario—about his showing "Mowat, that little tyrant," etc., the great "constitutional lawyer" is compelled to eat his own words, and practically admit that his act is "not worth the paper it is written on." The McCarthy Act is defeated—dead—and the Crooks' Act stands "triumphant on the fatal field." Great is the disgust of the bamboozled brigade of Dominion "paper" license commissioners and inspectors. Sir John has fooled them with the empty honors of a functionless office. They will refund with poor grace, the $10 which they have been led to take from license applicants under false pretenses, for Sir John knew, as well when he passed it, that his act was not worth a pint of sour beer. But in his attempt to punish Mowat he cared little what trouble, expense and anxiety he put upon the hotel-keepers, whom he was basely pretending to befriend.

"Brazen Impudence."

The Stratford Beacon has a flaying article upon the object that prompted the Tory plotters in their recent unrighteous attempt to change the Government of the Province of Ontario. After pointing out that through the exertions of Reformers, in the face of the most determined opposition from the Tories, the country now enjoys the privileges of responsible government—the right to govern themselves,—the Beacon says:

"And yet what did we discover last week? That our Government was being selected for us by Bunting, Big Push Wilkinson, Meek, and a few more agents of Sir John A. Macdonald! Just fancy the people of Ontario ruled by this little knot of criminal conspirators. The criminality of these characters was equalled only by their impudence. Think of the colossal impudence of a paid corruptionist like Wilkinson daring to speak to a representative of the people about the kind of Government that would be best for the people! What right has this ruffian to speak in behalf of the people? Think of the hypocrisy, the odious hypocrisy, of Bunting, when he tells Liberal members that there is too much party feeling in this Province. What brazen impudence! No man in Ontario does as much to inflame party feeling as this same Bunting, in the foul sheet which he controls. Who commissioned Bunting to speak for Ontario? What has he to do with the Government of two millions of people? Who is Meek? A mere Tory hanger-on. And yet these three brazen corruptionists, acting as the agents of Sir John A. Macdonald, one of them having a commission from Ottawa in his pocket, spend two months in trying to change the Government of the country. Really Sir John A. Macdonald has brought this Province pretty low when three characters like Wilkinson, Meek and Bunting take charge of its Government for him. The impudence of these conspirators is really more disgusting than their crime."

The Tory newspapers—and of course the Review joins the pack—are in full cry, hounding down Messrs. McKim, Dowling and Balfour, the gentlemen who exposed the Tory plot to buy Meredith into power. They cannot forgive them for bringing the plot to light, and causing the failure of the plans of the party. Their private record is raked up and the most scandulous charges invented and imputed. Mr. McKim is grossly abused because he was unfortunate enough, like thousands of others, to fail in business. Abuse of him on this account comes with very bad grace from our local contemporary, especially. A little reflection would show it that some parties connected with the concern have not been innocent of the same crime as the Review charges upon Mr. McKim, that is, getting into business trouble. But "anything to beat Mowat." Anything, no matter how grossly false, to discredit the witnesses that testified to the plot of the Tory party to bribe themselves into power. The Review, in fawning imitation of the full grown bully, the Mail, has exhausted its slang-sodden store of foul epithet to besmirch the character of the men who exposed the iniquity of its own party, but it has only words of honeyed sympathy for the unwhipped rascals that committed the basest political crime that ever disgraced the annals of the Province. But then, one can't expect to gather grapes from thorns, figs from thistles, nor secure honest treatment of political matters from the Review.

We're Selling Cottons

AT WHAT THEY COST OTHER PEOPLE!

Rather a strong statement isn't it? Very likely it is. But it's one we're perfectly well prepared to back up.

1. To back it up with the Goods.
2. To back it up with the Prices.
3. To back it up with the extent of Stock.
4. To back it up with the range of Grades and Qualities.
5. To back it up by giving you any number of yards for a lower figure than Pressure Sales compel others to part with them for.

There's a platform for you in COTTONS. Try any or either plank. They'll all hold you and they're safe to support our reputation.

We've spoken of Cotton Goods in general, now let us particularize.

We offer you TICKINGS and SHEETINGS, and GREY and WHITE COTTONS, and SHIRTINGS, and if you need them, COTTON TWEEDS and DUCKS as well.

If you've understood that we carry the trade with us in COTTONS, you're well informed.

We're giving you Cottons at about the prices that other houses are paying for them. That's our opinion.

One of our FACTS is that we sell our COTTONS at other people's cost prices, and make our business profits besides.

How do we do it? Come to our counters and see, cross-examine and interrogate, and then buy. We're confident you can't afford to refuse.

BUTTONVILLE, Co. OF YORK, Jan. 1, 1883.

DEAR SIR,—In regard to my catarrh, I can say after about FOUR weeks treatment that I am entirely cured, after being troubled for more than ten years with all the worst symptoms of catarrh of the head, such as spitting of blood and pus, which dropped from my nose into my mouth—snuffling with closing of nostrils, loss of smell, which has now returned, pain in my head, rendering me almost stupid, which disappeared in two weeks after commencing your treatment. Hacking cough, too. From my experience of catarrh, I consider your mode of treatment the best in existence. Hoping that all may receive the same benefit, I remain, yours, SARAH DUNN.

FREE AND PAINLESS EXAMINATIONS of the inner portions of the head by the most improved instruments of the age.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

OBITUARY.

The sad intelligence was received here on Monday of last week of the untimely and unexpected death of Mr. Thos. J. Williams, eldest son of our respected townsman, Mr. John Williams, at the early age of 26 years. This sad event occurred on Monday, the 24th ult., at St. Hyacinthe, in the Province of Quebec, where the deceased had been engaged as book-keeper in a large mercantile establishment. Though slightly ailing for some time back, he was only seriously ill for a few weeks. Though receiving the most skilful medical attendance, and the kind and sympathizing attention of his loving mother and affectionate relatives, he quietly passed to that "bourne from whence none returneth." The deceased young man was well-known as a highly successful common school teacher, deservedly popular among his associates, and worthily esteemed by all who had known him. For several years he held the position of color-sergeant of the Norwood company of the 57th Battalion, and by his soldierly steadiness and upright conduct while attending the annual drill of the regiment, exercised a powerful influence for good over every member of that company. Mr. and Mrs. Williams have the sorrow and sympathy of the people of this community in this sad and unexpected bereavement. The remains of the deceased were interred at Sherbrooke, Quebec, and were followed to the grave by a large concourse of sympathizing friends and relatives.

NORWOOD CAR WORKS.

Railway car-building has been going on in our village during the past week on a small scale, several neat and comfortable cabooses having been constructed by Mr. Jas. McLachlan and a squad of carpenters for the use of the men employed in putting up the telegraph poles on the line of the Ontario and Quebec Railway. The cabooses, with a gang of about fourteen men, went eastward on Monday evening. Our shop-keepers did a nice little trade in furnishing supplies of all kinds for the men engaged at this occupation.

CORPORATION BABY.

Our municipal fathers "fathered" their first baby last week. A young woman came into our village last week with a well-developed infant about six month's old, when the little thing took sick and died. The mother claimed the fatherly sympathies of our municipal governors, who at once took over the deceased infant as their own, and very properly gave it Christian interment.

BALLASTING.

Several engines are expected here daily to commence the work of ballasting on our railway, and quite a number of men have already been engaged to go on with the work as soon as the necessary trains and dumping trucks arrive. Several large gravel pits near the village have been purchased to provide the necessary gravel for ballasting purposes.

LADIES' AID SOCIETY.

That very valuable institution, the Ladies' Co-operative Aid Society in connection with the Methodist Church, held an important business meeting on Monday afternoon last, when there was present a full attendance of its members. The object of the meeting was to take into consideration the outlay of the funds which had accumulated in their hands by the holding of the monthly socials. It was decided to spend a portion of the money in supplying necessary additional furniture for the Methodist parsonage, and several ladies were appointed a committee to make the necessary purchases. The work is in good hands, and will no doubt be accomplished satisfactorily.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

SPECIAL COUNCIL MEETING.

Present,—R. C. Strickland, Reeve, and Councillors McWilliams, Cox, Urquhart and Moore.

The Reeve stated that the meeting was called with regard to the office of Clerk and Treasurer. Mr. Wm. McDonald had been appointed and had placed his resignation in the hands of the Council, which had been accepted. He had consulted Mr. Poussette, who had advised him that after the 1st of April the village would legally have no Clerk. He had consulted Mr. Poussette, as Reeve of the village. He (Mr. S.) understood that Mr. Roger had given a different opinion, but Mr. Poussette had no doubt on the matter. Mr. Sanders said he could give new bondsmen if required. Mr. Urquhart enquired where the Treasurer's bond was? No one knew where it was. The Reeve explained that he was of opinion that it was in the hands of the Village Solicitor, but he ascertained that it was not there. Mr. Sanders said he had handed it to the Council on taking office. A communication was received from Mr. A. J. Wright, offering to take the clerkship at a salary of $50; one from F. A. August, who was willing to accept $40; one from Mr. Walter Strickland, who would assume the duties at a salary of $60; also, from Dr. Bell, who would fill the office for $60, without extras. Mr. Sanders said he was willing to continue the office while he remained. A by-law passed its several readings, appointing Mr. Sam. Sherin Treasurer of the village at a salary of $25 per annum, without extras. A by-law was also passed, appointing Dr. Bell Clerk, at a salary of $60 per annum, without extras.

COUNCIL.

A special meeting of the council was held in the council chamber on Monday evening the 24th inst.

Present—His worship the Reeve, Councillors McWilliams, Cox, Urquhart, and Moore. A communication was received from his honor Judge Dennistoun, enquiring as to the census of the village of Lakefield. A communication was also received from Messrs. Gemmel & McKee of Peterborough, refusing to make any deposit re by-law for a bonus for $300. No action was taken in the matter. Mr. Wel. McDonald sent in his resignation as Clerk or Treasurer. A resolution was passed accepting the resignation. Mr. W. C. Sanders, who is not going to leave the village, is therefore to be clerk as before.

SAVED ARMY.

A meeting under the auspices of the Saved Army was held in the P.C.O. Hall on Monday evening. The Hall was crowded. The meeting was orderly throughout.

THE DAMS.

Mr. Charles Wynne is busy with the piers above the dam, and is going to push on the whole work as rapidly as possible.

Our New Watchmaker, Mr. Hughan, comes well recommended, and we are sure any work entrusted to him will be done in good style. Office lately occupied by Elias Barnham, Simcoe Street. 18-tf

THE DRUGGISTS HAVE JUST RECEIVED a supply of Dr. Wheeler's Celebrated Chemical Food and Nutritive Tonic, the Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya. This preparation has been in use in private practice for fifteen years, and is confidently recommended to the public as the most elegant and reliable tonic in use for building up constitutions that have for a long time been suffering from Chronic Wasting Diseases, depending upon poor blood. It perfects nutrition by aiding the digestion and assimilation of food, and thereby building up and vitalising all the organs and tissues of the body. In diseases peculiar to women, and in delicate children, it supplies a want long felt by the physician, of a safe and reliable remedy that may be taken for a protracted period without any possibility of injury, or of becoming repugnant to the patient. BUNTING'S BIG PUSH.

Manager Dwight Summoned.

The reading of McKim's evidence in the conspiracy case commenced at two Thursday afternoon. The prosecution subpœnaed Mr. Dwight, General Manager of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, and Hon. Wm. Macdougall was present in Court as Mr. Dwight's counsel.

The opening of fresh evidence for the Crown was strenuously opposed by defendants' counsel.

Mr. Dwight, on being asked at the Police Court to produce telegrams in the conspiracy case, positively declined to do so. He said he had made search for the telegrams from and to Ottawa by and for Bunting and Wilkinson, but if he judged them rightly, they nearly all, if not every one of them, related to matters not connected with the conspiracy. Therefore he did not feel free (with all due respect to the Court) to produce them.

A long argument ensued, and ultimately a subpœna ad testificandum et duces tecum was served upon him from the High Court of Justice ordering him to produce the telegrams within an hour after being served upon him, but it was decided to give him till 11 Friday morning, when he positively refused to produce the telegrams.

GREAT SNOWBALL.

This story a Nevada correspondent sends to an Eastern paper. It will no doubt prove a warning to boys against throwing snowballs in a hilly neighborhood.

Two miners living on Alum Creek went up the mountains above their cabin last week to get some stakes. After their work was done one of them made a snowball and threw it at the other, who returned the fire. One of the balls lodged on a slope more than a mile long directly above their cabin. The sun was shining brightly, and the snow was soft. For a second the ball rested where it fell, and then it began to roll, increasing in bulk as it went. Presently the ball once held in a man's hand, grew to the size of a hogshead, and when a furious momentum had been gained it burst into several pieces, each of which continued rolling until a strip of ground 100 feet wide was cleared of snow. In their descent these huge snowballs picked up rocks and earth until, merging in one immense mass, the avalanche, bearing down giant trees and stumps, struck the cabin of the men who started it, and carried it away as easily as if it had been of paper. Everything in the path of the slide was swept to the bed of the stream and buried 50 feet deep in snow. The miners watched the havoc they had wrought, and after examining the spot where once their cabin stood, they started for Hawthorne for a tent and blankets.

Death Demands a British Prince.

SUDDEN DEMISE OF PRINCE LEOPOLD.

Deep Grief of the Queen at the Death of her Youngest Son—Short Sketch of his Life—The Cause of Death.

Prince Leopold, youngest son of the Queen, died suddenly Friday morning at Cannes, France. Death was due to the effects of a fall his Royal Highness suffered the evening before.

The Queen, is profoundly affected by the death of Prince Leopold. The Prince died in a fit as he was starting for Darmstadt to attend the wedding of his niece, Princess Victoria of Hesse. The residence of the Prince of Wales is besieged by people calling to express condolence. The curfew bell at Windsor castle was tolled at half past seven.

The Queen, receiving the ex-Empress Eugenie, clasped her in her arms and was evidently much consoled by her sympathy. Telegrams of condolence are arriving from all parts of the world.

The body of the Prince will be embalmed and brought to England at the end of next week to be buried at Fregmore. The cause of the Duke's death was effusion of blood into the stomach and lungs. There were no unusual premonitions, but the symptoms have long been threatening.

Resolutions of condolence were moved in the Commons on Monday. News of the death of the Duke caused a temporary stopping of betting on the Liverpool race course.

The late Prince was the most intelligent, the most earnest, the most highly cultured son of the Prince Consort, and is said to have resembled his father in many of his characteristics. At the time of Prince Albert's death, Prince Leopold was only in his ninth year, having been born April 7, 1853,and being consequently at the time of his demise very near the completion of his thirty first year. His Royal Highness filled the position of private secretary to the Queen and in many ways occupied the position of confidential minister. In this office he manifested a faithfulness to the sovereign on one side, and a courteousness to all on the other side with whom he came in contact that he won universal respect and admiration. Prince Leopold had little heart, it is said, for political questions, at any rate for political warfare he had no love, and was willing to leave the strife for others to engage in. Still he had his own opinions, and sometimes made them felt. In the negotiations with different statesmen during the ministerial interregnum of 1880 he was actively and no doubt usefully employed, and it is whispered that much of the alleged personal dislike of her majesty to the present premier is due to his not finding favor in the eyes of Prince Leopold. Much of his political effort has been in the direction of education in its relation to the masses. He had grasped this subject with a mind free from prejudice and a will resolved upon good. Toward religion the deceased Prince had strong predilections. At one time he entertained serious thoughts of taking holy orders, and his whole life was shaped very much in harmony with the feelings that led him to consider the propriety of taking such a step. In 1880

PRINCE LEOPOLD VISITED CANADA.

He came in company with the Princess Louisa, and after spending some weeks in Canada made an extended tour through the States. He was present at the convention which nominated the late President Garfield. On his return to Canada he went into camp with the vice-regal party in the Restigouche, where he met with an accident which, though it would have been slight to an ordinary healthy man, prostrated him for months. The accident consisted of a wrench to the knee, which developed a tendency to white swelling. Throughout his life the Prince suffered from an obscure disease. On the slightest provocation the blood would exude from the vessels. It is said that one of the skins was absent from his person and that this was the cause of his weakness.

If there be any foundation for the statement that a regency is imminent, it is more likely than ever to come about, now that her Majesty has lost her nearest son; but those that pretend to know have always said that Queen Victoria will never resign the reins of Government as long as she lives. Certainly her health has been shattered by the death of her husband, the Princess Alice, and now her youngest son and constant companion.

An Unprotected Family.

Is one that has not that valuable remedy, Hagyard's Yellow Oil in the House for accidents and emergencies. It cures colds, croup sore throat, deafness, rheumatism, neuralgia, chilblains, burns, bruises, and all painful injuries. 13-2t

Some heartless wretch caught two cats, tied them by the tails, and flung them into the cellar of a Connecticut church. They kept quiet until about the middle or the sermon, when they began to complain, and the pastor sternly remarked, "Will the choir please wait until its services are required?"

A Splendid Dairy

is one that yields its owner a good profit through the whole season. But he must supply the cows with what they need in order for them to be able to keep up their produce. When their butter gets light in color he must make it "gilt edged" by using Wells, Richardson & Co's, Improved Butter Color. It gives the golden color of June, and adds five cents per pound to the value of the butter.

At the annual dinner of Sorosis in New York on Monday, Mrs Cody, the president, in offering the toast "The Woman Martyrs," said that "the martyrdom of woman was an unspoken agony." Anything "unspeakable" must be a great agony to a woman, that's a fact.

A FORTUNE LEFT TO THE POPE.

A London lady, who died on New Year's day, left a fortune of nearly $2,500,000 to the Pope of Rome, and one of his nephews, and Mgr. Cataldi will be sent to London in order to secure the legacy. The lady, in her lifetime, was accustomed to give $20,000 a year to Peter's pence.

UNDER AN UMBRELLA.

Where I picked it, you may seek it,
Were I [illegible] may speak it,
Were it that [illegible] may [illegible]
Were the [illegible] mine,
Chancellor in April showers,
Keeping May and orchard flowers—
Love and I and Annabella
All were under an umbrella!

Little hands that held fast to me,
Eyes whose glances shot straight through me,
Lips that murmured thanks for kindness,
Cheeks that mocked my hapless sadness,
Dainty feet, that, when they stumbled,
Touched my heart (which never grumbled)—
Love and I and Annabella
All were under an umbrella!

Walked we, talked, till Cupid, weary,
Made her answer thus my query:—
"Why I like the rainy season!
Oh, because!" she gave the reason.
Then a blush her dimples hallowed—
You may never know what followed!
Love and I and Annabella
All were under an umbrella!

A CAUTIOUS CRUSHER.

"Is the editor in? I want to whip him," said an applicant at the counting-rooms.

"Yes, sir; up six flights, front room."

"Is there an elevator?"

"No, sir."

"Then I guess I won't go up. I don't want to meet him all tired out."

Moral—Editors should roost high.

MISS IRONS and her staff of hands are now very busy trimming the New Cadee, Jerome, Hosiery, Gorsadal, &c., Shapes. Her well known good taste is sure to make Turnbull's Show Rooms the attraction of the season.

A MORE RESPECTABLE HAUNT.

"If you don't marry me," he exclaimed, "I'll take myself out of this hated world, and I'll haunt you as long as I live!" Said she: "It will be more respectable than your present haunts. Please stand a little farther off. I never could bear the smell of alcohol so soon after tea.

Housekeepers are invited to look through Turnbull's heavy stock of Scotch Lace Curtains, which has now arrived after many delays, owing to the vessel they were on being disabled at sea, and the snow blockade at Halifax.

Uncle—"Do you really think, doctor, that I am improved?" Doctor—"I guarantee your life for some time to come." Uncle—"Please break this news gently to my nephew. The poor boy will be sadly disappointed."

MANHOOD
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.
☞Price in a sealed envelope, only 6c. or two postage stamps.
The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

Illustrated Lecture.

On Tuesday evening, April 1st, Rev. T. W. Paterson, of Christ Church, Deer Park, Toronto, gave, before a large audience in the Town Hall, Ashburnham, an intensely interesting lecture entitled a "Tour in the Holy Land." The lecture was beautifully illustrated by dissolving views. The lecture itself was well delivered and full of most interesting information, imparted in well chosen, and at times really eloquent language. The lecture was a decided intellectual treat, with which the audience was greatly delighted. Rev. Mr. Paterson, by his excellent lecture, established a permanent welcome for himself in Peterborough.

Clean Up.

This is the time when people in general require to have particularly impressed on them the necessity of thoroughly cleaning up their premises and removing every vestige of the winter's mass of filth and rubbish that, in spite of the greatest care, invariably accumulates. Especially will it be wise for those whose cellars have been flooded to see that they are thoroughly cleansed, and as far as possible, dried. After the London, Ont., floods the condition of the cellars was a fruitful source of disease. If not for the sake of neatness and tidiness, householders should for the sake of health, not fail to thoroughly purge their premises in the spring. Don't wait for the health inspector to urge this prime duty upon you.

Mr. Geo. Edmison is enlarging, elevating and generally improving his residence on Rubidge st. The panelled roughcast walls are to be veneered with white brick.

Student Ministers.

The Home Mission Committee of the Presbyterian Church has appointed to the Presbytery of Peterborough, for the summer season of 1884, the following students: Messrs. D. C. Cameron, R. McKnight, Orr Bennett, A. S. Grant and J. H. Boyd.

New Bill Board.

Mr. E.C. Hill has, in token of his enterprise and push, erected a handsomely built bill board, on the blind wall of Kennedy's hotel, facing the Post Office. Mr. Hill is one of our most reliable citizens, and his business sticks to him, as his business sticks to his boards.

Money.

Mr. John A Bennett, of Otonabee, is prepared to make loans on real estate and to purchase mortgages. Loans will be made at the lowest rates of interest, payable when the borrower deems the most convenient time, the principal being payable at such times as may be agreed upon. Expenses are very light. 12-tf

Brightening a Business Place.

Mr. John McKee is not satisfied with the thrifty business he is doing, but he must have his drug store fitted up on a par with the best. As a forerunner of greater improvements, he has had his walls new calcimined in pink with ornate border, and his ceiling covered with a beautiful paper in gold, of a tesselated pattern. The work was well done by Mr. H. W. Watson. Further improvements as business permits.

Cricket Club Concert.

No efforts are being spared by the committee to make this concert on April 17th a success so far as securing high-class musical talent is concerned. The best available local vocalists and instrumentalists have been engaged, and from the cordial encomiums with which she is heralded, Miss Lenora Clench, the violiniste, will be a "host in herself." Speaking of her, the Hamilton Times says:—"Miss Lenora Clench's violin playing created a furore, and certainly the enthusiasm was well deserved.

The Paper License Board.

Sir John's toy Commissioners under the Dominion License Act (which is now under trial before the Privy Council charged with being a fraud) met at the Court House and played at granting licenses to some fifteen deluded applicants. The chief result will be that $150 will have to be refunded, or that fifteen hotel keepers will have paid that sum as application fee for a license that is not worth a last year's bird's nest.

Prime Cattle.

There were weighed at the market scales Wednesday morning, by Mr. Geo. Webber, two magnificent thoroughbred Durham steers. They weighed 1,810 and 1,820 lbs., and were bred by Mr. Robt. Grandy, of Manvers, and fed by Mr. Charles Moore, of Smith, who must have some secret art, so successful is he at feeding stock. The price paid was 8½ cents on foot. Mr. Webber, who has the knack of picking up the finest stock going, intends them for the Montreal Easter market.

Those all wool taffeta poplin Dress Goods Turnbull was expecting have arrived. Ladies in examining these goods do not say "I see nothing to suit me," but are only undecided as to which Color to choose.

A Splendid Chance.

It will be seen by an advertisement in another column that Mr. D. W Dumble offers for sale a number of Building Lots in various parts of the town on ten years credit. No money down, interest only to be paid for first five years, and thereafter yearly instalments with the right to pay at any time as may suit the convenience of the purchaser. This offer enables a poor man to use his money in erecting a building, and so he gets rid of rent, and secures a home for himself. Building will be cheap this year and no doubt many will take advantage of this very liberal offer. Besides lots in town, Mr. Dumble offers a number of lots in Ashburnham, and several park lots on the same terms. Call at his office and see plans, &c. 12-tf

New Midland Railway Offices.

On Friday last the offices of the Midland division of the Grand Trunk were removed from the Cox block, George street, to the Midland station buildings, which have been handsomely remodeled for their reception. The offices of the District Traffic Manager, Mr. A. White, now occupy the room previously forming the general waiting room, while the ladies' waiting room has been converted into an elegant private office for the District Manager. The lofty walls are laid on with a beautiful lemon tinted paper with deep border. The ceiling is calcimined in white, the cove a light brown and the mouldings picked out with lines of darker brown. A passage leads from these offices to those of Mr. W. B. Ferguson, Division Superintendent. This set embraces the train despatcher's office, of which Mr. G. R. Stephens is chief, with some half dozen assistants. Opening from the despatcher's room, is a hall containing the stairs to the second floor, where are situated the offices of the Chief Engineer of the division, Mr. J. G. Macklin. The first room to the right is that of Assistant Engineer Hayes, and next adjoining on the same side and communicating with it, the office of Mr. Macklin. Opposite this is the office of Mr. R. Tivey, Bridge Inspector, the fourth room being occupied by a clerk. The various rooms are large, airy, well lighted and excellently adapted to their purposes. Their fittings and appointments look as though these offices were made to stay in Peterborough. The agent's office is next north of the Superintendent's, and the waiting rooms are in the northern part of the building. The change greatly facilitates the transaction of the business of the division, the offices being easily accessible to the station and freight sheds. The carpentry of the changes was done by the company's employes. Messrs. Henry and Whitehair had the contract for plastering. Mr. W. S. Cocks did the painting, lettering, and all work in his line, except the calcimining and paper hanging in the Traffic Manager's private office, which was done by Mr. Thos. Billings.

The Ides of the Vernal Floods.

THE ROYAL OAK HOTEL UNDERMINED.

The Ice and Water Wear Away the Foundation Walls—A Total Wreck—High Water in Hamilton's Creek.

The high water caused by the melting snow, hastened by the heavy rain of Wednesday night raised Hamilton's Creek to a dangerous level. In spite of the efforts to enlarge the channel by removing the ice, the waters continued to rise. The first important damage done was the flooding of PATERSON'S TANNERY.

The vats were washed out and damage, including loss of material and obstruction to business, to the extent of over $1,000 done. The vats were all in use, and tanbark costs $5 per cord in its raw state.

Whyte & Co.'s agricultural warerooms were flooded to the depth of 15 inches, but the damage done was not so great as the inconvenience caused.

Fears were felt for the safety of the Royal Oak Hotel building, occupied by Mr. John Wilson, which is built over the creek. About ten o'clock on Thursday morning there were indications that the foundation walls were giving way, a huge fissure extending from top to bottom of the front wall. The inmates took warning and got out just in time. At eleven o'clock the whole of the western half of the hotel tumbled together in ruins with a loud crash, the adjoining wall of Laplant's carriage shop going down at the same time. Above the latter was a dwelling occupied by Mr. John Halpin, and the family barely escaped in time.

In a very few minutes there were hundreds on the spot. The fire brigade were called out in case of a fire arising from the stoves in the fallen portion of the hotel, but fortunately their services were not required. The loss to Mr. Wilson, of the Royal Oak, is considerable. He estimates that the contents of the building were worth $2,000, of which about $1,000 were got out. The building, which is a total wreck, its sole value being the material, was erected last fall at a cost of $5,000. It was supposed that the foundations placed under the building over the creek were sufficiently strong, but experience proved they were not. Of the building only the eastern portion is standing, but that is so badly shaken that it has to be shored up on every side to prevent its falling.

OTHER DAMAGE.

On Friday night the flood carried away the larger part of the dam of the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company.

In a large part of the town there is water in the cellars, caused in most cases by infiltration under the walls, but in others by the overflow of the creek.

RAILWAY BRIDGE GONE.

On Friday the Grand Junction train started on time for Belleville. At Ashburnham the train was signalled and stopped, the bridge (about 20 feet in length) at Meade's Creek, three-quarters of a mile south of Ashburnham, having been washed away.

Dr. G. S. Ryerson,

Specialist in diseases of the Eye, Ear and Throat, will be at the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, for consultation, April nineteenth.

Turnbull's Millinery and Mantle Show Rooms will be opened on Wednesday and Thursday, April 9th and 10th. Ladies are cordially invited to call and inspect the stock.

Liquor Licenses.

The first meeting of the License Commissioners for the West Riding will be held in Peterborough on Wednesday, April 16th, to consider the granting of licenses. In our advertising columns will be found a list of persons who have applied for tavern and shop licenses. There are twenty applicants for tavern licenses in Peterborough, four in Lakefield, and four in Smith. In town there are ten shop licenses applied for, and one shop license in Galway. In all, thirty-nine licenses in the district.

Lacrosse.

Lacrosse is bound to boom in Peterboro this year. The club has the materials for a splendid team and they hold their annual meeting on Monday evening next, at the "Little Windsor" to prepare for the coming season. Field sports are in high feather here this year. The Cricket club is at high ebb, the Lacrosse club wide awake, and the sports of the flood, the canoeing and boating, will in due season, come to the front; a racing course has been surveyed during the winter on Lake Chemong, that will witness many a lively spin and struggle of matched muscle during the summer.

Drowning Accident.

On Thursday evening last, the creek that flows through the town, swollen to great breadth and depth, caused the death of John Dion, a lad about twelve years of age, son of Mr. Leon Dion captain of the "Golden Eye." He, in company with several other boys was playing in the creek near the Sherbrook street bidge. In trying to catch a floating object in the rushing stream, the poor lad fell into the water and was swept away by the strong current. Before he could be rescued he was drowned. The little fellow was a great favorite at home and his sudden death made his mother frantic with grief. The body was not recovered till Tuesday afternoon; it was found in Spalding's bay.

Ladies do not forget Turnbull's Millinery and Mantle Show Rooms will be opened on Wednesday and Thursday, April 9th and 10th.

Complimentary.

We may be excused for quoting the following from the Lindsay Post:

THE EXAMINER BOOKBINDERY.—The enterprising proprietor of the Peterborough EXAMINER, Mr. J. H. Stratton, has just added to his already complete office a valuable auxiliary in the shape of a first-class book-bindery. The plant and a large stock of suitable materials, such as papers, leathers, etc., are all new and certainly no exception can be taken to the assertion that the EXAMINER bindery will at once become a well patronized local institution. The management of the bindery is placed in the hands of Mr. Wm Cowle, who is very well known as a superior ruler and binder and as a finisher and gilder of excellent reputation. With the push and activity that has always been a feature of the EXAMINER as a newspaper the new bindery will do well indeed. We are pleased to see this additional evidence of Mr. Stratton's enterprise.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE.

The Late John Fife, Sr.

On Wednesday, the 26th instant, John Fife, sr., of Otonabee, passed away. He was one of the first settlers in this county. In the summer of 1820 he, with his father and mother and six brothers, came to Canada, and the same year settled in Otonabee, where he has lived now nearly 64 years. The grandfathers of the present generation of Essons, Camerons and Becketts belonged to the same company of settlers. Sir John Macdonald and John Dougall & Son, of the Montreal Witness came over in the same ship. Mr. Fife was a native of the town of Kincardine, Scotland. He was brought up in the Presbyterian Church, but there being then no minister of any denomination in the then back country, and the Methodists being the first to send a missionary into Otonabee, he soon connected himself with them, and gave them his unwavering support till the day of his death. He always took an interest in public affairs. In politics, as in almost everything, he was independent, and would support the men or the measures he believed to be for the best interests of the country. He was honest, industrious and careful. By these means he kept himself in comfortable circumstances, and made good provision for his family. He leaves two sons and two daughters. They are, Wm. Fife and James H. Fife, of Otonabee, and Mrs. Richard Winch, of Cobourg, and Miss Rebecca Fife, who lived with him till his death. He died at the age of eighty-six years and seven months. He was respected and highly esteemed by all who knew him. He was known as and called Uncle John, by nearly every person in his neighbourhood. He was one of nature's own noblemen. He was the oldest of his father's family, and when he came with his father's and some other families to Kingston they left the women and children there and came on to Cobourg and thence back across Rice Lake into Otonabee. There they determined to settle. They went back to Kingston and brought the families. There are but few now left of that company of settlers, who first built their shanties and made the first clearings in that now populous township. Another link is broken which connected this generation with the first settlement and the "Old Country." They laid him to rest in a burial plot on his farm, near where his father, mother, wife and two of his children were lain by himself. His memory is fragrant with many words and deeds of kindness.

PERSONAL.

Mr. R. Z. Rogers, the proprietor of the collapsed Royal Oak Hotel building, Hunter street, arrived in town direct from Manitoba, on Monday, to look after his interests here. When he left on March 28th farmers were busy sowing their seed.

Lieut. Maxwell Dennistoun, No. 1 Company, 57th Batt., has passed a very creditable examination before the Volunteer Board, Belleville, obtaining 188 marks out of a possible 204. The examination was both written and practical—the latter a test at company drill.

Mr. Harry Read, formerly Secretary of the Midland, has, as a result of the leasing of the Midland by the Grand Trunk, been transferred to the Secretary's office of the latter company, in Montreal, at, we believe, the same salary. Mr. Read is a quiet, capable and reliable official; personally he had gained in Peterborough a wide circle of friends, who will greatly regret his removal from town.

Some Nobby Shapes in American styles, in Ladies' Linen Collars, arrived this week at Turnbull's.

DR. M. SOUVIELLE'S.

SPIROMETER GIVEN FREE.

During the past five years thousands of patients have used my medicines and treatment by the Spirometer, and the result shows that every one who has properly followed out the instructions has been benefitted and a larger percentage cured than by any other treatment known. Encouraged by this fact, the great and increasing demand for my medicines, and finding that many who could be cured are financially unable to procure the Spirometer, I will give the Spirometer free to any one, rich or poor suffering from catarrh, catarrhal deafness, bronchitis, asthma, weak lungs or consumption, who will call at the Caisse House, Peterborough April 7-8,—and consult the surgeons of the International Throat and Lung Institute, the medicine alone to be paid for. Everyone can now afford to take the treatment, and the prejudiced or sceptical can afford to test the merits of the Spirometer and medicine prescribed by the Surgeons of the Institute, which we claim is curing more diseases of the air passages than any treatment in the world. Those who cannot see the surgeons personally can write to 173 Church street, Toronto, for particulars and treatment, which can be sent by express to any address. Dr. M. Souvielle, ex-aide surgeon of the French army.

—The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First; It is perfectly harmless. Second; It saves more than half the labour. Third; It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all grocers. 40-52t

KEENE.

(From an Occasional Correspondent.)

The Masonic and Orange lodges each meet on the same night this month—Thursday, 10th April.

We received no mail on Friday afternoon, owing to the washout on the G.J.R. near Ashburnham.

WEEKLY SCHOOL REPORT.—Subject—"Grammar and composition."—1st, Walter Bryce; 2nd, Eliza Laundreville and Maggie Kenneley; 3rd, Dennis Kenneley; 4th, David Eson; 5th, Edith Massie; 6th, Agnes Miller.

The contract for carrying the mail between Keene and the Grand Junction station has been awarded to Mr. Frost, of the American House. We believe it is Mr. Frost's intention to run a neat conveyance to meet all passenger and mail trains, for the carriage of Her Majesty's mails, and to give a "lift" to any who may not feel equal to the exertion of walking the distance. The Department, we think, could not have chosen a better man, for, as the hot summer days are approaching, we will have something cool—Frost(y), you know.

"No more to-night; not another one!" These were the words which caught the ears of your correspondent, when on his way home from the revival services last week. It was not what is commonly called "pitch darkness," but yet it was dark. They were enjoying garden gate exercise, and evidently did not see your correspondent as he quietly passed on his way, for they continued their conversation and amusement somewhat as follows: He (beseechingly)—"No more dear? But one more from your ruby lips and my cup of happiness will be full to the brim." The request was granted. A fond embrace was then the prelude, or rather, I may say, the accompaniament of a regular shower, whose reverberations on the still night air sounded very much like the ticking of a town clock, when—horror of horrors—the proverbial "number ten" appeared on the scene, but I was getting too far along my way to view the operations with certainty, but methought that the air smelt of dust, and the sounds of rapidly retreating footsteps were distinctly heard. He was seen in another part of the town on the next evening.

Remember the date of Hall, Innes & Co's Millinery Opening, 9th and 10th of April. All the novelties in Hats, Bonnets, Dolmans, &c., will be on exhibition. 14-3t

LIBERAL FORM OF POLICY. Policies totally free from all vexatious restrictions regarding travel, occupation, habits, &c. Also, totally incontestable and non-forfeitable after two or three years.

PROMINENT OBJECT—Sound Life Insurance.

RESULTS—This Company has returned to its policy holders over $4,000,000 in bonuses, and paid $6,000,000 in claims, in all over $10,000,000 during the 37 years of its establishment, and has NEVER entered a court of law to contest a single claim, all claims being paid immediately on proof of death.

COST—The Lowest Consistent with Safety. This Company does not pretend to do Insurance at cost. It is an absurdity to suppose any RELIABLE Company can furnish Insurance at cost. Can any respectable merchant do business at cost and pay his liabilities?

The Directors have established this Company in Canada upon such a basis as will entitle its policy holders to the full benefits of a home institution. With the further security of a British office, and for this purpose have empowered its Canadian Board to deal finally with ALL matters connected with Life Insurance without reference to head office in England.

All earnings in Canada are invested in Canadian Securities.

The popularity and prosperity of this Company in Canada is shown from the results of the past year's business, its new business having exceeded that of any other British office, being $1,154,000 in nine months, from 1st April, 1883 to 31st December, 1883.

ITS EXTENSION PATRONAGE or loaning system, whereby policies may be kept in force, should financial difficulties overtake the insured, is unsurpassed in its liberality to policy holders.

A Big Push in

Beef for Easter.

JAS. HOWDEN

Has much pleasure in informing his customers and the public in general, that he has made an extra "Big Push" this year for the best cattle which Ontario could produce for the Easter Holidays of 1884, and has secured the following prime animals at considerable expense, and which he can safely state cannot be excellent for quality:—

Four steers, two years old, fed by Mr. C. Williams, one of the noted breeders and feeders of Haldimand, whose feeding is a sufficient recommendation.

2 Thoroughbred steers two years old fed by Mr. R. Muncey, of Alnwick, who is the best breeder and feeder in that district, and deserves great praise for feeding and care.

Two steers three years old fed by Mr. Stevens, of Haldimand, who never spares the feed and makes beef to perfection.

Four steers three years old fed by Dr. Kincaid, which are the best steers ever shown in Peterborough, and for which he has received great praise.

One Steer three years old fed by Mr. William Isaacs, of Haldimand, who is also one of the noted breeders and feeders, and whose stock is always a credit to him.

Two Heifers fed by myself, which are in splendid condition and will make excellent beef.

One fine Calf fed by Mr. Fowler, of Emily. One extra fine Calf fed by Mr. G. Fitzgerald, of Smith, and one fed by myself, all of which will make savory veal.

One fine Lamb fed by Mr. G. Fitzgerald. Two Lambs from the fold of Mr. Willan, of South Monaghan.

A number of Sheep fed by myself, which are extra good.

Also an abundant supply of Fancy Meats, Roasters, Pork, Spiced Meats, Hams, Bologna Sausage, Tripe.

☞Please leave in your Orders for Easter as early as convenient, in order to avoid the rush and inconvenience of the busy day. Give me a call!

EASTER EATING.

How Our Butchers Will Loose the Lenten Fast.

No sun upon an Easter Day
Is half so fine a sight.

When Sir John Suckling, over two hundred years ago, wrote these quaint lines in honor of a wedding, he little thought that they would be truthfully applied to the beautiful display of meats prepared by our butchers for Easter, especially to the eyes of one who had religiously fasted during the lean, spare forty days of lent. A glance at the splendid cattle on the market last Saturday would show that they were not pious cattle—that they had not by any means been keeping Lent, but that they must have spent the time in the grossest gluttony and high living. The largest display ever perhaps make on the market and the largest ever made by himself was that of

MR. JAMES HOWDEN.

His stock of beef will be contributed by a splendid herd of fifteen fat cattle, which far surpass any effort he has hitherto made. His herd was made up as follows: Four steers bred by that noted breeder and feeder, Mr. C. Williams, Haldimand; two prime steers fed by Mr. Stevens, of the same township; two thoroughbred Durham beauties fed by Mr. Robert Muncey, Alnwick; one steer fed by Mr. Isaac, of Haldimand; and four beautiful steers fed on Dr. Kincaid's farm, South Monaghan, pronounced one of the best quartettes of steers ever brought on the market; and two steers fed by Mr. Howden himself. In veal, Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald, of Smith, supplies one; Mr. Fowler, of Emily, the second; and another is fed by Mr. Howden himself. Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald also supplies one fine spring lamb, and Mr. Willan, of South Monaghan, another, and there are also a number of prime sheep fed by Mr. Howden. A fine stock of pork, roasters, fancy meats of every description complete the catalogue of one of the finest displays ever made by Mr. Howden. Be sure to call early and avoid the rush incident to a busy day such as next Saturday will be.

MR. HARRY WINCH

has this year made preparations for Easter that outshine all his former efforts. His bill of fare is always choice and complete. He has aimed this year to excel more in quality than in numbers, yet he will have abundance for all. His stock comprises, first, and well worthy to be first, a two year and eight month's thoroughbred Durham heifer fed by Mr. R. Dundas, of Cavan; she was a beauty, which it seemed a sin to slaughter; three fine cattle fed with extra care, came from "Merino," the farm of Mr. Jas. Wallis; Mr. Wm. Miller, of Otonabee, supplies four fine head of fat stock, and Mr. Andrew Nelson, of Otonabee, two prime heifers. All of Mr. Winch's cattle are of the best quality and worthy the palate of the most fastidious epicure. Messrs. M. Curtis, Douro, Henry Garbutt, Smith, and Edward Sutton, Cavan, furnish fine calves. Spring lambs were furnished by Messrs. R. Davidson, Smith, E. Sutton, Cavan, and others. Messrs. John Moloney, Reeve of Douro, and A. Nelson, of Otonabee, supply choice mutton. Mr. Winch has besides a fine supply of roasters, pork, sausages, fancy meats, etc., etc. Give him a call on Saturday.

MR. JOHN MERVIN,

whose shop is at the corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets, has also bountifully remembered his customers in the way of providing luscious meats for breaking the lenten fast. He has ready for slaughter and for sale on Saturday, the following material:—One fat cow from Israel Payne, North Monaghan; one fat cow from W. Hunter, Otonabee; one steer and one cow fed by Thomas McBain, of North Monaghan; one calf fed by John Young, North Monaghan; one calf fed by W. Robson, North Monaghan; one spring lamb fed by Mr. M. Sullivan, Ennismore; two pigs fed by Thos. Henderson, North Monaghan, besides a fine display of fancy meats, sausages, roasters, etc. Remember his place on Saturday.

MR. R. WAINWRIGHT,

corner of George and Murray streets, has by no means been negligent of the demands of the public and his customers for a first-class supply of dilicious meats. His Easter bill of fare is supplied by a large stock of good animals, among the best of which are the following:—One heifer and one steer fed by Mr. John Bertram, of Smith; two extra fine cows from the farm of Mr. Evans Ingram, Otonabee; three superior cattle from the herd of Mr. Sylvanus Davis, Smith; one very fine steer fed by Mr. Samuel Bryson, of Dummer; several exceedingly fine calves supplied by Mr. Geo. Allen and Mr. S. Davis, Smith; spring lambs and sheep from the flocks of Messrs. R. Garbutt, T. E. Fitzgerald and Andrew Hall, Smith; pigs reared by Messrs. Sedgwick, of Otonabee, T. E. Fitzgerald, Smith, and some extra fine pigs fed by himself; a full supply of fancy and spiced meats, sausages, etc., add completeness to Mr. Wainwright's tempting Easter bill of fare.

Some Nobby Shapes in American styles, in Ladies' Linen Collars, arrived this week at Turnbull's.

Liquor Licenses (So Called.)

The Commissioners appointed under the Dominion License Act, (so called,) met in the Court House last Saturday and issued licenses, (so called,) to the following persons:—

PETERBOROUGH.

HOTELS.—J. R. McIntrye, Oriental Hotel; Daly Bros., Grand Central Hotel; A. P. Morgan, Morgan House; Wm. Snowden, Phelan House; W. Croft, Croft House; T. Cavanagh, Stewart House; W. Clancy, City Hotel; T. H. Darcy, Darcy House; Wm. Kennedy, Commercial Hotel; Joseph Brault, Montreal House; M. Halpin, American Hotel; Joseph Young, Ontario House; William H. Chamberlain, Chamberlain's Hotel; Catharine Roddy, Roddy's Hotel, and J. Sullivan, Peterborough House.

SHOPS.—John Trebell, H. Rush, John Garvey, W. J. Morrow & Co., and Geo. Mitchell.

ASHBURNHAM.

HOTELS.—Geo. Lipsett, Maple Leaf Hotel; and T. Giroux, Albion Hotel.

SHOPS.—J. C. Sullivan, John Garvey and C. Young.

LAKEFIELD.

SHOP.—J. C. Carveth.

ASPHODEL.

HOTEL.—John Doherty, Westwood.

SMITH.

HOTEL.—John McKinty, Selwyn.

The consideration of some half a dozen applications was held over.

Of course the above licenses were provisionally granted; the licenses, according to the bogus license act itself, do not come into effect till the Ontario license fee has been paid, which, in this case, is $300 for hotels and $250 for shops. A liquor seller must of course, in addition, take out a license under the only valid license law—the Crooks Act—and between what he must pay and what Sir John frightens out of him, he will have, at least the "wire edge", taken off his profits.

THE NEW NASSAU BRIDGE.

An Elegant and Substantial Structure.

The new bridge over the Otonabee river at Nassau is at length completed and it is a most substantial and handsome structure. A few days ago the Warden of the County, Mr. John Lang, and the County Engineer, Mr. J. E. Belcher, visited the new erection and both were much pleased with the manner in which the contract had been carried out by Mr. Wynne. The bridge consists of two wrought iron spans of 91 feet each, resting on cut stone abutments and on a pier in mid-stream. No small difficulty was experienced by the contractor in placing this pier in position on account of the depth of the water, (a short distance above the dam) which is 23½ feet at low water mark. The foundations of both abutments and pier rest on the solid rock at the bottom of the river. They are built of solid cut stone, which was brought chiefly from the Moira, near Belleville, though some excellent stone came from Stony Lake. The pier, which is the only part liable to be dangerously exposed to the action of the current, is well protected by rip-rap, and also from ice shoves by the pier of the old bridge, which is left standing. The sub-contractors for the iron work, which is somewhat similar to the Hunter street bridge and the Lakefield bridge, is the Toronto Iron Bridge Company. The roadway, is eighteen feet in width, is covered with four inch planking laid diagonally, at a height of ten feet above the water. The new bridge admits of straighter and more accessible approach than the old structure. The engineer has practically accepted the work, though it is not yet taken off the contractor's hands. The new bridge is strong and firm and can be depended on to stand centuries, and need fear no disturbing agent, less powerful than dynamite or an earthquake.

The Cricket Club Concert.

The music-appreciating public are urged to bear mind the concert to be given under the auspices of the Cricket Club on next Thursday evening, April 17th. In addition to the excellent local talent that will contribute to the programme, the performance of Miss Lenora Clench, the wonderful young violiniste, will be a magnificent musical event. She is a musical prodigy. When one recollects that at the age of eleven she performed correctly the difficult music of Paganini, it will be seen that her execution, improved by constant practice, must, at fifteen, be nothing less than marvellous. She is received with deafening applause and wild encores wherever she appears. At the Cricket Club concert next Thursday night.

These all wool taffeta poplin Dress Goods Turnbull was expecting have arrived. Ladies in examining these goods do not say "I see nothing to suit me," but are only undecided as to which Color to choose.

A Splendid Chance.

It will be seen by an advertisement in another column that Mr. D. W Dumble offers for sale a number of Building Lots in various parts of the town on ten years credit. No money down, interest only to be paid for first five years, and thereafter yearly instalments with the right to pay at any time as may suit the convenience of the purchaser. This offer enables a poor man to use his money in erecting a building, and so he gets rid of rent, and secures a home for himself. Building will be cheap this year and no doubt many will take advantage of this very liberal offer. Besides lots in town, Mr. Dumble offers a number of lots in Ashburnham, and several park lots on the same terms. Call at his office and see plans, &c. 12-tf

SPRING MILLINERY.

Miss Delaney's Delightful Display—An Opening Ovation—Beautiful Bonnets and Happy Hits in Hats.

The large numbers that, on Thursday and Friday last, flocked to attend the opening days of Miss Delaney's millinery and mantle departments, testified to the continued and increasing popularity of her establishment. In preparing for an increased trade, Miss Delaney has made extensive improvements and additions to her shop. The position of the stairs in the rear has been changed, and a handsome paneled screen thrown across, giving a fine work room instead of what was before unused space. The whole of the interior wood-work has been repainted, and the walls and ceilings beautifully papered in decorative patterns in excellent taste by Mr. Thos. McGrath. The result is exceedingly effective. On entering the shop on opening day, the visitor's attention was attracted to an elaborate display on the left of fancy goods, laces and babies' clothing. On the right a choice display of ladies' underclothing and fancy goods met the eye. On one counter rested a large glass case filled with plumes and pompons, holding about sixty out of the 500 splendid plumes Miss Delaney has in stock, varying in price from $2 to $15, and of every shade and color, and opposite another case filled with a gorgeous mass of lovely artificial flowers, composed of silk. Further on there was a handsomely decorated case containing a further display of flowers, laces, ribbons and materials for hat and bonnet trimmings, and opposite another large show case filled with trimmed hats and bonnets.

In hats the new shapes are numerous and charmingly unique. Among these was a hat in white Tuscan, of undescribable shape, called the "Wilde Oscar," trimmed with straw colored plumes and ribbons and wheat ears. Other charming shapes were the "Fascination," "Ellen Terry," the "Marie Stuart," a large Tuscan poke, and the "Haymarket." In bonnets the new shapes are well represented. An exquisite novelty is a bonnet in Camille shape, composed entirely of leaves and flowers. These illusions are but hints of the exceedingly varied stock of hats and bonnets shown by Miss Delaney, but of which an idea can only be formed by actual inspection, and the display is well worth a lady's visit.

In mantles and dolmans there is a grand display. The "Grand Duchesse" cape, "Marie Stuart" dolman, in brocaded silk and real lace being particularly attractive. Miss Delaney has a complete stock of mantles, and a competent staff of employes for the manufacture to order in the most fashionable and artistic style of all goods of this kind. The whole of the spacious second floor is devoted to mantle and dress making.

A description can do no sort of justice to Miss Delaney's preparations for the spring trade; only a visit will satisfy. Her stock is unusually complete and choice; her milleners, mantle and dress makers are first-class, and every facility is present for supplying a lady throughout with the most plain and modest article of dress, or the richest, most elaborate and most fashionable outfit. Owing to the cold weather on Thursday and Friday, Miss Delaney did not make her usual window display, and she, therefore, had a re-opening on Tuesday, when her rooms were again crowded and another fine display made, especially in her shop windows, which were beautifully dressed.

CHURCH RESTORATION.

St. Peter's Cathedral to be Renewed.

Peterborough having been erected into an episcopal see of the Roman Catholic Church, the cathedral church is to be restored and enlarged to correspond with its increased importance as an ecclesiastical centre. The sacred edifice is to be considerably enlarged, and renewed thoroughly without and within.

The extension will be made by the removal of the northern wall 35 feet further north, and by projecting two transepts east and west of this extension, 25 feet, each of an area of 25x35 feet. Niches will be provided in the exterior walls of the transepts for—on the eastern side—St. Peter, the patron saint of the church, and, on the western side, for the Madonna. To the extreme north of the transept extension will be erected an addition, 25x55 feet, to form the sacristy. The breadth of the sacristy will be 55 feet, the same as the body of the church building proper. Thus the outline of the entire building will be of a cruciform shape. New buttresses of cut stone are to be added throughout on the exterior, and the present windows are to be replaced with new windows with Gothic tracery at the heads, in conformity to the architectural style of the cathedral, which, when restored, will be of the early Gothic style. The tower will also be provided with new windows and door openings, in harmony with the other windows. A new spire, with metallic or other suitable covering, will be erected on it, the whole to be surmounted with a handsome terminal and gilt cross. The mortar joints of the present outside walls are all to be raked out and the entire stone work neatly repointed.

There will also be an entire renovation of

THE INTERIOR.

The ceiling will be divided into panels by elaborate and richly fashioned mouldings, the panels to be prepared for frescoing; the walls are to be tinted in warm stone color, pointed in imitation of stone. The galleries will also be renewed and vastly improved in appearance. The smaller transept galleries will be reached from the transept aisles by separate stairways, separate entrances being provided for the transepts. The seatings will be of modern character, the old box pews being removed, a change which involves not only an improved appearance, but also an increased warmth of the seating space.

The plans include a magnificent high altar and side altars, and an episcopal dais with handsomely carved throne and canopy. There will also be a small altar and confessionals in the sacristy.

The heating and ventilating arrangements have been carefully provided for in the plans, which have been prepared by Mr. J. E. Belcher with every consideration as to solidity, architectural harmony of design and general effect. Tenders have been called for and the work of restoration will be proceeded with with all possible expedition; the intention being to complete the new portion this summer, leaving the older portion intact for the purpose of public service.

PETERBOROUGH, APRIL 10, 1884

Death of Prince Leopold.

The sad intelligence flashed across the wires of the sadly sudden death of Leopold, Duke of Albany, and youngest son of Her Gracious Majesty, Queen Victoria, has called forth profound regret wherever the English language is spoken. The deepest sympathy of the world has, we are certain, been extended to England's sorrowing Queen in this trying affliction, for she loved the delicate Prince with no ordinary affection. For years he acted as the Queen's private secretary, and as the close and fond companion of her widowhood, he was seldom absent from her side. The Prince has been the object of much solicitude and anxiety from infancy, owing to his extremely delicate health, and on him was lavished the Queen's constant tenderness and watchful love and anxiety.

Prince Leopold was born on the 7th of April, 1853, and had, therefore, scarcely completed his thirty-first year. His name was given him in honor of the Queen's uncle, Leopold I., King of the Belgians, and in token of Her Majesty's affection for this staunch friend of her "sad childhood's days."

The young Prince's education was carried on chiefly at Windsor, and subsequently at Oxford, where he resided for three short years. His character was that of an intelligent, studious, refined, and deeply religious man, who ever evinced the greatest interest in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the lower and middle classes. His public addresses displayed much intellectual strength and vigour, and were always heartily received by the English public, who are certainly not lacking in critical acumen or penetrating judgment.

The Prince's life was singularly pure and modest. At one time he was most anxious to study for Holy Orders, and to devote his life to the quiet, yet important, duties of a parish clergyman. The well-known words of the poet, "He wore the white flower of a blameless life," are to him closely applicable, and his amiability, no less than his purity, endeared him to all classes of her majesty's subjects.

In 1880, Prince Leopold visited Canada, and spent some months with the Princess Louise and the Marquis of Lorne. Here, unfortunately, an accident prostrated him and it was weeks before he could devote himself to the duties or pleasures of his position. The disease which ultimately carried him off was most singular, blood exuding from the minute vessels of the skin on the slightest provocation. Reports assert that the effusion of blood into his lungs and stomach was the immediate cause of his death.

His Royal Highness was married on the 13th of March, 1882, to the Princess Helena, of Waldeck, and from this union was born a daughter on the 25th of February, 1883.

He died on the 28th of March at Cannes, in sunny France, where many of England's sons have breathed their last, and last week his remains were interred on English soil, with, we venture to assert, the truest grief and sympathy, and the profoundest national—nay, world-wide—sorrow for the wounded heart of England's honored Queen.

Toryism is getting some damaging blows. On the heels of the bribery plot comes the Liberal victory in Quebec. On Wednesday last five elections for the Quebec Legislature took place, and the Liberals carried three of the five seats. One seat redeemed by the Liberals is in the riding represented by Sir Hector Langevin in the Commons; and another was Judge (save the mark!) Mousseau's late constituency. This is unmistakable proof of the wane of Tory influence in Quebec, which has been almost ruined by its Tory rulers.

MISS HOOKS and her staff of hands are now very busy trimming the New Cadet, Jerome, Review, Cornandel, &c., Shapes. Her well known good taste is sure to make Turnbull's Show Rooms the attraction of the season.

Phosphorous, Lime, Iron, Calisaya or Peruvian Bark. Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya combines these valuable remedies in the form of a delicious cordial. Phosphorous, a brain food; Lime, an excitant of nutrition; Iron, a blood maker; and Calisaya or Peruvian Bark, the only specific for chills and fever, and all conditions of nervous prostration and general debility. Phosphates are the only agents known that act immediately on the stomach, perfecting the digestion and assimilation of food, and determining the formation of pure blood. No combination ever discovered is so remarkable in building up constitutions run down with old complaints that have heretofore resisted all ordinary methods of treatment. Sold by all druggists.

HARVEY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

COUNCIL MEETING.—The Harvey council met at the Town Hall on the 31st of March, 1884, pursuant to adjournment. A vacancy having occurred in the reeveship, caused by the sudden death of the late George Oliver, Mr. McIlmoyle was duly appointed chairman of the meeting. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed. Mr. Shaw and Mr. Ingram were appointed to let the contract of building a bridge across Squaw River, on the newly surveyed road; also to inspect and accept the job when completed, and report to this council. A by-law was passed, signed and sealed, dividing school section No. 3 into two sections. The council adjourned, to meet at the Town Hall for the court of revision on the 2nd day of June next.

BLACKVILLE, Oct, 4, 1883.

I write to tell you of the great and lastings benefits I have received from Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam. I had disease of the lungs for over two years. All the doctors I tried considered my case hopeless. A friend recommended you Balsam. When I began taking it I had violent coughing fits and strangulation from phlegm; my feet and limbs were swollen, and hectic fever had full possession of me. The Balsam relieved all these symptoms and made a complete cure of me. I am desirous of making my cure known. J. LAWSON.

SCIENTIFIC BUTTER MAKING.

WASHING.

(From the Ontario Government Manual for Scientific Butter Making.)

No. 5.

WASHING THE CHURN.

Rinse well with cold water so that none of the butter grains will be sticking to the churn, then thoroughly scald with hot water. If the churn has a movable body the agitation of the hot water will be sufficient to clean it. Drain off the hot water, remove cover of churn, to leave it as open as possible, and leave it to evaporate. Wash the cover and other separate parts of the churn by themselves in the usual way. Churns washed in this way are cleaner than if washed imperfectly by the use of hot water and a cloth.

PRESSING AND SALTING.

HAND CONTACT.

The hands must not be allowed to come into contact with the butter. For this reason mechanical aid is necessary, even as this is necessary to churn the butter. If the quantity is small a wooden bowl and ladle may serve the purpose. A clean, brand-new—never use for other purposes—potato roller will do very well; but a suitable butter-press, or "butter-worker," would make a saving in labour and give better results.

PREPARING THE PRESS.

The articles used should be thoroughly scalded with boiling water, or steam, and afterwards rinsed with cold water. Let this be done immediately before using.

PREPARING THE BUTTER.

Where the butter has been accumulating in a butter-holder for some time, being the product of several churnings, one or two precautions are necessary. With a wooden ladle give the whole quantity a gentle stirring or mixing so that the whole will be well mixed while yet in the granulated form. If there is no perceptible difference, in colour or otherwise, between the different churnings this mixing is less necessary. Drain off the brine and give the butter a quick washing with water. Where the pressing follows each churning the above instructions are not applicable.

TEMPERATURE.

Let the butter be as nearly as possibe to 50° to 60° when pressing and salting it. The best plan to arrive at this temperature is to have the working-room at a right temperature. If the working-room is too warm cold water may be utilised to help matters; if to cold, there is no objection in starting the butter when it is a little warmer—a very little. There should be as little variation as possible from the right temperature in pressing butter, and in no case should it vary more than a few degrees. Experience will soon show when the butter is on the one hand too soft, and on the other hand too hard.

SALTING.

Use a seive in salting. When the proper quantity of salt has been determined, it may be sifted upon the butter so that it will be evenly added. This provides for having it more evenly mixed and with less pressing.

If the butter contains a good deal of water when the salt is added, some of the salt will run off in the pressing. From 25 to 50 per cent of the salt will thus run off, and this must be provided for by the operator. It is important that the quantity of salt left in the butter be just enough to give it the right taste for the market for which it is intended. This makes it necessary for the operator to give the matter of quantity considerable attention, so that observation and experience may give always a good result.

PRESSING AND SALTING SEPARATELY.

It has been a common practice to press all the water from the butter and afterwards to work in the salt. This practice has nothing to commend it and is referred to only to suggest that it be discontinued where in vogue. It requires more working of the butter, and at a time when the butter is more or less dry, or when it is most affected by the strokes of the power used. If the salt itself be dry it makes matters worse. The sharp corners of the salt cannot but have the effect of cutting the grain of the butter.

PRESSING AND SALTING SIMULTANEOUSLY.

The better plan is to make each stroke serve a double purpose; i.e., to eliminate the water, incorporate or evenly mix in the salt and give the butter its solidity and compactness. In this case if the butter when removed from the churn is comparatively free from water, it is as well to throw a quart or two on the butter in the worker. The salt may now be spread on the butter by sifting it through a fine sieve so as to put it in as evenly as possible. Let it now be subjected to the most direct pressure possible. Avoid any "rubbing, grinding, or sliding motion." Let every stroke be such as to do the least injury to the grain and to tell the best in working out the water and mixing in the salt. When the water has been pressed out and the butter is of the right consistency, the salt should be so thoroughly incorporated that the pressing may be discontinued. Make use of the help of a sponge or cloth. It does not require greater skill nor make the work harder, while it will be likely to save the grain. When water is observed standing on the butter, while the butter is being pressed, the sponge or cloth applied to the water will absorb it and save so much pressing. Do not work out too much brine. It must not be too dry or too spongy.

(To be continued.)

Loss and Gain.

CHAPTER I.

"I was taken sick a year ago
With biliious fever."

"My doctor pronounced me cured, but I got sick again, with terrible pains in my back and sides, and I got so bad I Could not move!
I shrank!
From 230 lbs. to 120! I had been doctoring for my liver, but it did me no good. I did not expect to live more than three months. I began to use Hop Bitters. Directly my appetite returned, my pains left me, my entire system seemed renewed as if by magic, and after using several bottles I am not only as sound as a sovereign but weigh more than I did before. No, to Hop Bitters I owe my life."
Dublin, June 6, '81. R. FITZPATRICK.

CHAPTER II.

"Malden, Mass., Feb. 1, 1880. Gentlemen—I suffered with attacks of sick headache."

Neuralgia, female trouble, for years in the most terrible and excruciating manner.

No medicine or doctor could give me relief or cure until I used Hop Bitters.

"The first bottle
Nearly cured me;"
The second made me as well and strong as when a child,
"And I have been so to this day."
My husband was an invalid for twenty years with a serious
"Kidney, liver and urinary complaint,
"Pronounced by Boston's best physicians—
"Incurable!"
Seven bottles of your bitters cured him and I know of the "Lives of eight persons"
In my neighborhood that have been saved by your bitters,
And many more are using them with great benefit.
"They almost Do miracles!" —Mrs. E. D. Slack.

HOW TO GET SICK.—Expose yourself day and night; eat too much without exercise; work too hard without rest; doctor all the time; take all the vile nostrums advertised, and then you will want to know how to get well, which is answered in three words—Take Hop Bitters! 15-4t

CINCINNATTI COMMUNISM.

Last Tuesday the populace of Cincinnatti, enraged over a murdurer receiving a sentence of twenty years, instead of the rope, raised a riotous mob and attacked and burned the jail. The military was called out; the mob was defiant, and the result was that 75 persons were killed and 150 wounded. A more desastrous result of mob law never disgraced the United States. The Communists were mixed up with the matter.

Low Prices for Butter.

The New York Tribune in its market report, explained why some butter is sold for such low prices; in speaking of butter it said: "Light colored goods are very hard to dispose of several lots were thought well sold at 8 to 10 cents." If butter makers would get the top price, they should use the Improved Butter Color, made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. It gives a pure dandelion color and never turns red, or rancid, but tends to improve and preserve the butter.

MURDER OF A BROTHER-IN-LAW.

A despatch from Montreal Friday says: Two lamp-lighters, Miron and Tessier, brothers-in law, had a quarrel last night. Miron struck Tessier, who fell, striking his head against a doorstep. He was carried home and died in about an hour. Miron was arrested. When told Tessier was dead, he laughed and said: "The blows I gave him were good ones." He was heard to say the day previous he would kill Tessier some day.

It may be had of the nearest druggist and will purify the system and bowels, stimulate the liver and kidneys to healthy action, remove all poisonous humors and make you feel like a new man. IN HOT WATER.

Sweeney, a Hamilton laborer, swore out a warrant Friday morning against Thos. McCue and his wife for assaulting him a few days ago. The assault consisted of Sweeney being struck over the head with a kettle full of boiling water. The water burnt his head and face. Erysipelas has set in and Sweeney is almost blind, and the worst is feared.

THE HENS BEGIN TO LAY.

The farmer's wife is busy
And she chuckles all the day,
When the sun is shining warmly
And the hens begin to lay.

She hunts about the straw stack,
And she searches thro' the hay,
And she takes a hint, remembering
When the hens begin to lay.—World

DEAR SIRS,—I have been a sufferer from Costiveness, Sick Headache and Loss of Appetite for many years, felt always tired so that life was a burden to me. I have had medical attendance and have tried almost all the advertised remedies, but without effect. A number of my neighbours who had used your Fountain of Health, urged me to give it a trial, three bottles of which made me feel like a new woman. MRS. BALL, 574, King street, Toronto.

Plain Truths!

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible, if disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the Iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS will thoroughly and quickly assimulate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth cause headache or constipation and is positively not injurious.

St. Johnsbury, Vermont Oct. 8rst 1883.

For six years I have been a great sufferer from blood disease, dyspepsia and constipation, and became so debilitated that I could not retain anything on my stomach, in fact life had almost become a burden, and when hope had almost left me, I was induced to give SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS a trial. I am now taking the third bottle and have not felt so well in six years as I do at present.
MRS. S. L. MOORE.

SULPHUR AND IRON BITTERS effectually cures dyspepsia, indigestion and weakness, and renders the greatest relief and benefit to persons suffering from such diseases as kidney and liver complaints, dyspepsia, indigestion etc.

DEAR SIR,—In regard to my catarrh, I can say after about FOUR weeks treatment that I am entirely cured, after being troubled for more than ten years with all the worst symptoms of catarrh of the head, such as spitting of blood and matter, which dropped from my nose into my mouth—snuffling with closing of nostrils, loss of smell, which has now returned, pain in my head, rendering me almost stupid, which disappeared in two weeks after commencing your treatment. Hacking cough, etc. From my experience of catarrh, I consider your mode of treatment the best in existence. Hoping that all may receive the same benefit, I remain, yours,

PETERBOROUGH, APRIL 10, 1884.

Another Victory for Hon. Mr. Mowat.

On Monday last the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council of England gave judgment in the now celebrated appeal case of Caldwell v. McLaren, which involved the right of the former to run timber down the Mississippi River past certain improvements made by the Messrs. McLaren. The judgment of their Lordships is long and very elaborate. They review the question from its beginning to end, and their judgment is in favour of Mr. Caldwell's appeal, reverses the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada, and sustains the judgment of the Court of Appeal of Ontario, adopting practically the same grounds as the latter. Our readers will recollect, that McLaren refused to allow Caldwell to run timber over certain improvements of his own on the Mississippi River, he claiming exclusive rights (in virtue of the improvements made) to the control of the stream. The result was a course of law which has resulted, after years of litigation, as above. The matter involved is one of importance more than to the parties of the suit personally; it affects the whole lumbering interests of the Dominion. At once on the beginning of litigation the Ontario Government took action, in the public interest, to prevent individuals on the 234 floatable streams in the Province, from shutting out their opponents in business, who might own limits on streams above them, from the market. The Rivers and Streams Bill was introduced and passed, affirming the right of free use of floatable streams and providing for fair compensation to the maker of the improvements. But McLaren was a good Tory and Sir John, who wished to defend a liberal supporter, and to vent his spite on Hon. Mr. Mowat and also to strike a blow at provincial rights, disallowed the Rivers and Streams Bill on the ground that it took away McLaren's private rights without adequate compensation. Now the highest court in the British Empire has declared that McLaren had no private rights in public property, and the whole ground of disallowance was thus swept away; Sir John's boasted constitutional reasoning set at naught and Mr. Mowat's contention sustained. This is a great victory for provincial rights and their most ardent champions, the Mowat Government, and a correspondingly severe blow to Federal aggression. Sir John and his friends are beginning to discover that he is simply "smart," instead of being clever, and that as a "constitutional authority," as shown by the decision of the Privy Council against his contentions, he has been repeatedly sat upon, while Mr. Mowat has been sustained and his course vindicated.

The Supreme Court has confirmed the decision of the Superior Court in the Megantic and Berthoir election case, unseating and disqualifying Mr. Frechette, Conservative.

The Trent Valley Canal.

When the gigantic Trent Valley Canal deputation returned from Ottawa last winter, empty-handed, the apologists of the Government, though feeling crest-fallen and snubbed, assumed a jaunty air and waved the matter off as gracefully as possible, by asserting that an appropriation would be placed in the Supplementary Estimates. But, alas, the Supplementary Estimates have been brought down, and not a dollar has been placed therein for the further prosecution of this most important work. We have always been a strenuous advocate of the Trent Valley Canal, fully recognizing its unspeakable importance to this district in the way of utilizing and developing its resources. At the same time, we have not hesitated to point out, as we observed indications, the manner in which the scheme was being prostituted for political purposes. In the last general election it was used extensively, and about a dozen Tory representatives in the Midland District owe their election chiefly to the astuteness with which the card was played. But the elections over, and the Government firmly re-instated in power, the matter is dropped as though it were a dangerous tool to trifle with.

The strongest and most influential deputation possible to send from this district visited Ottawa, to press upon the Government the redemption of their promises, but it had not the slightest effect. Not the slightest attention was paid to their representations, for the Supplementary Estimates, when submitted to Parliament, destroyed what hope remained. He must be woefully party-blind who now refuses to see that the Government is, and has been, as we have often shown, using the Midland District merely as a tool to promote its own political interests. The Review has denounced us unsparingly for presuming to hint at such a monstrous possibility, and has, unfairly, of course, on that account, accused us of being hostile to the Canal.

But our contemporary must now, according to conditions imposed upon itself, come over to our way of thinking in reference to the political dodge action of the Government in the premises. On the occasion of Sir Charles Tupper's visit to Peterborough on June 3rd, 1880, the Review editorially discussed the question: "Does this visit mean business, or is it simply a political dodge devised in the interests of the party?" It gives Sir Charles credit for honesty in the matter, but it does so in a half hearted manner, for it ends its article as follows:—

"But if it be possible for us to be mistaken with regard to the sincerity of the Minister of Railways in this matter, we have no hesitation in saying that no greater party mistake could be made than any attempt to use it for the purpose of making political capital and that only. If such an attempt should be made we are convinced it will prove a veritable boomerang to those using it, and, unless some miracle occur to prevent it, the means of leaving scarcely a corporal's guard of those who carried the Conservative banner to victory in 1878 all along the line of the Trent Valley, from the Bay of Quinte to the Georgian Bay, at the next general election. This may be unpalatable reading to some of our political friends, but it is our candid opinion, and its non-utterance will render it none the less true, while its mere statement cannot bring it to pass."

Will the Review now tell us its opinion of Sir Charles Tupper's sincerity? Has not the Government given away $30,000,000 to the Pacific Railway, while not a cent can be given to the Trent Valley canal? Bring forth the "boomerang" and let it be prepared to reduce to a "corporal's guard, those who carried the Conservative banner to victory in 1878." Will the Review now change its tune? Of course not. Will the leopard change his spots? Our contemporary will still act as the apologist of the Tory tricksters, who have traded on the votes of the Midland district to serve their own ends.

"Stop Thief."

When the recently detected Tory bribery plot was exposed, all good men and true unhesitatingly condemned the infamous conduct of the conspirators. Honest Conservatives, while denouncing them, blushed for their party, whose recognized wire-pullers and doers of dirty work, were concerned in the disgraceful business, with the too apparent concurrence and connivance of the party leaders. But another class of Tories, the unscrupulous class, whose motto is practically—party success at any price—at any expense of either morality or money. Even these, led by the mendacious Mail, could not deny or even ignore, that the attempt of the plotters had been made on behalf of the party, to debauch a legislature and nullify the will of the people. To divert the odium from their party, they raised the cry of "stop thief"—to favor the escape of the criminals. They threw all the blame on the Reform members, who were approached and insulted with bribes of money and offices in the gift of the Dominion Government. These honorable men, for appraising the Government of the iniquity afloat, were denounced as spies, traitors and informers, and it was asserted that they were the real culprits, who had plotted to induce such innocent, lamb-like mortals as Bunting, Big Push and Meek to commit a crime. The absurdity of this contention is plain. The Toronto World, an N.P. organ, puts the case pithily, when it says:

"The Mail is trying to make out that the Ontario Government set a trap for Mr. Bunting—and caught him. That is true, they did so. But because the farmer sets a trap and catches the fox, the fox is none the less a chicken thief. The Government trapped Bunting, but it was Bunting the briber that they took, and all the special pleading in the world will not make it otherwise."

The course taken by Messrs. Dowling, Balfour, McKim and Cascaden was the only course left open to them as honest and patriotic men, nor could the Government do otherwise than they did do. They found a plot on foot to corrupt their supporters and overturn the Government—to set aside the verdict of the electors. To punish the guilty and put a stop to such attempts once and for all, they took means to make sure of the guilt of the bribers. They found remain troubling them; they set a trap and caught them. It was certainly an unpleasant thing for the approached members to do, but duty, however unpleasant, must be done. They were willing, for the sake of their country's good, to perform personal sacrifices—to incur the sneers of bad men for the sake of preventing political malefactors from laying impious hands on the ark of honest government. And they were right; the end justified the means. They are only blamed by those directly concerned in the conspiracy, and those anxious to profit by its success. But all honest men applaud them; even those to whom they are directly responsible—their constituents—approve of their course.

Messrs. Dowling, McKim and Balfour, when returning home from their legislative duties, were severally greeted by their constituents with complimentary banquets, at which resolutions were unanimously adopted, endorsing their course, and thanking them for standing loyally by honest principles, honest government, and their country. What would have been their reception had they listened to the tempter, or, basely concealing the operations of the plotters, have permitted them to operate on members less proof against temptation? They would have come skulking home as traitors, the scorn of every man who had trusted them as his representative, or they might have been morally guilty of the defeat of a good and honest government, and of allowing Bunting, Meek and Wilkinson to nominate a government, which would soon reduce Ontario to the bankrupt level to which Tory rule has dragged down Quebec. They have acted just as the Tory party didn't want them to act. If they had consented to be bought, they would have been welcomed with open arms as excellent samples of the material of which Tory politicians are made. They could not be bribed, so the cry of "stop thief," is raised in the vain hope of attracting attention from the crimes of the Tory plotters, and diverting the sure course of retributive justice, that is bringing to bay the guilty quartette of unprincipled conspirators.

Editorial Notes.

Meredith is very ill—politically—the malarial exalations from the garbage heaps of Tory corruption, having affected him seriously.

The only condemnation one Tory journal has for Wilkinson, the would-be briber of a Legislature, is that he is "not a prudent man." The most villainous crime to promote the schemes of the party, in Tory eyes assumes the appearance of a mere peccadill.

Messrs. McKim, Dowling and Balfour were, on their return home from Toronto, greeted by enthusiastic receptions by their respective constituents. They were entertained at banquets, and resolutions endorsing strongly the course pursued by them in the bribery matter unanimously passed.

Political expediency sometimes requires very crooked reasoning for its justification. The committee on Privileges and Elections at Ottawa, with, of course, a partizan majority, decided that Sir Charles Tupper, had not vacated his seat by reason of his breach of the Independence of Parliament Act, yet it held that he must be indemnified and protected from the punishment following an offence which it declares he did not commit.

The policy of the present Government at Ottawa is to make to themselves friends of the Mammon of monopoly, regardless of the rights of the people at large. They might legitimately strengthen themselves in power by carrying out a wise policy for the benefit of the country and thus earn a claim to the ballots of the people. But they got office by false pretenses, and they have pursued such crooked ways since, that crooked ways seem to come most natural. It is surer, the Government seem to think, to make certain by bribery funds, than to conciliate the people by good measures and thus get their votes; it has become a second nature to buy votes, and it would seem that that policy is to be perpetuated. Therefore it is no surprise that the Factory Bill is crushed. Sir Leonard Tilley thinks more of protecting and pandering to the monopolists, his manufacturing pets, than of the safety, comfort and rights of the factory employes. He does not want to offend the manufacturers by preventing them from ruining the health of little children by employing them in factories for eleven hours per day. The Factory Bill would be of no political use if it were placed as an act on the statute book. No doubt the monopolists will contribute handsomely to election funds in consideration of the Government's delicate disinclination to interfere with their power to oppress and grind down the working man; the latter can be put off with promises as he has been in the past, and, if these fail, they will yield to the bribery fund contributed by grateful monopolists.

PERSONAL.

The Rev. E. F. Torrance, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, was present at the closing exercises of Knox College, Toronto, on Wednesday afternoon.

The many friends of Mr. A. L. Davis will be pleased to know that he is so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to drive out. We hope he may soon be able to give his attention to his business.

The following Peterborough students at Trinity College Medical School, passed with creditable success the first year's examinations: Messrs. J. C. Moffatt, A. E. Yelland and D. A. Kidd (Dummer.) We give our congratulations.

THE TORY BRIBERY PLOT.

The Conspiracy Quartette Committed for Trial.

As was expected, on Tuesday Magistrate Denison's decision, an elaborate written verdict committed for trial at the next assizes Frank S. Kirkland, Edward Meek, C. W. Bunting and J. A. Wilkinson, the four conspirators, of whom so much has been written and talked of late. After adverting in the fullest measure to the crime of bribery, the judgment concludes:—"I have gone into this matter at great length, as I feel the full importance of it, and the grave responsibility of having to decide a case, unique in its character, and of vast moment to the people of this country, and it is but right that my reasons for my decision should be clearly stated. I hold that there is evidence to commit all the defendants to stand their trial on this charge. G. T. DENISON, P. M."

The four defendants were then ordered to give bonds for their appearance at the assizes. C. W. Bunting and Mr. Meek furnished their personal bonds in $5,000 each, Goldwin Smith acted as bondsman for Kirkland, and Edward Gegg and Thomas Graham for Wilkinson.

During the reading of the judgment Kirkland swooned and had to be carried out of the room, where restoratives were applied.

The case will come up at the Criminal Assizes, which begin on the 22nd day of April before Chief Justice Hagarty.

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

At the meeting of the council on Monday evening, our popular Reeve, Mr. Thomas Fraser, for private business reasons, tendered his resignation. The public much regret his retirement from an office he filled so ably. There is no certainty who his successor will be—in fact the office is going a-begging.

Mr. Thomas Grover has been appointed police magistrate of the village.

Ballasting has begun on the O. & Q. about six miles east of Peterborough.

Mr. Fred Brennan passed his primary in medicine at the recent Trinity College examinations with great credit.

Good for Peterborough.

At the Easter show of fat cattle at Point St. Charles, Montreal, on Monday last, Mr. Geo. Webber was awarded first prize on one of a fine pair of extra three year old red steers. This steer was one of a pair weighed by Mr. Webber on the market last Wednesday week, and is not only a credit to his astuteness in selecting the finest stock in the county, but also a credit to the feeder, Mr. Charles Moore, Smith, and to the breeder, Mr. Robert Grandy, of Cavan.

The balance of last year's importation of TABLE and DESSERT KNIVES with and without Forks, will be sold retail at Lowest Wholesale Prices, to make room for new lots on the way.

SEEDS

Purchasers of Seeds must now be convinced of the disappointment experienced in buying seeds from boxes or packets already put up and placed in Stores on commission, and in many instances transferred from place to place for years, before being sold; the disappointment experienced, not only from their non-vegetative power, but from the small quantity contained in each paper. To prevent these disappointments Messrs. ORMOND & WALSH sell the whole of their seeds by weight, at a fair and moderate price, with a guarantee of their

Notice to the Creditors

OF THE

Late ALEXANDER STEWART

Pursuant to Section 34, of Chapter 107, Revised Statutes of Ontario, the Creditors of Alexander Stewart, late of the township of Otonabee, in the County of Peterboro', Farmer, deceased, who died on or about the nineteenth day of February, A. D. 1884, at the said Township of Otonabee, are required on or before

The second day of May next.

(1884) to send by post, prepaid, to George Edmison of the Town of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, Barrister-at-law, the Solicitor for the Administrators, of all and singular the personal estate and effects, rights and credits of the said Alexander Stewart, deceased, their christian and surnames, and descriptions, the full particulars of their accounts and claims and the nature of the securities (if any) held by them, against the estate of the said Alexander Stewart deceased.

And take notice that after the said last mentioned date the Administrators of the personal estate and effects, rights and credits of the said Alexander Stewart, deceased, will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which they may then have notice, and the said Administrators will not be liable for the said assets, or any part thereof, to any person or persons of whose claims notice shall not have been received at the date of such distribution.

It's the Loan of Your Eyes

WE ASK;

NOT OF YOUR EARS!

Spring's coming has been delayed—"side tracked"—if we may borrow a handy phrase from our railroad friends. While the Winter Suits and Dresses are yet comfortable, we ask that you come within ear shot—or rather eye shot—of our Grand Spring Exhibit, for it's the loan of your eyes we ask, not of your ears.

To particularize would take colums of room, we must generalize. We hand you this invitation, and you'll neglect your own money interests you refuse. If our display fails to convince you that we show the largest assortment in all lines—recollect it takes two stores to hold it—that we keep only reliable goods, that we keep everything and sell as cheaply, and sometimes a trifle below other dealers—then it's because you're not open to conviction, and not because there isn't sufficient evidence to support the statement.

You have the fullest liberty to look, handle, criticize, compare, and you'll not be "tempted," nor "urged to buy" against your will. Why? Simply because we know—as others show us—that sales made under pressure of any sort would be against us; yes, its' simple. WE MUST NOT SELL YOU WHAT YOU WON'T LIKE. What you prefer we'll gladly hand you over. And our prices are just as low as any in town.

INCENDIARY BARN BURNING.

(Telegram to the Examiner.)

On Wednesday morning, the new barns of Mr. Thos. Cuthbertson, lot 20, 8th con. of Asphodel, were fired by some incendiary and burned. The barns were new, having been rebuilt since their burning by an incendiary last fall. Mr. Cuthbertson offers a reward of $100 for the conviction of the parties committing the outrage. It is to be hoped that the guilty wretch will be detected and roundly punished.

SMITH.

Mr. Francis Sanderson died on Thursday last at his residence in this township. His death was very sudden, for he appeared to be in his usual health the evening before. When attempting to rise from his bed at six o'clock on Thursday morning he fell back dead—death resulting, it is thought, from heart disease. The deceased was 75 years of age. He was one of the oldest settlers in Smith, having settled on lot 7, communication line, in 1828, when he came from Berwick, Scotland. His death bereaves of a husband and father a wife and nine children—five sons and four daughters. He was a brother of Mr. M. Sanderson, the Reeve of Smith. The funeral, which took place from his late residence to the Little Lake Cemetery on Saturday, was very largely attended. The late Mr. Sanderson was a most estimable gentleman, and greatly respected by his neighbors and friends.

HONOR ROLL, S.S. No. 8, SMITH.—The following is the report of the results of examinations held in March for S. S. KEENE.

(From an Occasional Correspondent.)

In the battle with winter, summer is fast prevailing; and farmers are talking of sowing, &c.

The revival services have been brought to a close, and many feel conscious of the desire of the pastor to bring home to them the feeling of conversion.

The new Presbyterian church is now a certainty, the foundation is laid out, teams and willing hands are busy drawing stone for the foundation, for which the excavation will, before this appears in print, be well on its way and with a good start, and an able contractor we shall see a full structure rising in our little town, before the summer is gray.

We are glad to report that those afflicted with that disease which has made such fearful havoc in this neighborhood—scarlet fever—are about free from its effects. We hope the days may be far in the future, if at all, when a malady of this kind again visits us.

OTONABEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The following list contains the names of those scholars entitled to honorable mention for the month of March for S. S. No. 12, Otonabee: Girls—Lillie Sedgwick, Matilda Sedgwick, Maggie Hair, Lizzie McCarthy, Jennie Bean, Eva Weir, Essie Sedgwick, Maggie Agnew, Annie Armstrong. Boys—Robt. Whatley, Dannie Holland, Tommy Sedgwick, Albert Price, Willie Whatley, Willie Bean, Tommy McCarthy.

—The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First; It is perfectly harmless. Second; It saves more than half the labour. Third; It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all grocers. 49-52t

ENNISMORE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

WEATHER NOTES.—The incoming of March was cold and severe, the thermometer on the first at sunrise being 20° below zero and on the second 29°. Up to the eleventh it kept cold, when it grew more moderate, never again falling to zero, and at four o'clock on Friday, the 28th, it reached as high as temperate, namely, 56°. The average for the month was 23°. Snow fell on seven days to the depth of 9 inches and 1-10th of an inch. Rain fell on eight days to the depth of 1 inch and 43-100th of an inch, so our downfall for the month has been considerably below the average. Although we have had some severe drifts and gales, we were not, this year, visited with what we used to call our big March storm. We had fog on two days, and our first thunder on the eleventh. Our first crows made their appearance on the 12th, greybirds on the 22nd, cranes on the 23rd, seagulls and robins on the 25th, and on the 28th dark winged butterflies were flying about, but not being described in the Ontario Agricultural Commission, I am unable to find their name. The snow has mostly disappeared, consequently the roads are bad to travel on, as is generally the case at this time of the year.

MUD LAKE BRIDGE.—Our County Engineer has at length determined to hold Mud Lake bridge in its place, having about 35 stones for anchors, and some of them of large dimensions, now lying on the ice, chained to the bridge ready to drop through when the ice breaks up.

FALL WHEAT.—Should the present style of weather continue much longer fall wheat will be a thing of the past in this section, as it is impossible for it to pull itself through alive under the present trials and circumstances.

THE BRIBERY PLOT.

ARGUMENTS OF THE COUNSEL.

Arguments in the conspiracy case began Wednesday afternoon before Magistrate Denison in the police court room. Mayor Boswell occupied a seat beside his worship. Dr. McMichael spoke from the openig until 6.10 in the evening, when the court rose till 11 o'clock next morning. The doctor's arguments were in behalf of Kirkland, and he took the line that if there was a real conspiracy, his client had no interest whatever in conspiring against the Mowat government. Public opinion generally is in favor of Kirkland's acquittal. His bail bonds were renewed by Goldwin Smith, and Mr. Meek's by Edward Clegg and Thomas Graham.

Arguments in the conspiracy case were resumed at 11.15 in the police court Thursday morning, and continued till 5.30 in the evening. Donald McMaster, C. J. Neville, Æ. Irving and Mr. Fenton addressed the court. As was expected, when the arguments were concluded, his worship said he would reserve judgment, on committal or non-committal, and he promised his decision Tuesday morning.

SQUASHED.

"How do you like the squash pie, Alfred?" asked a young wife of her husband a few days after marriage. "Well, it is pretty good, but"— "But what? I suppose you started to say it isn't as good as that which your mother makes." "Well, yes, I did intend to say that, but"— "Well, Alfred, your mother made that very pie and sent it to me."

MILLBROOK.

Over 100 have been recruited by the Saved Army at Millbrook.

Mr. Ashby's steam saw mill, at Pontypool, was destroyed by fire on Monday evening. The fire broke out some time after the men had ceased work, and it is supposed to have originated at the furnace. Most of the lumber was saved.

"Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works will be placed before a Millbrook audience on Friday, April 18th, under the auspices of the Women's Christian Association of St. Thomas' Church.

Among the sufferers in the recent Manitoba excursion train accident at Red Wing, Minnesota, were the following Millbrook people:—Alexander Poyner, ugly scalp wound; Minnie Poyner, bad scalp injury; Emma Poyner, cut in the face; Wm. Raddy, severe cut in the head; Mrs. Wm. Raddy, scalp wound; John Poyner, hand bruised and wrist sprained; Oscar McBain, cut in the face and head; John Doak, cut in head and sprained ankle.

Pure Bred Poultry!

The subscriber is now prepared to dispose of SETTINGS OF EGGS from the following varieties of Poultry:—Plymouth Rocks, Houdans, Black Spanish, White Leghorns, Buff Cochin, Silver Gray Dorkings, Silver Spangled Hamburgs, Pekin Ducks and Bronze Turkeys.

All the above varieties were either first or second prize birds at the fall and winter exhibitions. I have also added since the exhibitions some very fine birds of different varieties to my stock. Having bred the greater part of the varieties for three years, I think I know what suits the country.

Every pains has been taken to keep the stock pure, by keeping the birds in different yards, therefore the public can rely on a good article, either in Eggs or Chicks, second to none but in price, say and all of the above varieties being offered at $1.50 per 13, or $2 for $2.50, excepting the Ducks or Turkeys.

Any orders for eggs must be accompanied with the price. I would be glad to fill a large order, if required, with different kinds.

THURSDAY.

THE GRAVE SCANDAL.

All the fraud in connection with the Intercolonial Claims Commission has not, it seems, been made public yet. Not only have the three Commissioners received near'y $7,000 each, while two of them scarcely ever attended a meeting of the Board, but it is charged that Mr. Broughton has been drawing pay regularly as a Commissioner since leaving the country altogether and accepting a position from a railway company in Chicago. The awards are now made up by Judge Clark and sent to Mr. Broughton to be signed by him, the latter's pay as Commissioners meanwhile going on.

THE CANADIAN TEMPERANCE ASSOCIATION.

The Senators again astonished everybody to-night by sitting till twelve o'clock, discussing the bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act of 1878 by providing machinery for putting that Act in force in counties where no licenses are or have been issued. A long debate upon the general effect of the Scott Act was kept up, and the bill was finally passed through the committee. Dr. Hickey has given notice that when the third reading comes up he will move an amendment to provide that in elections under the Scott Act three-fifths of all the votes polled must be in favour of the Act before it can come into operation, and Mr. Almon will move another amendment to the effect that after the 1st of May, 1884, the use and sale of light wines, ale, beer, and cider shall be permitted in counties that have adopted the Scott Act, The latter amendment is one for which the Ontario licensed victuallers have been agitating.

A SCANDALOUS TRANSACTION.

To-night the House of Commons endorsed another scandalous transaction by voting $30,086 to reimburse certain Prince Edward Island merchants for certain duties alleged to have been improperly collected from them by the United States Customs authorities in 1871, before the Island entered Confederation. It is difficult to understand why the Dominion Government should refund Customs duties improperly collected by the Americans. Large amounts have been improperly collected, and now no doubt the Dominion Government will be called upon to repay these sums.

MR. COSTIGAN AS USUAL.

Mr. Costigan's Inland Revenue estimates came up to-night, and he was as helpless as usual. He could give no explanations. Sir Richard Cartwright called attention to the fact that while only $40,000 were received from culling timber, the expenses of the culling' offices were $71,800. The receipts from the culling service were declining every year, and yet an increase of $4,500 was asked for salaries this year.

FRIDAY.

THE GREAT SENATOR SUCCUMBS.

Failing in his efforts to intimidate the Senate Mr. Macpherson has been obliged practically to adopt the amendment offered by Mr. Dickey to the Dominion Lands Act. In order to break the Minister's fall one of his henchmen undertook to act as intermediary, and moved an amendment that any man residing within two miles of a homestead shall be entitled to a patent if all other conditions are fulfilled. This proposal Mr. Macpherson had to swallow. Of course it really goes further than Mr. Dickey's proposition, and is even more "subversive of the principle of residence," for which Mr. Macpherson stood out so strongly yesterday. The Minister of the Interior has received a lesson that may do him good. The country may be able to judge of his insolence when even the Senate was constrained to resent it.

THE BLEUS MUTINOUS AGAIN.

Suspicion prevails in the Bleu ranks that Sir John does not intend to fulfil his promise with respect to granting cash compensation to Quebec for the construction of the North Shore Railway. He has succeeded in setting the Langevin and Chapleau factions by the ears over the manner in which the prospective grant is to be appropriated, and knowing that they are not likely to agree, he says that when they come to an understanding he will come down with the money. Meanwhile he is hurrying business as much as possible, hoping to prorogue Parliament without dealing with Quebec matters.

MR. CHARLTON'S AMENDMENT.

The debate on Mr. Charlton's amendment this afternoon was short, but very instructing. Mr. Charlton's speech set before the taxpayers of the country in a concise and intelligent form the true financial position of the country, showing that the increase in our public debt and expenditure during the past five years was out of all proportion. Sir Leonard Tilley, as usual, tried the tu quoque argument, but failing in that, he sought to rouse his followers by contending that the large expenditure was a good thing, because the present generation got the benefit of it, and the future could take care of itself. Like Sir Boyle Roche, the Finance Minister wanted to know what posterity has ever done for us that we should hesitate about piling up debts for the future generation to pay? Sir Richard Cartwright very properly characterized the Government defence as that of every spendthrift Government and spendthrift individual. The money of the taxpayers is being squandered in "putting on style."

NIAGARA BRIDGE.

When the Niagara Frontier Bridge Bill came up in the Senate to-day Mr. Plumb made a violent attack upon the persons seeking incorporation, charging them with having obtained a bonus from the township of Niagara by fraud, and with trafficking in charters. The bill was referred to the Railway Committee.

COAL LAND APPLICANTS.

A voluminous return was brought down to-day giving the names of all applicants for coal lands in the North-West, and copies of all correspondence between the Government and outside parties respecting such applications. Nearly every application was made either by or through Parliamentary supporters of the Government or the sons of Ministers of the Crown.

THE TEMPERANCE ACT.

The Senate was occupied all this afternoon and evening in discussing a bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act by providing machinery for putting it in force in counties where no licenses are granted. Though the bill was introduced as a Government measure, and though Sir John Macdonald had pledged himself to members of the Dominion Alliance that the influence of the Government would be exerted to carry it through, Sir Alex. Campbell did his utmost to secure the defeat of the measure. The conduct of the members of the Government in the Senate in this matter was characterized by

SHAMEFUL INCONSISTENCY AND COWARDICE

Yesterday when the Dominion Lands Act was under discussion, Sir Alexander Campbell urged that it was highly improper for Senators to offer amendments to a Government measure, and Mr. Macpherson refused to accept any amendments. To-day Sir Alexander took quite a different course, and spoke and voted in favour of amendments designed to change the whole character of the bill introduced as a Government measure, and to render it almost IMPOSSIBLE TO PUT THE SCOTT ACT IN FORCE

at all. When the third reading of the bill was moved Mr. Dickey proposed an amendment providing that a three-fifths majority in favour of the Act should be necessary in any election under the Scott Act before the measure could be put in force. In support of his amendment he quoted utterances of Sir Leonard Tilley. Mr. Vidal stated that Sir John Macdonald had promised that this bill should be carried through as a Government measure, and that the effect of the amendment, if adopted, would be

TO DESTROY THE TEMPERANCE ACT ALTOGETHER.

To the surprise of all parties Sir Alex. Campbell spoke in favour of the amendment. The debate was kept up till after ten o'clock, when a division was taken on Mr. Dickey's amendment, which was lost by 27 to 25.

Mr. Almon then proposed

ANOTHER AMENDMENT,

that dealers in all porter, lager beer, cider, and light wines, containing not over twelve per cent. of alcohol, be exempted from the operation of the Canada Temperance Act of 1878 in all places in which the said Act shall come into operation after May 31, 1884. This amendment was lost by 28 to 23. Mr. McMillan then offered an amendment to the effect that the maximum quantity of spirits to be obtained upon certificate of a doctor should be one pint. This amendment was lost by 21 to 24, and the bill was read a third time and passed. The conduct of Sir A. Campbell in endeavouring to defeat the bill introduced as a Government measure is denounced on all sides.

SATURDAY.

DR. ORTON CONDEMNS THE N. P.

In his memorial to Sir John Macdonald on the subject of the North-West grievances, Dr. Orton, M.P., declares that the high duty levied on agricultural implements is a serious burden upon the farmers of the North-west, also that he was always opposed to the increased duty upon implements, and hoped the tax may be reduced. Dr. Orton also points out many other hardships under which the North-West settlers labour.

SECTION B EXTRAS.

The Star Chamber Arbitrators have awarded the Section B contractors $396,600 damages on account of their claim against the Government for breach of contract and losses sustained owing to delay in the completion of the Whitehead section of the road. This will make about $560,000 that the country will have to pay on account of Section B extras, though Sir C. Tupper stated more than once that the Government were not liable for these claims.

DISGRACEFUL DELAY.

Mr. Blake pointed out this afternoon that the conduct of the Government in putting off the consideration of the most important business of the session until a few days before prorogation was most disgraceful. For the delay of public business the Government are now wholly responsible. They have abandoned the Franchise and Factory Bills, and now their other measures are hanging fire. Sir John refuses to introduce his Quebec aid resolutions. Sir Leonard declines to proceed with his resolution respecting the readjustment of accounts between the Provinces and the Dominion, and nobody knows what is to be in the proposed new Railway Subsidy Bill. Sir John also hesitates about proceeding with his License Act Amendment Bill, and under all circumstances all hopes of prorogation before Easter may be given up. If the Government business was ready there would be no occasion for delay. Sir John Macdonald trifles with Parliament and the country, and the Tories give him credit for smartness.

THE NEW SYNDICATE DEMANDS.

The members of the Pacific Syndicate have been informed by the Government that they were just a little too previous in coming back for further advances, and that in the present state of public opinion the Government, though willing, are afraid to yield to their demands. In a few months, however, when the loan and guarantee transactions are forgotten, the Syndicate will get all they ask. Meanwhile Mr. Stephen and Mr. Abbott have left for Europe to make a pretence of raising money upon stock. Should they not succeed, the failure will be attributed to the influence of the Grand Trunk, and Parliament will be asked to make further advances to the Syndicate on the score of patriotism. It is only necessary to repeat that everything said in these notes respecting the Syndicate's new demand is correct in every particular, notwithstanding the vapourings of the company's organs to the contrary. The rage of these papers is quite understandable. Had it been stated six months ago that the Pacific Railway Company would have to get a loan of thirty millions from the Government or stop work, there is not a Tory in the land who would not have denounced the statement as false, libellous and absurd.

RESTIVE BLEUS.

The French Bleus in Parliament are becoming more restive every day, as they fear Sir John is anxious to get through the session without doing anything for Quebec. The scheme concocted by Sir Hector Langevin, Mr. Caron, and the Pacific Syndicate, to appropriate over a million of money promised to Quebec for the purpose of promoting a new railway scheme, has caused much indignation among the Chapleau party, as it is regardedas a ruse to force Mr. Senecal to sell out his interest in the North Shore Railway. Mr. Ouimet has given notice that he will on Monday ask the Government whether it has come to their knowledge that the Canada Pacific Company has adopted measures for the acquisition of the North Shore Railway, and whether any communication has been received from the Grand Trunk offering to place the North Shore Railway at the disposal of the Government with a view to an arrangement of such a nature as to enable the Canada Pacific Company to reach Quebec by that line. Even the most ardent supporters of the Government are becoming disgusted at Sir John Macdonald's outrageous disregard of his pledges.

Rev. J. McLaurin, Canadian Baptist Missionary to India, writes; During our stay in Canada, we have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil with very great satisfaction We are now returning to India, and would like very much to take some with us for our own use and to give to the diseased heathen.

CANADA'S PLEA FOR "THE WAIFS AND STRAYS."

A voice has crossed the waters with a cheery ringing sound,
That has stirred our spirit-pulses into swift and gladsome bound,
For it speaks a kindly message from a daughter's filial heart,
Pleased among old England's children still to bear a faithful part.

"Dear old England! starry England! parent "land beyond the sea,
"Happy, joyous, new year's greeting now "we send across to thee,
"From our homes of peace and plenty, "where the fires are bright and warm,
"And the lads and lasses frolic, heedless of "the winter's storm.

"From the hunter's forest cabin, from the "farmhouse on the plain,
"Send we greeting in full chorus, answered "by the hills' refrain.
"Happy New Year! Happy New Year! "shout we with united voice,
"In a glad new year of blessing may our "mother-land rejoice!

"But our hearts are sorely troubled, in "Canadian homes so fair,
"At the 'Cry of Outcast London's," bitter "wailing of despair;
"And we ponder o'er the question now ab- "sorbing good and great,
"Must the wildest keep on crying, till their "cry has roused the State?

"Not much prospect of their ceasing, say we "here, across the sea;
"Wheels of State roll ever slowly, though "on highways of the free.
"While the State debates its measures, for "the nation's gen'ral weal,
"Poor wee waifs and strays by thousands "learn to beg and its and steal.

"'Overcrowded,' say the wise ones; 'how "can lives be true and pure,
"When from baby-cot to coffin want and "woe alone are sure?
"Who dare talk of reformation, while the "dens in which they sleep
"Are as foul and dark, and dreadful as the "kraals the Cetiwe keep!

"'Overcrowded,' say the wise ones. 'Child- "ren born and reared in sin,
"Pinched and wretched, starved and tempt- "ed, learn to drown their woes in gin,'
"Thus in ever-widening circles grows the "horror, year by year,
"Till the outer rim of evil looks a thing of "ghastly fear.

"Overcrowded! mother England, if the "homestead's grown too small,
"And the servants' little children are too "many for the hall,
"We have acres, broad and fruitful, stretch- "ing westward to the sun,
"Prairie-lands and sunny hillsides from the "forest to be won.

"And our hearts are large and kindly as the "acres that we till;
"Though we make no boast of grandeur, "nor of ancient skill,
"We have Nature's royal largess of rich "beauty, wild and free,
"Mountain, stream, and forest grandeur, "lake and plain from sea to sea.

"You have homes and schools of training: "take these children from the street:
"Show them what God meant they should "be; clear a pathway for their feet.
"Make them feel that work is noble; teach "them what their lives may be;
"Then we'll give them hearty welcome to "our homes across the sea.

"Waiting, wailing! still we hear it; ye who "bear the Saviour's name,
"Strike from Christian England's pages such "a tale of England's shame.
"Ye who claim the nation's glory must be "free from stain or spot,
"Wipe from off her written story such a foul "unsightly blot.

"Tarry not for tardy measures by the council "of the wise,
"While the Master's earnest message comes "through pitcous, helpless cries.
"Stay not for decree or mandate, bearing "signet of the throne;
"While the King of kings commands you, "'Seek and bring Me back My own.'"

"See! from out the very centre of old Lon- "don's moral slime,
"Baby eyes and lips are pleading to be "saved from vice and crime;
"Pleading through the cherished darlings "sheltered in your homes to-day—
"Pleading by the love and mercy of the God "to whom ye pray.

"Hollow-eyed and weary-hearted, mid the "horrors of the street,
"Wee, starved, homeless waifs, are watch- "ing for the coming of your feet.
"Speed your way; let nothing daunt you. "'Feed My lambs,' is still the word
"Falling daily, clear and earnest, from the "lips of Christ the Lord.

"Mothers! ye who fold your sweet ones in "the heaven of your homes,
"'Tis to you these eyes are turning; 'tis to "you this wailing comes,
"You, whose hearts, grown large by loving "—Godlike, pitiful, and kind—
"Have the Master's own true spirit in their "tender depths enshrined.

"'Tis on you their hopes are resting; 'tis to "you they look for aid.
"Christian mothers, be ye foremost in the "ranks of love's crusade.
"Meeting, with true woman's courage, toil, "discomfort and delay,
"Knowing that ere long the darkness shall "dissolve in glorious day."

MANHOOD
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.
☞Price in a sealed envelope, only 6c. or two postage stamps.
The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

CONFIDENTIAL.
Thousands of young Men and Women—married and single—through the effects of vicious youthful habits, or excessive indulgence in later years, have so undermined their general systems as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of these troubles being scarcely ever suspected, they are drugged and doctored for everything but the right one. The ordinary medical treating troubles of this nature do no good. The JERUBEBIN COMBINATOIN REMEDY is offered as A Speedy and Certain Cure, as hundreds afflicted with every form of disease have been restored to complete health by its use, after all other remedies failed. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, but especially in cases arising from imprudence. Its recuperative powers are truly astonishing, and its continued use for a short time changes the lessened, debilitated condition, to one of renewed life and vigor.
Forwarded to any address, on receipt of Price, $2 per package—sufficient for one month's treatment.

Generous.

Mr. Robert Rowe, with his usual good nature and generosity, made a reduction of $1,000 to Mr. R. Z. Rogers, in adjusting the financial arrangements in connection with the hotel building of the latter, which sank into the creek during the recent freshet.

Baptist Church.

The series of sermons being preached in the Baptist Church by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Munro, on the "Personal Conversations of Christ," are full of interest, as testified to by the large congregations that listen to their earnest and graceful delivery on Sunday nights.

New Dress.

Our spirited contemporary, the Guelph Mercury, has donned an entirely new dress. The Mercury is enterprising and wide-awake, as befits its lively title, and its new departure, which greatly improves its appearance, is another evidences of its determination to keep in the front rank in the race of progress. For cleanness, brightness, newness and solidity, the Mercury holds a high place. Continued success.

To be Rebuilt.

The result of the visit of Mr. R. Z. Rogers, proprietor of the collapsed Royal Oak Hotel, Hunter street, has been the making of arrangements to rebuild the hotel this summer. Mr. J. E. Belcher has prepared the plans, and Mr. Arthur Rutherford has secured the contract for the re-construction. Mr. Rogers thus practically expressing the fact that the fall of the building did not destroy his confidence in either architect or contractor, for it is shown that the building did not fall from any defect in the foundation walls, for those put down last summer are still standing intact.

Teachers' Examinations.

Candidates for the approaching examinations of applicants for teachers' certificates will be interested in knowing that some changes have been made by the new regulations recently adopted. It is required that every candidate read a selection to be chosen from an authorized Fifth Reader, by the County Board of Examiners, before an examiner to be selected by the Board. Another change is that a certain degree of excellence in penmanship is absolutely necessary. Candidates may pass examinations on the optional subjects of music and drawing, the marks obtained to be added by way of bonus to the aggregate marks in the other subjects. The value of each of these optional subjects is fixed at 75 marks. The total value of the marks for the obligatory subjects is 1,400, a minimum number requisite for passing being assigned to each subject, and in addition to the prescribed minimum on each, the candidate must make an aggregate of 700 marks to pass.

Housekeepers are invited to look through Turnbull's heavy stock of Scotch Lace Curtains, which has now arrived after many delays, owing to the vessel they were on being disabled at sea, and the snow blockade at Halifax.

Off to the Rockies.

On Wednesday Messrs. McDermid & Hendrie shipped forty-five horses and all their carts and railway construction plant to the Rocky Mountains, to be used on a railway contract this firm has in the vicinity. About the first of May they will require 200 or 300 men to work on the same contract.

A Fine Portrait.

There is exhibited in the show-window of Mr. John Hackett's dry goods store, George street, a most life-like portrait of his Lordship Bishop Jamot, clad in his episcopal robes. The likeness is perfect. The portrait, beautifully framed, is to be drawn for at the Roman Catholic Bazaar to be held next October, and is a prize well worth winning.

A Moving Item.

As the snow and frost has about all disappeared, and farmers are getting their implements ready to scatter the seed, Mr. Allan McCarthy, the well-known building mover and repairer, has all his apparatus fitted up anew and ready to start out to raise, lower, repair and move all kinds of wooden buildings. All orders promptly attended to. See advertisement in another column.

Cattle for the North-West.

On Tuesday Hodgson & Co., who have been several days in Peterborough, shipped fifteen head of fine cattle and two span of horses for the North-West—about 150 miles west of Winnipeg. Among the cattle, which were all good and in good condition, were six cows purchased from Mr. Joseph Walton, of North Monaghan, the price averaging $45, and a thoroughbred, eleven month's calf, bought of Mr. Jos. Redmond, of Otonabee.

Congregation De Notre Dame.

The honor roll for March of the pupils of this school is as below:—First class.—The highest number of marks for punctual attendance and application to studies—Misses M. E. Cahill, A. Mercier, R. Martin, M. Walsh, M. Wyer, J. Donegan, M. Casey, E. Mahoney, B. O'Connell, M. McAuliffe. Second class.—Misses M. Doherty, C. Lynch, M. McCabe, M. McNamara, E. Crummey, E. Kelly, A. Tobin, M. E. Henry, H. Dion, E. McCarthy, E. Hickey, E. Wyer, E. Dineen, E. Kearns, E. McQuaid, L. Galvin.

Charlotte Street Improvements.

Charlotte street, the most travelled street in town, is also looking up as a business street, and improvements are constantly going on. Mr. John Webber's tidy little grocery store on the corner of Aylmer, proving too small for his increasing business, is being enlarged by extending it westward. Mr. John Thompson, baker, has opened the building ball for the season by beginning the erection of a brick shop, twenty feet front, with apartments in the second story. The foundation walls are laid and the brickwork is looming up.

St. John's Church.

The musical services of this church are invariably of a high order, but special excellence will mark the music at Good Friday's and Easter Sunday's services. On Good Friday only hymns will be sung to peculiarly solemn, penitential music, but they will be rendered with grand choral effects and grand organ accompaniments, that will make them exceedingly impressive. On Easter Suuday at the eleven o'clock service the hymns and other music will depart from the mournful minor key and will be of a joyous character; all the chants will be Anglican. In the evening the chants will be sung to Parisian tones harmonized, and the anthem will be that sublime composition, the "Gloria in excelsis" from Mozart's Twelfth Mass. Correspondingly excellent offertory and closing voluntaries will be rendered.

The Town Council.

The Town Council, in meeting only once a month, will save money for the town and confer everlasting obligations on the reporters. If, however, some of the members don't "stop short" in making long speeches, the expedient adopted at the meetings of the Saved Army in the Opera House, will have to be introduced—"If you stand and speak so long we will have to sing you down." Our town fathers are, some of them, so fond of talk that when they themselves speak up to the limits of the rules, or lose their wind, they must needs, to keep the everlasting talk going, call on outsiders to make speeches. At some meetings as many as half-a-dozen outsiders "get their work in" in this way. But, certainly, if these gentlemen feel themselves incompetent to fulfil the duties of their position they are not so much to blame for seeking the help of outsiders. Just fancy a House of Parliament leaning back in the seats and letting a petitioner talk to the House for half an hour. Our town fathers should stand a little more on their dignity.

Our New Watchmaker, Mr. Hughan, comes well recommended, and we are sure any work entrusted to him will be done in good style. Office lately occupied by Elias Burnham, Simcoe Steet. 18-tf

What It Has Done.

Mrs. George Simpson, Toronto, says: "I have suffered severely with corns, and was unable to get relief from treatment of any other kind until I was recommended to try Holloway's Corn Cure. After applying it for a few days I was enabled to remove the corn, root and branch—no pain whatever, and no inconvenience in using it. I can heartily recommend it to all suffering from corns."

A Remarkable Escape.

Mrs. Mary A. Dailey, of Tunkhannock, Pa., was afflicted for six years with Asthma and Bronchitis, during which time the best physicians could give no relief. Her life was despaired of, until in last October she procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, when immediate relief was felt, and by continuing its use for a short time she was completely cured, gaining in flesh 50 lbs. in a few months. Free trial bottles of this certain cure of all throat and lung disease at Taylor & Macdonald's drug store. Large size $1.00.

The Saved Army.

The Saved Army campaign is still being pushed vigorously. The army here has met with great success. Scarcely a night passes, when their meetings are held, that some half dozen or half score of sinners does not capitulate. On Thursday night Mrs. Willis appeared on the parade for the last time. She will be absent on furlough, being detailed to take a short rest at her home, Kingston. This lively little lady has had a prominent part in contributing to the success of the army here. She has been very popular and leaves many warm friends behind her. Their converts are now claimed to number 325.

C. & O. Railway Stations.

Messrs. Rathbun & Son, of Deseronto, who have the contract of erecting seven station buildings on this line began work on Monday last, when Mr. James Burgess, foreman of the work, arrived in town by the Grand Junction with a gang of men. Work will be begun west of the town, at the Bowmanville Road station, and come east. The work will be pushed forward rapidly. Something after the manner of Solomon's Temple, the frame work and other material for the stations have been prepared in Deseronto, and was laid down at the junction of the O. & Q. and the Midland, here, so that what remains to be done is chiefly to convey the material to its site and put it together.

Anniversary Services.

The anniversary services in connection with the Charlotte Street Methodist Church Sunday School will be held on Sunday and Monday, the 20th and 21st inst. On Sunday the Rev. J. E. Starr will preach both morning and evening, and will deliver an address on Monday evening. Mr. Starr's many friends in Peterborough will be pleased at this opportunity of again hearing his eloquent discourses. No admission fee will be charged on Monday evening, but a collection will be taken up in aid of the funds of the Sunday School. There will, no doubt, be a large attendance at these services.

Cricket.

The Peterborough Cricket Club held its annual meeting at the Oriental Hotel on Thursday evening last. There was a large attendance, the chair having been occupied by Rev. Mr. Clementi. The following officers were elected:—President, Mr. C. A. Weller; first Vice-President, Rev. V. Clementi; second Vice-President, Hon. R. Hamilton; Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. E. A. Peck; committee, Messrs. J. H. Burnham, W. A. Stratton, Geo. W. Hatton, P. Cooper and T. Rutherford. The spirit the meeting indicated augurs well for a most successful season at the "noble game." Several new members were elected and the club, which now musters 150 members, promises to increase largely in numbers during the season. All who feel an active interest in the game are invited to become members; junior members are admitted at half the fee for adult members. A bright wide-a-wake boy can have as much fun at cricket and, often, play as good a game as an adult.

Peterborough Lacrosse Club.

The annual meeting of this club was held at the "Little Windsor Hotel" on Monday evening. The members mustered in strong force and an enthusiastic esprit du corps was evident. The following is a list of the officers elected:—

HONORARY PRESIDENT.—R. A. Morrow.
PRESIDENT.—H. LeBrun.
1st. VICE-PRESIDENT.—R. H. Fortye.
2nd. VICE-PRESIDENT.—A. McNeil
SECRETARY.—A. E. Yelland.
TREASURER.—C. Rutherford.
CAPTAIN.—W. A. Sanderson.
ASSISTANT CAPTAIN.—W. J. Scott.
MANAGING COMMITTEE.—G. Giroux, M. Tierney and J. Sheehey.

Messrs. H. LeBrun, W. A. Sanderson and M. Giroux were appointed delegates to the meeting of the National Amateur Lacrosse Association to be held shortly in Toronto. The club is in a most flourishing condition. The twenty-five or thirty new members elected, makes the membership of the club about 150—so large that a new office was created—assistant captain, and the treasurer reported a tidy surplus of funds on hand. The coming season in lacrosse will be a most lively one and many matches may be expected, at which we are sure the club will give a good account of themselves, some first-class new members having joined the club.

Our Post Office.

This prodigally promised structure is still in the dim future; the matter of building it has been indefinitely postponed. In the supplementary estimates recently presented to Parliament, there is no mention of an appropriation. No election being in sight, it is not considered necessary to put any more bait on the hook for West Peterborough. Even the preliminary step of selecting a site has not yet been made. What is the member for West Peterborough about? Why isn't he stirring up Sir Hector Langevin with a long pole—say a pike pole? If he wants to make the first move to justify the possession of the title of M.P., which the Conservative electors of the west riding, in their rather thoughtless and reckless generosity, have conferred on him, he will move for a return showing why the Government inspector, who was so ostentatiously trotted about town by Tory holders of eligible post office sites, summer before last, has not made a report. Perhaps there are too many influential Tories concerned to risk offending them. And, perhaps the difficulty lies, to quote the Review, in the "exuberant strength of the Conservative party inducing internal divisions," and a "superabundance of Conservative candidates"—with corner lots in their hands. One thing is certain, this town has been disgracefully bamboozled in this matter, and there must be no further delay.

Chancery Sittings.

The Chancery Spring Sittings began before Hon. Mr. Justice Ferguson on Tuesday. There were five cases on the docket, of which two were concluded on Wednesday—Long vs. Morrison,—an action brought by Mr. Harry Long to rescind contract for purchase of North-West lands. Action dismissed.—Fonsette & Roger for plaintiff; Dumble & Henry for defendant; and Harmer vs. O. & Q. Railway—action of trespass and to set aside contract. Action dismissed.—Dumble & Henry for plaintiff; G. T. Blackstock for defendant.

Peterborough Boating Club.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Boating Club was held at the club building on Monday night. There was a large attendance, and great enthusiasm was manifested. After routine business, the following officers were elected:—

PRESIDENT—E. B. Edwards.
VICE-PRESIDENT—John McClelland.
SECRETARY—Geo. Stevenson.
TREASURER—A. Elliott.
COMMITTEE—F. A. Cox, J. Mercer, J. E. Hawkens and W. Rutherford.

Boating promises to be a live sport this year, unusual interest being taken by the members in the affairs of the club. Seventeen new members were admitted on Monday night. The consideration of further business was postponed till the adjourned meeting to be held on Monday evening, April 21st. It is understood that improvements and alterations are to be made in the boat house, which will be provided with new baths and otherwise overhauled. Two new shells are expected to arrive soon from Wharin, Toronto, for members of the club.

Doubly Sad Bereavement.

We, with the many friends of Miss Sanderson, of this town, and of Mr. Matthew Sanderson, of Lindsay, deeply sympathise with them in the doubly sad bereavement that has fallen on them. Master Freddie Sanderson, ten years of age, son of Mr. Matthew Sanderson, was wounded a short time ago by a pistol shot, and, sixteen days after the accident, succumbed to the effects of the wound and died. The same day his sister, aged fifteen, was attacked with a malignant form of diphtheria, induced, or at least aggravated, as her physicians say, by blood poisoning, she having been in close attendance on her brother during his illness, and, after two days' illness, she also passed away. The body of the little lad was laid beside his grandfather, Rev. John Sanderson, in Little Lake Cemetery here on Friday. His father missed the evening train, but left for home on the first train in the morning, and the terrible shock to his feelings when, on his return from the burial of one child, he found another cold in death, can only be faintly imagined. On account of the frightfully malignant form of the daughter's disease she was buried in Lindsay the day of her death. The bereaved family have the earnest sympathy wide circle of friends in their grievous affliction.

First Practice.

The Lacrosse Club will hold their first general practice on their grounds on Good Friday. The boys are beginning the season in earnest.

Millinery Openings.

On Wednesday and Thursday Messrs. Hall, Innes & Co., J. C. Turnbull and Jas. Alexander held their spring openings, receiving crowds of visitors, but the occasion was so near our hour of going to press that we must defer a detailed description.

D. Ballegham

Is now turning out some specially beautiful sets of fine parlour furniture, and this week he shipped a superb set to Dr. Walker, of Warkworth, and he has secured the contract for supplying the entire furniture for a Toronto gentleman's residence. His facilities for doing upholstering work are unexcelled. Parties having work of this kind to do, should send it in at once.

A Splendid Stallion.

Messrs. R. & W. Bothwell, of Cavan, have purchased a fine Clydesdale stallion colt, 3 years old, bred by Beith Bros. He is a full brother to "Statesman," the horse owned by the Messrs. Bothwell, which died last summer. The colt is a dark brown with black points, and is for service in this section. Farmers should make a note of this purchase and profit by the chance presented of improving their stock.

St. Luke's Temperance Society.

The Temperance Society in connection with St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, intend holding a concert in the school room on Tuesday evening next, the 15th of April. An entirely new and interesting programme will be presented and the proceedings will close with a short charade. Those who desire to enjoy a pleasant evening's amusement will be wise to make a note of the date and determine to attend. Admission only ten cents.

Equestrianism.

One form that the spring fever has taken this year is horseback riding. A large number of young men who own or have the use of horses, have procured outfits, including saddles, bridles, housings, double decked corduroys, top boots, etc. Anyone who rises early enough can see the streets full of these enthusiastic horsemen, and it is expected there will be a large turnout on Good Friday. Equitation is grand exercise, and it is to be regretted that more—especially ladies—do not practise it.

Materials for Sale.

The building committee of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church offer for sale all the pew seats of the present church. These pews were built at a time when the finest quality of lumber could be afforded, and anybody needing a lot of thoroughly seasoned, clear lumber will find these pews a bargain. The iron fencing around the church and three double gates will be sold at reasonable figures. Apply, not later than Saturday, April 12th, to W. G. Ferguson.

Shall We let the Child Die?

A hard-hearted political economist, looking at a pale and puny child feebly gasping as it lies upon a pillow, says that the child might as well die. It is so weak and poor that its life will never be worth much anyhow. There are already a good many people in the world who are of not much account anyhow. And what's the use of adding to their number another weakling, who has but slender chance of ever amounting to anything?

Now ask that child's mother what she thinks about letting the child die. About this time the hard political economist had better get out of the way. "Let my child die? No! No! As long as there is a remedy to be found that will save that child, the child shall not die! I'll spend my last dollar to save the child!" Well, try a bottle of Shaker Blood Syrup on that child. See the poor little fellow pick up strength. He revives. He will live. Hosts of other children have been brought almost from death to healthy life by The Shaker Blood Syrup. Ormond & Walsh sells it.

With the further security of a British office, and for this purpose have empowered its Canadian Board to deal finally with ALL matters connected with Life Insurance without reference to head office in England.

All earnings in Canada are invested in Canadian Securities.

The popularity and prosperity of this Company in Canada is shown from the results of the past year's business, its new business having exceeded that of any other British office, being $2,154,600 in nine months, from 1st April, 1883 to 31st December, 1883.

MILLINERY OPEN...
The Carnival of ...

Spring bonnets are as sure ... spring blossoms or spring ... and though the "pomps and ... world" may have been buried ... most rigid mortifications of ... female soul vividly re-awakens ... in feminine head-gear, on the ... of millinery openings. ... past fortnight these vernal displays have absorbed the attention of the gentler sex, and the displays of the merchants have been worthy of the praise and admiration of their hosts of visitors. Among the openings we have not noticed we will begin with whose opening was a decided success in every way. Both days witnessed crowds of visitors, who were delighted with the fine display made. A feature of Mr. Turnbull's display was that there was not a "pattern bonnet" to be seen. Miss Irons, his milliner, is a living exemplification of the fact that milliners are born, not made. She has a natural taste in trimming, and a tint from a rainbow is enough to enable her to embody her ideas in lace, plumes, ribbons and flowers in the most captivating form. The bonnets and hats produced by Miss Irons are models of neatness and taste. All the hats shown were made on the premises, and were within the reach of every customer. None were made for mere show; all were made to please and sell. Customers are, therefore, sure of getting what they order, and being satisfied with it. There is a full stock of the latest shapes, as well as the most fashionable materials and shades, and no customer need visit the establishment and be disappointed, whether she needs the plainest and most inexpensive, or the most fashionable and elaborate hat or bonnet.

In the mantle department, so great is the satisfaction given with the work, that one young lady is kept busy with cutting alone; and, always making a first-class fit, and being assisted by a competent staff of workwomen, it is natural that this department should be thronged with orders, and invariably give the most complete satisfaction. An abundant supply of mantle materials and trimmings, in the most fashionable fabrics, especially commends Mr. Turnbull's mantle department to the public patronage. His general stock of dress and fancy goods is very complete in all the leading shades and varieties. His stock of staples, and of goods especially adapted to the country trade, is uncommonly complete.

millinery show room this season presented a delightful appearance. The walls were gorgeously and tastefully festooned, on one side, with lustrous loopings of ribbons intermingled with laces; on the opposite with lace hangings adorned with clusters of flowers and plumes, while from the ceilings hung pendent parasols embossed with gorgeous masses of flowers. The room has been newly fitted up and laid with new carpets. The tables formerly occupying the central space, have been ranged along the wall and laden with trimming materials, etc., while their places have been supplied by tripods supporting iron rods and on these rested the hats and bonnets. So that the visitor moved amongst groves of beautiful hats and bonnets, free to admire them on every side without trouble. And they were well worthy of admiration, for the display of this season was the best of the many fine ones made by this house. In bonnets the shapes are generally small, while high crowned hats (the Rhona, and Fascination being leading shapes) are in favour. A novelty is the Militaire, hat, a dainty modification of the "shako" once, alas, worn by our volunteers. The favourite shades for trimmings are grays and browns in new tints. Plumes, clusters of flowers, pompons and aigrettes are the forms taken for ornaments. The beautifully trimmed hats and bonnets were greatly admired by the crowds that visited the rooms on Wednesday and Thursday, and the sincerity of their admiration was shown by the liberal orders which, contrary to the usual course, resulted from the opening days. Miss Winter, who presides here, is certainly worthy of great credit for the beautiful display made and for the success of the opening days in her department. There must not be overlooked the fine stock of children's hats and bonnets, and a fine show case of widow's bonnets and caps.

The general stock of goods is more than usually complete, and a word of praise is due to the fine decorative display made in the dressing of the windows.

MESSRS. HALL, INNES AND CO.

The millinery opening of this firm was characteristic. The beautiful and elaborate display of exceptionally excellent hats and bonnets, while, answering all the demands of fashion and the fancy for change, bore the "hall mark" (no pun intended) of substantial excellence, that marks every thing offered for sale in every department. There is no meretricious attempts at display, but such a reputation has been gained by the firm that the simple exposure of an article for sale is a sufficient guarantee of its being of the best and to be depended on. The rooms were neatly, but elaborately draped with a choice display of lace curtains, lambrequins, and trimming materials, among which plumes, ribbons, bows, etc., occupied a conspicuous place. An immense stock of shapes gave an unlimited range of selection. A fine glass case of mourning millinery excited great admiration. A very fine line of ornamental buttons and mantles added to the completeness of the exhibits. The rooms were thronged with visitors on opening days, and the large staff of milliners will require some time to overtake the orders that resulted therefrom from the millinery opening. Every department of this establishment is replete with the choicest stock of goods, in keeping with its commercial pretensions and reputation—the best that has ever laden their shelves.

MESSRS. FAIRWEATHER AND CO.

The spring millinery opening of this firm was a very gratifying success. There was a large attendance of well pleased customers, who were not sparing in the expressions of praise they bestowed on the fine display of beautiful hats and bonnets which the show rooms contained. The rooms were beautifully decorated, chandelier, especially, being wreathed in festoons of gorgeous flowers. On one side of the room extended a glass show case, and this was a neatly arranged stock of millinery trimmings—laces, ... etc. Much praise was bestowed on the extremely good taste that marked the ... hats and bonnets. ... upon no lack of the latest shapes in ... but boasting a full complement of ... millinery trimmings in the most ... shades and materials were on hand, while a capable staff of milliners are kept employed to mould these various ... according to the wishes of customers and the demands of fashion. ... Connected with the millinery, is the mantle department, which is fully stocked with the latest materials in all styles. Both these departments are under the charge of Miss Elliott, whose taste and skill, together with her agreeable bearing and pleasant manner of transacting business, have made her a favorite with the customers of this establishment. The millinery show rooms have been recently provided with gas fixtures, and they will be kept open till eight o'clock in the evenings.

The other departments of Messrs. Fairweather & Co.'s store have been fully stocked throughout with new and seasonable goods, among which black silks and black cashmeres are specially commended to public attention, as well as Ottoman cords, all of which are offered at prices that cannot but suit customers.

MISS ARMSTRONG,

though not making any set display or announcing any opening day, is, nevertheless, abundantly prepared, at her establishment on George street, for an extensive spring trade in millinery. Her stock, which is unusually complete, embraces full lines in Canadian hats and bonnets, trimmed and untrimmed, besides children's hats and everything that can meet in the way of taste, style, fashion and excellence of material, public demand for this class of goods. In trimming materials an exceedingly full stock will be found, with a specially fine line of plumes, which Miss Armstrong can well afford to call attention to and challenge comparison. Mantles of all descriptions are made to order, and a full stock of mantle silks, trimmings, laces, fringes, gimps, etc., can be supplied. Her stock also includes a fine lot of ties, embroideries, hosiery, gloves, parasols, etc., in fact her shop is a complete ladies' furnishing establishment, where anything required for ladies' wear can be obtained at reasonable prices in the latest and most fashionable styles.

MESSRS. FAIR AND VANEVERY.

The Golden Lion signalized its entrance into the millinery, mantle and dress making business by a magnificent exhibit in these lines. The proprietors are gentlemen of ta-ste and enterprise, of which abundant evidence was afforded by a visit to their establishment. The shop has been beautifully refitted, repainted and papered and is now one of the most convenient, handsome and stylish shops in all its departments to be found outside the cities. The office at the head of the landing of the broad stairs has been removed and the space converted into a ladies' reception room and show room for mantles and costumes. An alcove is screened off to serve as a "fitting" room for lady customers, and the walls and floors have been elegantly papered and carpeted. The stairs, which sweep to the right and left from this landing, lead to the millinery rooms, also fitted up in excellent style, the second floor space on each side of the spacious well of the staircase, forming a sort of gallery. The millinery room is well lighted by a sky light.

The view on entering the shop doors on opening day was delightful; both sides of the shop were hung with laces and at intervals lace curtains looped back on each side, drooped in filmy folds, from ceiling to counter. Looking through this snowy archway, the vista was closed by the large pier glass, in the ladies' reception room, which was placed at such an angle that the millinery rooms opposite, on the second floor, with their gorgeous trophies of flowers, plumes and bright hued ribbons, their beautiful bonnets and hats, were faithfully reflected, producing an exquisitely fine effect. Ascending the stairs, the visitor found the stair railings on each side swathed with the creamy folds of fine Guipure lace, and on the sides of the landing were shown a beautiful assortment of table covers in charming designs. The walls of the galleries, before mentioned, were adorned, on one side, with a rich exhibit of fine and costly real lace and satins, and the opposite held a grand display of chenille and real lace fichus and millinery trimmings. The railing of the staircase well has been provided with shelving, on which are shown hat and bonnet shapes, and stands of plumes, flowers, pompons, etc., etc.

The show of millinery cannot be particularized, yet some idea may be formed of the excellence of the taste and skill of Miss Choquette, who has charge of this department, by the fact that our reporter, who, by the way, is pretty well au fait in millinery during the opening season, was, when confronted with a French pattern bonnet or hat and one trimmed in the establishment, unable to tell "which was which." The display of millinery was very fine and well deserved the praise which visitors bestowed on it.

The mantle room, in charge of Miss Martin, contained a fine variety of most stylish mantles, shoulder mantlet—a new wrinkle—and costumes, all put together in the most artistic styles. Here were also shown pieces of brocaded silk velvets, plush and Ottoman cords, brocaded silk velvet grenadines, a stylish new line of figured satins, and samples of a large stock of jerseys, etc., etc.

Space will not allow us to particularize, but enough has been said to show that this firm are thoroughly acquainted with their business, and that the spring millinery and mantle opening of Messrs. Fair & VanEvery was an immense success.

MRS. BROWN,

in her shop on George street, has on hand a very complete and select stock of spring millinery and other allied goods. Her establishment is noted for excellent and tasty work, performed by a well-qualified staff of milliners, and in every respect she is well-prepared for meeting the demands of her numerous customers, who have in the past been so satisfactorily served in her line of business.

Mountains of Easter Meats.

It is quite in order to compliment the butchers of this town on their exceptionally fine display of meats for Easter, made by them last Saturday. Not only were the displays large, but the quality of the meat was superior—as Hamlet says: "solid flesh" from but tender, juicy, pleasantly marbled—an appetizing morsel of palatable fat and unadulterated muscle.

MR. HARRY WRENCH,

at his market stall, delighted the public with a show of meat, shared even if the first-class collection he always gathers together. His stock was not large in display, but the quality of the meat more than made up for that. His ribs was quality, not quantity, and he succeeded to a marvel. His shop was greatly admired, for the tempting appearance of the neatly arranged meats was heightened by elaborate ornamentation of rosettes, flowers, flags, etc., etc.

MR. F. LAPLANTE,

opposite, was well up to the mark with a generous display of excellent meats, also beautifully decorated. His stall attracted many visitors, and was much admired.

MR. JAMES HOWDEN

excelled himself this year in all regards. His meat market, opposite the Post office, was a bower of beauty. Evergreen shrubs were planted in front of the shop, which was profusely and tastefully decorated. He had an immense stock of Easter meats of the best quality, which disappeared like snow in an April sun, under the orders of his delighted customers. His display was a most creditable one.

MR. ROBERT WAINWRIGHT,

at his shop, corner of George and Murray streets, made entire preparation for the occasion. His supply of meats was very fine, arranged with good taste and handsomely decorated. His meats were as good, in fact, than an average, but his delivery was not good enough, therefore, he put on the route a splendid new meat express, gaily decorated with Union Jacks and drawn by a span of spirited grays, also decked with flags. The wagon is a beautiful piece of work, from the well-known establishment of Lockhart & Chown. It was finely painted and finished by Mr. John Gibbs, Mr. J. N. Watson, however, doing the decorative painting and gilding. The wagon also featured excellently painted heads of cattle, a butter plate of fine art work than many a gilt-framed oil painting on drawing room walls.

HOWARD & THOMPSON,

a little further north on George street, also made a very creditable show of Easter meats. Their supply was large, their meats well arranged and their shop neatly decorated.

MR. JOHN MERVIN,

corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets, successor to Mr. Wm. Denoon, fully sustained the reputation of the place by a very fine display of first-class meats, which were very satisfactory to his numerous customers.

MR. ARTHUR WHITE,

corner of Aylmer and Simcoe streets, did not lay himself out for a mere display. He devoted his attention solely to supplying a first-class quality of meat, and his customers have every reason to be pleased with the superior Easter bill of fare provided by Mr. White.

MR. M. O'BRIEN,

corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets, though not long established here, has worked up a thriving business. His Easter display shows that he understands the needs of customers. He had an excellent stock of neatly dressed and tastefully decorated meats of a superior quality.

Taken altogether, the Easter provision made by our butchers was the best ever made. An increased attention to the raising of fine bred stock by our farmers and a lively rivalry between the members of the butchers' guild, leads to supplying the public with an article of butchers' meat which cannot be surpassed in any market in Ontario.

IN CHANCERY.

The remaining hearings held at the spring sittings were as follows:

BAYSON VS. O. & Q. RAILWAY.—An action to compel the Railway Company to arbitrate as to the damages due the plaintiff for land taken by the Company. The defence was that the Company secured a contract from Mrs. Bryson during her husband's absence from the country, the contract to be subject to the husband's approval. The case raised the right of a married woman to make such a contract. Judgment reserved. Messrs. D. W. Dumble and Charles Moss, Q.C., for plaintiff; Messrs. Blackstock and Greer for defendants.

EDWARDS VS. O. & Q. RAILWAY.—An action for trespass, and to compel the Company to arbitrate as to the price to be paid for the land taken by the Company. The sum of $15 was allowed plaintiff for the trespass, and an injunction granted to restrain the Company from using the portion of land not used as a roadway, and another injunction, to take effect in three months, to restrain the Company from using the land, the amount of compensation to be decided on by arbitration. Messrs. K. B. Edwards and Moss, Q.C., for defendants.

The action of McDonald vs. McDonald was dismissed. Mr. Edmison for plaintiff; Messrs. Dumble & Heary for defendant.

Mrs. A. Nelson, Brantford, writes: "I was a sufferer from Chronic Dyspepsia for eleven years. Always after eating, an intense burning sensation in the stomach, at times very distressing; caused a drooping and languid feeling, which would last for several hours after eating. I was recommended by Mr. Popplewell, Chemist, of our city, to try Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, and I am thankful to say that I have not been better for years; that burning sensation and languid feeling has all gone, and food does not lie heavy on my stomach. Others of my family have used it with best results."

NOCTURNAL BRAWLERS.

To the Editor of the EXAMINER:

SIR,—It is about time our police committee took steps to put a stop to the disgraceful conduct of bands of roughs who frequently disturb the neighborhood in the vicinity of the M. R. station. The hooting and hollaing to and from the station on Tuesday night last was perfectly outrageous, and it is high time a halt was done to put a stop to it. Citizens do not object to this sort of amusement when it is repeated at many times. Those who want rest should not be compelled to lose it to all hours of the night. The Midland Q. B. Athletic cricket to organize also have not reason why part of their station was lighted up, which may be their rule, but the public have reason to howl at such a thing about it. The committee of the town are respectfully urged to look after these disturbances.

PETERBOROUGH, APRIL 17, 1884

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

THURSDAY.

A most extraordinary scene was enacted in the Senate to-day and after Mr. Macpherson's exhibition and the orgies of last night it cannot surely be asserted that the Bunting-Wilkinson bribery brigade have been acting without authority or approval of the Dominion Government. To-day the Senate went in to committee on the bill to create registration districts in the North-West and provide for the appointment of registrars thereof, when Mr. Power took occasion to point out that Mr. Macpherson by his letter to Wilkinson had actually undertaken to appoint a register at Edmonton before the Government had power to make any such appointment. He hoped the Minister of the Interior would be more carful in the future. Mr. Power's tone was very moderate, and his remarks appropriate, so that nobody anticipated such a scene as that which followed. Mr. Macpherson rose and after thanking the Senator for giving him an opportunity of making an explanation, he broke into a torrent of

THE VILEST ABUSE

against Mr. Mowat and the members of the Ontario Government, as well as every person concerned in unearthing the Bunting-Wilkinson conspiracy. The Minister lost his head completely, and raved like a madman. His antics became so ludicrous that some Senators laughed, which caused him to grow even more furious. The language used towards members of the Ontario Government was so foul that as soon as he had concluded, Sir Alex. Campbell went to the official reporter's desk, and requested that the report of this debate should not be published until it had been revised by the Government. What a nice state of affairs! The official report of the proceedings of Parliament must be suppressed or mutilated in order to conceal Mr. Macpherson's ruffianism. In the course of his tirade he made an infamous attack upon the memory of the late Chief Justice Wood, charging him with accepting a bribe and disgracing the Bench. Mr. Mowat and his colleagues were denounced as "conspirators who abused their positions to plan against and destroy the reputations of members of the Dominion Government" Repeated efforts were made to have called to order, but the Chairman, Senator Archibald either through fear or partizanship declined to interfere. After Mr. Macpherson's fury and abuse had been exhausted, Mr. Plumb took the floor and talked in such a knowing way that it appeared as if he was intimately acquainted with all the arrangements of Wilkinson & Co. to purchase members of the Ontario Legislature. Mr. Macpherson then resumed his speech, his rage being such that he talked the most utter nonsense. Then Mr. Carvell took a hand in and this gentleman seemed anxious to vent his spleen against the whole Reform party because some members of the House of Commons last night forced Sir John Macdonald to make provision that the $30,000 granted as a refund of duty collected upon fish by the United States Government, should go to the creditors of merchants who exported fish, and to the fishermen who really paid duty. It is not suprising that Mr Carvell feels chagrined at finding his little game spoiled. After a few remarks from Hon. Mr. Scott, Mr. Power closed the debate in a firm, but temperate speech, in which he expressed regret at

THE ENRAGED MINISTER

THE CONDUCT OF THE MINISTER

of the Interior, and pointed out the truth of his remark that Mr. Macpherson had no power to recommend Wilkinson's appointment of registrar at Edmonton when he attempted to do so. The scene will be memorable in the history of the Senate. It is regretted that in the course of his speech at dinner last night Mr. Plumb expressed the hope that Bunting, Wilkinson, & Co., would persevere in the course they had taken until success crowned their efforts.

FRIDAY.

THE CALLENDER GRAVENHURST ROAD.

Messrs. Barker and Hendrie, of the Northern Railway, are still here, and it is stated that all the arrangements for the construction of the Callender-Gravenhurst road by that company have been completed,

THE RAILWAY SUBSIDY RESOLUTIONS.

The conduct of the Ministry to-night when the railway subsidy resolutions were under discussion was simply shameful. In no case could the Minister of Railways give any satisfactory information about the railway lines which it was proposed to subsidize neither could he state that there was any great prospect of the lines being finished without further aid. In many instances the statements made by him differed materially from those made by the various railways companies in the documents laid before the House. The Quebec Conservatives now fully understand how little reliance is to be placed upon Mr. John Henderson's promises. He has [illegible] on the railway and the Hennes question, and to-night Messrs. Houde, Ouimet, and Amyot told him so. Mr. Houde pointed out what must be apparent to every thinking person—that nearly all the subsidies were mere illusory bribes, for probably not one-tenth of the money voted would ever be applied for. Then a branch of the Intercolonial twenty miles long is to be built from the Intercolonial to Paspediac at a cost of $15,000 per mile. This is a scandalous job. $300,000 of public money will be spent in building twenty miles of useless railway.

THE GRAND TRUNK BILL.

The latest sensation is Sir John Macdonald's proposal to amend the Grand Trunk Railway Bill, which has already been passed, but not yet assented to. Notwithstanding that Sir Charles Tupper and Mr. Dalton McCarthy declared yesterday that Mr. Mitchell's opinion as to the effect of the amendments made by the Senate to the bill in question was wholly erroneous, and the purpose of the measure was in no way affected, Sir John Macdonald purposes to restore the words that were struck out by the Senate. Sir John's experience, it seems, leads him to put very little confidence in Mr. McCarthy's opinions and, at the bidding of the Pacific Syndicate another attempt is going to be made to emasculate the Grand Trunk Bill and possibly delay or prevent the double tracking of that Company's line between Toronto and Montreal.

THE RAILWAY RESOLUTIONS,

The Ontario Tories are sorely puzzled over the amendments to the Government railway resolutions moved by Mr. Blake last night. Some including it is said Messrs. Hesson and Burnham, have left for home in order to avoid the vote. Mr. Blake's speech was a magnificent effort. His argument was powerful and his reasoning close and sound. The policy of recouping Quebec for railway expenditures while ignoring the claims of all the other provinces is simply in fulfillment of a bargain made by Sir John Macdonald under great "constitutional pressure." Nobody can deny that the system of subsidizing local railways by the Dominion Government is vicious and destructive of everything pertaining to public morality. The Ontario Tories are quite willing to sacrifice the interests of their own Province on every occasion. They are willing to let Quebec have everything, but fear that if they vote against the proposition to enquire into the claims of Ontario and the other Provinces "It will look bad, you know," and may possibly damage their chances of re-election. The average Tory member of Parliament is just now in a very awkward predicament. He is forced to acknowledge that Mr. Blake is an honest and an able man, and that the policy of the Reform party is sound and just, while Sir John Macdonald is a trickster who is willing to adopt any scheme to keep himself in office. Yet the poor Tory with a full knowledge of all this must vote for Sir John.

Every observer who walks the streets of a great city, and scans with intelligent eye the colorless faces of more than fifty per cent of the people he meets, can easily agree with us in the statement, that this age, which makes such drafts upon the working energies of the greater part of men in the intense pursuit of business, has destroyed in a proportionate degree the animal health and robust constitution. Nature, in this stage of exhaustion, cannot be restored of itself, but requires some stimulating tonic, to strengthen and keep the system in regular order, and in Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine we have the exact remedy required. The peculiar operation of this medicine, in cases of general debility and nervous prostration, has undergone long and careful observation, and it is believed it will never fail, if properly and judiciously administered. Prepared by Northrop & Lyman, Toronto, and sold by all druggists.

HOW SHIELDS AND HIS FRIENDS ARE RECOUPED.

The sum to be paid by Government upon the claim for alleged breach of contract in connection with section B is $395,-600, while for remeasurement Messrs Shields & Co are to receive $67,000; for remeasurement and for extra work, $180,-000—making in all $642,600, besides costs of arbitration, which will amount to over $12,000 more. It is only a few days since Sir Charles Tupper stated that the Government would not have to pay anything on account of breach of contract claim; in the House of Commons on the 21st March, Sir Charles, in reply to a question put by Mr. Casey, said: An award has been made giving the contractors $45,000 over and above what the chief engineer was willing to allow. I do not anticipate that they will be allowed anything for the claim now being considered. Further on Sir Charles stated that the vote then being asked ($165,000) would settle finally all claims arising out of the section B contract. The High Commissioner was either grossly ignorant of the business of his department, or else he was deliberately endeavoring to mislead and deceive the House of Commons into voting money to cover his jobbery.

IRELAND vs. ITALY.

KNOCK DOWN OF NAVVIES.

A big fight took place at St. Thomas Ont. on Friday afternoon between a gang of Italians and Irish laborers employed on the Canada Southern Railway. There were about sixty in each gang

The Irishmen did not like the Italians and made an attack on them, but the Italians proved to much for them and beat them back. After a short time the Irishmen again renewed the fight. A large force of police were called, who with the assistance of some citizens, succeeded in stopping the fight.

Spades and stones were freely used. Several on both sides were severely injured.

CINCINNATTI SOCIETY.

They have a Society there that meets every Sunday night to hear speeches in favor of universal murder with dynamite. They have a colony of the men who tried to burn the city of Paris. They have Most and Schwab and an army of their adherents. They have perhaps one hundred thousand men who would contemplate the burning of the city as a noble sacrifice on the altar of their principles.

It is a remarkable fact that Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil is as good for internal as external use. For disease of the lungs and throat, and for rheumatism, neuralgia, crick in the back, wounds and sores, it is the best known remedy, and much trouble is saved by having it always on hand.

Jacob Louckman, Buffalo, says he has been using it for rheumatism. He had such a lame back that he could do nothing; but one bottle entirely cured him.

HELPING MOTHER.

"Is your sister at home?" asked a St. Louis gentleman of the little brother who answered the bell.

"Yes, she's home," said the boy; "we're goin' to have cocoanut pies for dinner to-morrow, and she's out in the kitchen helpin' mother to make 'em."

"Indeed," replied the young man, evidently very much pleased, what part of the pies does your sister make?"

"She cracks the cocoanuts with her teeth."

BRANDON, Man., Jan. 17, 1884.

About a year ago I was taken with a severe cold which settled on my chest and brought on bleeding of the lungs. I bled very freely and was very low. I feared it would ultimately turn into consumption. Consulted a number of physicians, and used a number of so-called cough remedies and lung pads but all to no avail until I saw a notice of Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Cherry Balsam in a paper. Although a forlorn hope I purchased a bottle, and to my surprise found it doing me good. I persevered in its use and am now completely cured. Please publish this that others may be saved.

Yours truly. J. A. PERLEY

The Cream of Occurrences Skimmed from Contemporary Columns.

EMILY.

The marriage of Mr. Wm. Switzer and Miss Lizzie A. Storey took place on Tuesday evening, March 25th, at the residence of the bride's father, David Storey, Esq., of Emily. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. C. Wilson. The wedding was conducted in good style, an excellent tea was provided and a most enjoyable time experienced by all present. The bride received a very fine assortment of rich presents from her numerous friends and relations. Both bride and groom are well-known and highly respected.

OPE.

Mr. James Mawhey, of Ope, when the lately-last fall built his stock took up a heap of straw, and one of his hogs being in the straw at the time was covered over. This was in the beginning of November. In March, when feeding some straw, they came on his pigship, still alive, but very lean. The attention of Mr. J. Carnegie, of Peterborough, who is a well-known experimentalist in agriculture matters, is called, by the Post, to this economical method of wintering stock, and in hopes that Mr. Carnegie may bring the facts before the attention of his confreres of the ancient Provincial Society of Ag. and Arts.

CAVAN.

Miss Lilian Shears, of 40 summers, according to a press despatch is bringing an action against one Storey, of Cavan Township, for breach of promise of marriage. She alleges a promise of marriage in 1877 and says she would not have instituted proceedings against Storey had he not slandered her at a wedding in Prince Edward by reporting that the people had threatened to "ride her on a rail" and "drum her out of the village of Ballelaire." She deplores the fact that he was corresponding with another young lady while professing love and constancy to her. Storey claims he only met the plaintiff once. He never promised marriage and he positively denies having used the slanderous words imputed to him.

PORT HOPE.

This village suffered severely by the spring freshets.

Over 400 copies of the Saved Army song book were sold on the street and in the Music Hall on Saturday last.

A. Wright, for many years foreman in the Midland Railway shop, Port Hope, was presented with an address and a valuable gold watch and chain last Monday by his fellow-workmen, on the occasion of his leaving to go into business in Belleville.

The St. George's Hotel flag-pole was blown down Saturday by the very severe gale which prevailed during the afternoon. It fell across the street and broke the telephone wires which ran along on the opposite side.

LINDSAY.

Mr. Smithson was unanimously reelected warden of Victoria at the meeting of the county council yesterday.

William st. from Kent street to the station was during the early days of the week a perfect quagmire. Lindsay has something at last to boast of.

The employees and clerk in the various stores in town have in preparation a petition asking that the dry-goods stores be closed a six o'clock in the evening and groceries at seven o'clock.

Messrs Spicer and White of the G.T.R. were in Lindsay on Tuesday, and, in company with a number of the town council, inspected the line shops and round house at this point.

On Thursday evening of last week the members of the Bible Christian church in Lindsay waited on the organist, Miss S. Dark, and presented the young lady with a handsome china tea set in recognition of her services, accompanied by an appropriate address. The presentation took place at Miss Dark's home, where the party were hospitably entertained.

A blind man who was marching in the ranks of the Salvation Army on Tuesday night was struck by a stone, thrown at the procession while passing along William street. Such ruffianly conduct must be stopped, and the matter will, no doubt, be attended to in the Police Court.

ASPHODEL.

The Register learns that Mr. S. Scott's residence, Asphodel, was partially destroyed by fire on Monday last. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The union in marriage of Mr. Thomas Beckett, youngest daughter of Hugh Beckett, Esq., of Asphodel, and Miss E. Campbell, of Cavendish, took place last Thursday. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Carmichael, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Norwood. The happy couple left on the afternoon train for Toronto. We wish them a long life of unalloyed happiness.

There is, says the Register, a general and profound sympathy for Mr. J. Wildman, of Asphodel, in the irreparable loss sustained by the death of his wife last Saturday morning. Mrs. Wildman was a consistent member of the Methodist Church, Norwood, and was highly esteemed by all who knew her. Her early death will be mourned by a large circle. The remains were followed to the cemetery on Monday last by a vast concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives.

ASPHODEL.

While Mr. Thomas Henderson of this village was felling a tree east of the village on Saturday last he had three of the ribs on his left side broken. After chopping through the tree he stepped to one side and the falling tree, striking a low stump, bounded up giving Mr. Henderson a hard rap, with the above serious results.

A meeting was held in the village hall for the purpose of taking steps with reference to securing better station accommodation for this village. The following gentleman Dr. Norris, C. Laidly, S. English, J. McNeely, W. Neill, and Thos. Stephenson, were appointed to draw up a memorial to the general manager of the Midland.

FOR MANITOBA.—On Wednesday last a number of persons from Emily left for different parts of the North-West. We are unable to give their names. A large party will leave again in a few days.

The evangelical meetings which have been so successfully conducted by Mr. G. H. Marsh in Bradburn's Hall for some time past, will be continued in Christ church every night this week and next, by Rev. Dr Smithett.

Harlyon Fidler, one morning last week, was a portion of the bridge which crosses the river in front of the mills was washed away, caused no doubt by the great pressure of water and being struck by ice or a log. The great rush of water being the result of the dam giving way a few days before, and Stevenson's mill is idle on account of low water.

BOBCAYGEON.

Mr. W. Kennedy has completed the new breast-work along the canal bank. It is a first-class job, and a great improvement. It will also make a comfortable promenade to the bath house in the summer.

The steamers are preparing for the opening of navigation. The engineers are at work fitting up the engines and putting them in repair. The Bessiedage has thrown off its winter flannels, and the others will follow suit shortly.

On Thursday morning when Mr. Hurchmer came to his jewellery shop he found that it had been burglarized in the night, and nearly everything in the cases and window carried away.

Thos. C. Dunn, a peddler of jewellery and watches, was arrested on Monday morning and brought before S. W. Crabtree, J.P., charged with stealing a silver watch from J. Ross Bell, near Dunsford. He was committed for trial.

The first gang of men for the "drives" went north to-day. They were engaged by Mr. Wm. Anderson, and have gone to bring down the timber taken out in the township of Eye by the Irwin firm.

There was a report that the Quarry was about being closed, but instructions have been received to go on with the work till further notice. About fifty men have been engaged all winter, and an immense quantity of dimension stone has been obtained.

TEAMS.—A string of thirty-five shanty teams drove into the village Wednesday night, on their way home after their winter's work. They all looked in good condition and showed their hay and oats. Greater care appears to be taken of the horses than there used to be, and there is a perceptible improvement in their management.

The Independent says the advisability of beautifying "little Bob" with trees. A planting bee is suggested.

At about three o'clock on Tuesday morning, the church bell sounded the alarm of fire, when it was found that the steamer Victoria, which was in course of repairs in the canal, was enveloped in flames. The engines were brought down, but the flames had too strong a hold to permit of saving anything but the hull.

COBOURG.

The officers of the 40th Regiment will endeavor to reorganize the band the coming season.

A mare belonging to Mr. R. Winch foaled twin colts on Friday, but, unfortunately, they died soon after birth.

A gardener in town has been selling radish and lettuce of this year's growth for the past two weeks.

The prospects of a good business at the Arlington this summer are bright.

A baseball match will be played on the commons, south of the Arlington, on Good Friday, between the "Saved" and "Unsaved."

Potatoes were sold at 60c. per bag at the market Saturday.

The temperance people are confident of passing the Scott Act in these counties.

A citizen removed some snow from his flower garden on Friday, and beneath the manure which covered a bed of pansies, he found several in full bloom.

Under the auspices of the West Northumberland Agricultural Society a show of stallions will take place here on Wednesday, the 30th of this month.

The Cobourg Division S.O.T. have had their hall refurnished and carpeted with a handsome tapestry carpet, which adds very much to the pleasing appearance of the surroundings.

A fellow named Michael Hackett was arrested in Port Hope for begging. When taken to the police station and searched there was found upon him $113. He was sent to jail here. He said he had the privilege to beg, but when taken to Port Hope for sentence he could not produce any. He was fined $10 and $10.66 costs, and given six months in jail. He is from Newtonbrook, near Thornhill, where he has a house and ten acres of land. His daughter, to whom he sent the balance of the money after paying his fine, is living there and keeps a servant girl.

NORWOOD.

Work was commenced in the Norwood woollen mills last week.

Mr. Roxburgh intends building another block on Colborne street next summer.

Mr. H. Kirkpatrick is about building a dwelling house on his lot east of Wellington street.

An office has been opened out in connection with the G. & Q. Railway, in Roxburgh's block, Peterborough street.

Work had to be suspended, while the Register, in Mr. Reynolds's print shop for a couple of days last week on account of the high water.

BY HIS BACK (ACHE), we believe, accurately describes the position of the gentleman on the north side of Peterborough street west.

Mr. R. Ferguson, of Dummer, informs the Register that Mr. D. McNaughton the other day sawed, split and piled four cords of wood in 9 minutes. Next?

Mr. P. W. Reynold's has leased Roxburgh's fine brick store on the corner of Colborne and Peterborough streets, and intends moving into it about the 10th April.

Messrs. Spence and Girvan offered to manufacture the cheese for the Norwood factory at 1½c. per lb., or to manufacture cheese, draw milk, and bear all expenses in connection with the factory, except delivering the cheese to the station, for 2 cents a pound. The latter offer was accepted.

Mr. Ryan, Supt of the O. & Q. R'y., went over seven or eight miles of the line east of this place on Friday afternoon last. All over the road the work is being pressed with unusual vigor, and the unfinished portions of the line will soon be completed.

The young ladies of the village, says the Register, purpose holding a "leap year mum social" on Good Friday evening in the lecture room of the Methodist church. This social will no doubt be the affair of the season, as the young ladies interested in getting it up are determined to make it as attractive as possible. We trust the bachelors of the village will turn out in full force, and thereby show their appreciation of the advance made by the ladies.

PETERBOROUGH, APRIL 17, 1884.

Wriggling Desperately.

In proof of how grievously the Tories are chagrined over the exposure of the recent iniquitous attempt on behalf of the party to change the Government of the province, and ignore the choice and will of the people, may be cited the desperate efforts made to wriggle out of the matter. One favorite way of deflecting the directness of the blow, is the systematic attempts of the organs of the baser sort, among which our local contemporary is, of course viciously active, to blacken the character of the men whom the agents of the Tory party, Bunting, Wilkinson and Meek, strove in vain to corrupt. The guilt of these latter is so patent, that Col. Denison, the Police Magistrate of Toronto, decided that they should be put on trial as criminals for the crime with which they are charged. The trial of these "gentlemen" being so near, the spring assizes opening next Tuesday in Toronto, it is not worth while to canvass the evidence as to their guilt, but it is certainly not out of place to inquire how far Senator Macpherson is guilty with supplying Wilkinson, the political cracksman, with tools. Mr. Macpherson doubtless is inconveniently conscious of his guilt, belief in which, by others, is confirmed by his suspiciously vigorous denial of it.

In the Senate the other day the Minister of the Interior worked himself into a most absurd and undignified rage in denying that his letter to Wilkinson was anything more than a promise of the office of registrar of Edmonton to the Tory bribery agent, Big Push. If the letter simply meant what the Minister asserts, instead of "I have decided to recommend your appointment, etc.," it would have read, "I have decided to recommend you for appointment, etc.," or some other unequivocal form of expression; but to be useful to Wilkinson as a bait to lure weak-kneed Reformers, it was necessary to intimate that the person whom Wilkinson might succeed in purchasing—"your appointment"—would be entitled to the office, generously, in the interests of the party, placed at his disposal by Hon. Mr. Macpherson, Minister of the Interior. The Hon. David may bluster as he likes, the record is there in his own handwriting and it will take something more than his windy denial to convince anybody that such a carte blanche given to a man of Wilkinson's stamp, was a simple assurance to that worthy that, when he got tired of doing the dirty bribery business of the Tory party at a wage of $10 per day, he was to retire into the life sinecure of a hypothetical North-West registrarship at $3 per day. No, no. Wilkinson was sure that so long as the Tory party had dirty work to do, he was certain of ten dollars per day and probably more, and he would not carry Senator Macpherson's promise of a paltry office, that was not then created, an hour, unless he could use it as a means of bribery to promote the political fortunes of his illustrious employers.

The Brant Courier, speaking of Mr. Dwight's refusal to produce the telegrams, rejoices with this marvellous frankness: "Thus is another supposed link snapped in the convincing chain of evidence with regard to the criminality of Conservative leaders." "Anything," the Globe remarks, "which tends to prevent publicity is very welcome to the bribery brotherhood."

No Better to be Expected.

The Bunting organs and apologists, and among these, of course, the Review, with the gusto with which a crow seizes on a scrap of carrion, republished an article entitled "McKim at Home," purporting to be copied from the Berlin Telegraph, a Reform journal. As a fact the article, which was intended to injure Mr. McKim, and prejudice the case of the conspirators in their favour, while it was sub-judice, was never published by the Telegraph. The latter journal promptly denied the authorship of it, but the Tory journals, who mendaciously published it, have not had the meanness to retract their implied libel, nor publish the Telegraph's denial. The libelled journal, in denying that the article in question never appeared in its columns, adds:

"It is quite true that Mr. McKim, like many other honest men in the ranks of both political parties, has been unsuccessful in business, but it cannot be shown that he was ever guilty of a dishonest or disreputable act; and the charges which the editor of the Palmerston Telegraph made against Mr. McKim he was compelled to withdraw and apologize for as being untrue. The Conservative press seem suddenly to have discovered that Mr. McKim is a bad man. This was not their opinion of him until the bribery plot exploded. Previous to that he was considered worthy of a Registrarship by Messrs. Wilkinson and Bunting, and no doubt would have got it had he been base enough to have accepted the proffered bribe, and betray his party; but, having exposed their infamous conspiracy, the Tory press assail him in the most scandalous manner. If the infamous bribers have no better defence for their conduct than attempting to traduce the characters of Mr. McKim and the other members of Parliament, who have so successfully exposed their deed of corruption, they had better remain silent till their trial takes place, and then throw themselves on the mercy of the court and jury."

No better course is to be expected of a class of journalists that have attempted to justify and condone the monstrous crime for which the Tory conspirators have been committed for trial. They have shown all along that they consider that any crime, however base and black, becomes venial, if not a virtue, when it is committed for the purpose of promoting the success of the villainous schemes of the Tory party. This is the secret of their malignant and persistent attempts to blacken, with the foulest slander, the names of men who nobly performed the duty of unmasking the operations of the Tory bribers and conspirators.

White and Grey Cottons sold at fully 10 per cent below the cost of production, at Hall, Innes & Co.'s. 14-3t

The True Tory Way.

The inspiration of Mr. Dalton McCarthy results in the following allusion by his organ, the Collingwood Messenger, to the decision of the Privy Council in the Rivers and Streams case. His organ says:

"The Privy Council gave decision on the appeal case of McLaren v. Caldwell, on Monday, in favour of Caldwell, with costs. This is the case which Mr. Mowat attempted to decide by passing the Rivers and Streams Bill in favour of Caldwell. The decision is a surprise partly to us, and we are forced to the sad conclusion that the Privy Council is a corrupt and effete institution, whose decision should be disallowed."

This is Tory loyalty every time. British connection and loyalty to British institutions are the subject of a great deal of Tory rant, but they are both easily subordinated in importance to party schemes. When they interfere with the schemes of the party they are easily flung aside. Witness the Mail's flippant insult—"so much the worse for British connection," and now Mr. McCarthy's organ's utterances. If a Reform journal should indulge in such coarse and irreverent insults to British institutions, there would be a chorus of Tory howls, loud as the ululations of Pandemonium, from the bay-dog of the Mail to the commonest journalistic cur in the Dominion.

Upward and Onward.

We are particularly pleased to note the latest evidence of the prosperity of that really live and wide-awake journal, the London Advertiser. On Saturday last the Tiser came out in a "spick and span" new suit of type and in an eight page form. This journal is one of the best conducted and most readable in Ontario. Its news departments are managed in such a way that the latest news are presented to the reader in a crisp, concise and, so to speak, palatable form, while its editorial columns are characterised by an ability, sprightliness and vigor truly refreshing. It is shrewd, fearless and incisive in its comments on current political topics. It is essentially the people's paper, and is conducted in a spirit of true political liberalism. It has a wide circulation and in its mission, it performs a great good to the public. We congratulate our contemporary on its latest enterprise, and feel that we incur little risk of failure in predicting an abundant reward, in the form of increasing circulation and patronage and a continuously widening field of journalistic usefulness.

Sir John Macdonald is put forward by his admirers as a paragon of statesmanship—the "greatest statesman living." He is also credited by the same impartial authorities with being the ablest "constitutional lawyer" living. As to his claim to being a statesman, his greatest acts have been measures stolen from Reformers and wrung out of him by his opponents, and his greatest successes have been secured by trickery that would discredit the reputation of a Jew slop-seller. His "constitutional" law has been very severely and uncermonously knocked into a cocked hat. Within a year his contentions on constitutional questions have been four times set aside by the Privy Council, while the positions taken by Hon. Mr. Mowat in opposition to him, have been sustained by the same supreme authority. The four cases alluded to are the Insurance case, the Mercer Escheat case, the Hodge license case, and the Rivers and Streams Bill.

EASTER SUNDAY.

How the Several Churches Observed the Memorable Day.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

The Easter services were, in all ways, worthy in solemnity and impressiveness of the great occasion. At both morning and evening services there was a very large attendance, in the evening, especially, when the aisles were filled with seats from the school room, and even the porch was filled with worshippers and hearers.

The church was decorated for the occasion, the chancel and communion table being made extremely beautiful by masses of blooming flowers.

The musical services of the morning were indescribably beautiful. A full choir rendered the joyous and stirring hymns in a surprisingly effective manner; the chants, which were all Anglican, were characterised by equal excellence of execution. Mr. Ewing's voluntary, "Silver Trumpets," was sublime, and its clarion tones were admirably re-produced by the organ under his skilful manipulations. The sacrament of the Holy Communion was administered by Rev. Mr. Beck and Rev. Mr. Clementi to a large number. In the evening the music was again exceedingly grand. The chants were sung to Parisian tones harmonized. The anthem was the music and the Anglicised version of the words of Mozart's Twelfth mass, entitled, "Glorious is thy Name," and the melodious strains poured forth by the full voiced choir, filled the sacred edifice with tuneful exultation and thanksgiving for Christ's triumph over the grave. The offertory voluntary was the "Priest's March," from Mendelssohn's Athalie, and the closing voluntary, the "Hallelujah Chorus." Both were performed with the peculiar excellence that marks Mr. Ewing's organ renditions.

ST. PAUL'S.

The Communion Sunday of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, falling on Easter day, the services were particularly interesting. Rev. Mr. Torrance preached the sermon, and Rev. Mr. Little, of Bowmanville, and Rev. Dr. Reid, of Toronto, delivered appropriate addresses. The Communion had its essential solemnity deepened by the circumstances—it being the last to be celebrated in the present church building; and many of the elder members, who had knelt regularly at the Lord's table for over a quarter of a century, could not prevent a certain feeling of sadness mingling with the devotions of the hour, as memory recalled the by-gone communions at the same table, of kindred spirits, passed before them to the endless enjoyment of the Heavenly communion.

ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.

The services were marked by the peculiar grandeur and solemn pomp characteristic of great occasions in the Roman Catholic Church. The high altar was brilliant with the blaze of candles and bright with the hues of flowers, and worshippers filled the building to overflowing. Rev. Father Keating celebrated mass at 7 o'clock, His Lordship, Bishop Jamot, and Rev. Father Conway at 10 o'clock, and in the evening His Lordship said vespers in full canonicals. The choir rendered the musical portion of the services in an excellent manner.

THE METHODIST CHURCHES.

In both the Charlotte and George street Methodist Churches the day was duly recognised and the music and anthems performed, had special reference to the day. Rev. Mr. Shaw preached the sermon in the morning and Rev. Mr. Manning in the evening. The music supplied by the choir of the Charlotte Street Church in the evening was exceedingly good, and the duet by Mrs. Chambers and Mr. Porteous worthy of great praise.

EASTER VESTRIES.

ST. LUKE'S.

The annual Easter vestry of St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, was held on Monday evening, the 14th inst. The Incumben, Rev. W. C. Bradshaw occupied the chair, and the attendance of the leading members of the church was very good.

After the usual opening prayer, the Churchwardens, Messrs. John Burnham and H. T. Strickland, presented their annual report and statement of accounts. These showed the finances to be in a healthy state, the remaining indebtedness on the parsonage having been provided for, and the parish being now free from debt.

Interesting reports were read, one on Sunday School affairs, and also one giving a brief resume of the leading parochial wants, and a summary of work accomplished by the Incumbent during the year. These were ordered to be published.

Mr. J. Burnham, M.P., was nominated Churchwarden by the Incumbent, and Mr. H. T. Strickland was elected people's Churchwarden.

After the usual votes of thanks to the officials of the church, the organist and choir, &c., the meeting adjourned.

Subsequently Messrs. H. T. Strickland and Richard Meade were elected Lay Delegates to Synod.

During the evening it was announced that a friend had offered $1,500 towards the endowment of the parish, on condition that the congregation should contribute $500 for the same purpose within a year.

ST. JOHN'S.

The annual Easter vestry of St. John's Church, Peterborough, was held on Easter Monday evening, April 14th. Rev. J. W. R. Beck, rector, occupied the chair. After the usual devotions, the financial statement was presented by Mr. A. P. Poussette, churchwarden, and the showing was very satisfactory. The receipts amounted to $2,062.65, and the expenditure to $1,520.22, leaving a handsome surplus of over $500.

The election of office-bearers resulted in the re-election of those of last year, Dr. Burnham being named the rector's churchwarden, and Mr. A. P. Poussette being the people's choice. The sidesmen, re-elected, were Messrs. C. H. Sheffield, W. E. Sherwood, W. English, Harry Long, F. J. Jamieson. Messrs. C. H. Sheffield, W. E. Sherwood and R. A. Morrow were appointed the financial committee. Mr. J. E. Belcher and Dr. Burnham were appointed lay delegates to the Synod. On motion of Rev. V. Clementi, seconded by Mr. J. E. Belcher, the following resolution was cordially adopted:

That the acknowledgment and cordial thanks of the congregation of St. John's Church are due and are hereby tendered to the choir of the church for the very efficient manner in which they have discharged their official functions during the past twelve-month, an efficiency which has greatly enhanced the value of the Divine service by rendering it more agreeable to the congregation, and—as is humbly hoped—more acceptable to Him, in whose honor and to whose glory that service is celebrated.

Rev. Mr. Clementi, in moving the resolution, paid a high tribute to the effectiveness of the choir and to Mr. Ewing's great ability as an organist and great success as a choir master.

Both the choir and Mr. Ewing are certainly deserving of the highest praise. The former has shown an unremitting devotion to their duties, a submission to discipline, and a rare aptitude for receiving the training necessary to the full development of their unusually good natural musical abilities, and Mr. Ewing has evinced great tact as an organist, much success as a teacher, and in every way demonstrated his superior fitness for the position he occupies. From the harmonious action of the teacher and taught has resulted the formation of a choir which has no superior in Ontario, not even excepting those of metropolitan cathedrals.

SCHOOL BOARD.

President—Mr. Sanders, Chairman, and Messrs. Caldwell, Gordon and Casement.

The minutes of last regular meeting and two special meetings were read and confirmed.

The following accounts were presented, and on motion were ordered to be paid:

Hunt Fitzgerald, wood	$22 16
Wm. Charlton, wood	19 76
W. H. Dewy, wood	24 62
Andrew Wilson, wood	14 66

A communication was read from W. McClure Scarlet, concerning new and improved school maps, and on motion received.

The school report from Mr. August, head master, was received for the month of March.

A petition signed by Masters Deyncourt Strickland, Mat. McWilliams, and 140 pupils of the school, was presented to the board, asking an extension of the Easter holidays to the 19th inst. The request was grated.

A list of non-resident pupils attending the school, was, by request of some members of the board, received from the head master of the school.

It was moved by Mr. Thos. Casement, seconded by Mr. Gordon, that a fee of 25 cents per month be collected from the non-resident pupils attending, commencing with August of last year.

Dr. Caldwell suggested it might be better to impose the rate from the present time or from the first of the year, so as to avoid giving dissatisfaction.

Mr. Casement replied that the pupils had been enquiring about the amount of fee to be charged, and were ready and willing to pay.

It was also suggested that the collection of fees sometimes was considered a hardship by ratepayers of the section, who considered they had some claim to send pupils to the school free of any charge, though not speaking the pupil under their care might be a non-resident.

Mr. Sanders thought these cases might be left for the managing committee, who would not impose the fee.

The motion was carried.

COUNCIL MEETING—STORMY SITTING.

The Council met on Monday evening, the 14th inst.

Present—R. C. Strickland, Reeve, and Councillors McWilliams, Cox, Urquhart and Moore.

The minutes of the last regular meeting and of a special meeting held on the 31st March, were read and confirmed.

A motion was passed dispensing with reading of the minutes of the special meeting held on the 1st April.

A communication was received from Mr. Poussette, the village solicitor, stating that the bond of Mr. Sam. Sherin, the newly appointed Treasurer, to the amount of $5,000 was satisfactory.

The declaration of the Treasurer, and of Dr. Bell, the newly appointed Clerk were read by the Reeve.

A communication was read from Mr. R. Hall, one of the secretary's in the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, stating that the request of the corporation of Lakefield to have the islands in the vicinity made over to the municipality, had been referred to the Superintendent of Indian Affairs.

Mr. John Moore addressed the council regarding the propriety of lowering the hill on Bowker street. It was impossible to get teams to draw wood, etc., up the hill. He hoped the council would give the matter their attention.

Mr. George Cochrane addressed the council regarding the street between himself and Mr. S. Steele. The latter had erected a good fence and thought 8 or 10 dollars would remove the stumps, logs, etc., etc.

Mr. Garbutt also spoke of improvements he thought should be made on Regent street. He would say to those who live in the centre of the village not to draw their broken crockery, etc., to Regent street.

Mr. J. P. Strickland addressed the council re Concession street. There had been a good deal of traffic on it, and waggons went up to the hubs. The council had never done anything for them on this street, except give a few narrow plank.

Mr. Wm. Cox asked for a crossing which had been promised him some ago.

The Reeve thought they should put in no crossings except at the intersection of streets. It would be better to give a sidewalk.

Mr. James Horner wished to draw the attention of the council to the bushes on the road where the accident took place on the Midland Railway last winter. It was a dangerous place, and a man for a day or half a day would clear away all the underbrush that now obscures the view of an approaching train.

The council resolved to attend to the matter at once.

A By-law passed its several readings authorising the Reeve and Treasurer to borrow the sum of $600 for current expenditure.

A By-law was passed appointing special auditors to audit the accounts from the beginning of the year to the 1st of April. Mr. W. J. Wallace was appointed by the council and W. H. Casement by the reeve.

The following accounts were presented:

W. C. Sanders, sundries	$37 67
Isaac Watson, wages	4 72
Ed. Payton, "	2 00
Wm. Smith, "	2 00
R. Thorndyke, "	2 00
John Kempt, "	2 00
W. H. Casement, keg nails	2 25

The reeve enquired of Mr. Sanders if the item of $4 in his account in connection with the voters' list, was one which the council was obliged to pay.

Mr. Sanders said they always had paid him.

After other explanations of one or two items the accounts were, by resolution, ordered to be paid.

The reeve said he wished to ask an explanation from the council. He was today much surprised when he met the surveyors and men on the streets. Had the council collectively or individually employed them. He considered that it would only have been courtesy to have at least spoken to him on the matter. At the present time of the year with high water, and the snow in fence corners, he considered it a useless expenditure of the public money. As a large ratepayer he objected to it. He wished to know on whose authority they were employed. He understood that Councillor Urquhart was in some way responsible.

Councillor McWilliams stated that a motion had been passed that the disputed streets should be surveyed last autumn.

Councillor Urquhart thought the reeve should not be surprised; he (the reeve) knew the difficulty there was in getting a surveyor. One could not be got last fall, it could not be done in the winter, and he (Urquhart) thought it was a very good time now, but that was his own opinion, every one was entitled to have their own opinion. He had stated and would state again that it was not on his authority the surveyor came. Mr. Sanders the late clerk had told him the surveyor was coming up, and on his advice had hired a man to assist; he also told Mr. Sanders to inform the reeve. He thought the reeve was too touchy on the subject.

The reeve thought he should have been informed of the fact. Mr. Sanders had given him (the reeve) no information. He also questioned Mr. Sanders' authority to engage a surveyor as he was not now clerk. He had no objection to the survey, but thought it should be put off till the month of June, as the work done now would be all lost.

Mr. Sanders explained that Mr. Rogers had been engaged to do the work last fall, and that arrangement was only being carried out. He (Sanders) thought now was a proper time to do the work; there might be other difficulties after a month or two as the Dominion Government were going to make their survey. Mr. Rogers had told him of a conversation that he had had with the reeve, and he concluded that the reeve knew of the matter.

Mr. Griffin stated that as now was the time of high water, it was the best time to make the survey.

The reeve asked if it was not before the present dam was built that the 66 feet road allowance was made, and denied that the high water now could be of any assistance whatever. The survey was being made to annoy him, but he was willing it should be made at the proper time of the year.

After a good deal of cross-firing, in which the reeve, and Messrs. Urquhart, Griffin, Sanders and Wynne took part, a resolution moved by Councillor Urquhart, seconded by Councillor McWilliams, was carried that the survey proceed with Water street, Concession street, and on line between lots 17 and 18.

The council then adjourned to meet at the call of the reeve.

ACCIDENT.

On Tuesday last, while Mr. Sandy Millage, of Douro, was at a neighbour's (Girven) sawing, he had the whole of the first finger chopped off, and the second also very nearly severed by an axe. He had just stooped to take up a block, when the blow was struck. He came to Lakefield and received medical attendance.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

PRESENTATION.

Mr. Wm. H. Best and his family left Omemee station for Dakota on the 9th inst. Mr. Best in politics was a staunch Reformer, and a strong advocate of the temperance cause; his family following his example. Society here suffers on account of their removal, and we regret to part with him, as we know Bro. Jonathan will boast of getting so many of our best Canadian subjects. His only daughter, Miss M. A. Best, was one of those who was always ready to help in every good work. For a number of years she was collector for the Bible Society, for the Sabbath School, and for every scheme of the church with which she was connected. A short time before she removed from here James McLean, Esq., Superintendent of the Mount Pleasant Sabbath School, presented her with a beautiful Bible and address, as follows:—

Miss M. A. Best:

DEAR FRIEND,—I trust this Book will ever remind you of your Sabbath School days and of your work in connection with the Mount Pleasant Union Sabbath School. In days of darkness, when friends and foes alike stood with folded hands, and when the power of Satan was displayed in attempting to crush our Sabbath School, you, by the Divine guidance, came to our help, and not only spoke words of comfort to me, but lent a helping hand, and, with one or two other friends, and through the liberality of some in our immediate locality, furnished supplies necessary for the information of our young friends and for the prosperity of our Sabbath School.

My heart's desire is, and I am sure many others will join with me in wishing that you may be a faithful worker for Christ in the Sabbath School, and foremost in every good work where the Master may have it to do, and at last may you hear Him say, "Inasmuch as you have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, you have done it unto Me." May the truths contained in this Book be your source of comfort in life, and guide you safely unto the mansions that Jesus has prepared for all His loved ones.

In reply Miss Best said she had not done as much as she might or ought to have done for the Sabbath School, and was unworthy of the reward, closing by thanking the giver for the address and Bible which he had presented to her.

Mr. W. Maguire, merchant, at Franklin, writes: "I was afflicted with pain in my shoulder for eight years—almost helpless at times—have tried many remedies, but with no relief, until I used Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil. After a few applications the pain left me entirely, and I have had no pains since. Do not take Electric or Electron Oils, but see that you get Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil."

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A SERIOUS FIRE.

The fire which occurred on the farm of Mr. Thos Cuthbertson, near Norwood, on Wednesday morning of last week, proved a disastrous one to him in many respects. His barn—a new one—with the whole of its contents, fell a prey to the fiery element, no person being near at the time—about three o'clock in the morning—but the terrified and screeching animals in the burning building. Mr. Cuthbertson's loss includes five valuable working horses, eight splendid milch cows, some sheep, hay, oats, harness, &c., amounting, including the barn, to about $1,400, on which there is an insurance of $1,000 in the Royal Insurance Company. This loss comes hard now upon Mr. Cuthbertson, as he was preparing for spring farm work on an extensive scale. On Friday last a number of farmers present subscribed sufficient money to purchase him a fine cow, which was then and there presented to him. Mr. C. has the sincere sympathy of the community in this his second serious loss by fire within the short space of six months, both fires, it is supposed, being the work of an incendiary; high rewards are offered for his apprehension and conviction.

A "MUM" SOCIAL.

A memorable "mum" social was held by the young ladies of the Methodist Church here on Good Friday evening. The event, being a novel one in this village, was attended by a large number of people, and was given in aid of the Ladies' Co-operative Society in connection with that church. The ladies had entire control of the social—the chairman being a lady, the door-keepers being ladies, the "spouters" being also ladies, and assisted by a few gentlemen vocalists, gave one of the best entertainments ever given in this village. Miss Kate Buck gave a fine address on the aim and object of the Ladies' Co-operative Society, which, among other interesting topics, eloquently touched upon and advocated the rights of "ye ladies." As long as they are so useful in adding to the coffers of the church, as they certainly have been in connection with the Norwood Methodist Church, no one will for a moment dispute their rights. During the "mum" part of the social, the ladies secured many victims to their volubility, who gratefully paid over their fines to be victimised by such blooming and blushing damsels. The programme of the evening was a lengthy one, and all the ladies very efficiently performed their respective parts. The edibles, too, were provided on a large scale, and dispensed with a most liberal hand. The young ladies in charge of this social certainly deserve a great measure of praise for the masterly manner in which they conducted the whole proceedings. The proceeds netted the handsome sum of $30.00, which, for a 15c. admission fee, was remarkably good.

THE REEVESHIP.

With some persuasion, Mr. Wm. H. Stephenson has consented to allow himself to be nominated for the reeveship of Norwood, Mr. Fraser's business engagements not allowing him to retain that office for the present term. Mr. Stephenson's well-known administrative ability thoroughly qualify him to discharge the duties of that office, having had a large municipal experience as clerk of the township of Asphodel, a position which it is well-known he filled with the utmost satisfaction to the ratepayers of that municipality. The nomination takes place on the 17th inst., and it is likely that Mr. Stephenson will be elected without any opposition whatever.

NOTES.

Mr. Hugh Ryan, of the Ontario and Quebec Railway, was in the village on Saturday last and made an inspection of the site of the proposed round house at Havelock. Another gravel train will be put on the road in this vicinity on Monday next; the gravel to be taken from the pit near Mr. Knox's, Asphodel. The Norwood Cemetery Company intend giving the railway company a slice off the north-east portion of the cemetery, so as to improve the approach to the station. There are a large number of strangers in our village now, many of whom would like to locate here if they could only obtain a house of any kind to live in.

Lovers of the beautiful will be pleased to notice our advertisement of the Drs. K. & K. It is one of the best specimens of typography ever produced in this paper. Come to us for your printing.

BENEFIT MY SUFFERING SISTERS!

Mrs. Geo. H. Franklin, 63 Hunter street, Hamilton, Ont., suffered from torpid liver, dyspepsia, kidneys worn out, falling of the womb, weakness and pains in the left side, nervousness and neuralgia, utter exhaustion of pains in the left side, [illegible] pain over [illegible], heart [illegible] weak, nothing "as if there was a ball in it" in the morning, heart would jump as if it would smother. Had also every symptom of female weakness. After her case had been abandoned as incurable by several physicians she took treatment at the Drs. K. & K., and was entirely cured by [illegible] three of my sister.

LIFE LOOKED BRIGHT TO HIM.

Mr. I. D. Boardman, editor of the Peterboro Review (Mich.), writes: "My health, having become impaired while fighting for the Union, I was attacked in '79 by consumption in its worst form. I had severe pains in the left breast, a dry hacking cough night sweats, many doctors and frequent visits of friends from the front. I also suffered from dyspepsia, kidney disease and general debility, and was greatly emaciated. In '81 I was told that I would soon die by all the home physicians and by Dr. [illegible] applied to Drs. K. & K. I was then a complete wreck. Their first month's treatment set me on my feet; in four months I was Queen. I am now in good health, my locks bright as ever, I feel life to live and work for years, and I owe all this to Drs. K. & K."

AT HARD, SOLID WORK.

Garrison Shadd, of North Buxton, Ont., was operated on for fistula in Dec. 15th, 1883, by the Drs. K. & K. His recovery was complete and rapid. In November, 1883, he wrote: "I am permanently cured of the fistula for which you treated me, and have been at hard, solid work most of the season."

AS MERRY AS A BEE.

Mrs. S. J. Finnie, Oshawa, Ontario Co. Ont., 66 years old, previous to Sept. last had considered her disease Rheumatism and Prurigo—incurable. After one month's treatment by the Drs. K. & K. she writes: "My disease is quite gone and so are the wandering pains in my limbs. I am as brisk as a bee and feel better than I have in ten years."

A WALKING ADVERTISEMENT.

Miss Hattie Cameron, a school teacher of Kemptville, Ont., had suffered for three years from a [illegible] eruption on her face and nose. Unable to obtain relief at home she [illegible] of the Drs. K. & K. She now says: "In April, 1883, I commenced treatment and was soon [illegible]. I have been a walking advertisement for Drs. K. & K. since I commenced to improve for everyone thought my face was spoilt for life."

REGALLED BY MOST SANGUINE EXPECTATIONS.

Mrs. A. H. Skillin, Ames, Ouray Co., Colorado, had been terribly afflicted with scrofula, indigestion, catarrh, liver complaint and female weakness. Since last [illegible] year she had large bunches on her neck, [illegible] and pimples on her face, and ovarian glands. She suffered constantly from chills and fever, heartburn, weak back, indigestion, costiveness, catarrhal discharge from the nose and throat, headache and other very distressing symptoms. Weary and hopeless she regarded herself as incurable, but was persuaded by friends to try the Drs. K. & K. She wrote in October last: "I am as well and strong, and thank Drs. K. & K. The cure has equalled my most sanguine expectations and I feel most grateful for the wonderful benefit I have received."

MAY YOU LIVE LONG ON THE EARTH TO DO GOOD.

Mrs. Ellen Clute, Novi, Oakland Co., Mich., had been troubled many years by an erysipelatous condition of the blood, complicated with indigestion and slight female weakness. She had dull, heavy pains after eating, belched wind constantly, felt weak, was very restless at night, had frequent headache, aching pain in small of back and the eruption of the skin known as fitves. After one month's treatment with the Drs. K. & K. she wrote them: "I am quite cured, no doctor round here could help me but your medicine is no good and I know it; I feel its good effects in good health. I thank the good Lord for sending us such good doctors and may you live long on the earth to do good."

Pure Bred Poultry!

The subscriber is now prepared to dispose of SETTINGS OF EGGS from the following varieties of Poultry:—Plymouth Rocks, Houdans, Black Spanish, White Leghorns, Buff Cochin, Silver Grey Dorkings, Silver Spangled Hamburgs, Pekin Ducks and Bronze Turkeys.

All the above varieties were either first or second prize birds at the fall and winter exhibitions. I have also added since the exhibitions some very fine birds of different varieties to my stock. Having bred the greater part of the varieties for three years, I think I know what suits the country.

Every pains has been taken to keep the stock pure, by keeping the birds in different yards, therefore the public can rely on a good article, either in Eggs or Chicks, second to none but in price, any and all of the above varieties being offered at $1.50 per 13, or $2 for $2.50, excepting the Ducks or Turkeys.

Any orders for eggs must be accompanied with the price. I would be glad to fill a large order, if required, with different kinds.

ALGOMA DISTRICT.

Its Resources and Prospects.

There has been issued by the Ontario Crown Lands Department a pamphlet of some seventy pages, descriptive of the Algoma district and that part of the Nipissing district north of the Mattawan river, lake Nipissing and the French river; their resources, and agricultural and mining capabilities. The typographical execution is good and a credit to Strip's big printing establishment. Accompanying is a large map, by Copp, Clarke & Co., of the Province of Ontario, exhibiting the counties and districts therein; also the unsurveyed portions of northern and north-western Ontario on a scale of thirty miles to the inch.

In the opening pages are given the award of the three arbitrators on Ontario's boundaries, and a general description of the north-west of the province. Following this we come to details relating to geological features, sequence of the formation, elevation above the sea level at various points, rivers, streams, lakes, mountains, etc., agricultural capabilities, and resources in timber and minerals of the various districts named. There is also a general account of the Hudson's bay region and the country lying north of the height of land. The whole is calculated to give a vivid idea of the of the disputed territory.

In view of the expected early completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway; also of the Gravenhurst and Callender link, which is to connect it with the railway system of the Ontario peninsula, we copy from the pamphlet some paragraphs relating to the same.

"It requires no prophetic eye to see that the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway will change the face of the country, and develop its AGRICULTURAL AND MINERAL RESOURCES.

"With these objects steadily in view, the Commissioner of Crown Lands has caused tiers of townships to be surveyed along the route from Callander to Sudbury Junction, and thence to Algoma Mills; and others will be surveyed between Sudbury and the Pic river as construction advances between these points.

"Commencing at North bay on lake Nipissing, the names of the townships which have been surveyed along the line are as follows:—

"Widdifield, Springer, Field, Badgerow, Caldwell, Kirkpatrick, Hagel, Ratter, Dunnet, Hagar, Awrey, Dryden, Neelon, McKim, Snider, Waters, Graham, Nairn, Merritt, Hallam, May, Salter, Victoria, Sheddon, Lewis, Sprague, Eaton, Lang, Stricker, Macke, Searle and Cobden.

"It is stated by the authorities of the Canadian Pacific Railway that have been found fit for settlement between Callender and the Michipicoten valley.

"In this broad field, centres of business activity are springing up along the line, notably at North Bay, Sturgeon Falls, Sudbury, Spanish River and Algoma Mills.

"Algoma Mills, the lake Huron terminus of the branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway which diverges from the main line at Sudbury Junction, is destined to become an important place. From its natural advantages it was selected by the company as the port from which their lake Superior steamers should ply, and they are erecting a handsome summer hotel there, which is intended not only for the accommodation of the travelling public, but especially designed for the comfort of who will undoubtedly be attracted to this delightful spot, until now so little known.

"For the accommodation of immigrants, a comfortable house is being built, in which, while waiting for the steamer, they may rest and have their meals.

"To provide for the handling of the grain in transit from the North-West, a large elevator is being built at Algoma (there being one at Port Arthur also), and by this means through shipments to Europe by way of Montreal will be greatly facilitated, the distance being being considerably less than by any other route. It stands to reason, therefore, that the works referred to, together with the repair shops, etc., necessary to a railway terminus, will entail a permanent settlement of no inconsiderable proportions.

"The fleet of steamers built on the Clyde by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company consists of the Algoma, Alberta and Athabasca. They are 275 feet long, constructed of steel, built in water-tight compartments, and their design covers all the latest improvements in marine architecture best adapted for Lake Superior navigation.

"Eighty miles east of Sudbury Junction is North Bay, on the north shore of charming Lake Nipissing. This being a divisional point of the Canadian Pacific Railway, it is the headquarters of a large number of men; and an extensive repair shop, round-house, etc., have already been erected here.

"On the shores of the lake and amongst its islands are many picturesque sites, which, from present indications, will soon be occupied by summer homes of residents of Ottawa and Montreal."

We Do Not Claim

that Shaker Blood Syrup will cure everything but the fact that on the purity and vitality of the blood depends the vigor and health of the whole system, and that disease of various kinds is often only the sign that nature is trying to remove the disturbing cause, we are naturally led to the conclusion that a remedy that gives life and vigor to the blood, eradicates scrofula and other impurities from it, as Shaker Blood Syrup undoubtedly does, must be the means of preventing many diseases that would occur without its use; hence the field of its usefulness is quite an extended one, and we are warranted in recommending it for all derangements of the system which are caused by an unnatural state of the Blood.

Gentlemen—I was a great sufferer from Salt-Rheum on my limbs, for a dozen years previous to the summer of 1876, at which time I was cured by Shaker Blood Syrup. The skin would become dry, chap, crack open, bleed and itch intensely, so that I could not help scratching, which of course made them worse. At the time I commenced taking Shaker Blood Syrup (in the summer of 1876) they were so bad that they discharged, and I was obliged to keep them bandaged with linen cloths. The skin was drawn so tight by the heat of the disease, that if I stooped over they would crack open and actually bring tears to my eyes. The first bottle benefited me so much that I continued taking it till I was cured. Hoping many others may learn the value of Shaker Blood Syrup, and receive as much benefit as I have, I am, very truly yours, C. A. HOWARD,

West 11th St., New York.

The Best Butter Color.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says; "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c. per box by Taylor & Macdonald.

BEET ROOT SUGAR INDUSTRY.

A company has been formed to work a sugar factory at Lavenham, and revive the beet sugar industry in England. An output of 17,000 tons is expected the first year. From Death's Door.

M. M. Devereaux of Ionia, Mich., was a sight to behold. He says: "I had no action of the Kidneys and suffered terribly. My legs were as big as my body and my body as big as a barrel. Under their use grass, herb and tree, bone, muscle and nerve, attain a full and complete development. SCIENTIFIC BUTTER MAKING.

PACKING.

(From the Ontario Government Manual for Scientific Butter Making.)

No. 6.

PREPARING THE TUB.

Soak the tub, if it be of wood, with strong brine for two or three days. Pour out this brine and fill the package with boiling hot brine. Let it stand till cold, and the package will be ready for use.

FILLING THE TUB.

The following directions apply to the packing of tubs with air-tight covers:—Pack the tub solid and quite full. Cover the butter, which should be even and smooth, with a piece of fine muslin. The cloth should be, say an inch larger than the top of the butter. Wet it with the brine and lay it over the butter. Press the edge of the muslin neatly down between the outside of the butter and the inside of the tub. Put on the head of the tub and fasten it down. Turn it upside down and bore a hole in the bottom. Pour on enough pure, strong brine to fill the tub, and let the tub stand till the brine fills it quite full. Let the plug stand loosely in the hole, to exclude the light, while the tub is soaking up the brine.

Prof. Arnold advises covering the bottom of the tub with a layer of salt from half an inch to an inch in depth, and leaving room for another layer on the top of the muslin. The Hon. Harris Lewis advises packing into the tub without a layer of salt being added either on the bottom or top. There is an advantage in the plan of Harris Lewis, in that the net weight of the butter may be more rapidly arrived at, possibly without removing the butter from the tub. The other plan provides better for surrounding the butter with what will exclude the air and make it keep better. If the salt-layer plan is adopted it is better when the butter is to be shipped to foreign markets. Skilful butter-makers and careful packers may, doubtless with a view to profit, dispense with the layers of salt.

Where the tub, being packed, has not a cover that is air-tight, the brine must of course be poured on the top, filling the tub as well as can be done, and the cover then fastened down.

Butter should be packed at a temperature of from 50° to 60°.

MARKETING.

The butter-maker who has adopted the advanced or scientific method, will have the best basis for a good market—first quality of product. Let the butter be packed in new tubs, previously well prepared, and let its appearance be as pleasing as a little time and even money, well expended, will make it. Let the name of the maker be marked on the package, also any other particulars, the residence, the date of its make. Even a fancy name for the dairy will be a matter of value to represent dollars and cents in the future. If packed in rolls, let name, or some brand, be put either upon the stamp, or printed upon the wrapper put around the butter.

Sell direct to consumers if near by, otherwise sell only to a responsible and reliable firm, and upon condition that the butter shall go into the market not lumped in with a lot of inferior stuff, but with a chance to stand upon its merits. Let it not be sold as a job lot, but to fill an order that may be repeated, supplying to-day a market that may to-morrow have a further supply of just as good as what preceded it. Let the butter-maker ask his agent, the butter-dealer, to stand responsible for the quality of the shipment, the maker engaging upon his part to stand by the dealer.

One more word about marketing butter. Make a butter that will keep if there should be no market for it; but if there be a fair market do not hold the butter for a rise. The non-speculative policy is, in the long run, the wisest policy for the producer. When the speculator has disorganised the market, and prices are temporarily below reason, the dairy-man may "hold on." This is exceptional; and for a permanent policy that is wise, the sell-in-season policy is to be commended.

THE END.

Andrew Achieson, Maxford, Ont., says that Crowfoot Bitters as a family medicine surpasses all other preparations that he has tried. Sold by J. D. Tully. 14-4t

A dude, told by his mother to write a letter of condolence to a lady in affliction, said: "I'm awful sorry your husband is ded and i Hope the funwerall wi be a Brilliant success!"

—The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First; It is perfectly harmless. Second; It saves more than half the labour. Third; It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all grocers. 49-52t

Aspiring Artist: "I must say it is very inconsiderate of your father. (Sarcastically) I seppose if I were a pork-packer like himself he would not object to our marriage." Doutful Daughter: "Very likely not. He says he prefers a good pork to bad pictures."

A Sad Case Of Starvation.

To starve the lungs by a lack of vital food contained in pure air. If the lungs are obstructed by colds, remove the accumulated phlegm with that safe and pleasant throat and lung remedy, Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. 15-2t

"I tell you I am glad Hunter lives in Lowell," said Blinks, with evident sincerity. "That's all right; but why?" asked his friend, whose curiosity was naturally aroused. "Because," answered Blinks with a sigh, "he is the only man in town whose feet are bigger than mine."

A Man For The Doctor.

Is generally the first thing in case of an injury, but a doctor cannot always respond to the call. If you have Hagyard's Yellow Oil at hand, you have a reliable remedy for all wounds, injuries and pain. It has saved life when even doctors had abandoned hope. Keep it ready for use.

"I belive," said Fenderson, "that you take me for a fool." Replied Fogg: "I have been called a skeptic, Fendy, but, bad as I am, I still have respect for every man's belief—including yours, Fendy, including yours."

A Handy Surgeon.

As a dressing for all manner of flesh wounds there is nothing better than Hagyard's Yellow Oil. It cleanses, allays pain, subdues inflammation and heals without a scar or stiffness of the parts injured. It is equally valuable as a pain remedy for internal use. 15-2t

"Aunt Jane," said an exasperated wife, "I wish it was a custom for women to trade husbands as it is for men to trade horses." "Why, my dear?" "Because if it was, I'd cheat some woman dreadfully before sundown."

Don't Be Giddy,

Many people are troubled with giddiness or dizziness, which is generally a sign of disordered digestion or unequal circulation. Burdock Blood Bitters restores the digestive powers, promotes a healthy circulation of the vital fluid, allays nervous irritation, thus curing headache and giddiness. 15-2t

"You are arrested for disturbing the peace," said an Arkansas judge to a tramp. "Judge, I had a right to disturb the peace; I am a Kentuckian." "That alters the case," the Judge replied. "I am a Kentuckian myself."

Danger Signals.

Reader, if you are troubled with pain, weakness, weariness and a dragging feeling in the small of the back with thick—high colored—slimy urine, then you have alarming signals of danger, and should resort to Burdock Blood Bitters, the grand kidney regulator and blood and liver cleansing tonic. 15-2t

"What kind of a spring suit are you going to get?" asked a Harlem wife of her husband, as he was wrestling with a refractory stovepipe. "I think my spring soot will be a decided black," he replied, gazing in silent profanity at the chimney."

"No," said a fond mother, speaking proudly of her twenty-five-year-old daughter; "no, Mary isn't old enough to marry yet. She cries whenever any one scolds her, and until she becomes hardened enough to talk back, vigorously, she isn't fit for a wife."

James Brayley, Hamilton, says:—"I read the testimonials for McGregor's Speedy Cure and found that I had not to go to New York, Philadelphia, Louisiana or Texas to find living witnesses of its value, we had plenty of persons right here to prove its merits. I got a bottle and it helped me right away, I was as bad with Billous Fever and Indigestion as I think any one could be, I have taken 3 bottles and am nearly well and can eat any kind of food without it hurting me. I may say that I am better than I ever expected to be." Free Trial bottles at J. McKee's Drug Store. 15-2t

"And so you are engaged to Mr. Flapdoodle?" said Edith to her dear friend, Marie. "Yes," said Marie, enthusiastically, "and he's a perfect gem of a man." "Is he a lawyer, physician or merchant? What is his business?" "Oh, he's is not doing anything now, but he blows on the trombone beautifully."

IN A CHICAGO HOTEL.

Guest—"How much is my bill?"
Clerk—"How much money have you got with you?"
Guest—"About two hundred dollars."
Clerk—"That's all, is it?"
Guest—"Yes, that's all?"
Clerk—"Well, your bill is just two hundred dollars."

Nervousness, Morbid Anxiety, and a fretful disposition, are usually met with in the dyspeptic. These mental indicia show how close is the connection between brain and stomach. Their most prolific cause, dyspepsia, is a complaint for which Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Blood Purifier is used with unvarying success. It also removes Biliousness, Constipation, and Impurity of the Blood.

"What nonsense!" exclaimed Bertha. "The idea of telling Mrs. Brown that you were only twenty-three?" "But didn't I do right, dear?" replied Edith. "You know mamma has always told us not to exaggerate. It is better to under, rather than to overstate, you know."

"So Miss Skinns and Mr. Limps are to get married. Well, I declare! That aged couple. And she is old enough to be his mother," "Indeed she is. And as for him—why, he's old enough to be her father."

MANHOOD
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.
☞Price in a sealed envelope, only 6c. or two postage stamps.
The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
☞This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land

CONFIDENTIAL.
Thousands of young Men and Women—married and single—through the effects of vicious youthful habits, or excessive indulgence in later years, have so undermined their general systems as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of these troubles being scarcely ever suspected, they are drugged and doctored for everything but the right one. The ordinary modes of treating troubles of this nature do no good. The JERUBEBBIN COMBINATOIN REMEDY is offered as A Speedy and Certain Cure, as hundreds afflicted with every form of disease have been restored to complete health by its use, after all other remedies failed. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, but especially in cases arising from imprudence. Its recuperative powers are truly astonishing, and its continued use for a short time changes the languid, debilitated condition, to one of renewed life and vigor.
Forwarded to any address, on receipt of Price, $3 per package—sufficient for one month's treatment.

Mr. McGill is a pushing, popular agent, and the Singer Company have done well in securing his services.

Stapleton, at the Market Square, on Saturday, April 19th, at 10 o'clock a.m., unless the said articles shall have been called for and all charges paid before the above date. In a China Shop.

The analogue of the traditional bull in a china shop, found its way into Mr. Macfarlane Wilson's China Hall on Saturday. A lady customer had inadvertantly left her dog behind. The door being closed, the brute tried to get through one of the plate glass windows. The floor of the window space contained a beautiful display of delicate china sets, and the dog pranced over them from side to side of the window and succeeded in breaking $5 or $6 worth before he was arrested.

The contract for the building of the round house at Havelock (Matheson's, Belmont), has been awarded to Mr J. W. Alford, of Reid street. The proposed engine shed is to built in the form of a segment of a circle, the completion of the circle, according to the plans, to be added at some future time. The entire plans call for stalls for forty iron horses, but the segment under contract to Mr. Alford, which has a diameter of 156 feet, will contain stalls for twelve engines. The building is to be of brick, except the masonry for the iron turn-table, which is to be of stone. The contract figures are in the neighbourhood of $16,000. The work will be begun at once and prosecuted with Mr. Alford's usual energy.

A Splendid Chance.

It will be seen by an advertisement in another column that Mr. D. W Dumble offers for sale a number of Building Lots in various parts of the town on ten years credit. No money down, interest only to be paid for first five years, and thereafter yearly instalments with the right to pay at any time as may suit the convenience of the purchaser. This offer enables a poor man to use his money in erecting a building, and so he gets rid of rent, and secures a home for himself. Building will be cheap this year and no doubt many will take advantage of this very liberal offer. Besides lots in town, Mr. Dumble offers a number of lots in Ashburnham, and several park lots on the same terms. Call at his office and see plans, &c. 12-tf

Need of Poor Houses.

Mr. Justice Osler, at the Halton assizes, spoke strongly in favor of the establishment of county poor-houses and the evil effects of confining in jail, as is the case in this county, persons charged with vagrancy. The jail, he said, was not the place for those who were unwilling to work and earn their own living. He approved of the plan adopted by several of the county councils of purchasing farms and erecting poor-houses where vagrants could be sent and compelled to work, and where they would not be a burden upon the county. Such an institution he thought was a growing necessity in several counties. In Norfolk and Waterloo they had three institutions and in the county of York they had recently taken steps to provide such a place. When will his Lordship be able to point to Peterborough as one of those enlightened and progressive counties which has provided one of those much-needed homes for the destitute and unfortunate?

The Examiner Bindery.

We may be allowed to republish the following complimentary references to THE EXAMINER book-bindery, which, by the way, is receiving the prompt and generous patronage of a discerning public, orders for work coming in in a steadily increasing stream:—

"We notice with pleasure that the enterprising proprietor of the Peterborough EXAMINER has added a bindery department to his already very complete establishment. Yes, we are pleased with this evident token of prosperity of our contemporary."—Hastings Star.

"We are always glad to notice, in a favorable way, enterprise and energy when exhibited by any of our deserving citizens. In our notice of Mr. Stratton's bindery, it is pleasing for us to observe that Mr. S., who is constantly soliciting advertisements from others, is himself a liberal advertiser. The bindery is under the management of Mr. Wm. Cowle, one of the best workmen in Canada. The machinery is first-class and comprises everything usually found in a first-class establishment of this kind. We are pleased to see this additional evidence of Mr. Stratton's enterprise."—Peterborough Times.

The Easter Monday Concert.

The Roman Catholic concert given in Bradburn's Opera House on Easter Monday evening was very successful, there having been a large attendance, and a good programme having been well presented. The first number was a chorus, "Quem dilecta," sung by the choir of St. Peter's Cathedral with pleasing effect, in which Miss Bagley took the solo with her accustomed excellence. "Kathleen Mavourneen" was sung so well by Mr. Porteous that he was honored with an enthusiastic recall. This young gentleman becomes more popular at every public appearance. To first-class musical abilities he adds a most becoming modesty and ease of manner, with an entire absence of everything like affectation. Messrs. Best, Sanderson and Lech in their felicitous rendition of the overture to "Mastodon" fully earned the warm applause they received. In the lively Irish song, "Kerry Dances," Mrs. Chambers added new lustre to her laurels. In reply to a warm recall she gave with fine effect the serio-comic song, "Milking the Cow." Too much praise cannot be given to the charming and effective manner in which Miss Annie Delaney rendered a most brilliant and difficult piano solo, as well as the galop she gave in response to a well earned encore. Her playing is marked by a grace, ease, finish, technique and power that places her in the front rank of amateur pianistes. Mr. D. Donohue's comic song was greeted with loud applause, and secured him a warm recall, to which he replied with another equally good song. Mr. Haggart gave a humorous reading which was cordially applauded by the audience. Messrs. Porteous, Elliott and Rush gave the trio of Sullivan, "Sweet and Low," in very fine style. The second part was opened by the Cathedral choir, with L'Oratorio pour Paques, of Lambillotte, in which the excellence of the solos taken by Miss Begley and the Messrs. Ball and Coughlin was well sustained by the smoothness, harmony and strength of the chorus. Mrs. Chambers, on her second appearance, was received with warm applause, when she rendered in exquisite style the beautiful little gem, "I'm a Merry Zingara." Her interpretation of the gay and careless Gypsy spirit of the selection was charming. Mr. J. G. Joseph favored the audience with an unique musical performance, consisting of several airs played on a tin coffee pot. His clever performance was heartily applauded, and he was loudly recalled. Messrs. Best, Sanderson and Lech performed the "Queen's Lace Handkerchief" in a splendidly effective manner. By request Mr. Porteous sang, "The Harp that Once Through Tara's Halls," and it was needless to say that it was almost faultlessly executed. After another exquisitely performed piano solo by Miss Delaney, the performance was ended with the fine trio, the "Buccaneer's Bride," grandly sung (without accompaniment) by Messrs. Porteous, Elliott and Rush, and "God save the Queen" by the company. The financial outcome of the concert was very satisfactory, the amount netted being handsome one.

Exodus of River Drivers.

Mr. T. Cavanagh is again in his element. Last week he sent a gang of eighteen men to Messrs. Buck & Stewart's timber limits, Muskoka, and on Wednesday 25 or 30 men went to Messrs. Dollar & Cook, in the same district. The agents of Messrs. Strickland & Co., Lakefield, have been in town engaging drivers. The red belted river-rover will be a less common sight on our streets in a few days.

An Early Fire.

About six o'clock Wednesday morning a fire was discovered in the work-room, in the second story, of Mr. Duncan Cameron's tailoring establishment. The fire had not made much progress, and the brigade, which turned out promptly, had no difficulty in subduing it. Considerable damage was done by water, which ran through the floor on the goods in the shop below. Some damage was also done to the second floor of Mr. W. A. Sanderson's jewelry store. Mr. Cameron's larger loss will be by obstruction of business, this being his busiest season, and his staff, which is now off work, taxed to the uttermost. Loss covered by insurance in both cases.

St. Luke's Temperance Concert.

The concert held on Tuesday night, in St. Luke's school room was enjoyed by an audience that filled the place. A long and interesting programme was contributed by Mrs. Bowman, Misses Choate, Stephens, E. Chrow, M. Davidson, F. Lech, and Messrs. Rowley, Francis Clarke, T. Lush, Arthur Choate, G. Lech and ——- Gardiner; and was closed by a charade, "A Love of a Bonnet," in which Misses K. & C. Bennett, K. Payne, Victoria Manicee, Clara Ludgate, and Annie Tighe, took the several characters. The next entertainment will be next Monday, April 28th.

Memorial Window.

Shortly after the death of Mr. George C. Rogers a movement was put on foot to place in St. Luke's Church a memorial window. It was successful, and a fine window has been placed in the south wall of the church. The late Mr. Rogers' employes contributed liberally and were assisted by others. The design of the fine window, from McCausland & Sons, Toronto, is appropriate—it represents St. Peter sinking in the water, and our Lord rescuing him, with a verse from the Psalms—"Thy way is on the sea, etc." Beneath the window a brass tablet bears the words, "In loving memory of George Charles Rogers, born June 12th, 1854; entered into rest April 20th, 1883." Next Sunday is the anniversary of his death.

A Consideration.

We desire to direct attention to the advertisement, on our first page, of the British Empire Life Assurance Company. This old and reliable institution shows a grand record. The manner of conducting its business, the straightforward, honest dealing with its policy holders, the absolute reliability given to insurers in such a solid company, should be a consideration to all who purpose insuring their lives; and, we may be permitted to add, it is the duty every man, young or old, owes to his family, to put on a life policy in a good company without delay, when the cost is so reasonable. There is something substantial in the figures given by this company, which can be seen by perusing their advertisement. Mr. E. E. Henderson is the general agent for Peterborough and surrounding districts.

It's the Loan of Your Eyes

WE ASK;

NOT OF YOUR EARS!

Spring's coming has been delayed—"side tracked"—if we may borrow a handy phrase from our railroad friends. While the Winter Suits and Dresses are yet comfortable, we ask that you come within ear shot—or rather eye shot—of our Grand Spring Exhibit, for it's the loan of your eyes we ask, not of your ears.

To particularize would take colums of room, we must generalize. We hand you this invitation, and you'll neglect your own money interests you refuse. If our display fails to convince you that we show the largest assortment in all lines—recollect it takes two stores to hold it—that we keep only reliable goods, that we keep everything and sell as cheaply, and sometimes a trifle below other dealers—then it's because you're not open to conviction, and not because there isn't sufficient evidence to support the statement.

You have the fullest liberty to look, handle, criticize, compare, and you'll not be "tempted," nor "urged to buy" against your will. Why? Simply because we know—as others show us—that sales made under pressure of any sort would be against us; yes, its' simple. WE MUST NOT SELL YOU WHAT YOU WON'T LIKE. What you prefer we'll gladly hand you over. And our prices are just as low as any in town.

THIRTY SEVEN YEARS business experience.

LIBERAL FORM OF POLICY. Policies totally free from all vexatious restrictions regarding travel, occupation, habits, &c. Also, totally incontestable and non-forfeitable after two entire years.

PROMINENT OBJECT—Sound Life Insurance.

RESULTS—This Company has returned to its policy holders over $4,000,000 in bonuses, and paid $4,000,000 in claims, in all over $10,000,000 during the 37 years of its establishment, and has NEVER entered a court of law to contest a single claim, all claims being paid immediately on proof of death.

COST—The Lowest Consistent with Safety. This Company does not pretend to do Insurance at cost. It is an absurdity to suppose any RELIABLE Company can furnish Insurance at cost. Can any respectable merchant do business at cost and pay his liabilities?

INVESTMENT RULE.—The best Security rather than the largest Interest.

BONUSES PAID IN CASH every three (3) years. This Company always divides its profits every three years, and its rates will be found to be as low, and compare very favorably with any RELIABLE and respectable company.

The Directors have established this Company in Canada upon such a basis as will entitle its policy holders to the full benefits of a home institution. With the further security of a British office, and for this purpose have empowered its Canadian Board to deal finally with ALL matters connected with Life Insurance without reference to head office in England.

All earnings in Canada are invested in Canadian Securities.

The popularity and prosperity of this Company in Canada is shown from the results of the past year's business, its new business having exceeded that of any other British office, being $1,154,000 in nine months, from 1st April, 1883 to 31st December, 1883.

ITS EXTENSION PAYMENT or loaning system, whereby policies may be kept in force, should financial difficulties overtake the insured, is unsurpassed in its liberality to policy holders.

The system of distribution of surplus employed by this Association secures, with other advantages, the following:

1st.—It avoids the weakening effect of paying too large profits in the early years of the policy, and the consequent inability to do justice, as the policy becomes older.

2nd.—It strengthens the position of the Association, and consequently the security to the policy-holders.

3rd.—It secures an increase in profits from year to year, and equitable share to each kind of policy.

4th.—It does away with the objection, "that endowment and limited payment policies are taxed for the special benefit of ordinary life policies."

Policies Non-Forfeitable after Two Years, and Indisputable after Three Years.

MISS JE[illegible]

THE CRICKET[illegible] CONCERT.

A Splendid [illegible]

The concert, [illegible] by the Peterborough [illegible] Club, given in Bradburn's Opera [illegible], on Thursday night, was a most decided success in every respect. The house was [illegible], and the programme presented [illegible] of the highest order of excellence. The first number a piano solo by Miss Masters, "Ballade in A. Minor" (Chopin), struck the key note, and gave the audience a foretaste of the excellence of the performance, which was delightfully upheld till the close. We have [illegible] had occasion to compliment this gifted young pianiste on the excellence of her execution, and her performance in this as well as in the succeeding solo, Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" (Op. 27), was, charmingly effective, and favored with the warmest applause. Messrs. Porteous and Elliott "went in together and made a strong stand" in the vocal duet, "All's Well." They completely collared the bowling, making a series of brilliant hits, a performance which they repeated in the second part, when they gave the "Pilot Brave" with such fine effect that the audience insisted on a repetition of it. Mrs. Chambers was as charming as usual in her exceedingly effective rendition of "That Traitor Love." She was recalled enthusiastically, and responded with "Heigh-ho, My Laddie." In the second part she appeared to great advantage in "It was a Dream," and being, of course, recalled, delighted the audience with "You'd Better Ask Me," sung charmingly. The appearance of Miss Landra Clench, the young violiniste, was the signal for loud applause, and to say that she took the house by storm by the wonderful nature of her performance, is but a feeble indication of the marvellous command over the capacity of her simple instrument, which she exhibited. Hearing her, one is in doubt whether to admire more, the graceful and facile ease of her bowing, or the marvellous exactitude, range and rapidity of her fingering. Her phenomenal brilliancy of execution disarms criticism and commands the heartiest praise. Our store of superlatives is inadequate to characterize the mingled strength and sweetness of her performance. Miss Howden, of Millbrook, sang very sweetly, "Long Live Moments of Pleasure," and in response to a hearty recall, "I Sent a Letter to My Love." Her second number, "Che Gioja," was equally well rendered, and an encore was rewarded with "I Would, Wouldn't You?" Mr. Porteous was exceedingly felicitious in his singing of Tostel's "Good Bye," but his best effort was in "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," which brought out to the fullest the rich resources of his excellent and well-trained baritone. It was a rare pleasure to hear Miss Clara Cluxton sing the sweet song, Gounod's "Bercense." She has a voice of great sweetness. It is rich, full and sympathetic, and admirably under control. Being encored, she rendered in a pleasing manner, "The Last Rose of Summer." In the second part she sang Braga's "La Serenata" with such marked success that she was honored with a very cordial recall. Miss Clench's violin obligato heightened the effectiveness of this number. Mr. J. Haggart read "The Irish Schoolmaster" in a manner that caused him a hearty encore, and he answered it with a well-received rendering of "Bridget O'Hallorhan's Letter." Mr. Alex. Elliott sang the selection, "Our Jack's Come Home Today," in his happiest manner, in fact, excelling himself. He was very heartily and deservedly applauded. The delight of the audience was great at the announcement that Miss Clench had volunteered to play "Traumerai," a performance marked by the same marvellous mastery over her instrument, and rewarded with the same spell-bound attention and cordial applause. The singing of the National Anthem brought to a close one of the most successful concerts ever held in Peterborough. Miss Cluxton furnished the accompaniments with excellent execution and judgment.

A STRICKEN FAMILY.

BOTH PARENTS DEAD AND THE CHILD REPORTED DYING.

A short time ago an Englishman, named G. Woolven, came to this country with his wife and child, and settled in Belleville, the husband and father obtaining work as a "fitter" in the Grand Trunk shops. Sunday, Woolven and his wife both died within three hours of each other. The doctor's certificate says scarlet fever was the cause. Their only child is also down with the same disease, and little hopes of its recovery are entertained. The poor people have been most unfortunate, and their case must excite public sympathy. As Woolven was a member of the Sons of England, that body have taken charge of his affairs.—Belleville Ontario.

CHARLOTTE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

Sunday School Anniversary.

On Sunday and Monday last the anniversary services and entertainment in connection with the Charlotte Street Methodist Sunday School were held, and were attended with most gratifying success.

On Sunday Rev. J. R. Starr, of Newmarket, occupied the pulpit, morning and evening. There were exceedingly large congregations on both occasions, every inch of space within the church and vestry being occupied. In the evening a number equivalent to a fairly good congregation was compelled to go away, unable to get even inside the church door.

Rev. Mr. Starr's text in the morning was from I. Kings, Chap. XVIII., v. 41 to 45. The sermon was an eloquent exposition of the efficacy of prayer and the fruits of faith, which were applied to the needs and duty of the Church of God at the present day. In the world there were signs of "abundance of rain," and the united prayers of the church would result in an out-pour of the Holy Spirit.

In the evening the text selected was from Rev. XXI., v. 5—"Behold, I make all things new." During her whole history the church had been taught to look forward in hope to a progressive triumph. The speaker pointed out forcibly that there was nothing in the present state of the world to warrant the spirit of despondency as to the future of the church which some people were prone to indulge in. God, Himself, had promised that all things should be "made new," and His word must be fulfilled. The all-creating and renewing power of the Gospel was pointed out as the means going on to renovate the world, and it was graphically shown how rapidly the Gospel of Christ was regenerating the earth, and the aggressively progressive march of God's kingdom was a cheering indication of the way in which the world was to be "made new." The speaker drew a glowing picture of the future prospects of the church, and closed an eloquent and effective sermon by a prediction of the speedy triumph of the Gospel in the evangelization of the earth.

MONDAY EVENING.

On Monday evening the church was again packed with an interested audience to listen to the fine programme presented by the children. Elevated platforms on each side of the altar had been carpeted, and were filled with children. Rev. Mr. Manning occupied the chair, and delivered a short address. Mr. Geo. A. Cox, Secretary of the Sunday School, made a few remarks, accompanied with a report, showing that since its organization the Sunday School attendance had advanced from 23 to 187. This large increase had made it necessary to provide more room, and the Sunday School building had been enlarged and greatly improved, at a cost of $1,000. The Ladies' Aid Society had bravely assumed this debt, and had succeeded in paying off so much that there was left only a balance of $475, and the people were asked, through the children, to make up the amount. While the current expense of the school was in a fairly good condition, there was a little money needed to increase the library, and, from past experience, it was felt that an appeal to the liberality of the congregation would not be in vain.

Rev. J. E. Starr gave a very practical and pointed address on the subject of Sunday Schools, dealing with the demands of the school as an important auxiliary in church work, and the necessity for its receiving the most earnest efforts of the church for its progress and extension.

The singing of the children, which was given at intervals, was most excellent, and reflected the greatest credit on Mrs. Chambers, whose indefatigable efforts, joined to her ability, had produced a most gratifying result.

Recitations were given with very fine effect by Misses Annie Sullivan, Bertie Morrow, Clara Kingdon, Alice Kingdon, Jessie Brundrett and May Snider. The recitation of the last was most excellently done, and was accompanied with dramatic effects that made it particularly impressive. Master 'Bert Cox also gave a very fine recitation. The martial selection, sung by a little army of children with flags in their hands, forming a miniature "Salvation Army," was very effective, as well as the musical recitation by the infant class. Some of these latter, hardly beyond the lisp of babyhood, acquitted themselves very creditably. Taken altogether the entertainment was a most pronounced success—a credit both to the children and to those whose duty it was to take the oversight of the preparation.

Mr. J. Frith Jeffers, the enthusiastic Superintendent, distributed the prizes to those entitled to them, for good recitations and attendance. The pupils were: Emma Morrow, Bertha Brundrett, Alice Kingdon, Edith Cameron, Jessie Brundrett, S. Kingdon, Samuel Stabton, Percy Hamilton, Wm. Redmond, Bertie Cox, Bella Morrow, Willie Kingdon and Walter Brundrett.

Votes of thanks were passed to the ladies and gentlemen who had prepared the excellent entertainment, and to the Ladies Aid Society for the efficient work they had done on behalf of the school, and the meeting was closed by the benediction by Rev. Mr. Starr.

Little Lake Cemetery.

The devotion with which the superintendent, Mr. John Kelly, continually cares for Little Lake Cemetery, results in its always being in perfect order. Although in sheltered parts the snow has hardly disappeared, Mr. Kelly has completed his spring cleaning. The grounds, drives and walks have all been neatly raked, the sward has been rolled, and in many places it is beautiful with the emerald flush of spring. The work of removing death's winter harvest from the garner, the vault, and interring the bodies has been about completed. The winter has, however, left its traces. The deep snow has favored the operation of field mice which have ruinously girdled many of the trees and shrubs, planted last summer. The ice in the lake, on its breaking up, carried away part of the crib work, on the bank west of the lodge, and the whole of it might have gone, had not Mr. Kelly worked heroically all Good Friday to prevent its destruction. The plumber has been at work putting the water pipes in order and preparing the basin of the main fountain, opposite the entrance gates, for a magnificent fountain, which the directors have decided to erect at an early date. Little Lake Cemetery, although now one of the most beautiful cities of the dead in Ontario, is continually receiving improvements at the hands of the enterprising and tasteful directors.

HIGH CLASS HORSES.

A New Thoroughbred Stud—Amalgamation of Messrs. Fair and Graham's Stock of Thoroughbred Stallions—A Splendid Collection of Five Stud Stock-stallions.

The farmers as well as the lovers of good horse flesh generally of this district, will be interested in the announcement of the fact that Mr. W. M. Fair and Mr. Thomas Graham, of Otonabee, have united their interests and respective studs of thoroughbred stallions in one amalgamated stud, which, under its new form, constitutes the best, if not the largest collection of thoroughly first-class stockgetters in Eastern Ontario. The following magnificent list of stallions with stud-book entry number, gives some idea of the extent and excellence of the animals occupying the commodious stables of Messrs. Graham & Fair:—

Imported "Young Enterprise," No. 1,562.

"Lord Beaconsfield," No. 2,054.

"Whitehall Sequence" (owned by Fair & Brotherhood) No. 668.

In addition to these superb animals Messrs. Graham & Fair have just returned home after having completed the purchase of two more grand animals. One of the renowned colt "Parole," imported by Hendrie, of Hamilton. This colt has reasons to be proud of his ancestors. His sire took first prize and diplomas in every one of the many places where he was exhibited; and his dam carried off the prize as the best mare in England. Parole himself has made a big start, having taken first prize in England as a yearling. "Parole's" pedigree, which will be published in a few days, will show that he possesses choice blood of the best, that cannot be bought in this province.

Another addition is that fine stallion, "British Splendour," a pure bred coach colt, whose pedigree will speak volumes for his excellence. He took first prize at the Toronto Industrial, competing with eight for his class. One of the colts he beat all that time took the red ticket at London and at St. Marys. His sire "British Splendour" took silver medal and also first prize at Philadelphia for being the best coaching horse in the United States. He travelled on the cars from stable to stable at $1000 for insurance.

The far-famed "Comet" is also an inmate of their stables; there will also be included in these stables the celebrated stallion, "Heart of Oak," owned by Messrs. Grandy & Graham. With a galaxy of thoroughbred horses, as indicated in the foregoing list, Messrs. Graham & Fair occupy a high position amongst the stock breeders of this Province. Most of the above horses will be at the Spring Fair to be held here on Saturday next.

STARTLINGLY SUDDEN DEATH.

Death Arrests a Lady on Her Way to Her Mother's Dying Bed.

On Monday last a sadly sudden death took place at the Midland station here, Mrs. Thomas Postlethwaite, of Lakefield, falling almost instantly dead. She had left home, in answer to a summons to the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Jex, of Cobourg, who was lying ill, at the point of death. She intended to go by way of Campbellford and take with her another sister who resides at that place. The deceased lady came to Peterborough by stage. On the way she seemed in excellent health and made no complaint of being ill. As the stage coach was entering the Midland station yard she complained to her seat companion, Mr. W. A. Scrimger, of a headache. He asked her if she were subject to headaches, and she replied that she was. The next instant the poor lady fell forward. Mr. Scrimger at once raised her up and her head drooped on his shoulder; she emitted a couple of gasps and was dead, for the coach was at once driven to the surgery of Dr. King, and he pronounced life extinct. The stage coach was then taken to the Commercial House, and Dr. Kincaid, who was passing, was consulted. The body was subsequently taken to the town buildings and laid in the collector's office.

A telegram was at once sent to Mr. Postlethwaite, and he arrived in town at noon. He said that his wife had not been ill, only troubled with a common cold. He was terribly stricken with the circumstances and awfully sudden nature of his bereavement. The deceased was a member of the Jex family, Cobourg, and sister of the late Mr. Wm. Jex barrister, who died in that town last summer. She was highly respected in Lakefield, where the news of her death was received with many marks of sympathy for her family, so suddenly and awfully bereaved. Dr. King thinks the suddeness of her death points to heart disease, and Dr. Kincaid, who is a coroner, decided that there was no occasion for holding an inquest.

PERSONAL.

Mr. A. Caswell, travelling passenger agent of the C. & Q. Railway, made a business visit to the town on Monday.

We regret to learn that Mr. Henry Collins, Reeve of North Monaghan, is seriously ill with inflammation of the lungs.

Mr. Joseph Hill, formerly the mace drum of the Fire Brigade Band, is now conducting a soda water making establishment in Orillia. He was in town this week, and procured from Wm. Metcalf the fine set of double harness made to his order. Peterborough is the place to get good work.

Last Sunday Rev. John Shaw preached the sermon at the quarterly services of the Methodist Church, Hiawatha. Both the attendance and the collection were the largest witnessed at this church within five years. Rev. Mr. Manning occupied Rev. Mr. Shaw's pulpit in the George Street Church on Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Addison (Miss Bella Cumming), who had been visiting in town since their return from their wedding tour, left on Wednesday April 16th for Toronto, where they remained till Tuesday morning, when they started for their future home in the North-West—about forty miles north of Broadview, in Assiniboia. Our best wishes go with them to their new home.

Mr. J. E. Murray, so long the popular local agent of the Singer Sewing Machine company here, has been appointed superintending agent of the company, and will be succeeded in Peterborough by Mr. H. S. Hyland. Mr. Murray's removal will be a loss to this town, of a live energetic business man, and a corresponding gain to Toronto, which will be Mr. Murray's headquarters.

Seedtime and Harvest.

Mr. Peter Hamilton's Agricultural Works, George street, have been busy the past winter preparing, in their usually first-class manner, for the seedtime and harvest of 1884. The spring output consists of a fine lot of those superior seeders and drills combined, which have given such excellent satisfaction in the past, together with gang ploughs, and ploughs of every description. The preparations for the harvest consist of a splendid lot of mowers and reapers put together with the neatness, strength and durable qualities for which the work of this establishment is noted far and wide. The farming community who are interested in all the new labor saving methods that inventive ingenuity brings about, will be interested in knowing that Mr. Hamilton has made elaborate and complete preparations for the manufacture of self-binding reapers. They will be sure to combine the very latest improvements in these wonderful machines, and farmers who contemplate adding self-binders to their farming equipment, are advised to wait until next season and see Mr. Hamilton's self-binders before placing their orders. The new machines will be the best in model, material and make-up to be found in the market. To accommodate any of his customers who may want a binder this year, he has made arrangements with one of the best manufacturers in the province, to supply them with any they may require. He will be happy to fill all orders entrusted to him for self binders.

Unclaimed Express Parcels.

A great deal of fun, disgust and profanity, expressed or implied, was brought out by the sale by auction of the unclaimed parcels of the Canadian Express Company. The most ludicrous bargains were made, and Mr. Stapleton often succeeded in selling both the article and the purchaser. Parties of the class who think that anything bought at auction (no matter what the price) must be cheap, bought with avidity, and were, in some instances rewarded by securing such valuable articles as a broken, rusty iron casting, worth a cent. a pound, another a package of last year's patent medicine almanacs, another (sure to be a bachelor) a nursing bottle, and so on through a long catalogue. The real bargains were few.

Rev. Mr. Munro's Bible Class.

Rev. Mr. Munro, Baptist Minister, has succeeded in working up a great interest in his Monday evening Bible classes in the Y.M.C.A. rooms. The average attendance is about three score and ten young men.

How to Encourage Tree-Planting.

The ex-President of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association makes the following sensible remarks respecting the planting of ornamental trees and shrubs :—

"Can we not encourage a taste for arboriculture by introducing the study of botany into our public schools? Could not the teachers make the study interesting by showing the children how plants grow, what the component parts of a tree are, the difference between the formation of wood and bark, and how to recognize the different species of trees and flowers by their foliage and otherwise? Also by encouraging them to plant each a tree within the school grounds, each to care for his or her tree or plant? Could not this system be so introduced among our people that the love and respect for tree culture will become so inculcated in their minds that they will look upon any person that will deface or destroy any ornamental or shade tree as upon one that would rob them of their existence or best friend? Could not our children be so taught that the next generation would hold our forests as sacred, and preserve them as one of God's blessings?"

There are many teachers who, rightly thinking that practical subjects are of more importance than merely ornamental fancy 'ologies, have bestowed a large amount of attention on this subject. Teachers, by varying the monotonous routine of school studies, by giving a little attention to the practical study of botany, would surely beget a new interest in a practical subject in their pupils' minds, for which a wide-spread devotion would be for the best interests of the country at large.

THE LATE DOMINION SESSION.

Wanton Waste of Public Money.

Eighty Three and a Quarter Millions Squandered.

During the session of parliament whose hours closed last Saturday, the amount of money which was voted away was $83,271,000.00.

As the actual number of days which the House had a sitting was sixty-five, it will be seen that our legislature voted the money away at the lively rate of $1,281,092,33 a day.

As the average length of the sittings was about five hours, it will be seen that our gay and festive legislators made the money fly at the rate of $25,621 an hour, $440 a minute and about $74 a second.

It was the greatest fun imaginable for them to fling away the money at the rate of seventy-four dollars a second, to a rattling good accompaniment from jews-harps, mouth organs, and penny whistles.

It is a long time since the members have had such sport.

But having had their fun, it is only right that the electors of the country should have a little fun too; and when the proper time comes, which will not be far off, they will have grand sport in bouncing the mirth-loving Tory members with about as much rapidity as they chucked out the money.

The magnitude of the amount which has been voted away in such an off-hand, careless manner is almost sufficient to take one's breath away. Eighty-three millions is an enormous amount; but under the present regime of reckless expenditure we have become so accustomed to hearing of millions that it is almost difficult to realise how large the amount really is.

This $83,271,000 which was voted away by the Tory majority with not half as much thought as they would give to a game of billiards, represents over $18.50 for every man, woman and child in the Dominion.

If these $83,271,000 were in dollar bills and placed end to end it would make a strip 9,200 miles long. This would reach from New York to Liverpool and back, and back again to Liverpool.

This strip would be long enough to pass through the centre of the earth, and leave a little piece about five hundred miles long hanging out at each pole.

The amount in dollar bills, if arranged in a different manner, would cover a farm of 293 acres, or it would cover all the streets of Ottawa with something far more attractive to the eye than the mud with which they are now coated.

$83,271,000 would buy enough flour at $5 a barrel to feed 16,654,200 families of five persons each for about a month.

When it is taken into consideration that the bulk of this enormous sum of money was voted away for the benefit of a grasping railway monopoly; to assist railways which had no claim on the Federal Treasury, and for other purposes for which not a cent should have been given it will be seen that the people of Canada have good reason to complain of the ruinous and reckless manner in which their money is being expended by the party now in power.

The manner in which our debt is being piled up [illegible] put a stop to [illegible] of the Government.

Canada is now living far beyond her means, and her people must eject from power the men who are so recklessly squandering her resources if they wish, to stop their country in its headlong career towards financial disaster and ruin. Ottawa Free Press.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

WEDNESDAY.

MACDONELL'S LITTLE BILLS.

When the accounts for legal expenses came up again in the Public Accounts Committee, Mr. John White denounced the fees paid to J. A. Macdonell, D. O'Connor and others, as exorbitant and unreasonable, and urged that all parties should unite in putting a stop to such wholesale public robbery. Matters are certainly very bad when such a thick-and-thin supporter of the Ministry as Mr. White undertakes to find fault with the Government's payments to their political favorites. To-day Sir Richard Cartwright moved for a detailed statement of the accounts rendered by John A. Macdonell in connection with the Murray Canal, upon which he received $1,166.

ADOPTING MR. MACKENZIE'S PLAN.

One by one the slanders circulated by Tories against Mr. Mackenzie's Government, and the charges of mismanagement hurled against the late Premier, have been exploded. The steel rail slander was thoroughly exposed and refuted by Mr. Sandford Fleming in his evidence before the Pacific Railway Commission. The "water stretcher" have been adopted by the present Government, and now Sir Hector Langevin has been forced to confess that the Lake Superior part of the Canadian Pacific Railway is to be at Fort William, and that a portion of the money voted for Port Arthur pair is to be spent in dredging the bar at the mouth of the Kaministiquia River. Time brings its revenges, and now Mr. Mackenzie has the satisfaction not only of seeing the charges that were made against his Administration thoroughly refuted, but his opponents have been forced to adopt and carry out his policy in all important respects.

THURSDAY.

LICENSE ACT AMENDMENT.

Mr. McCraney won quite a victory to-day when he undertook to amend the License Bill by restoring the provision respecting the separation of hotels from liquor shops. His amendment was adopted by 75 to 62, the minority being composed exclusively of Tories.

SECTION B EXTRAS.

The Government came out of the discussion very badly to-night. They did not attempt to answer the charges and arguments advanced by Messrs. Mills, Davies and Sir Richard Cartwright, but Mr. Allison, of Hants, who was sitting at the time between two Ministers, attempted to break the force of the blows delivered by the Opposition by making a reference to some stale and long since exploded slander against Mr. Mackenzie's Government. The fact that the money to pay the Section B contractors is now asked for is pretty good evidence that the Government have no intention of appealing against the decision of the Star Chamber Commission, notwithstanding that Judge Clarke refused to sign the $395,000 award.

SIR HECTOR'S "EXTRA CLERKS."

Sir Hector Langevin to-day submitted to Parliament a statement showing that about seventy persons are employed in the Public Works Department as "extra clerks," etc., whose salaries are from time charged to particular public works. The salaries paid average about $2 per day, and thus about $53,400 of money voted annually for public works is frittered away in paying the salaries of Sir Hector's favorites, whose names are not allowed to appear in the Public Accounts.

THE GRAND TRUNK BILL.

All further legislative action in reference to the Grand Trunk Railway Bill has been dropped, Sir John Macdonald having announced to-day that the Government had taken security for the double-tracking of the line between Montreal and Toronto. This ends the matter; but the public will, doubtless, be anxious to know why the Government should want security from the Grand Trunk as to how that company shall expend their own money. The Government and the Pacific Syndicate profess to be anxious to see the Grand Trunk road double-tracked, and yet they seek to impose conditions which cannot fail but embarrass that Company, and perhaps defeat their whole enterprise. The Government have granted thirty millions of dollars to the Syndicate unconditionally, and the Tory majority in Parliament refused to allow any conditions or restrictions to be made as to how the Syndicate shall expend the money obtained from the public treasury. But the Grand Trunk Company, which asks no subsidy or aid from the Government, must not be allowed to use the money they propose to raise upon their bonds except in such a manner as its rival, the Pacific Railway Company shall dictate. This is exactly the state of affairs, and it seems to show how completely the Government is controlled by the Syndicate.

FRIDAY.

Sir Charles Tupper stated yesterday that the cost of the constructing the Intercolonial Railway was about $47.000 per mile. When this project was commenced Sir John Macdonald, Sir Charles Tupper, and the whole Ministry asserted that the cost could not by any possibility exceed $21.000 per mile. It will, no doubt, be found that the Railways Minister's estimate of the cost of the Canadian Pacific Railway will be even more inaccurate than were his estimates as to the cost of the Intercolonial. Nobody has any idea of what a railway through the Rocky Mountains is going to cost.

UNNECESSARY DELAY.

Their is no reason why Parliament should not have been prorogued to-day. The Senate had disposed of all the business before four o'clock, and the House of Commons had nothing whatever to do.

R. C. Bruce, druggist, Tara, says: I have no medicine on my shelves that sells faster or gives better satisfaction than Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil and the sale is constantly increasing, the past year being the largest I have ever had. One of my customers was cured of catarrh by using three bottles. Another was raised out of bed where he had lain up for a long time with a lame back, by using two bottles. I have lots of customers who would not be without it over night.

—The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First; It is perfectly harmless. Second; It saves more than half the labour. Third; It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all grocers. 49-52t

"A STAGGERER."

The Syndicate Pulls Hard at the Government—Fit Mad for a Disgraceful Session—The Premier at an Discount of Unparalleled Perfidy "Shuffling, Double-Dealing, and Generalities."

OTTAWA, April 18.—An article which appeared in the Montreal Herald this morning, assailing Sir John Macdonald for his course in reference to the Grand Trunk bill, has caused a sensation, inasmuch as the article is known to have been written or dictated by the Hon. Peter Mitchell. Mr. Mitchell was in his seat for a few minutes this afternoon, but he never approached or spoke to any of the Ministers, who were for some time discussing the article in question among themselves. It is well known that at a caucus of the Tory party which was called after the resignation of the Macdonald Government in 1873, Mr. Mitchell proposed that Sir John should be removed from the party leadership. The motion was voted down, but the Premier has

NEVER FORGOTTEN OR FORGIVEN

Mr. Mitchell. The latter now attacks the Premier savagely, declaring through his newspaper that "the conduct of the Prime Minister in this case is an example of unparalleled perfidiy to the interests and the honour of Parliament. The shuffling and the double-dealing of the Prime Minister in this direction have been as mean and cowardly as it was possible to make the conduct of a Minister of the Crown, as it is unequalled in its want of dignity, in its base direction, in the mercenary character of the apologies offered for it, in the heinousness of the precedent established by the First Minister's perfidy. So also let us hope that the attempt to degrade Parliament and the office of Governor-General may so profoundly stir the souls of the Canadian people that popular indignation will reveal itself and all past experience. There is no Canadian above the intellectual level of an idiot that does not know that the Prime Minister has struck a blow at the parity, honour, and usefulness of Parliament from which it may not recover in the time of the present generation. And yet the Prime Minister of our free young country intends to use the high office of the Governor-General to confirm swindle, and theft which would disgrace a colony of savages." Such is the language used towards the Premier of Canada by a gentleman who was once his colleague in the Ministry, and who is still a leading light of the Conservative party. What a "band of brothers" these Tories are.

BEYOND ALL PRECEDENT

TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS CLAIMED BY MR. CALDWELL FROM MR. MCLAREN.

A Montreal despatch says:—Now that the Privy Council has decided that Mr. Caldwell has a right to float his logs down the Mississippi, without paying anything to Mr. McLaren for having made floating logs a possibility, the former claims from the latter all the loss sustained by his being prevented from exercising his legal rights. While the great lawsuit has been pending Mr. Caldwell's logs, to the value of about $100,000, have been lying useless in the upper part of the stream, contracts have been lost, the mills closed down, and men have been thrown out of work. An action is accordingly being taken, in the Toronto Assize Court, for $200,000 damages. Mr. Caldwell's costs in the suit ended amount to about $50,000, which Mr. McLaren will have to pay.

Spring Tillage.

There is no influence or condition that affects the natural productiveness of the soil so much as tillage. The spring operations depend greatly upon the management of the land in the previous autumn. Deep versus shallow plowing has been a much debated subject, the difficulties having arisen from adopting false standpoints. If the organic matter of a previous vegetation be allowed to remain on the surface, its process of decay is checked, and the mineral constituents of the subsoil lose the beneficial action of winter exposure. The disintegrating effect of rain and frost upon the particles of soil and coarser fragments of rock is nature's fertiliser, the plant food being liberated from the insoluble combinations and prepared for more immediate use. Hence the chief argument in favor of fall plowing is made plain; and it will also be seen that the mode of plowing which exposes the greatest area to the action of the weather is the best. This is accomplished by laying the furrow slices at an angle of 45°. The depth is best regulated by the character of the subsoil and the character of the drainage. If the subsoil, by nature or by drainage, is porous, so that no obstruction is offered to the downward course of the roots, comparatively shallow plowing is the preferable mode in cases where the supply of manure is scanty, the object being to supply the young roots with an abundance of food while they are near the surface, so as to give them early vise and strength to work their way to the richer stores below. Under favorable circumstances some roots of the cereal crops will penetrate the soil four or five times the depth of ordinary plowing, so that the absurdity of attempting to loosen the soil for the free scope of the roots will at once appear. In most other cases deep plowing and even subsoiling is recommended. If the roots cannot find depth, they should have scope for the greatest possible extent of literal growth. From these principles it will also be seen that the poorer and stiffer classes of soil can scarcely receive too much cultivation.

With regard to spring tillage a very injurious system is very apt to prevail. It will now be seen from what we have said that if the winter weathered tilth be plowed into the subsoil, all the pains taken in the autumn work will be in vain; for all the nourishment required for the young plant will be placed beyond its reach, and the soil, though perhaps rich under proper management, would be condemned as unproductive. Hence the advantage of acting from well-founded principles. Spring tillage should therefore consist in cultivating and harrowing—not in plowing, the depth depending upon the nature of the seed, the larger seeds requiring, as a rule, a deeper cultivation than the smaller; but the main object is to obtain a smooth seed-bed of uniform depth, so as to promote regular germination and growth. A certain consistency of the soil is also required. It must be compact enough to support the plant and to retain the necessary quantity of moisture. The roller will effect this condition, closing the pores where evaporation is too active. But rolling a stiff soil, especially when wet, is a most injurious practice.

Grains of Good Advice.

Tillage increases plant food.
Soil is enriched by exposure to air.
Let cattle drink when they please.
Look out for your hired help early.
Good hen manure is as good as guano.
No food is so rich (nitrogenous) as veal.
Nothing so profitable as a good compost.
Feed your fowls charred grain occasionally.
Buttermilk is good for causing poultry to lay eggs.
Of all tillage operations, the most effective is frost.
Weeds steal nourishment from the crop's mouth.
Matter composed of carbon is no use as a fertiliser.
Kainit or ashes should be put on land deficient in potash.
Ireland is said to be now almost entirely free from foot-and-mouth disease.
Treat your young animals with kindness if you wish them to thrive. Food isn't all.

[illegible] the cost of letting your cattle [illegible] while they gained the most weight and grew fastest, and [illegible] them to look through the advertisements.

[illegible] your surface cultivation; it will [illegible] plant food, and give you an [illegible] seedbed.

Don't cut raw hog flesh. It may be [illegible] with trichina spiralis which may prove fatal to the eater.

The U. S. Congress has passed the long discussed bill for the prevention and cure of pleuro-pneumonia.

Gardeners have proved that wheat [illegible] best when the seed is sown two [illegible] deep.

Saw-dust and peat are better for littering than straw; they absorb more urine, and fermenting the manure is not necessary.

The biggest bonanza within the reach of the farmer is knowing how to feed [illegible] the [illegible] cheaply.

Sheep breeders in England have ascertained that mutton pays better than wool, and that fat lambs are more profitable than [illegible].

Don't allow any sudden or extreme change of temperature to affect your milk or cream; it will spoil the keeping qualities of the butter.

During the winter 300,000 bushels of turnips have been shipped from one locality in Canada to be manufactured into jam.

In experiments with pigs conducted at the State Agricultural College, Kansas, Prof. Shelton arrived at the conclusion that milk is the most profitable food.

It is unsafe to use old eggs for nest eggs. China or glass eggs are cheap enough, and there is no danger of them being gathered along with the nest eggs, and they are not liable to break and make a mess of the nests.

Farm yard manure, although a general manure, contains too much potash for clay soils. Hence the benefit derived from mixing special fertilisers with it. If well cared, it contains the same quantity of plant food as five dollars' worth of artificial manure.

Swindling Exposed.

Mr. H. S. Casey, insurance agent, of Colborne, requests the Campbellford Herald to publish the following warning to farmers. He says: "While travelling in the insurance business in the counties of Northumberland, Durham, Peterborough and Hastings, I often heard of farmers and others being swindled by pretty right men, but the most successful [illegible] is the lightning rod and hay [illegible] dodge. Having got possession of one of the best articles, I deem it just right to expose the mode commonly used by the swindlers. We will suppose in this case it is sewing machines the agent is selling. He is usually a nice dressed, oily tongued fellow. He calls upon his victim and says he has been directed to him by a neighbor as a good man to take an agency for his locality. He also tells him he can have one free of charge for himself, and has not got to pay for any until sold. He also gets an order signed, the same as below:

"☞This order is negotiable. Agents are not allowed to vary from it.

"ONTARIO SEWING MACHINE WORKS, TORONTO, Ont.

"Delivered at Warkworth, Ont., ten sewing machines, for which I agree to charge twenty-five dollars each, when a sale is made by me. I also agree to pay you twenty dollars for each machine on demand, payment to be made to the collector; if not to him, at Toronto, Ont. I am to have for my use, one machine without charge, which is to be my property.

"Dated ——— 1884.

"(Signed), JOHN BLYE,
"P.O. Warkworth. Con. 1, Lot 40.

"In reading the order as the agent reads it, stopping at "each," as if the sentence ended there, the victim is led to believe that he is to charge $25 each, and when a sale is made he pays $20 each, but the correct way of reading binds him to pay $20 each on demand. Now, I trust all parties who read this will expose it to the public, and if they hear of any one signing the orders, advise them not to accept delivery of goods from agent No. 2, and not to settle with him in any way, as they never sue on the original order, but scare the man into giving his note, which they can sell. The way would be when No. 2 agent comes round, to horswhip him, or laugh at him and tell him to sue the order. I trust the above exposure will save many innocent, honest farmers in the above counties."

Why Trees ought to be Planted.

The functions performed by trees in the economy of nature are exceedingly important. Their value for timber, fruit and wind-breaking is apparent to all, but they have far higher functions. Their influence on rainfall and the flow of springs is proved by the experience of the old world. The cyclones and violent storms of the Western States are due to the absence of forests. Trees serve as distributors of electricity and also as storehouses of moisture. The immense surface of the leaves, when the surrounding atmosphere becomes dry, exhales moisture and thus counteracts the effects of a dry atmosphere on moisture. Trees also act as storehouses of heat. The efficiency of trees as conductors of electricity is very marked and ought to be a great inducement to their planting. As the food of trees consists largely of carbonic acid they serve a grand purpose in setting free oxygen and absorbing the poisonous acid so injurious to animal life. The improvement in the appearance of the country caused by generous tree planting would be very great. What gives a more cheerful or inviting appearance to a place than the presence of a number of nice shade trees? For these and many other reasons the planting of trees ought to be encouraged by every good citizen in town or country.

Hereditary Scrofula.

Are you aware that in your blood the taint of scrofula has a prominent place? This is true of every one. It is liable at any time on the slightest provocation, to develop itself in some insidious disease. Consumption and many other disease are outgrowths of this impurity of the blood. Shaker Blood Syrup has a wonderful power over all scrofulous troubles, as the remarkable testimonials we have received unmistakably prove.

We refer by permission to Mrs. P. Elliott, Hanover, Maine, who was cured by Shaker Blood Syrup of 11 Scrofula Sores, the severity of which confined her to the house for two years. Six months previous to taking Shaker Blood Syrup, she could not get about her room without crutches. Her friend says I did not think it possible for her to live many months, she was reduced to a mere skeleton. Her cure is hardly less than a miracle. There is no doubt that in Shaker Blood Syrup, we have the most remarkable medicine that has ever been produced and a positive cure for Syphilis and Scrofula in their numerous forms. A DREAM.

The other night we had a dream. We thought the tax collector came around and after taking an inventory of our little effects he hardly got enough set down against us to pay the wear of his pencil. Then he asked us:

"What did you pay for that suit you have on?"

"$20," we answered.

He thereupon charged us with $9.

"What did you pay for flannels?"

"Our flannels were cheap," we said, "we got them all for $1.11."

He then charged us 80 cents.

"What did you pay for calico and muslin?"

"About $20."

He set down $9.

"How much lumber have you used this year?"

"1,500 feet," we answered.

And he charged us $3.

"What did you pay for your coal?"

"O, since coal has come down to $6.50 per ton, we used four tons instead of three, as in previous winters, and it only cost us $26.

He then charged us $6.

"How much sugar did you use in your family?"

"About 50 pounds."

He set down against us $1.25.

"How much rice did you use?"

"About 10 pounds."

He set down 22 cents.

"How much tea?"

About 5 pounds."

He set down 13 cents.

"Look here," said we, "what are you doing? you have got us charged wit $29.-43. What is that for?"

"Oh, it's protection," he answered, "the law has been changed, and instead of paying your tax with the price of goods, we now go around, assess it, and let you pay it in with your other taxes."

"But where does this go?" we asked.

"Why it goes to the manufacturers—to the support of our industries," he answered.

"Does everybody have to pay these taxes?"

"Yes, about everybody except those to whom the taxes go. Of course they don't pay taxes to themselves; besides they wear a finer quality of goods and the taxes are not so high on them at any rate. This, sir, is necessary to keep our laborers from becoming paupers."

"But how does it keep our laborers from becoming paupers; are they paid better?"

"Yes, they are paid from 33 to 50 per cent. more than they are in England?"

"Are the laborers taxed in England?"

"Oh, no, not on the articles of every-day use."

"Then they get 33 to 50 per cent. less wages, and we pay 45 to 80 per cent. more taxes."

"Just so; but then our industries must be protected."

Just then our indignation became so intense that we broke away from the chains of Morpheus, and, in our waking moments we asked ourselves, "what is the difference between taxing protection out of the people directly and stealing it out of them in the price of articles sold to them?" The difference is that one would be highway robbery, for the benefit of monopolies, and the other would be a theft which was difficult to find out. The people would resent the direct tax, whereas they would permit the indirect tax and vote over and over again for the men who imposed it on them.

Lindsay's Wharf, Aug. 22nd, 1883.

Messrs. Churchill & Co., Gents,—I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum for the past three years, and have been treated by some of the best doctors in Eastern Ontario without any lasting benefit. I was recommended by Mr. C. J. Lidnsay, of Kars, to try your Fountain of Health. After using five bottles of the Fountain and two bottles of your Chimax Salve, I believe I am perfectly cured. My general health is also much improved, and I now feel like a new man.

DERBY, N.B., Jan. 6, 1883.

I caught a cold last fall on the stage coach going to Chatham, which settled in a very severe cough, and finally I was confined to my room. I feared it would very soon terminate in consumption as I was growing weaker and weaker every day, I got very much alarmed; could not sleep for want of breath, when my doctor advised me to try Dr. Wilson's Pulmonary Chery Balsam, I felt sceptical at first, but after using one bottle found I was recovering, and on finishing my third bottle was a new man, cough all gone and completely cured. It is well named the great remedy. 17-2t

PETERBOROUGH, APRIL 24, 1884.

A Pair of Dead Ducks.

The Trent Valley Canal scheme and the Peterborough Post-office, are, for the time, at least, a pair of emphatically dead ducks. It was hoped by the sanguine that the Supplementary Estimates would include an appropriation for the further prosecution of the former scheme, and a sum for the building of the Post-office and Custom House, but, when they appeared, they were sought for in vain. Then hope was pinned to the second batch of Supplementary Estimates, but they have appeared, and their is not the faintest allusion to either project, in which Peterborough is so deeply interested. The last batch of the after-thought estimates contain appropriations for divers public works, amounting to over 800,000 dollars; but, Peterbough and the Midland District are insultingly ignored. Perhaps the idea may be entertained that Peterborough is not of sufficient importance to warrant the expenditure of the public money in providing a Post-office and Custom House for the accommodation of its inhabitants. But what are the facts? A return made to Parliament shows that the Dominion Government have built Post-offices and Custom Houses in forty-five towns and cities since 1874.

Of these, thirty-two have smaller populations than Peterborough, and of these, twenty-five return a smaller revenue to the Government than Peterborough. Then, why not, as a simple matter of justice, give this town a Post-office building worthy of its importance? Why is it not done? Is it because this West Riding is counted on to go solid Tory every time, no matter how much it is slighted, insulted and its claims over-looked? It is certainly not from any pretense of economy. Nine million dollars was voted for railways "at one fell swoop" by Ontario members, yet this town could not get a poor few thousand for an urgently-needed public convenience. What has the member for West Peterborough been doing? Whose interests has he been looking out for at Ottawa? The blame cannot be taken from his shoulders. All he had to do to secure a grant was to approach the Government and say:—"Now, gentlemen, the time for nonsense is past. You must know that I represent Peterborough as well as the Tory party, and I must look a little after the interests of my constituents. Now, you give me a grant for my post-office and you have my vote, but no grant, no vote." But he has not seen fit to do this, and in this indifference to the rights of this town consists his palpable betrayal of the interests of his constituents, and the forfeiture of his right, in any sense, to look upon himself as their representative.

The Port Hope Guide suggests a reason why our local contemporary is making such vigorous efforts to belittle the effects of the recently exposed Tory bribery plot. It says:—

"The Peterborough Review is edited by the member for West Peterborough in the Local Legislature. The Review is outdoing the Mail in trying to lie out of the recent political exposure at Toronto. The intimate connection that the aforesaid member has with the plot is the cause of the Review's anxiety to make light of the whole business. If no other evidence was to be had, the hang-dog look of that honorable gentleman as he haunted the committee on privileges and elections during the examination, was convincing enough."

Tory Inconsistency.

The Dominion Government resemble quack doctors in the respect that they are unwilling to swallow their own medicines. They, by specious special pleading and plausible promises, persuaded a deluded majority of the people that the so-called National Policy would, while giving the country permanent prosperity, especially preserve Canada for the Canadians. If their belief in their own doctrine is gauged by their practice, the Government have been humbugging the country knowingly. A return to Parliament, dragged out of the Government, shows that last year the Dominion Government imported from the United States—Lockport, N. Y.—dredges, scows and other dredging plant to the value of $69,775. This is a gratuitous outrage upon the manufacturers of Canada. These dredges and scows could have been as easily manufactured in Canada as a common road scraper. Yet our paternal Dominion Government, who are so anxious, during an election campaign, to keep Canada for the Canadians, deny the very manufacturers, whom they have handicapped in business—whose profits they have lessened by burdensome taxation on many materials used in their business—the simple right to recoup themselves, by being awarded a contract which they are abundantly able to fill. These men spend thousands of dollars in erecting buildings and equipping them with manufacturing machinery, and when the fatherly Dominion Government require dredges, etc., they coolly snub these manufacturers and go over to the Yankees and give them all the profit arising from a $69,000 order, while the Canadian manufacturers' works may stand idle, or close down and throw thousands of workmen out of employment for all the Government cares. How long will the people patiently submit to be humbugged in this manner?

Which to Believe.

During the debate on the railway subsidies resolutions Sir John Macdonald explicitly denied that his Quebec supporters put pressure on him to compel him to grant better terms to Quebec. Sir John's statement is circumstantially denied by Mr. Tarte, of Le Canadien newspaper, who asserts that there was pressure brought to bear and that Sir John was well aware of it. It is a simple question of veracity, and there need be little hesitation in deciding which to believe. Sir John, of course. Who ever knew that gentleman to equivocate, much less be guilty of an untruth, or of making a promise he did not redeem with religious scrupulosity? We can expect nothing of duplicity of a gentleman whom Hon. Mr. Blake describes with his fine irony as possessed of "That sincerity, that whiteness of heart and angelic purity of conduct and motive which have characterised him during a long course of public life, in which, whatever other inconsistencies have been observed, these qualities were constantly present."

And we all know how ingenuously Sir John displayed the guileless George-Washington aspect of his character when on a public platform in this town he solemnly declared, "I wish to God I could catch him!" (Reil), when at the same time he was paying out $1,000 of the people's money to assist in the rascal's escape. No, no; we are sure Sir John was never coerced in the manner in question by his Quebec supporters. He is far too patriotic to yield one iota of the country's interests to the exigiencies of party, and he is too truthful, if he did for once depart from the narrow gauge line of rectitude, to deny it. No, Sir John never tells a lie, when by some rare chance, the truth would serve his purpose as well.

Editorial Notes.

The people's money is flying at a lively rate at Ottawa. The first edition of the Supplementary Estimates brought the estimated expenditure up to about thirty-three millions, while the second batch adds nearly another million.

Big Push Wilkinson does not expect to be greatly impecuniosed by the prosecution for bribery. Sir John says he is paid $10 a day when his services are wanted. Push, of course, will interpret this as covering the time he is "wanted" by the authorities.—Tiser.

It is probable that there will soon be a Dominion election in West Northumberland. It is not known how the vacancy may occur, but the fact that the Supplementary estimates contain a grant of $10,000 to Cobourg Harbour is pretty conclusive proof.

Grip's leading cartoon neatly hits off the slavish subserviency of the Tory members from Ontario in assenting to government extravagance, corrupt legislation and robbery of Ontario, by representing the said Tory majority as a despondent nag with Sir Hector astride its neck—"The plug that never kicks."

On Wednesday last Mr. Justice Haggarty decided that contracts made by telephone are valid. This decision is only in accordance with common sense, for so much business is transacted nowadays through the medium of the telephone that it would be absurd to declare such contracts invalid.

Mr. J. A. Macdonell, the ex-Secretary of the ex-United Empire Club, the gentleman who dipped hundreds of dollars out of the Treasury for doing ten dollars worth of work—the gentleman who, a guest on the floor of the House of Commons, called Mr. Blake a liar, is highly incensed that his iniquitous bills should be questioned, and moved at Osgoode Hall on Wednesday to strike Hon. S. H. Blake off the roll for conduct unbecoming a gentleman (like Macdonell). The motion is a piece of clap-trap, but if Sir John does not sit on his minion the Law Society ought to. Everybody who knows this unspeakable scamp, knows his motive as alluded to above to be a mere black-mailing pretext.

The Toronto News, in referring to the item of $42,000 in the supplementary estimates, to purchase a mansion in London for Sir Charles Tupper, says:—"In addition to being a piece of shameful extravagance, this adds to the infamy of the whitewashing business by showing the falsity of the pretence that the High Commissioner receives no emoluments. A forty-two thousand dollar residence, rent free, is quite a consideration."

The trial of Messrs. Wilkinson, Bunting, et al. came on at the Spring Assizes, which commenced on Tuesday last. Mr. Justice Haggarty, Chief Justice of the Court of Queen's Bench, according to the Spring Circuit List, published last February, presides. It is a fortunate thing, remarks the Globe, that long before the bribery plot was unearthed, a judge so thoroughly experienced and possessed of the public confidence as Judge Haggarty was selected for these Assizes.

Manitoba is one of the provinces which, as the Review puts it, is not "cursed with Reform rule," but blessed with Tory incompetency and extravagance. There will be a deficit in the provincial accounts this year of from $150,000 to $200,000. Premier Norquay has been knocking for help at the Ottawa treasury, but, as he is not a contractor or a manufacturing monopolist, and not, therefore, in a position to contribute to election funds, except in the shape of volunteer field batteries, he is refused, and Manitoba is left to wrestle alone with the burden of debt Tory rule is there, as in Quebec and the Dominion, fast piling up.

The work of laying out the grounds about the Parliament buildings at Ottawa was completed some years ago and nothing has been required there since beyond the ordinary trimming and dressing. Last year this wise, prudent, beneficent Government paid $62,960 and $3,365 for "labour on the grounds." Mr. Davies moved for papers to show how this enormous sum was expended. It is a queer coincidence that the number of hands employed on the grounds at election times is exceedingly large. The air of a general election seems to develop the growing power of the predatory dandelion tremendously, since an extra large staff is required to keep this weed under subjection on Parliament square at Ottawa.

The Canadian N. P., fostered cotton lords are at a loss to know how to dispose of their surplus cotton. The hot-house forcing system of Sir Leonard Tilley has so increased manufactures that the market is now glutted. The cotton lords cannot now find sale at monopoly prices for their output, so they have decided to reduce the production, throw workmen out of employment, and export the surplus, so that foreigners may have cheap cottons, while Canadians pay the prices which the cotton lords keep up to high water mark by reduced production and export abroad. Protection works beautifully—for the monopolist—while the discharged workman and the consumer pocket the loss.

In the Week, Bystander asserts that there is very little difference between the creeds of political parties in Canada. He is well answered by "Reformer," who submits the following as the practical platform, evolved by their acts, of the Tory party in Canada:

1. The laborer and all wage-earners must be subjected not merely to the fullest competition from the whole world, but to competition which is intensified by aided immigration.
2. Certain capitalists must be relieved from such competition.
3. When rich capitalists go to buy from the labourer they must be allowed to buy in the cheapest market.
4. When labourers go to buy from capitalists they must be prevented by severe penalties of the tariff from so buying.
5. The people, as a whole, must not be allowed to make the best possible exchange they can for their labour, but must be driven by penalties to make exchanges with certain individuals.
6. Canadians are unfit for freedom and have not common sense enough to know where to buy and sell.

Last Tuesday, the "brute majority," as was to be expected, shouldered through the Dominion Parliament, the railway resolutions granting $9,000,000 to provincial railways. Mr. Blake proposed an eminently fair and equitable amendment to the effect, that if the expenditures of Quebec were to be considered the other provinces should receive similar consideration. This was, of course, voted down, for no other reason it seems, than that it was something fair and honest, and therefore repugnant to Sir John's nature; he gave the nod and his Ontario supporters, showed how much they preferred loyalty to party to the interests of their province, by aiding in a solid phalanx to inflict a grievous injustice on Ontario. Ontario, the most populous, progressive and wealthy province must pay the biggest share of these subsidies, yet our Tory representatives were so slavish and subservient to their party leader that they did not cast a single vote in her behalf. They are miserable traitors to their constituents.

The editor of the Review, the member for West Peterborough, goes into a laboured calculation to attempt to show that the Mowat Government wasted the first part of the session to introduce important legislation at the close. Everybody, who has followed the reports of the proceedings, knows this to be—well, a mistake. Everybody knows that the Opposition factionists did everything in their power to obstruct business, by bringing forward buncombe motions of want of confidence, in the vain hope that they might find a vulnerable chink in the Government armour. And everybody knows how much the expose of the Tory bribery plot tended to divert attention from the business of the House; so it is to the Opposition that it was owing if important legislation had to be introduced at the end of the session. In closing its labored diatribe, in the vain attempt to inculpate the Mowat Government, our contemporary makes its only point, when it says that Sir John Macdonald is a guest "sinner at this kind of scandalous legislation"—in keeping back important measures to avoid discussion.

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!

Three Fires in Three Days.

Peterborough's usual consternation of three fires in succession has this week followed in rather closer order than ever before. The first took place on in the afternoon, when the wheel house at Hilliard's mills caught fire from a spark from the smoke stack of the shingle mill. The water works pump house being close at hand, and the mills having an efficient fire extinguishing service, the flames were put out, but not before damage to the extent of $100 was done. On the alarm was rang for a fire in the house of Mrs. Robert Moore, west end of Sherbrooke street. The steamer and brigade turned out with great promptitude, the former with steam up before she arrived near the fire, which was, however, put out without the help of the steamer or brigade. The loss was slight. Children playing, the cause.

MONDAY,

TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY.

At three o'clock on Wednesday morning a fire broke out in a house on Chamberlain street, in the southern part of the town, west of the Drain Road, and occupied by Mr. Archibald Merton. The brigade turned out, but it was useless for the steamer to go to the fire, for there was no water near enough to be available. The hook and ladders went down, but could be of no use, the fire having progressed too far. The building, a brick one, was entirely consumed. Mr. Morton saved his furniture (which was insured) in the main part of the house, but that of the kitchen, excepting the cooking stove, was destroyed. The building, one, was owned by Mrs. Christie, of Scotland, for whom Mr. Thos. Fife, Otonabee, is agent. The fire was clearly the work of an incendiary. An attempt was made on Sunday, April 13th, to fire the building by using coal oil. In view of this Mr. Morton secured the fastenings of his sheds, and on Tuesday night, at eleven o'clock, went out and fastened everything securely. There was, and had been, no fire in the part where the flames broke out, so that only an incendiary could have produced the destruction he wickedly accomplished.

Matrimonial.

On Wednesday afternoon of last week, Mr. John K. Moore, of North Monaghan, and Miss Ann, daughter of Mr. George Elliott, of Smith, were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's father, by the Rev. Mr. Johnston, of Lakefield. A large number of the friends of the mutually fortunate principals was present, and the bride received a liberal tribute to her popularity in the form of numerous handsome presents. The newly wed went on their tour to Niagara and elsewhere. Our warmest congratulations and best wishes are tendered.

On the same day Peterborough contributed one of the principal parties to a similarly delightful social event. Rev. John Shaw was the ministerial medium for matrimonially uniting the fortunes of Mr. Alex. Thompson, grain merchant, of Montreal, and Miss Helen, daughter of Mr. E. K. Ostrom, of Peterborough. There were many guests present, and the bride was remembered with a generous number of elegant presents. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson went to New York on their wedding tour, followed by the warm wishes of many friends, to which we beg to add our own.

On Wednesday morning Rev. Mr. Bradshaw, of St. Luke's, Ashburnham, performed the ceremony that joined in wedlock Mr. Robert Graham, of La Junta, Colorado, and Miss E. E. Lech, daughter of Mr. Wm. Lech, merchant. The marriage took place at six o'clock in the morning, and the bridal pair took the 7 o'clock train en route for Colorado. A very large number of friends assembled at the station to wish them good-bye and God-speed. Miss Lech has for some time filled the position of organist of St. Luke's Church, and so acceptably, too, that her absence will be felt to be a great loss. In proof of how highly her services were appreciated, the members of the choir waited on Miss Lech at her residence, on Tuesday evening, and presented her with a fine jewel case, and the following address:—

DEAR MISS LECH,—The members of St. Luke's Church Choir beg to offer you their most sincere congratulations on your approaching marriage, and ask your acceptance of the accompanying jewel case as a very inadequate token of their earnest good will and wishes for your future happiness.

In your position as Organist for many years, the undersigned have had more than ordinary facilities for knowing you intimately. They cannot speak too strongly of their appreciation of your many excellent qualities, your patience, skill and unfailing good-nature, and they sincerely regret your departure from Peterborough.

You have endeared yourself very much to all who knew you at St. Luke's, and in losing you, the church loses a tried friend, a skilled musician, and a faithful and steadfast worker—one, indeed, whose place it will be most difficult to fill.

Had opportunity permitted, we should have been glad to tender you some more valuable token of esteem—one more commensurate with your deserts and our own wishes—but as only a few hours have elapsed since we knew of your approaching marriage, we must ask you, with the unfailing kindness which has ever characterized you, to accept the will for the deed.

That you and your partner may long be spared; that you may both enjoy a full measure of health and prosperity, and above all, that the blessing of God may be vouchsafed to you in all coming time, is our sincere and heart-felt wish.

It's the Loan of Your Eyes

WE ASK;

NOT OF YOUR EARS!

Spring's coming has been delayed—"side tracked"—if we may borrow a handy phrase from our railroad friends. While the Winter Suits and Dresses are yet comfortable, we ask that you come within ear shot—or rather eye shot—of our Grand Spring Exhibit, for it's the loan of your eyes we ask, not of your ears.

To particularize would take colums of room, we must generalize. We hand you this invitation, and you'll neglect your own money interests you refuse. If our display fails to convince you that we show the largest assortment in all lines—recollect it takes two stores to hold it—that we keep only reliable goods, that we keep everything and sell as cheaply, and sometimes a trifle below other dealers—then it's because you're not open to conviction, and not because there isn't sufficient evidence to support the statement.

You have the fullest liberty to look, handle, criticize, compare, and you'll not be "tempted," not "urged to buy" against your will. Why? Simply because we know—as others show us—that sales made under pressure of any sort would be against us; yes, its' simple. WE MUST NOT SELL YOU WHAT YOU WON'T LIKE. What you prefer we'll gladly hand you over. And our prices are just as low as any in town.

COUNCIL MEETING.

Council met on March 31st, pursuant to adjournment, all the members present except the Reeve. T. E. Fitzgerald, Deputy Reeve, occupied the chair.

Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed.

A by-law to provide for the expenditure of one thousand five hundred dollars on the roads of the township passed its several readings, and was signed and sealed.

The Council agreed to sell the timber on the 13th Concession Line, from Mud Lake eastward to the road between lots 27 and 28, and allow one year for the removal of the same.

The Clerk was instructed to notify David McManus to pay for sand taken from the pit known as Morrison's Hill, at the rate of 25 cents per load.

Moved by Mr. Middleton, seconded by Mr. Garbutt, that, whereas it has become necessary to open up certain roads in the township of Smith, the timber on which has been sold to parties who have not removed the same; be it therefore resolved that all such timber remaining on roads after the first day of April, 1885, without the sanction of this Council, shall be forfeited, and may be sold or removed as the Council thinks necessary.—Carried.

The Clerk was instructed to notify John W. Moore, jr., to remove his fence off the road between Lots 30 and 31, in the 12th Concession, and also off the 13th Concession Line.

The following claims were ordered to be paid, namely:—Mrs. Tarver, clothes for G. Parsons, $5.00; Mrs. Turver, for board for G. Parsons, $8.00; S. McKibbin, for support of Mrs. Clegg, $20.00; F. J. Bell, for repairing road, $3.50; and the Treasurer was instructed to settle with Josiah Bullock, for building culvert, and also with G. J. Chalmers, for timber for road.

The Council then adjourned till Monday, the 26th day of May, then to meet as a Court of Revision on the assessment roll.

On Saturday morning last Miss Lizzie Edmison, daughter of Mr. Thomas Edmison, Communication Line, Smith, died after an illness of only a few hours. On Friday at noon she was in her usual health, only having a slightly sore throat, and she made a hearty meal as usual at that hour. About two o'clock she was seized with vomiting of a cholerale character and this combined with fainting and failure of the heart's action, caused death on the following morning Deceased was a most estimable young lady, aged 27 years. She was greatly respected and beloved in the neighborhood, a fact which was demonstrated on Monday when her funeral took place, an exceedingly lengthy procession of mourning friends and neighbors paying the last tribute of respect by following her remains to their last resting place in the Methodist cemetery, Peterborough.

(From an Occasional Correspondent.)

[Arrived too late for last week.]

Spring plowing has commenced.

The robins have come.

Meadrats and wild ducks are catching grief.

The auction sale in Mr. Hall's store is about being wound up.

Some roughs, who should know better, amused themselves last Tuesday evening, by committing depredations in our usually quiet village, which should cause the village police to be more on the alert.

We understand that the R. W., Grand Master has been requested to lay the corner stone of the New Presbyterian church, about to be erected here, with masonic honors, on Saturday the 24th of May next.

Once] more has the destroying angel entered our midst, and once more dealt sorrow to a sympathizing community. On Wednesday last, Miss Beatrice Harrison, daughter of Dr. Harrison of this place, was to all appearance in her usual health; on Thursday she was taken ill; and on Friday, despite the efforts of several medical men who were present, death claimed her for his own, at the early age of eleven years and six months. We understand that the cause of her death was heart disease, with which the late Miss Harrison was some time past, troubled. The sympathy of the entire community is expressed for the family of Dr. Harrison, in their affliction.

DUMMER.

DEATH OF AN OLD, ESTEEMED SETTLER.

On Monday the 14th inst, one of Dummer's, oldest and most esteemed settlers, Mrs. Isabella Anderson, passed peacefully away in the 80th year of her age, and, on Wednesday, the 16th, her remains were followed to their last resting place by a large number of relations and friends. A native of Perthshire Scotland, she came to Canada in 1832, and settled in the Township of Dummer, where her husband died in 1843, leaving her with a young family of children to provide for. She was a sincere Christian and a true friend. Of Mrs. Anderson's family, four survive her; the eldest, Mrs. Rose of Dummer; D. Anderson, Crown Land Agent, Apsley; A. R. Anderson of Norwood and John Anderson, Dummer.

FENELON FALLS.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

About 2 a. m. on Monday, the 21st inst., a fire broke out in the kitchen of the Canada House, a high north wind blowing at the time. The whole block between Bond and Frances streets, some seventeen buildings was destroyed. The loss is $25,000. The insurance amounts to $15,000, in the following companies:—Western, Lancashire Fire Insurance Association, Citizens', Imperial, Royal London Assurance.

Messrs. Churchill & Co., Dear Sirs,—I have been troubled with Piles for the last five years, and during that time I have taken medicine from five doctors which failed to effect a cure. I consider your Fountain of Health an excellent tonic to build up the system.

FORESTRY.

The court meets to-morrow (Friday) evening, instead of this evening, on account of the concert to be held in P. C. A. Hall to-night.

A SMALL PANDEMONIUM.

During the discussion on the final reading of Sir Tupper's Whitewashing Bill, the Government supporters became very restive, and while Mr. Mills was speaking they attempted to put him down, but when Mr. Blake rose and intimated that the Opposition would have fair discussion if they had to stay all summer, they quieted down. When Mr. Mills closed his remarks, Mr. Kaulbach rose to read a carefully prepared speech, and proceeded to heap the most fulsome flattery upon Sir Charles, which proved to be even too much for the Tories, who broke out in the most boisterous attempts to stifle the speaker that was probably ever heard in the Commons. Desks were rattled and scraped, yells and cries of every imaginable character were indulged in, tin horns were blown, jaws-harps played, and peals of laughter rang through the chamber. The Speaker could do nothing, and amidst cries of "order," "disperse," and showers of paper balls and blue books, Mr. Kaulbach kept on, but became so confused at last that he got his papers and his ideas so completely muddled that among other things he declared that the "Cumberland War Horse" had sat in Parliament for twenty-five years and had never "violated" his seat. This declaration gave fresh impetus to the uproar, which was in no way diminished when one of the pages was sent around with a paper box containing a Chinese doll, which finally fell into the hands of Mr. Baker, of British Columbia, who held it up and fondled it, amidst cries of "explain!" "explain!" But Mr. Kaulbach at last wilted—he being fairly laughed down—and when the Speaker gave the order to "call in the members," and while the Whips were performing their duty, a large number of the members joined in singing for Mr. Kaulbach's special benefit, "For he's a jolly good fellow."

PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE CONSOLIDATION.

At the Synod in Belleville last week Principal Grant made a speech with reference to the overture of the Whitby Presbytery on the number of Presbyterian theological colleges. He thought the object of those who proposed the overture was to have the college faculties centered in Toronto. Of course Kingston and Montreal would be quite as anxious to get this favour. The speaker knew something of the difficulties that presented themselves to the consolidation at the time of the union, and he thought it undesirable to open up this question again unless some practical proposal was made. [He showed that there were only two possible solutions. First, that Knox College should be removed to Kingston. Consolidation could thus be effected without costing the church a dollar. Secondly, that Queen's should be removed to Toronto. He showed clearly that that would cost at the outstart at least a quarter of a million dollars. As the net result in either case would be the same he left it to the Synod to say which was the wiser solution. He liked Toronto very much, but perhaps it was not worth paying a quarter of a million of dollars simply to enable the students to breath its pure air.

Rev. R. Wallace, Toronto, and Prof. McLaren agreed with Principal Grant's views. The overture was then withdrawn.

THE BARNARDO HOMES.

The Toronto Mail contains the following in reference to the branches of the great and philanthropic Dr. Barnardo's Homes in Canada:

A detachment of sixty vigorous, smartly-trained lads, of ages ranging from twelve to seventeen years, arrived at the Home, Front street, a day or two since from the present institutions in England, being the third band of young immigrants who have been received into the temporary branch since its opening in July last. The boys are in the charge of the Rev. F. Fielder, governor of the Home in London, who as soon as they are placed, will proceed to Peterborough to open a branch house in that city for the reception and distributing of girls, either for situations as servants or for adoption. It is understood that several influential people in Peterborough, as in Toronto, are much interested in Dr. Barnardo's Homes and his work amongs orphan and destitute children, and that Mr. George A. Cox has very generously undertaken, at his own cost, to provide and fit up the Home in Peterborough. The management of the Canadian work will henceforth be under the care of Mr. and Mrs. Duff, who are coming out in June with a contingent of 150 girls. They will also be assisted by a staff of visitors and correspondents, so that there is every guarantee that the work will be conducted in the most thorough and efficient manner, and that all the children will be carefully looked after until they are fully able to provide for themselves. It will be noticed also that Dr. Barnardo himself intends visiting Canada in June next, and will then give a series of lectures on the character and marvellous growth of his work in London, England. The Homes now contain upwards of 1,300 boys and girls, who are wholly maintained and educated by the free-will offerings of Christians in nearly every part of the world.

MARRIED AT LAST.

SUNDERED THREE TIMES, BUT FINALLY UNITED—A REMARKABLE CASE OF LOVE.

Silvan Owen of Palmyra N. Y. courted Catherine Radd 60 years ago. They quarrelled. Owen married another. So did Miss Radd. Their partners both died 40 years ago. Owen was 40 years old. His old flame was 44. They came together again and were to be married when they had trouble the second time. The widow married a man named Nash. Owen also remarried. Some time ago he was left a widower a second time. And the men afterward became the widow Nash. On Friday last they were married after 60 years, he at 80 years and she at 84.

Pure Bred Poultry!

The subscriber is now prepared to dispose of SITTINGS OF EGGS from the following varieties of Poultry:—Plymouth Rocks, Houdans, Black Spanish, White Leghorns, Buff Cochin, Silver Grey Dorkings, Silver Spangled Hamburgs, Pekin Ducks and Bronze Turkeys.

All the above varieties were either first or second prize birds at the fall and winter exhibitions. I have also added since the exhibitions some very fine birds of different varieties to my stock. Having bred the greater part of the varieties for three years, I think I know what suits the country.

Every pains has been taken to keep the stock pure, by keeping the birds in different yards, therefore the public can rely on a good article, either in Eggs or Chicks, second to none but in price, say and all of the above varieties being offered at $1.00 per 13, or 26 for $2.00, excepting the Ducks or Turkeys.

Any orders for eggs must be accompanied with the price. I would be glad to fill a large order, if required, with different kinds.

MINE.

Mine an blossoming truth with flowers,
Birth that [illegible]
Sunward soaring through the air;
Breathes of meadow, stealing sweet
To the memory's reared line;
Velvet-green beneath the feet—
These are mine.

Clouds, fledged in golden space,
Of the narrow wayside pool;
Light winds, wafting odors sweet
From the knolls where flow'rets shine
In their beauty rare, complete—
These are mine.

Spirit-escapes, eager, keen,
Touched by Beauty's wand anew,
Drinking nature's radiant ocean,
Earth out-rolled, and spread to view;
Spirit-longings, stirred by hope,
For serene times sweet and fine
Out beyond time's horoscope—
These are mine.

Friends about me all the way,
Rich in words and deeds of love,
Who, where'er my footsteps stray,
Counsel, strengthen, and reprove;
Nearer friends, who seem to reach
E'en to where my thoughts combine
Into half-formed words of speech—
These are mine.

Promises of rest and peace,
When the day of life is done;
For, all grow sweet at last
With the Father and the Son
Yes, while here, unbound, free—
Grace and love of God, divine;
Gifts of blood-dyed Calvary—
These are mine.

AN AWFUL SCANDAL.

"Why, is Mrs. Jenkins, have you heard the news?"

"No, Mrs. Brown, do tell me, for I am dying to hear."

"Well, you know I never gossip, my dear."

"Of course not; I do not think it right to talk about one's neighbor's affairs. But what is the latest? Of course we will tell each other what is going on."

"Why, you know Colonel Jones' house is near to ours, and we can see right into their side windows. Well, would you believe it, I actually saw him kiss his wife this morning before leaving the house."

"You are sure it wasn't the hired girl?"

"No, I could see her plain enough. I know they had a terrible row and were making up. The idea of a man kissing his own wife, and before everybody, too."

"Yes, dear, it is an awful scandal. Good-bye," and Mrs. Jenkins hurried off to see her friend Mrs. Smith, and tell her about the big row, and how Colonel Jones nearly killed his wife.

A Great Discovery.

Mr. Wm. Thomas, of Newton, Ia., says: "My wife has been seriously affected with a cough for twenty-five years and this spring more severely than ever before. She used many remedies without relief, and being urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery, did so, with the most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved her very much, and the second bottle has absolutely cured her. She has not had so good health for thirty years."

DIDN'T THINK ANY MORE OF HIM.

The Queen has often made visits both of pleasure and policy to her estate in Scotland, being at such times more than heartily welcomed by the canny Scots, who, almost without exception, highly reverence her and indorse all that she does.

On one occasion, shortly after a visit to her castle in the outskirts of Balmoral, Henry Irving, who was travelling through the country, met an old Scotch woman with whom he spoke of her Majesty.

"The Queen is a good woman," he said.

"I suppose she's gude enough, but there are things I canna bear."

"What do you mean?" asked Mr. Irving.

"Well, I think there are things that even the Queen has no right to do. For one thing—she goes rowing on the lak on Soonday—and its not a Chreestian thing to do."

"But you know the Bible tells us—"

"I knaw," she interrupted angrily. "I've read the Bible ever since I was so high, an' I knaw every word in't. I knaw about the Soonday fishing and a' the other things the good Lord did, but I want ye to know, too, that I don't think any the more, e'en of him, for adoing it."

Never Give Up.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility, disordered blood, weak constitution, headache, or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return, pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor & Macdonald.

WANTED TO BE "SEALED."

"I see," said Mrs. Youngwife, as she folded the newspaper and took up her sewing, "I see that the Mormons have their wives sealed unto them." "Yes," replied the husband, looking up from his book; "that is the custom I believe, my love." "I don't see why Somerville wives should not be sealed unto their husbands," pursued the lady as she threaded her needle. "In what way, dear?" "With a sealskin sacque, as it were," and the lady chewed her thread meditatively, while the husband muttered "selah!" and pretended to be gazing at the ceiling.

DEATH TO PLANT INSECTS.

A good insecticide for garden plants is made by boiling four ounces of quassia in a gallon of water, and adding two or three ounces of soft soap, diluting as may be necessary, so as to be thoroughly thrown over the plants with a syringe. This answers well for aphides or plant lice.

A Field of Corns.—Thomas Sabin of Eglington, says: "I have used Holloway's Corn Cure with the best results, having removed ten corns from my feet. It is not a half way cure or reliever, but a complete extinguisher, leaving the skin smooth and clear from the least appearance of the corns."

CARRIED BY WOMEN.

A NEW KIND OF SERVICE—A GRAND EXPLOSIVE SCHEME IN HAND.

A letter received in Paris from Irish sympathizers with the dynamite party, states that the dynamite campaign has not yet ended. Two hundred and fifty pounds of dynamite have been sent from France to England within the past three weeks. A girl resident at Cork, and a sister dynamiter living in Paris, carry it across the channel. The girl is also a medium of communication between the dynamiters in Paris and those in Great Britain and Ireland. The woman who conveyed the dynamite used in the Victoria depot explosion, to London has gone to America.

The dynamiters in England are opposed to isolated attempts, and contemplate a general explosion in various parts of the country on a certain day and hour. The export of dynamite from France to England continues. There is no law to prevent it.

Entrymen Prefer It.

Messrs. Wells, Richardson & Co.;

Since the introduction of your improved Butter Color among my customers, it it has given universal satisfaction. The leading dairymen of this section who have used it give it the preference over all other colors, of whatever name or nature.

They are especially pleased with the fact that it does not become rancid, like other oil colors and their product brings highest prices in market.

FENIAN MANIFESTO.

DYNAMITE WARFARE ADVISED.

Patrick Joyce, secretary of the Fenian Brotherhood, in a manifesto addressed to all Irishmen, says the brotherhood has good cause to rejoice at the discomfiture of John Bull. England never before felt the vengeance of the expatriated Irish with such crushing force. The honour of inaugurating a scientific warfare was due to the brotherhood. We have surprising proofs of the efficiency of means when handled by intelligent, brave and determined men. We summon all to help us. We advise our brothers to persevere in glorious war, and we will live to witness free and regenerated Ireland. We are resolved to push the work with redoubled energy, and recommend Prof. Mesorof to all Irishmen as the exponent of the resources of civilization.

Insurance.

Insurance is a good thing whether applied to life or property. No less a blessing is anything that insures good health. Kidney-Wort does this. It is nature's great remedy. It is a mild but efficient cathartic, and acting at the same time on the Liver, Kidneys, and Bowels, it relieves all the organs and enables them to perform their functions perfectly. It has wonderful power. See advt.

A HORRIBLE SUSPENSE.

From a new French play, according to Figaro:—"Oh! but will heaven never relieve me from this horrible suspense? Am I to be thus tortured into my grave?"

"Tortured, my dear, and how?"

"My husband—my poor, dear husband! He disappeared from me two years ago, two long and weary years, and I know not whether he be dead or alive."

"It is indeed terrible."

"Terrible! It is maddening. And me with three offers of marriage on hand!"

Dr. Wheeler's Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya—After having used your Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya for over two years in my daily practice, I must give it my unqualified approbation. During a practice of over twenty years, I have used many scientifically prepared compounds, made to fulfil the same therapeutical indications as your elixir, but none of them proved with me as valuable as yours. To the medical profession, and to the public, I would especially recommend it as the best remedy with which I am acquanted for the successful treatment of the large and constantly increasing class of cases of over-worked and nerve exhausted women. Yours truly,

N. Watkyns Buel, M.D.

LARGE LANDSLIDE.

A piece of land about 300 yards long, 100 yards wide and 70 feet high, and covered with full grown trees, along the south side of the Grand River, about two miles from Brantford, slid into the river Wednesday night, causing the river to overflow the flats. The bank was nearly straight above the river, and it is supposed the late high water undermined the bank and caused the slide. It has shaken the abutment of Cockshute Bridge, and traffic over it is suspended.

THE QUEEN'S THANKS.

The Queen has forwarded a letter to the newspapers thanking her subjects for their sympathy with the royal family and with the Duchess of Albany in their grievous bereavement, the death of Prince Leopold, Duke of Albany. She also expresses her gratitude to the people of all other countries, especially the one in which her son died, for their sympathy and condolence.

There is a wide difference between medicines which affect merely the symptoms of disease and those which affect its cause. The first are useful as palliatives, the second, if of genuine efficacy, produce a radical cure. To the latter class belongs Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. Thoroughness of operation is its special attribute in all cases of Biliousness, Costiveness, Indigestion, Kidney Complaints, and Female Weaknesses.

LOSS OF LIFE FROM BRITISH SHIPS.

A return of lives lost by drowning or other accidents in British merchant ships registered in the United Kingdom during the twelve years from 1871 to 1882 inclusive, places the total at 20,722, of whom 16,089 were crew and 3,062 passengers. Of the seamen, 12,130 were drowned, and 2,530 lost by other accidents.

THE HAINES "Upright Pianos."

A few extracts from the numerous endorsements by the leading artists of the World as to their Superiority:—

The pianoforte of your make used at my last concert is the most admirable instrument I have ever seen. Please send to my address in London one of your Upright Pianos. This, I think, is the best endorsement of your instrument I can give you.—Clementine Nilsson.

Neither in Europe or America have I seen an Upright to equal yours.—Eilhen Gerbsine Gardini.

In all the qualities an artist can require your Upright Pianos surpass anything I have ever seen.—Sofia Scalchi.

It is superior in quality of tone and evenness of action to any instrument I know of. Clara Louise Kellogg.

Having had an opportunity of using your New Concert Upright Piano at the concerts given by Her Majesty's Opera Company, we beg to compliment you upon your great success. You can justly claim a superiority over any piano we have hitherto seen, for concert purposes and accompanying the voice.—Italo Campanini, Antonio Galassi, Anna de Prelocca, Emil Ambra.

The successful manner in which your Upright Piano has stood the severest tests, is such as heretofore has been applied to the Grand Piano only, and it commands our unqualified endorsement.—Ole Bull, Emma Thursby, Alfred H. Pease, Maurice Strakosch.

MIDLAND DISTRICT DASHES.

The Cream of Occurrences Skimmed from Contemporary Columns.

PORT HOPE.

It is the intention of Messrs. J. S. Fisher and S. Murity, Veterinary Surgeons, to settle permanently in Millbrook.

The Saved Army is making great progress at Millbrook, under the command of Miss Gobeen, of Port Hope. The meetings are very largely attended, and great interest is taken in them by the people.

OPS.

Mr. Henry McKay of Ops according to the Post, says stock-raising pays. During the last two years he has sold $1,400 worth of horses, cattle and sheep off one hundred acres of land and kept up his share of grain-raising. He has found it more profitable to raise stock and it pays to get the best. This is the experience and conclusion of many of our farmers, and this part of the country has made a marked advance in this respect within the last few years. It will soon rank among the best stock-raising sections in the province.

DORCAYGEON.

The local temperance movement maintains its activity, and is gradually drawing recruits.

It is understood that the Salvation Army is going to swoop down on our village as soon as navigation opens. Well, there certainly are a few around who need a little Salvation fired into them.

The Pigeon Lake quarry closed down on Tuesday, and the men have all left for the quarries at Perth. A number of men are to return in about two months' time. The bulk of the dimension stone required for the Fenelon Falls' locks is already prepared and awaiting shipment. The removal of the quarry hands will be a loss to the village. It was a development of one of our great resources, and turned a great quantity of raw material into Dominion bills.

NORWOOD.

Mr. R. Carton, of Peterborough, is painting the McGregor House. He is making a good job of it.

Orange Hill, in this village, has been purchased by the Ontario and Quebec Railway Company for "filling" purposes along the line. A ballast pit will be opened on Mr. Thomson's farm in Asphodel.

The three-quarter-mile siding at the station in this village has been found inadequate, and another of the same length will be laid shortly. There were no less than 65 cars on the siding at the station one day last week. This fact proves amply that more siding is required.

The programme for Norwood's "24th" will be composed of the following events: In the forenoon—grand lacrosse match; in the afternoon—"Calithumpian" procession, Caledonian games in the park, open air concert by the Norwood and Campbellford brass bands; in the evening—fireworks, torchlight procession, grand promenade concert.

LINDSAY.

The enlargement of the Sylvester implements works is to be made at once and the buildings put up and completed as soon as possible if the council will give Mr. Sylvester the use of the ground on which the drill shed stands.

We regret to learn that Mr. W. J. Flavelle's health shows no signs of permanent improvement, and it is quite likely that he will have to take a long holiday—a trip to Europe or some such form of recreation. His many friends will join us in wishing him an early restoration to sound health.

What's in a Name?

Scrofula is so called from the Latin Scrofa, a pig, from the supposition that the disease came from eating swine's flesh. It is often inherited from parents, and leads to abscesses, ulcerous sores, debility king's evil and consumption. The case of the Rev. Wm. Stout, of Wiarton, who suffered 23 years from scrofulous abscesses, is one of the most remarkable on record. Burdock Blood Bitters cured him after the best medical skill had failed. 17-2t

"Men live a great deal faster than women," says a writer. This must be true, because you never see a woman quite as old as a man born in the same year.

MANHOOD
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.
☞ Price in a sealed envelope, only 6c. or two postage stamps.
The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
☞ This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land

CONFIDENTIAL.
Thousands of young Men and Women—married and single—through the effects of vicious youthful habits, or excessive indulgence in later years, have so undermined their general systems as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of these troubles being scarcely ever suspected, they are drugged and doctored for everything but the right one. The ordinary modes of treating troubles of this nature do no good. The JERUSEMIN COMBINATOIN REMEDY is offered as A Speedy and Certain Cure, as hundreds afflicted with every form of disease have been restored to complete health by its use, after all other remedies failed. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, but especially in cases arising from imprudence. Its recuperative powers are truly astonishing, and its continued use for a short time changes the languid, debilitated condition, to one of renewed life and vigor.
Forwarded to any address, on receipt of Price, $3 per package—sufficient for one month's treatment.

Exporting Equines.

On Friday morning Mr. Zimmer, of Rochester, who has been staying at Cavanagh's Hotel, to purchase horses, sent a fine lot to Port Hope, to be shipped to the States. They were sent to Port Hope by the gravel road. The average price paid was over $200. An old resident of the county, on seeing the lot, said he did not think such fine horses could be procured in Peterborough county; but Peterborough need not take a "back seat" in competing against the west in any kind of live stock.

Special Notice to the Public.

W. Fairweather & Co. desire to inform their friends and the public that they have secured an Auctioneer's License for the town of Peterborough, and rented the large and spacious premises next door to Rush & Elliott's, where they will carry on the business of Trade Auctioneers, Valuators, Commission Merchants, Manufacturers' Agents, and dealers in Bankrupt Stock and Estates, Household Furniture, and Real Estate. An efficient staff of experienced hands always kept, and prompt settlements made. W. Fairweather & Co., Auctioneers and Valuators.

High Living.

These days the people of Peterborough are living high—that is, they have to pay high prices for bread and meat. The butchers in solemn conclave, knowing that man can't live by bread alone, have decided to place the price of beef steak at 15 cent per pound, while bread still remains firm at the 12 cents, though the price of wheat is at bottom figures. Bread is a strange article; when wheat goes up, up it goes; when wheat falls, bread stays up as though it had nothing whatever to do with that grain.—Bread, though it be light, needn't stay up in the clouds of high prices. The export of cattle in large numbers accounts for the high price of beef, anyway.

Course of Lectures.

Rev. Mr. Shaw has for the past few weeks been giving, at the Wednesday evening prayer meetings of the George Street Methodist Church, and will for some time continue to give, lectures on the Prophet Jonah, which are replete with information and edification.

Peterborough Boating Club.

At the adjourned meeting of this organization held at the club house on Monday night, sixteen new members were elected. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for a concert under the auspices of the club, proposed to be held at an early date. Other business more or less of a private character was transacted, and the meeting adjourned till the first Monday in May.

Street Cleaning.

Mr. Wm. Breckenridge, who had the contract for cleaning the business streets of the town, has completed his contract with great despatch, and he must have a large share of the contract price ($289.99) to the good, as his expenses were not over thirty dollars per day, and the work was done in about five days. On Wednesday the corporation and other teams began removing the heaps from the streets.

The Truculent Cow.

Last Thursday morning one of the rampant race of cows attacked the youngest son of Dr. King, aged about three years, while he was playing about his father's gate. The vicious brute caught the little fellow on her horns and tossed him bodily. The injuries were so serious that the little sufferer was confined to the house for several days. So that the cow with the handy horn, is not only equal to tramping and littering our streets, burglarising gates and stealing into flower gardens, but also threatens to become anthropophagic, and devour unprotected children. Screw down the cow by-law.

A Splendid Chance.

It will be seen by an advertisement in another column that Mr. D. W Dumble offers for sale a number of Building Lots in various parts of the town on ten years credit. No money down, interest only to be paid for first five years, and thereafter yearly instalments with the right to pay at any time as may suit the convenience of the purchaser. This offer enables a poor man to use his money in erecting a building, and so he gets rid of rent, and secures a home for himself. Building will be cheap this year and no doubt many will take advantage of this very liberal offer. Besides lots in town, Mr. Dumble offers a number of lots in Ashburnham, and several park lots on the same terms. Call at his office and see plans, &c. 12-tf

The Spring Outlook.

Peterborough has emerged from the high-piled snows of winter in good form and the prospects for another long summer stride onward and upward are bright. Our population is increasing, and vacant houses are as scarce as post office appropriations. Over a hundred new homes were built in Peterborough last year, and they have been snapped up by new residents like hot cakes. Another large number of new houses will be put up this summer, and those, which are not engaged before hand, will be seized upon the minute the last mechanic takes his tools out at the door. Isn't it about time that Peterborough was taking steps to become a city?

We want to be a city.
And, by jingo, if we do,
We've got the folks, we've got the place—
We've got the money, too.

A Beautiful Shop.

Mr. John McClelland, jeweler, is bound to be abreast in the march of improvement in shops that makes George street, Peterborough, the finest business street in any city or town in Ontario, east of Toronto. He has made, and is making, marked improvements to his jewelry shop, corner of George and Hunter streets. The windows have been replaced with plate-glass, in two pieces, separated by an unique sort of mash, a nickel-plated metallic bar, placed horizontally in the middle of the window, much reducing the risk of breakage. The George street and one of the Hunter street windows have a size of 9x10 feet, while the other on the latter street, for which the plate has not yet arrived, will be the same height but somewhat narrower. Thus the outside walls of his shop, will be nearly all of plate glass, and when the curved plate glass corner doors are put in, will present a very fine and striking appearance. Curtains from Staunton, of Toronto, with artistically hand-painted bottom border, are placed to the windows, and inside the shop the spaces under the windows are wainscoted with oiled birds-eye maple. A parquette floor of black oak, in narrow planks, has been laid, and the walls and ceilings are to be beautifully re-papered. The shop has been enlarged in the rear by the removal of the work room to the third floor. Millichamp, of Toronto, has Mr. McClelland's order for twenty feet of nickel-plate wall show case, to be placed behind the counter. With the improvements already made, and those in contemplation, this shop will be well worthy to rank among the best of the many fine shops of which the town is justly proud, and which form a subject of remark to every visitor to the future metropolitan city of Central Ontario.

Lacrosse.

The fine weather having admitted of work, the local club is diligently practising in the evenings. The new uniform of the club will be something neat, and the new club badge will consist of the initial letters of the name of the club, on a blue ribbon with a cardinal border. The club is going to give others a good deal of trouble this season, in finding the goal.

Another Plate Glass Smashed.

On Wednesday, one of the large plate glass windows in Mr. T. Menzies' book store, was broken badly. A shop hand was cleaning the plate, and leaned his step ladder, otherwise unsupported, against it. His weight was added and smash went the glass. Loss $100; no insurance.

Oddfellows' Sermon.

On Sunday evening next Rev. Bro. John Shaw will preach the annual sermon to the Oddfellows of Peterborough, in the George Street Methodist Church, when the central range of seats will be reserved for the brethren. The two lodges will assemble in their respective rooms, and Otonabee will join Peterborough lodge and Mount Hebron Encampment, and the three will unite in forming a procession to marsh to church.

"Change of Venue."

Messrs. Dumble & Henry, barristers-at-law, solicitors, etc., have removed their law offices from the buildings, corner of George and Simcoe streets, to the Cox block, George street, where they occupy the suite of chambers formerly used by the Secretary of the Midland Railway. The new rooms are bright, lofty, airy, large and excellently adapted to purposes of the increasing business of this legal firm.

Explanatory.

We very much regret that in our notice of the St. Peter's Cathedral Concert, we, by an oversight, omitted to mention the part contributed to the programme by Mr. M. Dunn. He made his debut as a public singer in a very creditable manner, in the bass solo, "Committed to the Deep." We hope he may give the public and ourselves the pleasure of hearing him again, when we shall see that no oversight on our part shall deprive him of the credit justly his due.

Brigade Practice.

The Fire Brigade is fully awake to its work. On Tuesday evening the brigade had hydrant and hose practice using the hydrants on Water street. From one to four streams were played, and with very satisfactory results, although there are only five inch mains on this street. Twenty-five members turned out to practice, and at Wednesday morning's fire the the full force,—27—turned out. If the people could swear by the steamer as they can depend on the engineers and the boys, there would be little improvement in our fire department to ask for.

The Mills of the Gods.

Joseph Graham kept out of town and out of the way for nine months. That length of time since he assaulted Joseph Levasseur in Fitzgerald's livary stables. Graham and a chum, on Aug. 26th, 1883, had had a horse out, and on their return, when the stable man demanded the fee, the response was a vicious attempt to devour Levasseur, chewing operations having been begun on his right ear. When Joseph Graham came to town last Saturday he was brought before the P. M., and he now wants to change the final word of the proverb to read read thus:—"The mills of the gods grind slow, but they grind exceeding—large—the fine, costs and damages amounting to $31.60. It is generally more profitable to pay one's livery hire than to try to eat the hostler.

A Blamable Practice.

Enthusiastic natures should keep their demonstrations of delight at public entertainments, within bounds and consult the feelings of others. Reference is not made to the small boy in the Opera House gallery, who is able to make with his solid boots as much noise as a troop of cavalry, but to persons in the body of the hall, many with pretensions to refinement and good breeding, who annoy the peaceable auditors by stamping with their feet or sticks, and emit shrieking whistles, by way of applause or mere hoodlum demonstration. Coupled with this appeal to the good sense and sense of propriety of these unthinking enthusiastics, who greatly annoy others by their riotous applause, the action of Mr. Bradburn in posting notices about the hall forbidding such practices may result in diminishing the evil.

Rifle Association.

On Wednesday evening the annual meeting of the Peterborough Rifle Association was held. The treasurer's statement disclosed a healthy state of the finances. The sum of $650 was expended in the promotion of the interests of the Association during the past year. Following are the officers elected:—

PRESIDENT—Col. H. C. Rogers, re-elected.

1ST VICE-PRESIDENT—Rev. V. Clementi, B.A., re-elected.

2ND VICE-PRESIDENT—Col. J. Z. Rogers, re-elected.

SECRETARY-TREASURER—Major R. W. Bell, re-elected.

COUNCIL—W. H. Hill, F. Hall and James Stothart.

It was agreed to hold monthly matches on the last Thursday in May, June, July, and August. The range will be in order the first Thursday in May, when it is expected practice will begin.

The Driving Park.

The driving park project is for the present in abeyance, the committee of citizens deferring further action till the meeting of the Agricultural society which is expected to co-operate and assist in securing the grounds and erecting permanent buildings for the use of the society. This is a project in which co-operation of the parties interested may be made mutually beneficial.

The Bicycling Room.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Bicycle Club was in progress as this issue was coming from the press. The proceedings had progressed so far that Mr. D. W. Dumble was elected President. Several new members have joined the club, eight of them being new wheelsmen, for whom, this spring, Mr. Frank Kingan has imported eight fine machines. This giddy and go-ahead style of travelling will be very popular here this season.

A Serious Accident.

Last Thursday George Fleak, an Ashburnham lad, while picking up refuse wood at Rogers' saw mill, met with a very serious mishap. He got too near, and was caught in the carriers and so jammed against the building that the bone of his leg was so crushed, and the flesh so badly mangled, that the injured limb had to be amputated, which was done by Dr. King and Dr. Bell. The lad stood the operation bravely, and is getting on well.

The First Accident.

The first accident that has happened through using the new O. & Q. R. R. bridge as a footway took place on Wednesday morning. A young man of Ashburnham, who turned out for the Chamberlain street fire, by way of short cut attempted to cross the railway bridge, and was rewarded by dropping into the river. Help at hand and good swimming powers saved him from contributing a chapter to the literature of coroners' inquests. It is proposed, and very aptly, too, to place a footway similar to that on the Hunter street bridge, for the accommodation of the southern residents of Ashburnham.

New Business.

We call the reader's attention to the advertisement of Messrs. H. Levi & Son, who will, on Wednesday, open out a dry goods and clothing store in Lundy's old stand, George street, two doors south of China Hall. This firm has a branch of their business in St. John's, P.Q., therefore it is evident that, purchasing as they do, in large quantities at preferred rates, they are able to buy goods cheaply, of which their customers in Peterborough will reap the advantage. Besides, their liberal opening in the advertising line, as will be seen elsewhere in this paper, speaks well for their enterprise. Look out for their opening day, Wednesday, April 30th.

In Aid of the "Mission School."

Professor A. B. Kent, will deliver a lecture on Electricity and Chemistry in the school room, of the George Street Methodist Church, On Tuesday evening April 29th. The following high authorities testify to the ability of the lecturer and the interest of the subject:

I retain a very pleasant recollection of the amusing and instructive Lectures I heard you deliver several years ago on Experimental Philosophy; and in your hands such subjects cannot fail to prove as instructive and profitable as they are also pleasing and popular.—Dr. Ormiston.

It is necessary to say rather, that he was listened to throughout with the greatest interest. The electrical experiments of the first night gave great satisfaction, as did also those with gases on the second evening.—New York Herald.

Making it Warm For the Noble Ward.

The lesson of the fires that took place on Tuesday and Wednesday in No. 1 Ward, is that, that ward is, to a large extent at the mercy of the "devouring element". At the Sherbrooke street fire there was no water near enough to make the steamer of any use, though it was out with a big squad of the brigade in attendance, in very quick time, and at the Chamberlain street fire on Wednesday the nearest water was 3,000 feet, while the total length of hose is only 1,500 feet. And the steamer is hardly equal to doing effective work over a space of an eighth of a mile. Our town councillors should consider the question of additional water tanks in No. 1 ward at once. The people don't pay taxes for the pleasure of watching their buildings become bonfires, while the steamer and fire brigade are helpless from lack of water.

The City Pharmacy.

Mr. J. D. Tully has been attacked with a perfect fever of improvement. In spite of the extensive improvements to his premises a short time since, he has just completed more extensive ones. These consist of two beautiful show cases of black walnut with glass doors, and shelves above and drawers in the lower part. The drawers, which are 30 in each case, are provided with nickel silver ring pulls and glass and gilt labels. These show cases, which are twelve feet long each, by ten feet in height, are from the well-known establishment of Mr. D. Bellegheem. They are of the Eastlake pattern, and are among the best of the many fine jobs turned out by him. Mr. Bellegheem has also placed a British plate mirror, 3 x 5 feet handsomely framed in the centre of the southern wall. A new show case by Millichamp, to hold surgical instruments etc. with ogee plate glass front above, and mirror-paneled below, has been added. The old cases have been removed to the rear shop which now looks as well as some drug shops in some other towns. A neatly furnished consultroom has also been added, and altogether Mr. Tully may pride himself on having a shop, a credit to himself, and to a town of beautiful business places.

Watches, Clocks, Jewellry, etc., carefully repaired and warranted at Hughan's. Office lately occupied by Elias Burnham, Simcoe Street. 18-tf

Foreign Missions.

On Friday last the regular monthly meeting of the St. Paul's auxiliary of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society was held in the Opera Hall building, (the church having been turned over to the contractors for restoration, makes it necessary to use the Opera House for purposes of meetings, as well as religious service.) There was a good attendance; the chief business was the reception of a report of the delegates to the annual meeting of the parent society, recently held at Hamilton. A vote of thanks was tendered to Miss Hamlin, who represented the local society at the annual meeting.

Fall Wheat Prospects.

We learn from very extensive enquiries from farmers in every part of the county of Peterborough, and from some observations, that the fall wheat has come through a severe winter in good form and promises well for a good crop. The recent frosts were too slight to affect it and its general appearance is highly encouraging. Of course there is an occasional piece of wheat that is not up to the mark, but such pieces are apt to be owned by one of that class of farmers, who give the Lord so much trouble in finding a special seed time and harvest for them—their late sowing and slovenly culture would neutralise the most favorable seasons and conditions. The clover crop is also all right, having come up smiling in the face of the spring. The spring so far being dry, has been favorable for seeding operations and if a good seed time has any connection with a good harvest, the prospect is promising.

Queen's Birthday.

The muscular element is to enter strongly into the celebration in Peterborough of her Majesty's sixty-fifth birthday. The programme comprises a grand wrestling, gymnastic and athletic tournament, in which $1,000 in prizes will be distributed. A match in athletic games for $400 between E. W. Johnston and J. Keating will be a notable event, and an interesting match for $200 and gold medal will take place between John Moriarty of Toronto, and Jerry Lynch of New York—eight scientific rounds in boxing. Mr. E. W. Johnston will toss the heavy caber, throw the heavy weight and offer $100 to the man that will beat him. For the games there have already entered several well-known professional and amateur athletics. A champion Lacrosse match played on that day is announced as a feature of the celebration. The management is in the hands of Mr. E. W. Johnston whose efforts in Lindsay last year resulted in the grandest field-day for sports ever held in that town.

To the Antipodes.

On Saturday the Misses Roger—Isabella and Rachael—start for Australia where they will join their brother in that country. They go via San Francisco. Miss Roger was a most useful member of Peterborough society and will be greatly missed in church and charitable circles, especially St. Paul's Presbyterian church and the Peterborough Protestant Home—in both of which she was foremost in "every good word and work". In appreciation of these qualities, on Thursday afternoon last about twenty-five or thirty ladies assembled at Mrs. Gilmour's residence, Park street and presented Miss Roger, as late secretary of the Home, with a most elegant morocco travelling dressing case, accompanied with an address expressive of the deepest regret at her departure and the warmest wishes and prayers for her safe journey and future happiness, which was read by Mrs. James Hall, present secretary of the Home. Mrs. Capt. Wallis not having been able to be present sent a most affectionate note of regret. At a previous gathering the teachers of St. Paul's Sabbath school presented Miss Roger with a handsome gold brooch. Words cannot pay too high tribute to the moral and religious usefulness which marked Miss Roger's life in Peterborough, and her new home will be all the better of her presence. We wish the Misses Roger a safe and pleasant journey and many years of happy usefulness in their antipodean home.

THIRTY SEVEN YEARS business experience.

LIBERAL FORM OF POLICY. Policies totally free from all vexatious restrictions, regarding travel, occupation, habits, &c. Also, totally incontestable and non-forfeitable after two or three years.

PROMINENT OBJECT—Sound Life Insurance.

RESULTS—This Company has returned to its policy holders over $4,000,000 in bonuses, and paid $6,000,000 in claims, in all over $10,000,000 during the 37 years of its establishment, and has NEVER entered a court of law to contest a single claim, all claims being paid immediately on proof of death.

COST—The Lowest Consistent with Safety. This Company does not pretend to do Insurance at cost. It is an absurdity to suppose any RELIABLE Company can furnish Insurance at cost. Can any respectable merchant do business at cost and pay his liabilities?

INVESTMENT RULE.—The best Security rather than the largest Interest.

BONUSES PAID IN CASH every three (3) years. This Company always divides its profits every three years, and its rates will be found to be as low, and compare very favorably with any RELIABLE and respectable company.

The Directors have established this Company in Canada upon such a basis as will entitle its policy holders to the full benefits of a home institution. With the further security of a British office, and for this purpose have empowered its Canadian Board to deal finally with ALL matters connected with Life Insurance without reference to head office in England.

All earnings in Canada are invested in Canadian Securities.

The popularity and prosperity of this Company in Canada is shown from the results of the past year's business, its new business having exceeded that of any other British office, being $1,154,000 in nine months, from 1st April, 1883 to 31st December, 1883.

ITS EXTENSION PAYMENT or loaning system, whereby policies may be kept in force, should financial difficulties overtake the insured, is unsurpassed in its liberality to policy holders.

LOANS MADE ON POLICIES.—Intending assurers are requested to examine the favorable terms offered by this Company, and to note the ample security afforded to its policy holders.

AGENTS WANTED IN EVERY LOCALITY, to whom good fair salaries or liberal commission will be paid. Apply at once to the undersigned, who has full power and authority to ARRANGE DEFINITELY with Agents for any part of Ontario not occupied.

Confines itself to Legitimate Life Insurance. Affords Security to its Policy-Holders Unsurpassed by any other Company.

The system of distribution of surplus employed by this Association secures, with other advantages, the following:

1st.—It avoids the weakening effect of paying too large profits in the early years of the policy, and the consequent inability to do justice, as the policy becomes older.

2nd.—It strengthens the position of the Association, and consequently the security to the policy-holders.

3rd.—It secures an increase in profits from year to year, and equitable share to each kind of policy.

4th.—It does away with the objection, "that endowment and limited payment policies are taxed for the special benefit of ordinary life policies."

Policies Non-Forfeitable after Two Years, and Indisputable after Three Years.

This Association has a considerable amount of MONEY FOR INVESTMENT, and is prepared to advance on first-class TOWN or FARM PROPERTY, at VERY REASONABLE RATES OF INTEREST. No Commission Charged. For Rates as to Loans and Insurance, apply to Report adopted.

WOLFE STREET CLOSURE.

The Council went into Committee of the Whole on the second reading of the by-law to close up and convey a portion of this street to the O. & Q. Railway.

On motion it was decided to hear the several parties interested in the proposed action.

Mr. John Green, solicitor, stated that one of the owners of property on the street would be entirely shut out, and another's property rendered practically useless.

Mr. Poussette, who appeared on behalf of Rev. Mr. Bennett, showed that his client occupied lot six, and the proposed closure would shut him out from George street. He further pointed out that the by-law made no provision for the compensation or relief of any of the persons interested. The railway was for the benefit of the citizens generally, and it was unfair to force these citizens interested to suffer loss for the general good. He had no idea that the Railway Company ever contemplated building their station any place than north of the track. The true inwardness of the application for closing this street was the desire of the Company to prevent the trouble it would cause them in moving their trains under the present state of the Railway Act. He considered that Mr. Bennett's property would be injured to the extent of $1,000, and that the closing of the street would be equivalent to a saving of $1,000 a year to the railway, but that should not be done at the expense of other citizens, and the Council should not pass the by-law till all parties concerned were compensated.

Mr. N. T. Laplante complained that the closing of the street would completely close his lot on Wolfe street, and he protested against the Council allowing this without compensation.

Mr. E. A. Peck appeared on behalf of Mr. E. Chamberlain, who thought the Railway had no right to derive any advantage at the expense of any ratepayer.

Mr. R. R. Wood, of Hatton & Wood, was heard on behalf of the railway and stated that lot 2 had not been patented, and not even assessed; it was covered with water and was not worth $5. The portion of the lot owned by Mr. Laplante, was one half in the water of the creek. Regarding Mr. Bennett's lot it would be benefited by the walks the company would build alongside their grounds. He pointed out how many tracks would have to be crossed in using Wolfe street. All the company wanted was the use of the street. When not used for trains it would be open to the public. Unless the company got this street and at a reasonable rate, the station would be built on the south side of the track. He was willing if the street were ceded the railway, to put a condition in the by-law to provide that the station be put as near the creek as possible and at least 100 feet west of George street. The Company was not disposed to make any compensation because no drainage had been done. On the other hand the town had been benefited, because the Grand Trunk had largely reduced their freight charges in anticipation of the opening of the O. & Q. This was the only thing the company had asked and the town might gracefully grant it. Mr. Wood claimed that the Chamberlain lot had been benefited by the railway, and not injured by the proposed closure of the street. He (Mr. Wood) had full authority for stating that unless this street were granted, the station would be on the north side.

Mr. Rutherford corrected Mr. Wood as to the town not having done anything for the railway, and cited the "circus ground" lot.

Mr. Wood stood corrected.

Mr. Green said the railway company had offered $500 for lot 4 and his client's lot was more valuable than that. The railway construction had tended to make it more valuable.

Mr. Yelland.—You want to make the Railway Company, pay damages for improving your property.

Mr. Cox submitted that it was evident that the closing of the street would be for the interest of the town; at the same time he held that parties interested were entitled to compensation. With the network of tracks on Wolfe street, it almost seemed to him that, out of regard to the safety of the public, the town ought to close it themselves, if it were not transferred to the company. He would incline to the idea, if necessary, of making compensations. He thought the matter had better be referred to arbitration.

Mr. Davidson, seconded by Mr. Cahill, submitted a resolution providing that the matter of compensation be submitted to arbitration, one arbitrator to be appointed on behalf of the property owners, one on behalf of the Railway Company, and the Mayor to act in the interests of the town, the said arbitration to be completed within one month.

The resolution was agreed to, after the Council resumed.

Mr. Cahill, in seconding the resolution, said he was interested on this street, but he did not personally object to its closure, but he held that others might have good claims for compensation. The better way was to leave the amount of damage to arbitration.

Mr. Barber, Division Engineer, said the original plans were to place the station on the south side of the track.

The Committee rose and reported progress.

BOATING CLUB.

Mr. E. B. Edwards, appearing on behalf of the Cricket and Boating Clubs, was heard in reference to securing the Drill Shed grounds for the sports of the two clubs. But as the grounds were promised to the Fire Brigade for the 24th of May, the clubs would like to secure the grounds for the first of July.—Request granted on motion of Mr. Kelly, seconded by Mr. Allin.

CHARITY.

Rev. Mr. Beck was heard in reference to the case of one Campbell, who was frozen while working on the O. & Q. R.R., and who needed charitable assistance. On motion of Mr. Green, seconded by Mr. Menzies, the grant of $3 per week was to be continued till further notice.

STREET WATERING.

Mr. Green moved, seconded by Mr. Millar, that in the event of petitions for street watering being insufficiently signed, the petitioners be allowed to withdraw their petition, for the purpose of procuring further signatures.—Carried.

"OLD BURYING GROUND."

Mr. Rutherford moved, seconded by Mr. Millar, that the Street Committee be authorized to remove the fences on three sides of the "Old Burying Grounds," erect a suitable new fence, and plant trees on the south side of the grounds.

Mr. Menzies opposed the motion on the ground of expense, and raised a point of order, but the motion was carried by the required majority on the following division, on the understanding that the tree planting was to be the extent of the expense this year.

YEAS.—Messrs. Cahill, Millar, Yelland, Douglass, Rutherford, Kendry, Hartley and Cox—8.

NAYS.—Messrs. Davidson, Allin, Kelly, Green and Menzies—5.

NEW WEIGH SCALES.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Davidson, that Messrs. Millar, Davidson and Rutherford be a committee to purchase new market weigh scales.—Carried.

ORPHANS' HOME.

The Mayor submitted to the Council the advisability of relieving the residence of Mrs. Smith, which had been purchased for an Orphans' Home, from taxation. He explained that "Moira Hall" proving to be too small for the proposed Home, the residence of Mrs. Smith, at the head of Aylmer street, had been purchased. The Home would be unsectarian, and destitution and orphanage would be the only conditions of admission. The matter was referred to the Court of Revision.

Council then adjourned till Tuesday night.

ADJOURNED MEETING.

An adjourned meeting was held accordingly. In the absence of the Mayor Mr. Kelly was moved into the chair.

An account from Lockhart & Chowen, $14.20, was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Council went into Committee of the Whole on the second reading of the by-law for closing a portion of Wolfe street and conveying it to the O. & Q. Railway, Mr. Allin in the chair.

The by-law was duly passed, providing for the conveyance by deed of that part of Wolfe street to the railway; the compensation to be decided by arbitration, the expense to be equally divided between the town and the Company, and that the Railway Company place their station on the north side of the track.

Mr. Wood, of Hatton & Wood, stated that the Railway Company wished to purchase lot 3, on Wolfe street, and

On motion of Mr. Menzies, seconded by Mr. Rutherford, the Town Commissioners were requested to sell lot No. 3, Wolfe street, to the Railway Company.

Mr. Rutherford presented a report of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee, recommending that the telephone remain in the Fire Hall for one year from April 1st, and that the Clerk issue his cheque in payment of the same. Adopted.

The Street Inspector was authorized to remove the walk on Smith street, between George and Water streets, to the north side of the street.

It was resolved that the streets for which watering was asked last night be watered, pending the action of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee.

The constables were authorized to take steps to prevent merchants and others throwing waste paper and other materials on the streets.

Mr. Denne was heard in reference to a cavity in front of his lot on George street, as he wished to plant trees this spring.

Council adjourned.

Just received at Turnbull's, another lot of that unbearable Tweed for boys. Think of it, double and twisted warp, only 35 cts. a yard, and good patterns. Boys' clothing cut.

Sixty-Fifth Anniversary—The Order in Peterborough Marches to Church and Listens to Rev. Bro. Shaw Preach the Annual Sermon.

The sixty-fifth anniversary of the establishment of Odd-fellowship in America was celebrated in becoming style by the Peterborough brethren. Last Saturday was the anniversary day and it was duly celebrated by the brethren listening to a stirring sermon delivered in the George street Methodist Church by Rev. Bro. John Shaw, on Sunday evening.

The order is in a most flourishing condition having made great forward strides since the establishment of

THE FIRST CANADIAN LODGE.

In 1843 what was the Prince of Wales Lodge, was instituted in Montreal under the jurisdiction of the U. S. Grand Lodge. The Grand Lodge of Canada, and subsequently the Grand Lodge of British North America, were formed. The Grand Lodge of Ontario was formed in 1855, and numbers 14,861 members. There is now about half a million dollars invested in the name of the Order in Ontario, and about $25,000 has been paid out for sick benefits up to the present time, which with the amount paid out by the Order for relief brings the amount up to about $40,000. Within the past five years the growth of the Order in Ontario has been most astonishing, and at present nearly every town and village in the Province boasts of at least one Lodge, while wherever the Oddfellow may roam in Canada, he finds his brethern of the three links about as thick as the proverbial blackberries ever ready to extend a helping hand to him.

To the membership of the Order, Peterborough is no mean contributor, the total number of members of this Order in town being 150, of which 90 are of Peterborough Lodge and the remaining 60 of Otonabee. Mount Hebron Encampement recently organised embraces about 30 members.

On Sunday the Order made a fine turnout Leaving Otonabee lodge rooms they formed procession, the members of both lodges indiscriminately forming the line, and being sized from the tallest to the briefest brethren, Mr. — Armstrong, the Hercules of the order here, leading the van. The procession was closed with the officials of the two lodges in pairs. The members marshalled by Mr. R. J. Lee marched up the west side of George steeet in excellent order and presented a fine appearance. There were about ninety in the procession. Entering the church they took seats in the middle row, filling the space, all sitting down simultaneously at the tap of the gavel.

The preliminary services, consisting of appropriate prayers and hymns was followed by

THE SERMON.

The Rev. Mr. Shaw took for his text Hebrews xiii v. i—"Let brotherly love continue" or in the words of the revised version, "Let the love of the brotherhood continue". The theme of the sermon was Christian unity. A retrospect of the history of the world showed how the dissensions and divisions of Christians had furnished an excuse for infidelity. Christian unity meant unity of sentiment; although there might be wide diversity of rites or ceremonies with this diversity there was a general agreement in the fundamental truths of religion, which was more wide spread than was generally imagined. The belief in a Superior Being was almost universal, a belief in His written revelations less so, and a belief in Christ and His atonement was very widespread. The cross was the centre around which the world revolved in Christian unity. Differences of creed need not destroy Christian sentiment. Men might have different beliefs yet be sincere Christians and brethren. A unity of feeling and love was common to all Christians whatever their creed. Love of God and of each other could co-exist with differences of opinions. All men could not think alike. They were differently educated and had unlike temperaments and characters. Still there could be unity of action and people should consider to accomplish good works. Difference of opinion was no excuse for enmity. All should be willing to "give and take". As Robert Hall had said the Christian platform should be broad enough to include all, wide as the gate of Heaven. The sectarian bigotry of the past was disappearing. The bed of Procrustes applied to religious matters was becoming a thing of the past. Among all God's people, of whatever creed, there was unity of action; by different methods they were all working together to extend the kingdom of Christ. This was seen in missionary effort and in the various organisations for the spread of holiness and morality. The Bible was full of injunctions to Christian union and the exercise of brotherly love. Love was the fulfilling of the law and he who loved most was most likely to fulfil the law. Any organisation that was working for the promotion of morality and religion should not have its right questioned because some of its methods were questionable, outside of believing in Christ, a man should not be asked what he believed. There were differences of opinion even amongst Christ's disciples. Christians of whatever creed were all engaged in the same work.

The brotherhood of Oddfellows was particularly marked by the practice of the principle of mutual help. That was a chief pillar of the order, which spent over one million dollars a year in relieving the needy. During the past year the Order in Ontario had spent in sick benefits $19,880; for surgeons and nurses, $3,769; in aid of widows, $6,864; in aid of the orphans of brother Oddfellows, $428; special relief, $2,826; burying deceased brethren, $2,264; deceased wives of brethren, $595; in all $36,676, or an average of $105.94 per each day in the year. Mutual aid was the order of nature, and he that did good received good in the act itself. The Oddfellow found the stranger penniless and relieved him, found the sick from home and friends and administered to his wants. The principles of the order were not secret. The only secrets were the signs and passwords for purposes of recognition. The grand object of the order was to help the suffering and comfort the bereaved. A spirit of friendship should be cultivated. The brethren were enjoined to take Christ as their example, to be true to the principles of the order and promote unity, the evils of the lack of which were graphically described. There would be no distinction in Heaven. The fiercest polemical antagonists on earth, would be found side by side in Heaven.

The present was the 65th anniversary of the Order in Canada, which now numbered about 15,000 members and it would prosper so long as the principles of the Order were carried out.

During the evening the choir supplied excellent music.

At the conclusion of the sermon the brethren assembled in the rooms of Otonabee lodge where a cordial vote of thanks was tendered Rev. Bro. Shaw for his excellent sermon, which he kindly acknowledged in suitable terms.

Spring Show of the West Riding Agricultural Society—Horses in Matter and Bulls in the Pen.

The annual spring show of the West Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society took place on Saturday last on the Drill Shed grounds, Peterborough. PRESENTATION.

J. E. Murray Remembered.

A very pleasant event took place at the regular communication of Peterborough Lodge of Oddfellows No. 111, on Thursday evening last. Mr. J. E. Murray, who has been for some time a resident of the town, and an active member of Peterborough Lodge, being about to remove from town to Toronto, his brethren presented him with a handsome regalia accompaned with the following address:

J. E. Murray, Esq.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER,—The members of Mount Hebron Encampment, No. 56, and Peterborough Lodge, No. 111, I. O. O. F., learn with unfeigned regret of your intention to remove from Peterborough, and thus, as far as personal association is concerned, sever those fraternal ties which have heretofore bound us together.

On your departure we would cheerfully bear testimony to the invariably active exertions you have ever put forth for the promotion of the prosperity of Mount Hebron Encampment and Peterborough Lodge especially, and for the promotion of the interests of the Order generally. You have always been ready and willing to devote youself actively in all undertakings in connection with the Order, Whether the occasion called upon your means, your time or your personal attention, you were always to be counted upon, and we assure you that your presence will be greatly missed amongst us, in both branches of our Order.

In earnest of the high esteem in which you are held by us, we ask your acceptance of this regalia, with the hope that you may be long spared to wear it, and with the same credit that you have earned in your past connection with the Order.

In conclusion, please accept the warmest assurance of our fraternal regard and our most cordial wishes for the welfare and happiness of yourself and family.

With the hope that you may make as many warm friends in Toronto as you leave behind you in Peterborough,

We remain, yours fraternally,
J. C. T. LACEY,
P. G. and D. D. G. M.

Mr. Murray, made a suitable reply reciprocating the expressions of regret at the severance of fraternal ties contained in the address, and appreciatively giving thanks for the handsome gift.

You have only to examine the quality of Turnbull's Shirtings, Cottonades, Tablings, Linens, etc., to be convinced the prices are right. For reliable goods go to Turnbull's.

THE RAILWAY SUBSIDIES.

THE SYNDICATE GRABS THE BIGGEST SHARE OF THE POT.

The Railway subsidy resolutions were concurred in on Saturday night, and thus again the dying hours of the session are given by our legislators to voting public moneys away without sufficient information, and merely to suit the exigencies of the government. Nearly $10,000,000 have gone after the thirty millions as the price paid to secure the passage of the latter through the House. As usual Ontario gets very little, just enough to please some few subservient supporters of the ministry. The following will be given to roads in Ontario:

Irondale, B. & O. (Hastings Co.)	$ 160,000
Napanee & Tamworth	70,800
Wallaceburg to Sarnia	96,000
Cornwell to Perth	262,400
Mississippi to Renfrew	48,000
	$ 636,800

The following subsidies are for Quebec:

Quebec to Montreal (already built	$ 964,000
Montreal to Ottawa do	1,440,000
Montreal to Halifax (missing link)	2,552,000
Quebec Central	211,900
St. Martins to Quebec (C.P.R.)	980,000
Aymer to Pembroke do	272,000
Gatineau Valley	169,000
Lake Simon to Desert	160,000
St. Jerome & New Glasgow (Terrebone)	32,000
Jacques Union & St. Martins	200,000
St. Andrews to Lachute	23,400
Grand Piles to Lake Desiales	217,500
Metapediac to Paspediac	399,600
	$ 7,479,100

The following are the Maritime Provinces:

Oxford to Sydney & Louisburg	$ 450,000
Fredricton to Miramichi	128,000
St. Louis to Richibucto	29,400
Hopewell to Alma, N. B.	51,200
Digby to Annapolis, N. S.	64,000
Grand Lake to Intercolonial	128,000
Caraquet to Shippegan, N. B	76,800
Derby to Indiantown	140,000
	$ 1,066,400

Quebec or more properly speaking the Syndicate gets the lion's share. For Le Monde says that the C. P. R. Syndicate, who either in their own name or the names of others, will build and own the "Short Line," will get the greater part of this large sum also. It states what they are to get as follows:

International	$ 250,000
Short Line, money subsidy	2,555,008
Line to Louisburg	450,000
Western Extension, from New Glasgow to Canso, lately purchased from the Nova Scotia Government	1,600,000
St. Martin to Quebec	960,000
St. Andrew's to Lachute	75,000
Hastings County	160,000
	$5,997,000

Whither are we drifting, and when is this sort of thing likely to stop?

TO FIGHT THE SCOTT ACT.

A POWERFUL COMBINATION OF LIQUOR DEALERS FORMED.

A Toronto report says: At the meeting of the Licensed Victuallers on Wednesday the double licenses were discussed. A great majority of the hotel-keepers have decided to take out only the Provincial license, not being willing to throw away any more money than the $10 they paid on application. At the same time it was felt that but for the efforts of two or three members of the association, very few applications would have been made for Dominion licenses. These members, in their desire to make political capital for themselves, had induced others to apply to the Dominion Board.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. E. King Dodds on behalf of the movement in opposition to the Scott Act. A Dominion executive has been formed, composed chiefly of representatives of the licensed victuallers of Ontario and the wholesale dealers of Montreal, two-thirds of whose trade is with Ontario. This executive has charge of the opposition to the Scott Act, and a general fund is now being raised to fight the Act wherever it is submitted. The meeting Wednesday pledged itself not to deal with or support any wholesale wine or spirit merchant, brewer or distiller who does not contribute his share to the general fund now being raised.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The following is the report of the Fourth Class history examination of April 21st, for S. S. No. 1, North Monaghan:—Evelyn Ferguson, 76 marks; Madeline S. Davidson, 53 marks; Edith Huston, 45 marks; Geo. Payne, 39 marks. A full paper is valued at 100 marks.

A 1,000 COMING CANADIANS.

Nearly one thousand emigrants sailed last Thursday from Liverpool for Canada. A great number of them are farmers and agricultural labourers, just the kind of men required in Canada. There is also a large party from the East of London, under the care of the Rev Mr. Bridger.

THE TOWN CONSPIRACY.

The Bunting-Wilkinson Case Without Precedent.

Chief Justice Haggarty's Charge to the Grand Jury.

Chief Justice Haggarty, addressing the Grand Jury at the opening of the Criminal Assizes, referred to the conspiracy case at length. He said:

I am not aware of any case precisely in point having occurred either in England or Canada. Although we would gladly accept the guidance of precedent, our regret at its absence is modified by the consideration that perhaps for the first time in our history it is charged that men were to members of the Legislature, or that such members were considered base enough to be capable of accepting them. The law of England is sufficiently comprehensive and elastic to include within its grasp as the bribery of representatives of the people to vote contrary to their duty or belief for a corrupt consideration of money payment, or other corrupt consideration. Parliament has in England, on several occasions taken on itself the investigation of charges as to bribing its members. They have been expelled from the House and have been proceeded against by bill or impeachment, but has as yet been referred to, especially where the charge was of a general character to induce by bribery an abandonment of one political party for the support of its opponents.

BASE ENOUGH TO OFFER BRIBES

A HIGH MISDEMEANOR

After speaking of the definition of conspiracy, he said: It is not necessary to prove that the parties charged met together and expressly agreed to do certain unlawful acts. Conspiracy is generally a deducted from certain criminal acts of parties accused, done in pursuance of an apparent criminal purpose in common between them. Where the charge is conspiracy you may find a true bill against

MATTER OF INFERENCE

ALL, OR THREE, OR TWO,

but not against one alone, unless others be named or stated to be unknown, and then for conspiring with such other or others.

He appealed to the jury to calmly weigh the case apart from bitter prejudice and excited party feeling. He lamented the spirit in which the whole matter has been discussed in public prints. In all his experience he never saw a case in which the violence of party warfare has shown so shamefully to prejudice the vital question affecting the character and honor of our public men, as well as the guilt or innocence of persons charged with attempting by base or illegal means to destroy such character and honor.

A TRUE BILL RETURNED.

During the greater part of Friday afternoon the Grand Jury were engaged in considering the charge of conspiracy against Wilkinson, Kirkland, Bunting, and Meek. They had before them as witnesses Messrs. Cascaden, McKim, Balfour, and Dowling, members of the Local Legislature, Mr. Speaker Clarke, Inspector Ward, Thomas Goldie, J. E. Welsh, George H. C. Dunstan, and —— Bailey. The hearing of evidence was continued until about five o'clock; and about three-quarters of an hour afterwards the Grand Jury come into Court with a true bill against all four persons charged.

THE CHARGES.

The indictment contains three counts. The first is that Christopher W. Bunting, John A. Wilkinson, Edward Meek, and Frank S. Kirkland conspired to influence John Cascaden, Robert McKim, Robert A Lyon, William D. Balfour, John F. Dowling, and other members in the Legislature to vote for a motion of want of confidence in the Government, the influence referred to being certain bribes, namely, the payment of money and the gift of certain offices under the Government of Canada.

The second count is against the same persons for conspiring to influence the same members to vote against certain Government measures, and thereby cause the defeat of the Government.

The third count is for conspiring to corruptly influence the same members of the Legislature to vote in favour of a resolution declaring it to be the opinion of the Legislative Assembly that the timber standing upon lands granted by the Crown in pursuance of the twelfth section of chapter 29, of the revised statutes of Ontario, and which said timber was thereby restored to the Crown should be sold to the grantee of the Crown, his heirs or assigns, upon certain terms in the resolution unknown to the jurors, to the intent that the said twelfth section should be repealed.

A Lawyer's Opinion of Interest to all.

J. A Tawney, Esq., a leading attorney of Winona, Minn., writes: "After using it for more than three years, I take great pleasure in stating that I regard Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, as the best remedy in the world for Coughs and Colds. It has never failed to cure the most severe colds I have had, and invariably relieves the pain in the chest." A CRAZY FATHER.

Wm. Austin, of Allen county, crazy from a blow received on the head a year ago, went to his home, Louisville, Kentucky, yesterday from the field and took two children, almost babies, and threw them in the fire. He then stood by and saw them cremated. The mother was a witness to the deed, but was powerless to rescue the children, only escaping herself with the babe by snatching it from the cradle and running to the woods.

RUSSIA'S POPULATION.

Russia has a population of 93,000,000. Out of those only 3,000,000 belong to the high or educated class, and 4,000,000 belong to the middle class, and 5,000,000 more know how to read and write, but the others are wholly illiterate. Out of the first and second classes the Nihilists come.

PAID IN HIS OWN COIN.

"I was in Marion county the other day," said a lawyer to a reporter, "and heard of the death of an old man I had known there, and it recalled a peculiar case of retributive justice in that family.

"Years ago the old man owned one of the best farms in the country, and his son assisted him in working it. The son married and had a son. When the grandson was about fifteen years of age his father suggested to the grand-father that as he was growing old and had worked all his life, he take things easy and rest the remainder of his days. He asked the old man to deed the farm to him and let him take sole charge of it, with the aid of the grand-son. He promised the old farmer a good home and an easy life as long as he lived. The old man finally deeded the property to his son.

"No sooner had he obtained the title to the property than the son began a system of the most heartless treatment of his father. He compelled him to work harder than he had ever done for himself, would not let him eat at the family table, and subjected him to all kinds of persecutions. The grandson protested in vain against this treatment of his grandfather and finally the old man left the home that he had made and found an asylum in the county poor house.

"After a while the son got badly in debt, and so anxious was he to escape payment of his obligations that he made a deed of the farm to his son. Everything moved smoothly for a time, until one day the farmer gave some instructions that did not agree with his son's ideas and the latter refused to consent to them. The father declared that his wishes should be carried out, and ordered the son to leave the place. The son, however, reminded him that he held the title to the farm himself, and that as they could not get along together, the father would have to go, and he did.

"After the departure of the father, the son re-established his grandfather in possession of the farm, deeding back everything. The old man, however, gave the farm absolutely to his grandson, who provided amply for the old man until he died. The boy's father was offered a home on the old place, but refused to accept anything but the title to it all, and the last heard of him he was working as a farm hand in Wabash township."

CANADIAN PACIFIC CONSTRUCTION

(Winnipeg Free Press, April 21.)

Mr. James Ross, Superintendent of Construction on the C. P. R. west arrived from the summit of the Rockies on Saturday night. He reports some of the subcontractors at work grading, and expects by mid-summer to have five or six thousand men at work in the Rockies. The surveyors have already started to locate in the Kicking Horse and Selkirk passes. The four hundred men who were in the woods all winter got out a large quantity of ties, wood and bridge timber. Mr. Ross expects to go to St. Paul probably to meet General Manager Van Horne, who will go to British Columbia over the Northern Pacific. Mr Ross reports fine weather at Calgary and beyond to the summit. The track built last fall is in good condition, and work is progressing satisfactorily on the permanent bridges. The Bow River is free from ice, and the trout fishing is reported excellent. The weather is so warm out west that people go around in their shirt sleaves, the wearing of coats being oppressive.

THE GREAT TAY BRIDGE.

Though the valley of the Tay Scotland was the scene of many a wild storm during the past winter, the work of tho new bridge—such is the efficiency of the appliances in use—was not materially affected, either by wind or tide. Enormous difficulties have to be daily contended with and surmounted, not the least of which is the mere handling of such enormous masses of material as are required in connection with the portion of the work now being prosecuted. Notwithstanding this, the piers are slowly creeping out from both shores to the deep water, and, should no unforseen obstacles occur, it is anticipated that the foundations of the bridge will be completed before the end of the present year. The rearing of the superstructure will be much easier of accomplishment than the working under water.

The great results which have attended the regular use of Quinine Wine, by people of delicate constitution and those affected with a general prostration of the system, speak more than all the words that we can say in its behalf. This article is a true medicine and a life-giving principle—a perfect renovator of the system—invigorating at the same time both body and mind. Its medical properties are a febrifuge tonic and antiperiodic. Small doses, frequently repeated, strengthen the pulse, create an appetite, enable you to obtain refreshing sleep, and to feel and know that every fibre and tissue of your system is being braced and renovated. In the fine Quinine Wine, prepared by Northrop & Lyman, Toronto we have the exact tonic required; and to persons of weak and nervous constitutions we would say, never be without a bottle in the house. It is sold by all druggists.

SHOOTING NO SIN.

A JURY'S SYMPATHY WITH A WRONGED HUSBAND.

H. F. Allkins was arrainged Friday morning at the Criminal Assizes Toronto, for shooting with intent to kill John Hackett, his wife's paramour. The jury, after being out about a couple of minutes, returned with a verdict of not guilty. There was loud applause in court, which was instantly suppressed. Allkins was warmly congratulated by numerous friends.

SINGULAR COINCIDENCE.

From London Truth: It was certainly a singular coincidence that on the day of the Duke of Albany's death the approaching marriage of Miss Baring was announced. About four years ago the Duke proposed to Lady Ashburton's daughter, with full approbation of the Queen, but was rejected, to his very great disappointment. He was not, however, the only one of the Queen's sons whose early wooings were unfortunate, as the Duke of Connaught was twice refused by Princess Marie of Hanover before he went to Berlin in search of a bride.

Mrs. E. H. Perkins, Creek Centre, Warran Co. N. Y., writes: She has been troubled with asthma for four years, had to sit up night after night with it. She has taken two bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and is perfectly cured. She strongly recommends it, and wishes to act as agent among her neighbors.

FARM AND GARDEN.

Seeding. Propagation. Covering.

The most carefully seeded meadow is the most productive. Grass seed should be sown with winter grains, because they grow thinner on the ground than spring grain; the young plants are less shaded, and the growth forms with stronger roots, and is better able to withstand the hot sun and dry weather. After harvesting the grain, the seeding is often destroyed, because the roots of clover and timothy are so near the surface that they dry up. The ground is crusty for want of cultivation and weight of snow after the grain is sown. The remedy is simple, but rarely used. The grain should be harrowed into the ground after it has settled, and in dry enough to mellow under the harrow. Winter grain is improved by harrowing, affording a lighter soil for the spread and growth of the roots, covering the field with stronger growth, consequently increasing the yield. This process insures the certainty of grass-seeding; as seed is expensive, farmers cannot afford its loss, or "trust to luck." Two crops cannot grow in the same place simultaneously. Filling the ground with all it can support of spring grain, and sowing grass-seed at the same time expecting to produce a fine meadow after the grain, results in a feeble product and after harvesting the grain, the weak plants shrivel and die. Spring grain must be sown thinner when sown with grass—then what is lost in grain, is gained in the thickness of the clover or grass crop. Thinly grown grain generally produces heavier, larger heads and more stems, consequently the crop is not lessened. Grass is as important to farmers as grain, and should not be sacrificed for the chances on the latter. It should be made the primary crop, for the soil is renewed by it while it is exhausted by grain.—F. D. Curtis, in American Agriculturist for May.

The Care of Fruit Trees.

PROTECT THE ROOTS.

In transplanting or handling trees, recollect that every minute of exposure to the air injures them. If a tree cannot be planted at once, make a hole and bury the roots. Those who go to a near nursery and take home their own trees, should puddle them. Make a hole in the ground a foot deep and as large as needed. Have a plentiful supply of water. Pour water into the hole and stir up the soil, until a thin mud is formed. Draw the roots of the trees through this, until they, even the smallest, are completely covered with mud; then sprinkle dry soil over them to dry them off. This "puddling" or "grouting" of the roots, as the English call it, is useful not only for trees, but for plants of all kinds.

PASTURING THE ORCHARD.

It is a singular fact that the orchard is the only field that farmers, as a general thing, expect to yield more than one crop. There is so much apparently unoccupied ground between the trees, that there is a desire to utilize it with some crop. When the trees are in bearing, they need all the soil. While the trees are young, a manured crop may be grown between the rows. The best treatment of an established orchard is, to sow it to clover and pasture young pigs upon it. By this the fruit, soil and pigs will be benefited.

STAKING NEWLY PLANTED TREES.

In exposed localities, trees are apt to get a "list" in the direction of the prevailing winds. If the trees are small and properly pruned at planting, there will be less trouble than with large trees, which must be staked. The safest way is to drive two stakes at a little distance, upon each side of the tree, and secure the trunk to both stakes by means of a straw band, or soft rope so as not to chafe.

INJURED TREES.

Nursery trees when sent a long distance may be injured by drying, and, when received, the bark will be shrivelled and the tree apparently dead. Such trees may usually be saved. Open a trench large enough to receive them, and lay in the trees, root and branch, and sprinkle in the soil among the branches, laying the trees one upon another, taking care to have the soil come in contact with even the smallest branches. The bark will gradually absorb moisture from the soil, and in a few days become plump and apparently and apparently as bright and as fresh as ever.

STARVED TREES.

If trees are transported in warm weather, especially if packed moist, the buds will push, and when unpacked will be found to have white, weak shoots, several inches long. The only way to save such trees is to cut back every branch to a good bud that is still dormant.—American Agriculturist for May.

Chickens in the Garden.

The broods hatched the last of April, or early in May, can be safely stationed in the garden, as soon as the vegetables are in sight.—the hens being confined in coops close by, with conveniences for food and water. Insects are abundant in well-manured soil, and will be devoured by the chicks with great greediness. They also enjoy the tender weeds, between the rows, when they first appear. With cracked corn, insects, and young weeds or grass, they have perfect diet, and grow very rapidly after warm weather sets in. They are thus an important aid in destroying insect enemies that prey upon vegetables, and the strawberry plants. Squashes, melons and cucumbers suffer most, and when their leaves appear, a good location for the coop is near these. When chickens get large enough to trouble cultivated plants, they must of course be removed from the vegetable garden.—American Agriculturist for May.

Value of Shade Trees.

To make the surroundings of one's home attractive, will pay in dollars and cents, besides contributing to the enjoyment. The writer but recently attended the appraisement of some ornamental trees, twelve years planted, that had to come away on account of the widening of a street. The amount allowed the owner as a remuneration for individual trees was as high as seventy-five dollars each. The same trees when planted perhaps cost one dollar each, and the labour of setting, say one-half as much more. It was their worth for shade and ornament that governed the price. There are few places where the presence or absence of fine trees and shrubs would not similarly effect their valuation if sold. If there are children, judicious investments in beautifying the surroundings will afford invaluable returns in cultivating in them a love for and an interest in natural objects; inspiring in them a desire for the study of botany and natural sciences, than which nothing is more pure and satisfying for young minds. There is much complaint of the inclination of the young to leave rural homes for town life. Nothing would be more potent to arrest this tendency, than to spend some money and time in rendering the home attractive by the means that have been suggested. Resolve to set out and properly attend to a suitable selection of trees, shrubs and flowers.—E. A. Long, in American Agriculturist for May.

Home Hints—Clothing, Etc.

"How shall I make over last season's dresses for my children who have outgrown them?" is the perplexed mother's query just now. The pretty and favorite guimpe will help out here. This is a white waist, with or without sleeves, made plain or tucked and trimmed with insertions. It is cut three or four inches longer than the waist line, and a facing is put on through which a string is run to draw up at the waist. The overdress is a plain princess style, or a gathered waist with a belt, either of them low in the neck, with shoulder straps or puffs. The sleeves may be retained if preferred, and a white cuff added to match the white waist. The straps or puffs will lengthen the dress as required. Another way is to insert a yoke of Hamburg embroidery. This comes now in very handsome patterns for yokes, sleeves, and apron fronts to white dresses.

White dresses are much worn in the warm season, and are becoming, both to young and old. There is a large variety of fabrics. Satteens, which are so pretty in colors, are equally so in white; they are plain, striped, dotted, checked, in blocks, and also corded. In ready-made white dresses poor Victoria lawn has been used. There is now a new fabric called "India linen," which is much better, though it is really cotton. White dresses can be bought very cheaply, ready-made, but, of course, they are much more desirable if home-made. They should be simply made, of good material.

Colored satteens are very handsome on pale tinted grounds, with designs of flowers, leaves, fruits, acorns, berries, etc. Some have Japanese designs of birds or human figures, and others of miniature landscapes. They cost thirty to fifty cents a yard. Some make them up with plaid goods to match, but they are usually made of one piece. The style is a plain, unlined basque, a short round skirt with ruffles, and a plain hemmed overskirt much puffed, but arranged to draw up with strings. Laces trim these dresses showily, and come in gray and cream color as well as white.

Little girls and boys wear in all seasons every day costumes of wool in dark blue or black, trimmed with braid, blouse shape, with a plaited skirt for girls, and Knickerbockers for boys, with long stockings to match.

For spring outside coats for children and young ladies the redingote is most suitable. All dark colors are fashionable, and, if plain, have collars and cuffs of velvet. For travelling and very common wear they are made of checks and plaids, trimmed with the same goods. Little girls have often a small cape added, with a plaiting around it, three or four inches wide, or trimmed with velvet.

For little boys, the ulster shape, double-breasted, bound with braid and nice buttons, is always appropriate. Pretty, soft caps, and a variety of Derby hats, go with them from which to choose.—Ethel Stone, in American Agriculturist for May.

To Save Trees Barked by Mice.

Reports from many sections of the country indicate that mice have proved very destructive to trees during the last winter, by barking them. Almost any small tree thus barked may easily be saved by taking a couple of small shoots or branches of the same species, making a small incision on each side of the tree, just above and below the peeled part, and inserting the ends of the twig in the cuts. If this is carefully done—any one can do it—communication is provided for the sap to pass up and the tree saved.

THE HAY FORK SWINDLE.

A case in connection with a form of swindle which has been "tried on" in this district, was disposed of in such a manner as to make farmers more careful than ever in regard to signing "agreements" or other documents, presented by sleek-talking strangers. The agriculturalist will make money by recollecting the truth of the line of the old song:

"Be stick to your farm or you'll suffer the loss."

The case alluded to, which shows that the swindled farmers have apparently no legal redress, is as follows:

"The alleged hay-fork swindling case, which has caused considerable excitement and indignation among Beverly farmers recently, was heard by the Police Magistrate of Hamilton Friday morning and disposed of.

E. K. Jones, of Jones & Co., "proprietors of the Eureka Horse Hay Fork and Carrier," was charged by John A. Vallance, of Beverly, with inducing him, by false pretences, to sign a promissory note. The evidence showed that Vallance gave to one Polk, an agent of Jones, an order for fifteen hay forks, at $20 each, on the 11th April. The forks were shipped to Galt, according to the order, and Vallance gave his note at three months for $300 as security for the forks. The prosecutor alleges that the swindle is in the form of the printed order, which reads as follows:—"To Jones & Co., proprietors of the Eureka horse hay fork and carrier. Deliver to me at ——, Ont., fifteen Eureka horse hay forks and carriers, which I agree to retail at $25 each when a sale is made by me. I further promise to pay you twenty dollars for each machine on demand," etc. It is said that when the order was read by the agent a full stop was made at the word "each," and the remainder, to the word "demand," was read as one sentence, thus materially altering the meaning of the agreement. According to the agent's reading, it is alleged, it is made to appear that the person to whom the forks are consigned will have to pay for each one only when he sells it, whereas the real meaning is that he is obliged to pay for the whole on demand.

"The case was dismissed by the Magistrate on the evidence of the prosecutor alone, no case of false pretences having been made out."

AN EMBARRASSED SCHOOL TEACHER.

A teacher in one of the smallest district schools in the Smallest State in the Union, once proved that it may be embarrassing to use one's own self as an illustration. She was hearing a class in spelling and defining words. The word "orphian" had been correctly spelled, but none of the class seemed to know its meaning. After asking one or two of them, she said, encouragingly: "Now, try again. I am an orphan. Now, can't some of you guess what it means?" The blank look upon their faces remained, until one of the duller scholars raised his hand, and said, with no intention of being saucy, "It's some one who want's to get married, and can't."

Lindsay's Wharf, Aug. 22nd, 1883.

Messrs. Churchill & Co., Gents,—I have been afflicted with Salt Rheum for the past three years, and have been treated by some of the best doctors in Eastern Ontario without any lasting benefit. I was recommended by Mr. C. J. Lidnsay, of Kars, to try your Fountain of Health. After using five bottles of the Fountain and two bottles of your Climax Salve, I believe I am perfectly cured. My general health is also much improved, and I now feel like a new man.

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 1, 1884.

The Bribery Plot Trial.

The four defendants were arraigned at the Assizes on Tuesday, to plead to the indictment, and their counsel were so fearful of the result of a trial by jury, that they demurred to the indictment on the ground that the offence charged was not recognized by the law. The demurrer will be argued in the Court of Queen's Bench, on May 19th. This action shows that the defence is afraid of the facts, and seeks to escape justice by legal quibbles.

Bleeding the People.

The Dominion Government is behind the age. While, with the advance of medical science, doctors have discarded the sanguinery style of "heroic practice," implied in prodding a patient's arm for every little ailment, and extracting a copious flow of the life fluid, the Government still insist in bleeding the people. The second session of the Fifth Parliament will go down to history, figuratively crimson with the gore of the country. No Parliament of Canada, or any other country, ever was guilty of such lavish, wasteful, wanton expenditure of public money. Every step was marked by criminal extravagance, principally in the interests of the Tory party, directly or indirectly. The public interests had to give way to the carrying out of Sir John's programme of prodigality, and he had a majority as slavish and abjectly acquiescent as he could wish. Last issue we gave some curious calculations, showing that the expenditure was, for the actual working time of the session, at the astounding rate of $74 per second. We will now give the figures, as follows:

Estimates for the year	39,811,639 20
1883-4	$ 1,763,027 65
Supplementary Estimates for
1st Supplementary Estimates	1,994,809 93
2nd do do	522,616 00
C. P. R. Loan	22,500,000 00
C. P. R. Guarantee	7,380,912 00
Railway grants	9,175,800 00
Nova Scotia & Truro Railway	1,300,000 00
Esquimault Railway	750,000 00
Graving Dock (Esquimault)	250,000 00
Quebec Harbor	300,000 00
Levis Dock	150,000 00
Subsidies to Provinces	7,172,297 92
	$83,371,102 70

Let us invite the reader, who must be a most hopeful or reckless man, if he does not stand aghast at such a record of ruinously reckless extravagance, to join us in a little calculation. There are altogether 211 constituencies in the Dominion, and the above expenditure is equivalent—nay, positively means a burden of $390,000 to each riding, or to a county like Peterborough, composed of two ridings, a total financial burden of $780,000. The population of these two ridings, according to the last census, is a trifle over 21,000. This means that, to pay the enormous expenditure mourned over, every man, woman and child, will each have to contribute thirty dollars; or, assuming the average of each family to be 5, every head of a family will be responsible for $150 as his share of the expenditure of a single year under the Tory Government, which seems to have gone perfectly mad in its utterly indefensible squandering of the public money. Can the people for a moment think that the present curse of Tory rule that rests on the country, is for the good of the country? Can the Government pretend for a moment that the snatch verdict secured by them in 1878 and 1882 entitles them to consider themselves possessed of the confidence of the people? Whatever answer may be forthcoming to either of these questions, there is one thing certain—the country at the rate at which its revenues are squandered will, unless a pause is made, ere long be in the throes of bankruptcy. Let every honest man think dispassionately over the matter, and ask himself whether the country, under its present spendthrift rule, is being governed economically, prudently and satisfactorily.

True to its Party.

The Review has a facile and flippant way of excusing Sir John Macdonald's invasion of provincial rights, and asserts that the "idea (of such invasion) is absurd on the face of it." It is admitted that the Dominion government may exceed its jurisdiction, but any act it may so pass is necessarily invalid. Sir John has evidently not been of the opinion that the "idea is absurd" or the result harmless. Although Dominion legislation, ultra vires, has been declared invalid, yet Sir John has endeavored and to a certain extent and in a certain way, successfully, by means of such "invalid" legislation to work harm in this province and prejudice the position of the Mowat Administration and drive it out of place. The Review says "the province cannot suffer in this respect." Of course the usurping License Act has not made the province suffer; it has not thrown the trade into confusion and caused thousands of dollars useless expense and will not yet result in no end of litigation. In our contemporary's eyes, it is only a trifle to appeal against the aggressive and ultra vires legislation of the Tory majority at Ottawa. It will only cost the province several thousands of dollars law expenses. This, of course, is nothing, so long as the money is wasted as the result of Sir John's attempts at centralization, and at humiliating and injuring a Reform administration. The Review favors an appeal to the court in every case to secure, definition and interpretation of the British North America Act, instead of making it plain by Imperial amendments. It is only natural that a Tory party hack should oppose such amendments to the Constitution as would prevent mistake, especially when its party at Ottawa by creating disturbance and litigation by the invasion of provincial rights, may be preparing the way to giving a fat job to John A. Macdonnell, the legal bully of the Dominion Government, who recently received payment for "legal services" at ten times the price an honest lawyer would charge or an honest government pay, or others of his kidney. Oh no, don't disturb the British North America Act; don't make its provisions, as to jurisdiction, so plain that Sir John will not have an excuse for poaching on provincial prerogatives, or embarrassing "that little tyrant." Don't amend the Act, but every time Sir John passes ultra vires legislation, appeal, go to law, give the lawyers plenty of business, especially such shystering solicitors as Macdonnell. Verily to the Tory party belong the spoils, but don't take away every ground for justifying their stealings. The Review in practically making such appeals, is true to the principles that prompt the acts of its party.

Editorial Notes.

At present, appearances would seem to indicate that President Arthur is the strongest and most popular of the candidates for the Republican nomination for the Presidency of the United States.

Lord Lorne is going to make an attempt to introduce the white fish of the Canadian lakes into several rivers and lochs in the west of Scotland. Half a million eggs of these fish reached Inverary from Canada last week.

The Ottawa Post-officeship, made vacant by the death of Mr. Currier, brings forth a flock of aspirants like vultures. Every Tory party hack and ward politician believes firmly that the motto, "To the victors belong the spoils," applies to himself personally.

The amount of money voted away at the late session of the Dominion Parliament was eight million dollars more than the entire debt of the four older Provinces when they entered Confederation. And, yet, the Review has the ineffable insolence to speak of "Provinces cursed with Reform rule."

The Mail, in its eagerness to set creed against creed and incite class against class, does not scruple to practically give the lie to Archbishop Lynch. So rabid is the partyism of the chief Conservative organ, that all sense of decency and reverence for dignites, or anything decent, for that matter, is wanting.

Of the 225 earthquakes which have occurred in the British Islands, only two or three have resulted in injury to property or loss of life. In April, 1750, when a lunatic predicted an earthquake on the 8th, thousands of people of London spent the night before in carriages and tents in Hyde Park.

"I believe," says Labouchere in London Truth, "the Lansdowne estates are regarded as something like a model property in Ireland. This being so, it is instructive to notice that the rental of Lord Lansdowne's Limerick estates was reduced by the Commissioners by a trifle of 25 per cent.—from £2,400 to £1,800.

The Grand Trunk now operates 2,321½ miles of railway. There is no truth in the report published by a London, Ont., paper that differences have arisen between General Manger Hickson and the Directors. Mr. Hickson goes to Britain in a few days to confer with the Directors on the affairs of the company.

A high tribute is paid to the financial resources of Canada by the fact that notwithstanding the immense drain upon the funds of the people, the country still remains solvent. Since Confederation, Rideau Hall, the official residence of Canada's Governors-General, has cost for repairs and additions $700,000, with still more in prospect. Canada keeps up the establishment, not only in vice-regal, but regal style.

Attorney-General Miller will represent Manitoba before the British Privy Council, when the boundary award dispute is considered. He will have associated with him Mr. Dalton McCarthy, Q. C. As previously announced, Premier Mowat will have charge of the Ontario case, and will be supported by another able Ontario counsel, probably Mr. James Bethune, Q. C.

Dr. Barker who founded the Kingston Whig and issued it as a daily in 1849—then the only daily journal in Canada—died in Kingston last Sunday night, aged fifty-four years. Dr. Barker was a gentleman of great energy and had the genuine newspaperman's knack of putting his ideas into a few crisp sentences. As a veteran and successful journalist he is worthy of the kindly and enduring remembrance of the craft.

The chief arguments of the police court counsel for the bribery brigade conspirators was, while unable to deny their guilt, that it was no harm to induce Reform members of Parliament to vote against a Reform Government. But Chief Justice Haggarty has quite a different opinion. In his charge to the grand jury he says:

"The law of England is sufficiently comprehensive and elastic to include within its grasp as a high misdemeanor the bribery of the representatives of the people to vote contrary to their duty or belief for corrupt consideration of a money payment or other corrupt consideration."

The Ontario License Commissioners have refused liquor licenses to that sandy stretch of sterility, yclept the Island, Toronto. As a pleasure resort, it was contended that it was desirable to keep the place free from the unseemly scenes that attend the free use of strong liquors. In contrast to this action of the Ontario officials, the bogus Dominion Commissioners have issued licenses for the Island, which, it is needless to remark are as valueless as would be a permit signed by the totem of Sitting Bull.

It is said that Hon. Mr. Macpherson, Miniate of the Interior—the Dominion butler, as it were—is hankering to secure a situation at Government House, Toronto, as Lieutenant-Governor. He will be succeeded by Speaker Kirkpatrick. If Senator Macpherson has any sense of shame he would not accept such an office while the present advisers of the Ontario sub-viceroy are in office. He tried hard enough to get them out of office, but seems to have come to the conclusion that if he waits till the Mowat Government is out of power, the Lieut.-Governor's seat will have to be warmed by his "heirs and assigns" instead of "himself."

The Grand Jury of the Toronto Criminal Assizes found true bills against the bribery conspirators, Messrs. Bunting, Meek, Big Push Wilkinson and Kirkland. The strength of the case against them, may be fancied from the fact that about fifteen of the twenty-one jury-men were Conservatives. If they had not been fully convinced by the preliminary evidence of the guilt of the accused, it is probable that their political sympathies, in spite of an honest intention to do justly, would have influenced them insensibly in the direction of "No Bill." The trial of the case will probably come on Tuesday.

The calcimined corruptionist, Sir Charles, will leave for England in a few days, to take the duties of high Commissioner, and occupy the "corner mansion" that cost the country about $45,000. Sir Charles claims that he gets no salary; but, the use of a house like this, rent free, with food, fuel, servants, etc., is certainly something worth counting, and as Sir Charles still hangs on to his Government portfolio, with its salary of $8,000 per year, he would seem to be pretty well paid, for a man, who is merely taking a recuperative holiday in the old country.

The Toronto Ministerial Association have acted with a good deal of thoughtful wisdom in passing a resolution denouncing the folly of expensive and showy funerals. Now-a-days this evil, for such it must be regarded, has come to such a pass that in one sense a poor man cannot afford to die. Persons, poor in purse, are tempted to ambitious imitation of richer persons, by being carried away with the delusion that they would be lacking in respect for the dead if the ceremony were not accompanied with the orthodox trappings, crape and other solemn nonsense. By this means they are led into extravagancies that exhaust their means and plunge them into debt. Besides the dead not receiving any benefit, the living relations are embarrassed and forced to suffer from the lack of means, caused by the mortuary display. If a deceased father could look down from above and express his sentiments on the subject, he would doubtless declare that he had rather see his widow and orphans eating three meals a day than starving themselves to save money to pay for a "very respectable funeral," which he did not particularly enjoy. Real sorrow has its home in the heart, and can be indifferent to the opinion of the world as to its depth and sincerity, and indifferent to all the pomp of showy funerals. Hamlet hits the idea exactly:

"But I have that within that passeth show;
These but the trappings and the suits of woe."

PERSONAL.

Mr. Orm. Dixon, the versatile ventriloquist, is taking a holiday and is spending a few day in town.

The serious illness of Mr. Henry Collins Reeve of North Monaghan, while not aggravated, does not show decidedly marked symptoms of abatement.

Mr. D. A. McDonald, late of the "Point St. Charles" Lumber mills, has entered into the Grocery business in Lindsay. Success to his new adventure.

Miss Kitty Revell, will, it is understood, succeed to the position of Organist of St. Luke's church, made vacant through the marriage and resignation of Miss Lech.

Mr. Robert McGill of Apsley, was in town several days, on business connected with his agency of the Singer Sewing Machine, for the back country, and on other business.

Messrs. James Snyder and Joseph Metherall, returned home on Friday, from the School of Gunnery Kingston, where they have been taking a course of instruction.

Among the provincial appointments appearing in the last issue of the Ontario Gazette, appear the appointment of Mr. Geo. W. Hatton, a solicitor of the High Court of Judicature, as a notary public for Ontario.

On Monday evening, Mr. Wm. Irwin, and wife departed from the Midland station, for Manitoba. Mr Irvin is superintendent of the Fort Francis and Rainy River Lumbering Company. A large gathering of friends assembled at the station, to give Mr. and Mrs. Irwin a cordial "send off."

Mr. Walter McIlmoyle of Smith, on Tuesday started for Muskegon, Michigan, from which he will go on later, to Minneapolis. Mr. McIlmoyle, has secured a lucrative position in the States in connection with a lumbering firm. He intends remaining one year, when he will return home. Mr. McIlmoyle, has many warm friends in Smith and vicinity who will wish him great success in his new sphere of employment.

The Port Hope Times has the following reference to a local vocalist, Mr. Porteous, of the Charlotte street Methodist Choir, who sang at Mr. Singlton's concert:

"Mr. Mitchelson Porteous, of Peterboro', then sang 'Deep in the Mine.' This was the first appearance of this gentleman before a Port Hope audience, and his rendition was highly appreciated, and his re-appearance at any time will be looked upon with much favor by those who heard him on that occasion. An encore called from him 'Good-By'. Mrs. Caldwell sang a duet with Mr. Porteous, entitled 'The Fisherman,' which is what might have been expected from two vocalists of their high class."

"Time out of Joint."

One night last week the town clock, which has not yet become thoroughly accustomed to the sensation of pigeons using its hands for a perch, stopped short at a quarter past nine in the evening. A young lady attending the Saved Army meetings, with her young man, left the Opera House when the sinners were dismissed, and, having permission from her mother to remain out till ten o'clock, she suggested to her lover that they stroll about, enjoying the beauty of the spring night, till the clock struck ten. Long they strayed about with love's loaferish pace, forgetting in the ecstacy of the occasion the flight of time. At last, fearing that they had missed hearing the stroke of the bell, they went home; when the mother met them at the door, in great wrath and in her night cap, sarcastically informing the daughter that breakfast was ready—it was twelve o'clock—and the young man was told to go, and never show his Romanesque nose in that street again. Both lover and sweetheart think a bird (especially a pigeon) on the hand is worth two anywhere else.

A PRINCE IN A POLICE COURT.

Prince Leopold was the only member of his family who ever was in a police court. He went into the Bow street witness box to give evidence as to the outrage on the Queen committed by the crazy lad McLean, of which he had been an eye-witness, seated as he was in the carriage with his mother. He gave his evidence with great clearness and succinctness.

A PITHY EPISTLE!

We have received the following letter which we take pleasure in publishing:—

T. DOLAN & Co.

Dear Sirs,—A week or two since I purchased one of your spring suits, and thought I was doing the proper thing. I regret to say that the suit has turned out a failure—a deplorable failure. You warranted it as strong and serviceable and not to lose its shape soon. Well sirs, last night as I was getting home from the lodge about—well about—well I should say a trifle after ten, a friend whom I met near Mason's grocery, said I looked as if I was a trifle under the weather. This morning I examined my suit, and blessed if I'd know myself rigged out in it. The thing's collapsed, I call on you to make good the damage to my character and appearance, or I shall publish you.

Yours expectantly,
JOHN PLUNDERSKOVE.

To which we reply:—

OUR DEAR JOHN,—Yours to hand and contents noted—with grief, mortification and abashment of spirit. Also with a certain amount of commiseration. Your letter, John, dear boy, does not give us all the facts—you're keeping something back.

Always be honest John. What lodge were you at? Did you take an active part in the exercises? Were you "riding the goat," John, and did that mythical animal subject you to much diversion? Are you quite sure that you did not linger anywhere on the way home after adjournment? Things often look different after lodge night, and this may be one of the occasions. Was there any mud on your suit this morning? Have you a vivid recollection of trying to unlock your front door with a suspender buckle? You haven't!

Take it all back John. Don't let your letter go to protest. You have allowed your imagination to wander, and you've been in a burst of philanthrophy, trying to wipe the sidewalk clean with your coat.

In the meantime, undeterred by the melancholy fate of your suit, John, we shall sell others—but won't guarantee them for "lodge" nights.

NORWOOD LACROSSE CLUB.

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting of the club was held on Thursday evening. The prospects for the season are favorable. The following officers were elected; President, F. H. MAGISTRATES' COURT.

On Thursday of last week Mr. S. H. Brown and Thos. Searight of this village were arranged before John Breakenridge, Esq., J. P. and Thomas Rork, Esq., J. P., by Samuel McGee, of Asphodel, for assault and battery. For the prosecution the complainant stated that on the Monday previous he went to defendant's sawmill to see about some logs he had left there to be sawed, when he found that one of his logs had been cut and its timber disposed of. Words then ensued between him and Brown, during which the word "liar" was freely used by both parties. Not coming to any distinct understanding by the word of mouth, Brown, McGee said, struck him forcibly on the side of the head, partly stunning him. Thos. Searight then came to offer his mediatory services, when he gave McGee several weighty "canoniers," and got in return some welts that left a sadly discoloured eye. The fight thus ended, both parties mutually withdrawing from the contest. Mr. Brown pleaded in defense, that McGee used grossly insulting language to him, inducing the blow, and that he told McGee that he was perfectly willing to allow him his own terms for the value of the log. The magistrates, in summing up, stated that the complainant came to a public business place to transact lawful business, and therefore should have had civil treatment, and would only impose a light fine, which was $5, together with $3.75 costs. Searight was honorably acquitted.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

A very disastrous fire occurred here about 11:30 on Saturday night, when the saw-mill of Mr. S. H. Brown, with its contents was totally destroyed by fire. The building being an old one, the flames spread with almost lightning rapidity, so that none of the machinery or any of the ordinary contents of the mill could be saved, and in about thirty minutes the building, and some valuable sawn lumber, sashes, doors, &c., were reduced to ashes. In the mill at the time of the fire were a valuable planer, lath saw, 2 circular saws and fittings, 1 stave machine, 1 shingle mill, engine and boiler, about 30,000 feet of lumber and 25,000 shingles, all of which fell a prey to the flames. The contents and the building were insured in the Gore District insurance company for $700 which will by no means cover the loss sustained by Mr. Brown, for whom much sympathy has been expressed. Although the night was a calm one fiery cinders were carried to a great distance from the burning mill, and a number of people living to the south-east of the fire, felt considerable alarm for the safety of their properties. As it was, the Drill shed was set afire several times, but with considerable risk and promptitude each little flame was extinguished before it made any headway.

FIRE IN ASPHODEL.

On Monday morning the barn and stable of Mr. D. MacNaughton was destroyed by fire. Some valuable contents also destroyed. Mr. MacNaughton's residence had a narrow escape, the kitchen having caught fire from the outbuildings.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

Norwood is to have a grand and unique celebration on the coming anniversary of Her Majesty's birthday. The programme of events is a grand one, and comprises a grand lacrosse match, athletic sports, a wonderful and never-to-be-forgotton masquerade parade, for which extra preparations are now in progress, and for the success of which no pains or expense are being spared. One of the features of the procession is a set of superb musicians to take the place of the Campbellford brass band which after promising to reciprocate a kindness shown them by the Norwood band, accepted another engagement while pledged to assist the latter on this occasion. In the evening there will be a grand concert, at which some well known foreign vocalists will take part, and ending up the day's proceedings with a grand torch-light procession. The programme is in the hands of the members of the Norwood Brass Band, a fact which guarantees the success of the coming Queen's Birthday celebration.

AN ALARM.

The steam whistle of Mr. Findlay's factory gave an unusual blow ou Monday afternoon, when a large crowd, fearing another fire during the furious wind which then prevailed, speedily rushed towards the east end of the village. It was found that the alarm was caused by a dense smoke issuing from the chimney of the residence of Mr. James Livingston, on Belmont street. The chimney had caught fire, and it appears that the heat from the blaze had ignited some shingles near the base of the chimney, and but for the prompt action of some neighbors would no doubt soon have enveloped the whole building in flames.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Two new locomotives, with about 40 flat cars, arrived in Norwood on Saturday evening; one proceeds to Peterborough with railway freight for that town, while the other remained here to assist in the task of ballasting the line. Ballasting is being steadily pushed forward, and is now in an advanced stage between here and Peterborough. It is likely an excursion will take place over the Ontario & Quebec Road from several places on the line to Norwood on the 24th of May.

KEENE.

(From an Occasional Correspondent.)

AXED AND ANSWERED.

Is a newspaper correspondent a man in the write place? How are you down? On the Hastings Star man. Who ain't? What's trump? Spades, just now; but, then, that's not the business it is trumped up to be, either. Where was he going? "Over the garden wall," he sang, as he showed a desire to shake off his irate chum in the rear. We presume the garden gate had been locked as a precaution against the failure of paternal institutions. Just so, sir! Can Sir John now boast of being the greatest constitutional lawyer? We think not, as the Honourable Oliver "got up head" by framing a correct solution to the question which he could not answer correctly, and which puzzled even the great mind and scrapbook of "Sarah." 'Rah for Oliver!

The work, preparatory to laying the foundation of the new Presbyterian Church, is being rapidly pushed forward, and on the 24th of May we expect to witness the laying of the corner stone by the W. G. M. of A. F. & A. M., G. R. C. An emergency meeting of Keene Lodge No. 374, G.R.C., A.F. & A.M., was held on the 28th of April.

The prospect of a new, or, rather, the resurrection of an old railway communication with Peterborough is regarded with delight by our citizens. It is not that one railway couldn't afford sufficient accommodation, but that, as matters stand at present, it is doubtful if the term "accommodation" is applicable to the facilities afforded by the G. J. R. to those of our population who have business in town, as it leaves us only about an hour and a half in Peterborough.

We are glad to hear that the roughs—or putting it more mildly, perhaps, the rowdyish vagabonds—who committed such gross depredations in the village one night last week, were from another part of the township. It was at first supposed that they were of our own community, but we did not think that Keene was possessed of such desperadoes as these seem to have been. It is but fair to our village lads to say that we learn from good authority that they who committed the acts were foreign to our town, and we heartily congratulate those foreigners upon having escaped the hands of our chief constable, as, in that case, he would in all probability have made it warm for them. We are pretty confident that a board of medical examiners would have authorized the authorities to have them removed to some safe place, where their attacks would be made on sound stone walls and iron-barred windows.

People here say that the Keene occasional correspondent for the Hastings Star must either be sick or insane. We earnestly hope that the latter is not his condition. At any rate we would recommend him to any one of our physicians, who could, if the former be his state, effect a cure; and, if the latter, provide for his incarceration where the readers of the Star would not be pained, on his account, by reading his ravings in the issues of that paper.

ACROSTIC.

"Satan exalted sat," in royal state,
To weigh the "wise-saws" of his mate;
And then jotted down in his little sheet
Ravings fresh from Keene's dead-beat—

Oh! shoo fly! we intended to have said the Keene occasional correspondent for the Hastings Star, but omitted it solely to preserve the rhyme.

MIDLAND

(From an Occasional Correspondent.)

FATAL YACHTING ACCIDENT.

On Sunday, 26th of April, a company of eleven persons made up of Willie Cann, telegraph operator, Charles Hastings, store keeper's son, F. W. Pease, Commercial traveller, Willie Hastings, I. S. Cook, Albert Williamson, George Griffith, Will Switzer, Will Smith, band clerk, F. Westley, John Clerk, went for their first sail in the season, as the ice is out of the bay. A gale came on them when they were about five or six miles out from Midland and one and a half miles from any land. The wind proved to be too much for their management of the boat, and consequently they were capsized. All came to the top again and remained there on the boat, which was under water about four feet, for about one and half hours. At last others came to their rescue; but too late to save the lives of W. Cann, C. Hastings, and F. W. Pease, who perished from the cold. Part of the remaining number were taken to Midland, and other to nearer resorts, and are now doing well. The news sent a gloom through Midland long to be remembered. Drs. Kidd and Raikes and others exerted themselves in restoring animation to the survivors. Another upset is mentioned which took place between Victoria Harbor and Midland; but as no lives were lost, as assistance was near. W. Cann, among those who perished, was highly respected, his remains were taken to his home in Cobourg, and interred on Wednesday. C. Hastings' parents live here who have the sympathy of the entire village. As regards the commercial traveller, F. W. Pease, his acquaintance here is not so great as of the other two; but where he is better known his loss will be morned.

Opened out this week at, Turnbull's, a range of Hemp Carpets, good patterns at low prices.

GRAND TRUNK AFFAIRS.

The half yearly meeting of the Grand Trunk Railway Company was held in London on Tuesday. The agreement consolidating the Welland railway with the G. T. R. was ratified. The action of the Dominion Government in subsidizing the Canadian Pacific to enable it to diminish the value of investments in the Grand Trunk, was severely criticised, as well it might be. The absurd rumor that certain prominent officials were to be asked to resign was completely disproved, no action in that direction being even hinted at.

A report was laid before the Board showing the gross receipts for the second half of 1883 to be £1,896,066, with working expenses of £1,315,887, against £1,871,033 and £1,271,700 respectively for the same period of 1882. The net balance to the good after deducting interest and rents was £361,623, which permits of the payments of the full half year's dividend at the rate of 5 per cent per annum on the first and second preference stocks of the Grand Trunk proper, and 3½ per cent on the third preference, while on the Great Western section 5 per cent is payable on the preference stock and 3 per cent on the ordinary shares.

A CONVENT CONSUMED.

Loretto Convent Lindsay, Burned to the Ground.—Loss $60,000.—Insurance only $25,000.

Of the beautiful building known as the Loretto Convent, nothing remains but the bare walls standing blackened and disfigured. The fire which worked destruction started shortly after eleven o'clock Thursday morning. The building was heated by hot water throughout, and was supposed to be free from danger of fire. The alarm was given as soon as possible after the fire was noticed, and the brigade answered with promptness.

HOW THE FIRE ORIGINATED

is at the date of writing not definitely known. An invalid sister occupied a room in the southwest corner of the upper story, and in the room was a small stove, and from the connections between the stove and chimney the fire may have started. Another story is that the chimney being on fire, the heat fired some clothing hanging in a closet close to the chimney. For twenty minutes after the alarm was given no flames were visible, but a dense smoke poured from the top of the window and crevices in the cornice. The children attending were fortunately in the basement and were at once dismissed and taken outside. An effort was made to save the clothing and personal belongings of the young lady boarders, but the dormitories in the upper flat filled with smoke so rapidly that very little could be taken out of them. A large quantity of bedding was thrown from the windows. In the lower rooms ample time was allowed to remove nearly everything, and valuable books, paintings, furniture, and piano were removed. Owing to the distance from

THE CONVENT SCHOOL

THE NEAREST HYDRANT,

only one line of hose was laid, and with one branch the men endeavored to stay the progress of the fire. The roof was mansard, covered with slate. The fire worked its way along the roof under the slates. To get at it axes were used, but the footing was so precarious that it took some time to make an opening. It was apparent that with only one branch little could be done to stay the fire. Water was carried in pails, but the height of the fire from the ground made this way of quenching it both laborious and almost useless. After the woodwork and roof had blazed fiercely for some time it fell inwards, carrying in its fall the floor of the second story. A cry now arose that distant only about fifty yards, was on fire. The alarm was really given, and under the impression that the church might be destroyed a large number of valuables were hastily removed. A few resolute fellows climbed on the roof of the church, and with water supplied them in pails, kept the shingles of the roof wet. In this work distinguished himself for the agility with which he capered along the roof, and blotted out many a dangerous spark and red hot cinder. At this juncture the old hand engine, the Cataract No. 1, was brought up and manned. Water was supplied from a well in the yard. Good service was given by the hand engine in saving the south wing. For two hours longer the work of destruction went on, the brigade fighting desperately as best they could with only one branch.

THE CHURCH,

HAPPY JACK ROGERS

SEVERAL NARROW ESCAPES

from injury by falling portions of the roof were noted. By four o'clock the fire had somewhat weakened, and it was practically under control. The building was insured to the amount of $25,000, which was placed among three companies as follows: Phœnix, of London, $14,000; Royal, $8,000; Western, $3,000. Through the kindness of friends, who threw open their houses, ample accomodation was provided for the young lady boarders so suddenly rendered homeless.

RETRIEVING THE RUIN.

Bishop Jamot, of Peterboro', arrived at Lindsay on Friday night, and with his accustomed zeal and energy, took steps, in conjunction with the Mother Superior of Loretto, Vicar-General Laurent, and the leading members of St. Mary's Church, to repair the calamity of Thursday. The walls of the academy are standing in apparently sound condition. It is the intention to re-build at once, and make the buildings as fine and complete as ever.

THE INSURANCE

will no doubt cover a large amount of the outlay thus rendered necessary. In the meantime the ladies of Loretto will keep on their school with as little interruption as possible. Vicar-General Laurent has generously given up his fine residence in the next square across the street for the use of the young ladies boarding at the academy, and in a couple of days the Sisters will be installed there and classes will be resumed.

THE PRIEST'S HOUSE

is a spacious mansion in beautiful grounds, and will make a very desirable residence for the young ladies. The term ends in a couple of months, and it is hoped that by the end of the following two months' vacation the academy will be re-built and ready for occupation. The south wing is comparatively uninjured, and will be used straight along. Bishop Jamot and the ladies of Loretto are exceedingly grateful for the hearty and heroic assistance rendered at the fire by the people of Lindsay and for the sympathy expressed and the kindness received.

BEWARE!

of the continued use of mercury and potash for the treatment of Blood and skin diseases, they never cure, and nearly always injure or totally ruin the general health.

A WELL KNOWN DRUGGIST.

I have seen a great many cases cured with Shaker Blood Syrup—some who have tried all sorts of treatment. In fact I have never known it to fail when taken properly. I sell a large quantity of it, and for all diseases that are dependent on blood poison or skin humor. It cures PIMPLES AND BLOTCHES ON THE SKIN, and makes the complexion fair and rosy. As for blood taint, there is no such word as fail. It cures cases that have long withstood other sorts of treatment, and without any of those recurring troubles that generally follow mercurial and other so-called cures.

COULDN'T STAND THE REMEDY.

A majority, unkempt old man, who had been sick for some time, called on a doctor, and after telling his symptoms asked what he should do.

"Well, sir, you must take a cold bath every morning."

"What, wash all over every day?"

"Yes."

"Will I die if don't do it?"

"Yes certainly will."

"Well, doctor, I ain't able to walk down town; will you go and get a preacher and an undertaker? I'll go home and get ready to see them. You may send your bill to my administrator and he will settle it after I'm gone. Good day."

"I was for several years suffering from Cough, Expectoration and Night Sweats, attended with extreme nervous and physical prostration. My body was greatly emaciated, and the general impression was that I had not long to live. I began taking Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya, an improvement took place immediately. I gained in weight and strength. My Cough and my Night Sweats disappeared, and I am now in the enjoyment of excellent health. Many of my friends to whom I have recommended the Elixir have experienced equally remarkable results."

JUST A LITTLE TOO PREMATURE.

It is soberly related that a youthful married couple at Buckingham, whose apartments have recently been glorified by the addition of a fac-simile of the beautiful little mother, decided to have the christening service in the hotel. A venerable Methodist minister was called to officiate. He took the babe in his arms very affectionately and addressed in a paternal fashion a few words of advice to the young parents. "See that you train this child in the way he should go; that you surround him with the best influences and that you give him a good example. If you do so, who knows but he may become a John Wesley or a George Whitfield? What is his name?

"Nellie, sir," replied the mother.

INEBRIOZOOLOGICAL PROBLEM.

"Papa?" asked a 7-year-old son of a distinguished Senator—and the 7-year-old son's face wore an anxious look—"which is the drunkest, to be drunk as a biled owl or to be as full as two goats."

"Good heavens, child!" ejaculated the astonished parent, "What do you mean? How should I know?"

"I didn't know, papa; but this morning the cook said John, the coachman, came home drunk as a biled owl; and this afternoon, when Col.————'s wife called on mamma, I heard her say that her husband said you were as full as two goats at the club last night."

The kid's conundrum remained unanswered.

MALADIES MULTIPLY ONE ANOTHER. A simple fit of indigestion may—especially if the constitution is not naturally vigorous throw the entire mechanism of the liver and bowels out of gear. Sick headache follows, poisoning of the blood by bile ensues, and there is grave and serious disturbance of the entire system. Check the threatened dangers at the outset with Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, the medicine that drives every impurity from the blood.

WHERE THEY GO.

"Where were you last Sunday, Robbie?" asked the teacher of one of the brightest scholars in her Sunday-school class.

"My mother kept me at home,"

"Now, Robbie, do you know where little boys go to when they play truant from Sunday-school?"

"Yes, ma'am"

"They go fishin'!" exclaimed the boy, letting the whole feline family out of the paper envelope.

Messrs. Churchill & Co., Dear Sirs,—I have been troubled with Piles for the last five years, and during that time I have taken medicine from five doctors which failed to effect a cure. I have used only one box of your Climax Eye Salve, which I purchased from W. F. Ritchie of Osgoode Station, and can recommend it as a safe cure to all afflicted with the same disease. OIL OF WINTERGREEN.

Oil of wintergreen mixed with an equal quantity of olive oil when applied externally to inflammed joints affected by rheumatism, is maintained to be, on high therapeutic authority, a means of instant relief from pain. At any rate, its introduction to the sick chamber is unobjectionable, if only for the agreeable odor it imparts to the atmosphere.

P. M. Markell, West Jeddore, N. S., writes: I wish to inform you of the wonderful qualities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. I had a horse so lame that he could scarcely walk; the trouble was in the knee; and two or three applications completely cured him."

THE HAINES "Upright Pianos."

A few extracts from the numerous endorsements by the leading artists of the World as to their Superiority:—

The pianoforte of your make used at my last concert is the most admirable Instrument I have ever seen. Please send to my address in London one of your Upright Pianos. This, I think, is the best endorsement of your instrument I can give you.—CHRISTINE NILSSON.

Neither in Europe or America have I seen an Upright to equal yours.—ELILEN GERSTER GARDINI.

In all the qualities an artist can require your Upright Pianos surpass anything I have ever seen.—SOFIA SCALCHI.

It is superior in quality of tone and evenness of action to any instrument I know of. CLARA LOUISE KELLOGG.

Having had an opportunity of using your New Concert Upright Piano at the concerts given by Her Majesty's Opera Company, we beg to compliment you upon your great success. You can justly claim a superiority over any piano we have hitherto seen, for concert purposes and accompanying the voice.—ITALO CAMPANINI, ANTONIO GALASSI, ANNA DE PREOCCA, EMIL AMBRA.

The successful manner in which your Upright Piano has stood the severest tests, is such as heretofore has been applied to the Grand Piano only, and it commands our unqualified endorsement.—OLE BULL, EMMA THURSBY, ALFRED H. PEASE, MAURICE STRAKOSCH.

SLANDER.

'Twas but a breath—
And yet the fair, good name was wilted,
And friends once fond grew cold and stilted,
And life was worse than death.

One venomed word,
That struck its coward, poisoned blow,
In craven whispers, hushed and low—
And yet the wide world heard.

'Twas but one whisper—one
That muttered low, for very shame,
That thing the slander dare not name—
And yet its work was done.

A hit so light,
And yet so mighty in its power,
A human soul in one short hour
Lies crushed beneath its blight

A BLACK DAY FOR FASHION.

Black will be worn this season, both for the house and street, and besides the silk costumes that were spoken of a fortnight ago, and the black wool dresses for daily wear, there are some very handsome designs in black toilets for special occasions. Lace dresses will be the summer fancy, and they are already worn in the house. These dresses have three wide flounces of real or imitation lace, as the wearer can best afford, over a satin surah skirt, a deeply-draped apron overskirt, which may be, and often is, made of a lace shawl and a basque of piece lace laid over satin. Many dressy black toilets for midsummer have black China crepe, with embroidered figures for the basque or princess overdress, while the skirt may be of alternate breadths of crepe and Escurial net, or it may be of black satin, fully flounced with Chantilly or Escurial lace. French imitations of Chantilly are much used, and they are really very pretty and durable, besides being thoroughly good imitations. Many women wear them who could afford the genuine, but who do not care to spend so much money for what may be only a of fashion. The Bazar says the novelty in these lace dresses is the suggestion of the full, round, gathered skirts which it is predicted will at no distant day be restored to favor.

DREADFUL MASSACRE.

2,000 MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN MURDERED.

The Paris Figaro's correspondent at Cairo sends details of the recent Shendy massacre. Three hundred Egyptain troops, and 600 non-combatants, preferring to make a hazardous attempt to march to Berber to starving inside Shendy, set out from the latter place on the 15th inst. Part of the number went slowly by steamer down the river, while others marched along the river bank. When two hours distant from Shendy they were attacked by Arabs, and after a short fight all the troops, excepting a few, were massacred. The Arabs afterwards captured Shendy. Egyptain troops there have discarded arms and uniforms in the hope of being spared. Few, however, escaped the general massacre. Ten thousand men, women and children were slaughtered. Many of them were refugees from Khartoum.

STARVING INDIANS.

A gentleman who has just returned to Ottawa from the North-West states that in an interview with the Oloupe Indian chiefs, on the Crooked Lake Reserve, the latter informed him that seventy Indians had died on that reserve within the past two months of starvation; and that a large number of those remaining had been so reduced by hunger as to render them utterly helpless. The gentlemen visited several reserves farther north, and reported that great destitution prevailed. It is believed that the Indian agents have not reported the condition of the Indians to the Government, as the latter appears to be entirely ignorant of any suffering among the different tribes. It is also believed that a large percentage of the supplies, paid for by the Government do not find their way to the reserves, but are appropriated by speculative agents. The Indian Department here received no information regarding the outbreak at Battleford, but it would surprise no one who is acquanted with the condition of the Indians if there was a general uprising.

THE BRITISH BUDGET.

THE NATIONAL DEBT LOWER THAN FOR THE PAST SEVENTY YEARS.

The Budget was introduced in the British house of Commons Thursday night. The national debt was shown to be lower than since 1811; the interest lower than since 1806. The debt is reduced since 1883 by £3,500,000. It is estimated that the expenditure for the current financial year will be £85,252,000, against £85 964,000 during the previous year. The revenue is estimated at £85,550,000, against £71,966,000 last year. It is proposed to convert the 3 per cent. consols into 2¾ per cent.

DYNAMITE WITH DINNER.

A cannister of gunpowder exploded Friday evening in the area of the barracks in Dublin. The windows of the barracks kitchen were shattered. Although the officers were dining in the room directly above, no one was injured. Several pieces of nail rod two inches in length were found scattered about the place. No arrests were made. Fragments of clock-work were found near the scene. The report was very loud and caused great alarm among people in the vicinity.

Cure for Deafness.

As numerous testimonials will show, there is no more reliable cure for deafness than Hagyard's Yellow Oil. It is also the best remedy for ear ache, sore throat, croup, rheumatism, and for pains and lameness generally. Used externally and internally 17-2t

Don't laugh at the dude. He undoubtedly fills a place in the economy of creation. He is only one of the things whose reason for being is past finding out.

Fraudulent Transactions.

There are many frauds perpetrated in medicine, and many advertized remedies worse than useless. Not so with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. It remains as ever the best internal and external medicine for all pain, soreness and injuries with which human flesh is afflicted. 17-2t

A Williamsport youth sent fifty cents to a New York firm to learn how to keep from swearin; and received in reply: "Don't open your mouth." He has sworn ever since.

The Effects of Whiskey.

The effects of whiskey are always evil, and those who feed upon alcoholic stimulants, vainly endeavoring to cure coughs and consumption, but nurse a viper. Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam is a remedy that is always reliable for all throat, bronchial and lung troubles, and never does harm to any one. 17-2t

A good country priest said to a dying drunkard: "My friend, you must reconcile yourself with your enemies." "Then," groaned the dying man, "give me a glass of water."

The Secret Out.

The secret of beauty has been at last revealed. Without good health; pure blood and a fair clear skin none can possess good looks. What is more repulsive than pimples, blotches, and a sallow or pasty complexion? Burdock Blood Bitters reveal the fact that all can gain pure blood and freedom from the repulsive diseases of the skin that result from impurities. 17-2t

"Above all, be very careful about the fire; I have a great horror of it," says the mistress to the cook. "Pray don't be alarmed, madame; there is a fireman in my kitchen almost every evening!" replies the cook.

Important Changes.

There are two periods in the life of every female when the system undergoes great changes. First, the change from childhood to womanhood; next, that of womanhood to old age. These are the critical changes of life, and the system should be nourished and and regulated by that matchless tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters. It is invaluable in all diseases peculiar to females. 17-2t

Scrofula is so called from the Latin Scrofa, a pig, from the supposition that the disease came from eating swine's flesh. It is often inherited from parents, and leads to abscesses, ulcerous sores, debility king's evil and consumption. The case of the Rev. Wm. Stout, of Wiarton, who suffered 23 years from scrofulous abscesses, is one of the most remarkable on record. Burdock Blood Bitters cured him after the best medical skill had failed.

MANHOOD

HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

☞Price in a sealed envelope, only 6c. or two postage stamps.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

☞This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land

Address,
The Culverwell Medical Co.,
41 Ann St., New York
Post Office Box 450. 1-52ins

CONFIDENTIAL.

Thousands of young Men and Women—married and single—through the effects of vicious youthful habits, or excessive indulgence in later years, have so undermined their general systems as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of these troubles being scarcely ever suspected, they are drugged and doctored for everything but the right one. The ordinary modes of treating troubles of this nature do no good. The JERUBBEBNE COMBINATION REMEDY is offered as A Speedy and Certain Cure, as hundreds afflicted with every form of disease have been restored to complete health by its use, after all other remedies failed. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, but especially in cases arising from imprudence. Its recuperative powers are truly astonishing, and its continued use for a short time changes the languid, debilitated condition, to one of renewed life and vigor.

Forwarded to any address, on receipt of Price, $2 per package—sufficient for one month's treatment.

M. FINDLAY & CO. Sole Agent.

Explanatory.

In our report of the anniversary services of the Charlotte street Methodist Sunday School, there appeared, by error of information, the name of Annie Sullivan, instead of Annie Sutherland.

A Good Team.

The town team is this year a good one. When the fire alarm rang on Tuesday the team, though out on street work, was on hand in good time, and their style of "handling" the steamer was very satisfactory to the Brigade.

The Building By-law.

On Friday last Mr. Thomas Bradburn was summoned by Inspector Beavis before the Police Magistrate, charged with infraction of the Building By-law, by erecting, in face of the warnings of the authorities, a wooden building within the fire limits. A fine of fifty dollars and costs was imposed.

Hold Your Orders.

We understand that a large stock of furniture, will be opened out at the skating rink, about the middle of May. Persons contemplating purchasing will do well to postpone buying till that time, as the stock to be then offered will be new, fashionable, and well-made, and great bargains may expected.

"The Fire Fiend."

Peterborough was honoured with four out-breaks of fire in three successive days last week. In addition to the three reported in our last issue, a fire broke out in the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company's shops, about ten o'clock on Wednesday night. Workmen were on hand, and the fire was put out before any considerable damage was done.

D. Bellegham

has now on hand at his furniture establishment an extensive and superb lot of all kinds of first-class furtiture, and now is the time for parties starting housekeeping or renewing their furniture to take advantage of this splendid chance of securing bargains. Remember the place, the shop with the plate glass front opposite Sullivan & Co's hotel, the furniture store furthest west on Hunter street.

Calcutt's Steamers.

Calcutt's steamers are refitted for the season of 1884, having been overhauled from stem to stern, and from smoke stack to keelson, and are now in the hands of the painter. The Golden-Eye is now employed in Government work, removing the saw-dust from Little Lake, and she will take her passenger route when this is done. Capt. Leon Dion will be in command. The Whistle-Wing, Capt. Carson, master, will ply between Peterborough and Harwood, making, however, one trip weekly to Hastings and Keene. Through tickets will be issued between here and Cobourg at 80 cents, and large reductions of freight rates made between Keene and Hastings. Passengers will be brought from these points and sent on by the O. & Q. R. R. at reduced fares. Through freight will be delivered at Keene and Hastings at Peterborough rates.

A Boy With a Sore Head.

At the Sherbrooke street fire, on Tuesday, Jimmy Russel, a denizen of the neighborhood, aged ten years, was superintending the work of destruction, when some person with more energy than aim, dropped a heavy chair from the second floor of the burning building, on Jimmy's head, making a scalp wound about six inches in length. The wounded lad was put into Dr. Kincaid's baggy which was at hand, and he was driven to the doctor's surgery to have his wound dressed.

Neighbourly in Time of Need.

The Post in its report of the fire that destroyed Loretto Convent Lindsay, says:

At one time the church seemed to be in great danger. Mayor Wallace telegraphed to Peterborough for assistance and the authorities at that town at once promised to send the steam fire engine as soon as a special engine and car could be procured. Fortunately the church was soon out of danger and the assistance asked for and so promptly and generously offered was not needed, although it was generally admitted that a portion of the main buildings could have been saved had assistance been at hand.

Orange Judd

Editor of the American Agriculturist for some thirty years, but unconnected with its business management for a year or two past, has lately retired from its editorial department and located in the West. He desires to gather a complete "Postal-Card Album" of his old Readers and Friends, and requires them all to send him now a Postal giving their present location and address, naming also, when convenient, the years in which they were his subscribers. Mr. JUDD'S address is Chicago, Illinois.

Burned this Time.

Exactly one week to an hour, after the first fire, the residence of Mrs. Robert Moore, Sherbrooke street, took fire on Tuesday afternoon, and this time, with its contents, was destroyed. The fire on both occasions arose from a defective flue. The firemen made heroic exertions to save the building but owing to the delay in getting water their best efforts were discounted. The building was insured for $500 and the furniture for $250, the latter risk having been put on since the first fire. If there had been a tank reasonably near, the firemen would doubtless have saved the house from complete destruction.

Special Notice to the Public.

W. Fairweather & Co. desire to inform their friends and the public that they have secured an Auctioneer's License for the town of Peterborough, and rented the large and spacious premises next door to Rush & Elliott's, where they will carry on the business of Trade Auctioneers, Valuators, Commission Merchants, Manufacturers' Agents, and dealers in Bankrupt Stock and Estates, Household Furniture, and Real Estate. An efficient staff of experienced hands always kept, and prompt settlements made. W. Fairweather & Co., Auctioneers and Valuators.

Death's Double Desolation.

The visitations of death are at any time dreadful enough, but when they come in rapid succession, selecting the flowers of the family, the affliction assumes double poignancy. Mr. Robert Hall, Stewart street, has been especially visited with grievous affliction. A few days ago his younger son, aged about five years, fell a victim to the dreadful disease, scarlet fever, and on Friday last the elder and only remaining son, Willie, followed his brother to the spirit world. The funeral, which took place on Saturday, and the large attendance and other circumstances connected with it, showed how deeply the public sympathised with the family in the doubly sad bereavement they suffer. The late fellow-pupils of Willie, in the South Ward School, contributed two beautiful wreaths of flowers to decorate the casket of their late schoolmate. They were composed of spirea japonica calla lilies, eupatorium and the snowy bloom of alyssum, with suitable foliage. Besides these, Mr. Mason, florist, supplied, on behalf of other sympathising friends, eight or ten other beautiful floral wreaths, crosses, etc. Whatever consolation human sympathy supplies, Mr. Hall and family have the deepest and most heart-felt of their exceedingly wide circle of friends. The new ties that unite them with two-fold force to Heaven, draw closer, also, the sympathetic bonds of earthly friendship.

Cretes Lacrosse Club.

The following are the officers of the Cretes for the year 1884.

PRESIDENT—John Harvey.
SECRETARY-TREASURER—F. Metherall.
CAPTAIN—Frank McNaughton.
VICE CAPTAIN—M. Kincaid.

The boys are practising hard, and have the timber for a good team, and will make it sultry for any clubs of their size that may measure sticks with them this summer.

A Splendid Chance.

It will be seen by an advertisement in another column that Mr. D. W Dumble offers for sale a number of Building Lots in various parts of the town on ten years credit. No money down, interest only to be paid for first five years, and thereafter yearly instalments with the right to pay at any time as may suit the convenience of the purchaser. This offer enables a poor man to use his money in erecting a building, and so he gets rid of rent, and secures a home for himself. Building will be cheap this year and no doubt many will take advantage of this very liberal offer. Besides lots in town, Mr. Dumble offers a number of lots in Ashburnham, and several park lots on the same terms. Call at his office and see plans, &c. 12-tf

Electricity and Chemistry.

The lecture delivered in the lecture room of the George-street Methodist Church on Tuesday evening last by Prof. A. B. Kent, of Newcastle, on the subject of "Electricity and Chemistry," was both entertaining and instructive, and worthy of a much larger audience than that present. The manner in which Prof. Kent made his tests, and delivered his remarks thereon, proved that he holds no mean place in his profession. His explanations in regard to lightning, its causes and the best means of avoiding its dangers, were listened to with marked attention, and no doubt his hearers will benefit greatly by his remarks when solicited by the cheeky lightning-rod man. During the evening the small boy was delighted by receiving electric shocks, and at the conclusion of the lecture the Professor started a small balloon from the church grounds. We bespeak a warm reception for Prof. Kent if ever he favors our town with another visit.

The Locks Bridge.

The work of putting the new iron swing to the Locks Bridge is now going on. Delay was caused by the dilapidated condition of the old abutment. When the employee of the Toronto Iron Bridge Company, who came down several days ago to put the iron work in place, inspected the abutment, such was its shaky condition that he refused to place his swing upon it. Further inspection showed that the centre was composed of a layer of loose stones, so shallow that they rested on the clay a short distance below the surface. Mr. Belcher, engineer, who has charge of the work, caused the loose stone to be removed, and their place is being supplied with ashlar rock work of the most substantial character; the job of re-construction of the pier was given to Mr. Charles Wynne, by the yard. In proof of how necessary the re-building of the swing was, and in justification of Mr. Belcher's condemnation of it, is the fact that when the old bridge was being torn down, many of the timbers were so rotten that when the bolts and braces were removed, they broke with their own weight.

Confederation Life Association.

Steady and substantial progress has marked the course of the Confederation Life Association since its establishment a dozen years ago. The twelfth annual report shows that the company is gathering strength as it goes on, the past year being one of great success. During the year 1883 the assets of the Company were increased by the value of $200,000, and now they foot up to the highly respectable total of over $1,150,000, and the income for the same period increased $30,000. The amount of new assurances has increased to $2,500,000, while the confidence of the public is shown by the fact that the total risks amount to $11,000,000, a gain of $1,300,000 in 1883. The public must look upon these figures as very satisfactory indications of the safety, solidity, and soundness of the Confederation Life Association. The public will also be interested in knowing that the Company has a considerable amount of money to loan on good town and farm property, at very reasonable rates of interest. Mr. Wm. Ross, of Peterborough, the general agent, is thoroughly conversant with the business, and parties desiring detailed information will find it a pleasure to do business with him.

Just received by express, at Turnbull's, a fine range of Children's Seamless, Machine Knit Hosiery. See them.

A Terrible Happening.

A Child Caught in a Fence and Strangled.

A grievously sad accident happened on Wednesday of last week in Otonabee, which resulted in the death of a two-year old daughter of Mr Dawson Kennedy. The child had accompanied the other children of the family a part of the way, when they set out for school. She was not long gone when her mother missed her. She went in search of her and the agonizing strook she received when she found her baby hanging between the rails of a fence, dead, can only be imagined. Medical aid was at once summoned but life had fled too far to be called back by agonized pleadings of mother love or the efforts of skill. The little unfortunate, had apparently tried to climb a rail fence and slipping between two rails was caught in such a position as to strangle her. The child was a great pet and the dreadful nature of her death adds keenness to the blow. The many friends of the family extend to them the most earnest sympathy in their sad bereavement. The body was laid in the Little Lake cemetery on Friday.

Just received at Turnbull's, that Nobby Gauntlet Glove, in Linle Thread and Silk. See them.

The attention of those contemplating the planting of fruit trees, is called to the advertisement of Mr. Wm. Bacon in another column. Several thousand home-grown trees suited to the climate, present excellent opportunities of purchasing to advantage.

Assessment Statistics.

The Assessors completed their work and handed in their roll on Wednesday. The following summary will be read with interest:—

	1883.	1884.
Population	7,853	7,418
Ratepayers	2,062	2,062
Assessment	$2,887,450	$2,927,625

The Twenty fourth.

The twenty-fourth will be a huge day in Peterborough. Among the many attractive features will be a ladies' club-swinging competition for a gold medal and a gold brooch, confined to members of the club. The professional games contests and events will be for big cash prizes, and Mr. Johnson has arranged for the appearance of a large number of well known athletes.

Bicycle Untracked.

On Tuesday afternoon last the treasurer of the Bicycle club Mr. Frank Kingan, while wheeling on Charlotte street at a rapid rate—about 20 miles an hour—met with a defective crossing at Reid street and was thrown off with great force and bruised and cut about the face. Another member coming behind ran into him and the collision mixed up the machines pretty badly. Neither the personal nor mechanical injuries will be serious or permanent.

Cleverly Caught.

The other day Constable Adams made a clever arrest of one, John Boyd, who hired a horse and buggy from Mr. E. Dunsford's Livery stables, Rubidge street. Boyd being absent too long, Mr. Dunsford sent constable Adams after him and the culprit at a place about twelve miles north of Madoc in the next county. He had sold the horse and buggy, both of which however, were recovered. Constable Adams arrived home with his game last Friday. Boyd, when arraigned, pleaded guilty and was committed to jail for trial.

Emphasizing the Generosity.

Mr. Geo. A Cox, Mayor, has been emphasizing the generosity he displayed when he made the munificent gift of "Moria Hall" for the purposes of opening a branch in Peterborough of Dr. Barnardo's Orphan Homes. The Hall proved to be too small for the purpose, and thereupon Mr. Cox purchased the more commodious residence of Mrs. Alex. Smith, head of Alymer street, with fourteen acres of land attached and devotes it to the purposes of charity instead of Moria Hall. Wealth when thus wisely used becomes a mighty power for good.

The Right of Way.

On Saturday morning, a farmer was driving down George street on the left hand side with a load of hay, opposite Mason's seed store, he met Rogers' flour delivery wagon, the driver of which insisted on his rights and claimed the right of way. The agriculturist was obstinate and refused to budge. During the altercation a large crowd collected. The farmer took matters easy and lay down on his load and showed no disposition to "turn to the right" till an ex-councillor threatened him with a constable. He finally yielded and the man of flour pursued his way to the cheers of the onlookers. He lost his time but he gained his rights.

Y.M.C.A. Bible Class.

The Rev. A. H. Munro is conducting a very interesting Bible class for young men in the Young Men's Christian Association Rooms on Monday evenings at 8 o'clock. He intends, we believe, to take a rapid course through the Book of Genesis, and then take up one of the Gospels. The last few nights have been spent in considering the Creation, and, from his extensive reading, Mr. Munro was able to show how God's Word and the revelations of science agreed in this, thus giving the young men who heard him a powerful weapon to use against those who deny the inspiration of the Bible. Such a class cannot fail to strengthen the faith and increase the efficiency in Christian work of those attending it. We advise young men who have no other engagements on Monday night to go to this class.

St. Luke's, Ashburnham.

An entertainment under the auspices of St. Luke's Parochial Association took place in the School Room, Ashburnham, on Monday evening last, The attendance was, as usual, exceedingly good. The programme consisted of vocal and instrumental music and a very amusing charade, entitled, "A Precious Pickle." Among those taking part in the music and readings were, Mrs. Bowman, Mrs. Meade, Misses Revell and McNab, Messrs. T. Gregory, G. K. Loch, F. Adams and the Incumbent. Seven young ladies took the various characters in the charade and fulfilled their parts capitally, displaying much histrionic talent. They were Misses Ella and Carrie Bennett, Polly Deane, Clara Ludgate, Sophie Cameron, Katie Payne and Louie Butcher. The closing concert for the present season will be held on Monday week, the 12th inst.

Borough Brevities.

Ice of a respectable thickness formed on Monday night last.

Regular meeting of the School Board next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

The "duty roster" of the Saved Army now contains 430 names.

The Saved Army has organized a choir—Mr. Jos. McClelland is leader, and Miss Webb, pianiste.

For Coughs and Colds, use Allen's Lung Balsam. Relief is warranted or money refunded. See Adv.

The Town Council talked so much on Monday night that they had to meet on Tuesday night to do business.

Mr. Henry Collins' two-year old Durham, 1st prize last Saturday, weighs 1,905 lbs.

The cricket clubs in the surrounding villages have been organized for the season.

There were doled out to the everlasting tramp, at the lock-up, during the past month, 343 meals.

Within a week the rails will have been laid on the O. & Q. Railway, and the ballasting is keeping well up to track laying.

The Fire Brigade says that Terence Smith's new team is a good one. The steamer is now jerked about in first-class style.

Town Councillors complain that the meetings of the Saved Army interfere with their deliberations, but it never stops the everlasting flow of talk, talk, talk.

Ethel Goodfellow, aged about two years, while going for a drive with her grandfather, Mr. Brownscombe, fell out of the buggy and broke her arm and dislocated her elbow joint.

The cow by-law is being vigorously enforced, but the bovine beadles are enjoined to be particularly watchful at night, when the cow is turned out to evade the by-law under cover of darkness.

Mr. C. W. Ewing, organist an choir master of St. John's, contemplates giving an organ recital the latter part of this month. That it will be a first-class entertainment in every respect, goes without saying.

Wolfe street, in part, has been conditionally granted to the O. & Q. Railway. Briefly, the conditions are, "compensation to property holders interested, to be decided by arbitration, and the placing of the station on the north side of the track.

Owing to the lack of water supply the Fire Brigade were unable to save the building burnt, on Sherbrooke street on Tuesday afternoon. If our town fathers would stop talking long enough to transact business, the much-needed tanks would be placed in the South Ward.

Since the Millinery opening several new shapes have come out (American styles.) Miss Irons has bought for Turnbull's show rooms, what she thought would be becoming. For choice Millinery go to Turnbull's.

The subscriber is prepared to dispose of SITTINGS OF EGGS from the following varieties of Poultry:—Plymouth Rocks, Houdans, Black Spanish, White Leghorns, Buff Cochin, Silver Grey Dorkings, Silver Spangled Hamburgs, Pekin Ducks and Bronze Turkeys.

All the above varieties were either first or second prize birds at the fall and winter exhibitions. I have also added since the exhibitions some very fine birds of different varieties to my stock. Having bred the greater part of the varieties for three years, I think I know what suits the country.

Every pains has been taken to keep the stock pure, by keeping the birds in different yards, therefore the public can rely on a good article, either in Eggs or Chicks, second to none but in price, any and all of the above varieties being offered at $1.50 per 13, or 26 for $2.50, excepting the Ducks or Turkeys.

Confines itself to Legitimate Life Insurance. Affords Security to its Policy-Holders Unsurpassed by any other Company.

The unusual [illegible] of surplus employed by this Association secures, with other advantages, the following:

1st.—It avoids the weakening effect of paying too large profits in the early years of the policy, and the consequent inability to do justice, as the policy becomes older.

2nd.—It strengthens the position of the Association, and consequently the security to the policy-holders.

3rd.—It secures an increase in profits from year to year, and equitable share to each class of policy.

4th.—It does away with the objection, "that endowment and limited payment policies are taxed for the special benefit of ordinary life policies."

Policies Non-Forfeitable after Two Years, and Indisputable after Three Years.

OPENING FOR THE ORPHANS.

"Hazel Brae" Home for the Homeless.

Peterborough Branch of "Dr. Barnardo's Homes"—A Home Charity.

Preparing for its Opening.

The following letter from Rev. Mr. Fielder, now in Canada in the interest of Dr. Barnardo's Homes, explains itself:

To the Editor of the EXAMINER:

SIR, It may be known to some of your readers that Mr. Geo. A. Cox had very kindly and generously given the commodious house, recently owned by Mrs. Alex. Smith, known as Hazel Brae, to be used as the Canadian branch of "Dr. Barnardo's Homes," London, England, of which Earl Cairns is President.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox, General and Mrs. Haultain, and others in the town, have, for a considerable length of time, taken a warm and active interest in the work which these institutions are doing among homeless and destitute children: and it has long been the desire of Mr. and Mrs. Cox to co-operate in the work by establishing a Home in Peterborough for the reception of boys and girls from the Homes in England, whom it might be found desirable to place out in situations, or, to have adopted in the Province of Ontario. A most eligible house has now been secured by Mr. Cox, and arrangements are being made to

OPEN IT IN JUNE

for the accommodation of the staff and 150 girls, who will leave England for this country about the middle of that month. I need not, perhaps, say that the help of these kind friends is very greatly valued and esteemed. Already the President and Committee have through the director, Dr. Barnardo, conveyed their warm and grateful thanks to them; but I think it would not only be extremely gratifying, but an additional feature of interest, if other Christian and philanthropic people in Peterborough were led to facilitate the movement by assisting to provide the needful furniture for the establishment, which will have a staff of from five to six persons and always in residence, about fifty bright little girls, who, as call may be made for them, will be drafted off to Christian households for adoption.

The house will be so arranged as to

but so large a number would not remain it longer than a week or a fortnight, as the demand for these children has hitherto proved so great as to warrant the belief that it will not be necessary to provide for the permanent maintenance of more than fifty. These, of course, will have their training and education carried on just the same as though they were in the Homes in England.

It ought to be observed, too, that the Home is not designed exclusively for children brought out from the parent institution. The aim and spirit of the whole work, which have so largely distinguished it from all others of a kindred nature in the Old Country, will be strictly observed in connection with the Canadian branch.

DESTITUTE OR ORPHAN CHILDREN IN PETERBOROUGH

itself will be eligible for admission; none such will ever be rejected, provided of course, that there is a vacancy. This fact will, I trust, be the means of stimulating some to aid in the fitting of the Home who might not feel led to do so but for this local provision. Indeed it has already done so. One friend in the town has undertaken to pay for the support of one child annually, and others are, I believe, ready to follow so good an example. It is with pleasure and gratitude, also, that I learn of several promises made of gifts in kind to the house, and I would add that according to the measure of their ability, to so worthy and Christ-like an object of caring for the little ones, might communicate with Mrs. Cox, or Mrs. Haultain, or with myself.

OTHERS WHO WOULD LIKE TO CONTIBUTE

The Home will be under the superintendence of Mr. and Mrs. Duff and Miss M. Sanderson. Miss E. Morecroft, a voluntary worker in connection with the homes, has kindly undertaken to act as lady visitor to the girls as they are placed out; and Mr. A. B. Owen will be the travelling agent for the boys. Anyone desirous of adopting or engaging the children about write either to Mr. Edward Duff or to Miss M. Sanderson, who will gladly send particulars and forms of application. All letters for the present, however, will be dealt with by Miss E. Morecroft.

THE EXTENT AND CHARACTER OF THE WORK.

It was in 1868 that Dr. Barnardo, himself a medical student at that time, became deeply touched with the sad and destitute condition of the homeless and friendless boys of London. He was led in a small way to do what he could personally to better their circumstances and to provide shelter for them in his own house. From that time Christian sympathy was roused, and ere long a small but suitable building was obtained where these homeless and uncared for ones could be housed and trained for some kind of employment. The work grew with astonishing rapidity, until now the "Homes," besides doing a vast amount of general mission work in East London, feed, clothe and provide a Christian and and have since their formation rescued nearly 5,000 destitute boys and girls.

In connection with these Institutions there are now thirty Cottage Homes for Girls, forming a Village upon the family system, at Ilford, Essex; a Home for Little Boys at Jersey, a Home for Babies at Hawkhurst, Kent, and three large Homes for Boys and Girls in the East of London. There is also in operation a Hospital for Sick Children, containing thirty-one beds, under skillful professional care; and a Hotel for Young Workmen who have left the Homes; whilst a Labor Home for Destitute Youths too old to enter the Boys' Home, and a Servant's Home for Older Girls, have recently been added.

I have only to add that Dr. Barnardo hopes (D. V.) to visit Canada at the end of June, and to give an account of the rise and marvellous growth of his Institutions, and which stand as a grand monument to the liberality and prayerful sympathy of thousands of Christians in nearly every part of the globe.

I am yours faithfully,
F. FIELDER.

ACCIDENTS.

Last Saturday night a rather singular accident occurred about Young's Point. A child about seven years of age lay down under a large cooking stove which stood something over a foot from the floor. A number of the larger children were sitting on the front of the stove, and it is supposed pushed it over, bringing it down with a crash, the child being under it. Mr. Northey, who was just outside, hearing the noise ran in, but with excitement, smoke and dust, could not see her, but lifting the front part of the stove, a shriek informed him he was lifting in the wrong place. He soon corrected his mistake, while Mrs. Northey extricated the child from her precarious position. Fortunately there was not a hot fire on, and the large oven had tumbled off on the floor. Medical aid was summoned and there is hopes the child will recover.

FELL FROM A WAGGON.

On Monday last, Mr. Clark Stone, his little brother and Wm. Carey, with a load started home from Lakefield for Burleigh. Before they got out of the village Mr. Clark Stone who was sitting behind on the bags fell off. Mr. Wm. Stone happened to look back and saw him lying dead on the road. Hurrying back to his assistance he found him quite unconscious and bleeding profusely at the nose. He received medical attendance, and it is hoped the injuries may not prove to be of a serious nature. The cause of the fall is not known as but a few moments before he was talking and in the act of filling his pipe.

SAVED ARMY AMENITIES.

The Saved Army, under the faithful leadership of Miss A. White, is being instrumental in achieving many noble victories in our village, and is having its ranks rapidly augmented by deserters from the Prince of Darkness. Still the conflict continues, and every evening new trophies are won. Our ministers are rendering valuable assistance in promoting the good work, while all show their appreciation and sympathy. On Saturday evening Miss White was made the recipient of an address and a purse, containing $56, a copy of the former of which, with a reply appears below:

ADDRESS.

DEAR FRIEND,—We feel that with justice to ourselves we cannot longer refrain from conveying to you some slight intimation of the deep appreciation we entertain of your kind and faithful labors amongst us. Many of us, through your instrumentality, have been called from the bondage and darkness of sin into the glorious liberty of Gospel light, and while we would not fail to ascribe to God all the glory, yet, with heart-felt gratitude, we cannot but acknowledge the medium through whom He conveys His blessings.

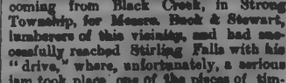
We cannot recompense you, nor do you require a reward at our hands. Ah! no; He who is "thy shield and thy exceeding great reward" is "with the always, even unto the end," and well may children "count the jewels of earth less dross." Yet thy dauntless reward will be found glistening in every diadem, as the crown of life, which the Lord, "when He cometh to make up His jewels," bestows by the loving hand of Him whom to know is life eternal.

Receive, then, as an expression of our deep appreciation, of your earnest efforts, of your spiritual welfare, of the love of our hearts for you, we beg the acceptance of the address and the accompanying purse from your own personal use, hoping you may long continue with us, and that the choicest Divine blessings may ever crown your life.

FROM THE SOLDIERS AND FRIENDS OF SAVED ARMY.

To Miss A. White,
Lieutenant of Saved Army.

REPLY.



But, when I read the address and was convinced of the contrary, my heart was so full I could scarcely refrain from shedding tears.

I did not expect it, nor do I think I deserve it. Such kind words and pleasing gifts—tokens of affection—are more than your truly elected heroine ever expected had fallen to her lot. I have not been long in your beautiful village, but have been welcomed to your hearts and homes. And if God has honored me in any way, I rejoice. We read in God's word that though I sow, the increase must be of God. Then He has made use of me as a trumpet, to sound the battle cry to call men to His standard, I am satisfied. My heart has been made glad by seeing so many entering the ranks, putting on the armour and going forth to battle for the Lord. To Him name be the praise.

Soldiers of Jesus Christ, be strong; be of good courage; gird on the whole armour and fight the good fight of Faith. My prayer is, and ever shall be, that you may be kept faithful, that when your warfare is ended you may receive a crown that fadeth not away.

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

DEATH OF WM. HILL BY DROWNING.

On Friday evening last the village of Norwood was cast into a sad gloom on learning by telegraph of the sad death by drowning of Mr. Wm. Hill, of this place, at Stirling Falls, on Strong Creek, in the township of Strong, in the Parry Sound District, on Wednesday afternoon, the 30th April. The deceased was employed as foreman on a drive of square timber coming from Black Creek, in Strong Township, for Messrs. Beck & Stewart, lumberers of this vicinity, and had successfully reached Stirling Falls with his "drive," where, unfortunately, a serious jam took place, one of the pieces of timber lodging in an upright position in an eddy of the falls. To give freedom to the timber, required nerve, pluck and steadiness, and this task devolved upon Mr. Hill. He succeeded in accomplishing his work, but lost life in doing so. In the sudden rush of the logs he fell into the rushing waters, and was carried at a tremendous rate over a rough and stony bottom into an eddy of the water, and lodged against the log remaining in an upright position, from which for some time energetic efforts of brave and willing comrades failed to extricate him. There the body remained for about thirty minutes, and when finally taken out it was found poor Hill was terribly disfigured. His right temple was badly cut, the left side of his head laid open, his right arm broken in three places, his left arm badly broken, and from his hips to his neck the flesh was terribly lacerated. Death must have been almost instantaneous.

Mr. Wm. Gooderich, of Asphodel, who accompanied the deceased upon this drive, took charge of the body, had it coffined, and on Friday morning left the scene of the accident with his lifeless companion. The body, with a number of sympathising friends who went to meet it, arrived here on Monday evening, and was received by the mourning family and a number of sorrowing friends and acquaintances. The funeral took place on Tuesday morning, and was attended by a large concourse of of all classes of this community, thus evincing the respect in which the deceased was held in life. He leaves a wife and five children, who have the sincere sympathy of the people of this village and neighborhood in their unfortunate bereavement. Mr. Hill was only in the 33rd year of his age.

FRASERVILLE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

We are glad to learn that Mr. R. Campbell is regaining speedily, and ere long will be at work as usual.

Wm. Shearin the very popular local preacher in this vicinity, and we may say the very popular or one on every side of Peterboro' preached a very effectual sermon, here on Sunday, April 20th. On behealf of the esteemed gentleman we must say, he talks good common sense, and his illustrations are so good that all can readily understand. If the majority of ministers would talk plain in the pulpit, we believe their preaching would be more wholesome.

OBITUARY.—It is with feelings of sadness that we chronicle the death of Miss Lillie Goodfellow, second youngest daughter of Mr. Robt. Goodfellow. She was reared in the midst of godly influences. As the result of early teaching she experienced religion in her youth, and for some years has been a member of the Presbyterian Church, Springville. About a year and a half ago she was taken sick, and finally it became evident that consumption had marked her as its victim. She knew that a few months would end her days here, and in her sickness fully ripened for the better world. Her evidence of meetness for heaven was at once clear, convincing and beautiful. Those who had the pleasure of visiting her always carried away from the sick room the influence of her communion with the Master. She became much reduced and greatly weakened, but her heart was stayed on the Redeemer and in triumph ready, and having waited patiently, she passed away on Monday morning, May 5th. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord. Oh, what a consolation to the family to know, if they be faithful to the end as was she, they will all meet again and remain with one another forever. Much sympathy is felt for her parents, and sisters, and brothers, but we must remember, God doeth all things well. She was interred into the Little Lake Cemetery, Peterborough on Wednesday.

Pope & Bitleau, druggists Cedar Rapids, Iowa, write: We have never sold any medicine that gives such satisfaction to the consumer and pleasure to the seller as Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. We can refer you to numbers that have used it for diphtheria with entire satisfaction and success.

PETERBOROUGH, MAY 8, 1884.

Life of Chinese Gordon.

Within the last few weeks the name of this famous soldier of Great Britain has been hourly referred to and scores of despatches have appeared regarding his movements in almost every newspaper in this and other lands.

No doubt many people ask themselves who is "Chinese" Gordon and why was he chosen to try and restore order in a disaffected country. Is there magic in his name that such a herculean task is set any single individual? To answer such a question a slight sketch of his stirring public life is indispensable. We will therefore endeavour to supply our readers with an outline of his history.

Gordon's exploits extend over three continents and in every country where his lot has been cast, he has obtained almost the highest possible rank, besides gaining the undying gratitude and esteem of all with whom he came in contact.

His ancestors for several generations back have been distinguished soldiers on many a battle field. One of them won golden honours in our own Dominion, having served under the gallant Wolfe on the Plains of Abraham.

Chas. G. Gordon is the fourth son of the late Gen. Henry W. Gordon of the Royal Artillery, and was born at Woolwich, England, on the 28th of January, 1833. He joined the army at an early age and was in active service in the Crimea when the present Lord Wolseley was his companion in arms. During the siege of Sebastopol his skill in detecting the movements of the enemy brought him to the notice of his superiors, and he was recommended in the Commission for settling the boundaries of Russia and Turkey, in which capacity he was employed until the end of the year 1858.

Two years afterwards he was ordered China, at a time when a widespread rebellion under a fanatical schoolmaster named Hung, threatened not only to overthrow the Imperial throne, but also to devastate the whole country. Hundreds of thousands flocked to the "prophet's "standard and after gaining several victories over the Imperialists, the rebel established his court and throne at Nanking. Besought by the Chinese authorities to send an officer to their aid, General, then Colonel, Gordon was recommended for the position and was given the command of the Imperialist forces. He entered upon this gigantic task in 1863, his force consisting at first of but 4,000 men. With this small band which shortly became a well-disciplined and formidable army and by the help of clever stratagem, sudden attacks, and not least his own personal gallantry, the insurgents were quickly overcome and the power of the rebellion broken. His achievements in China read like a romance. Out of 100 officers he lost 48, out of 3,500 soldiers nearly 1,000 were killed, yet through his instrumentality, he himself says, and he is very reticent concerning his deeds, not less than eighty thousand lives were spared.

The London Times thus alluded to the benefits China secured through his operations:—"Never did soldier of fortune deport himself with a nicer sense of military honour, with more gallantry against the resiting and with more mercy towards the vanquished, with more disinterested neglect of opportunities of personal advantage or with more entire devotion to the objects and desires of his own government, than this officer, who after all his victories has just laid down his sword. Gorden has cut the rebellion in half, has recovered the great cities, has isolated and utterly discouraged the fragments of the brigand power, and has left the marauders nothing but a few tracts of devasted country and their stronghold of Nanking. All this he has effected—first by the power of his arms, and afterwards still more rapidly by the terror of his name".

Before Gordon left China, Nanking had fallen, the leader who gave out that he was inspired, hung his wives, and then committed suicide, and the rebellion was altogether at an end.

The Emperor of China forwarded Gordon the sum of $50,000 as a token of gratitude for his indefatigable services, but, disdaining all pay, he actually divided it amongst his troops retaining nothing for himself but the proud consciousness that he had well fulfilled his appointed task. Of course the Emperor could only bestow upon him the highest titles and orders in his gift, and of [illegible] Gordon holds the most distinguished.

He returned to England in 1864 and from that time until 1871, he was employed in the construction of the Thames defences.

In another issue we shall sketch his doings in Central Africa and show how it came to pass that this distinguished man was chosen by the British Government to quell the rebellion in the Soudan.

It only remains to add that General Gordon is one of the most humble minded of men, averse to anything in the nature of praise or even the simple mention of his bravest deeds. On his return from China he refused to be honoured or feted, preferring to bury himself in obscurity and to quietly and steadily carry out his duties. When it was proposed to publish his narrative of his experiences in China, he deliberately destroyed these valuable journals.

WHY DECEMBER 25th IS CHRISTMAS.

Before Pope Julian's time, Christmas, which seems to have been first officially instituted a Church feast day by a decree of Pope Telesphorus, between 142 A. M. and 154 P. M., was a movable feast. Indeed, it was the most movable of all the Christian festivals. It was usually celebrated by the Eastern branches of the Christain Church, in April or May, while in the western part of Europe, days in January or other months were observed as Christmas. St Cyril, bishop of Jerusalem, obtained from Pope Julius I. authority to appoint a commission to determine, if possible, the precise day of Christ's nativity. From the chronological archives of the Roman censors, establishing the times of occurrence of certain events of the same period of the Roman Government of Palestine, the the ologians of the eastern and western division of the Christian Church agreed upon December 25th as the date of the birth of Jesus, and thereupon this became the officially decreed and generally accepted Christmas Day.

Wisely Adopted by Dairyman.

The adoption by most of the prominent dairyman and farmers of the United States, of the improved Butter Color made by Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt., is a proof of their wisdom in a business point of view. Nearly all winter butter is colored in order to make it marketable, and this color is the best, in regard to purity, strength, permanence and perfection of tint.

WONDERFUL LONDON.

London contains 4,788,657 inhabitants; a population nearly equal to that of the whole State of New York. Last year 26,170 houses, covering a length of eighty miles, were built in that city. This vast human hive extends from its centre to its circumference, about 15 miles, that is, its diameter averages about 30 miles. Out of this vast multitude last year, 23 children and 150 adults totally disappeared, leaving no trace. Fifty-four bodies were found which could not be identified. What a world of crime and misery is involved in this vast aggregation of human beings known as the city of London.

Regulars.

One of the strongest proofs of the value of Kidney-Wort as a remedy for all diseases of the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, is the fact that it is used and prescribed by "regular" physicians. Philip C. Ballou, M. D., of Monkton, Vt., says: "Take it all in all, it is the most successful remedy I have ever used."

DYNAMITE DIABOLISM.

Cartridges Concealed Under the Parliament Buildings.

A Crime of a Genuine Sensation?

A profound sensation was caused in Toronto last Thursday, through the discovery of two powerful cartridges, with wire and fuse attached, under the Crown Lands office, Parliament buildings. They were found by a son of one of the carpenters, about 2.30 in the afternoon. A thorough search was then made by the officials, and two more cartridges were found under the steps approaching the Speaker's chambers, having also wire and fuse attached. It was apparent that the dynamite had been placed in position on Thursday, as the cartridges could not have failed to be discovered had they been there before. The officials state that no suspicious looking persons were seen around lately. The excitement around the Parliament buildings was intense. The cartridges were about six inches long by an inch and a half in diameter, and are called "Etna No. 2," manufactured by the Etna Powder Company, Chicago. The shells appeared to be newly-oiled to keep out moisture. One of the cartridges would have been sufficient to blow up the wing of the buildings. The miscreants must have been disturbed, as the attachment was found lying a short distance from the cartridges. No clue has yet been obtained as to who put the cartridges in the ventilators. The Government held a Cabinet Council, talked the matter over and decided to offer a reward of $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of the parties who put the cartridges where they were found.

A CRYSTAL THRONE.

A WONDERFUL PIECE OF GLASS WORK ON EXHIBITION IN ENGLAND.

A work of art has recently been on exhibition in the show room of a firm of manufacturers in Birmingham, which may be described as a magnificient example of high art work in glass, and is probably the finest work of its kind that has ever been attempted, and has had bestowed on it infinite pains with the most happy result. It is a crystal throne, intended for transmission to India, and in the form of a capacious arm-chair, with pillars springing from the back and arms carrying a dome shape canopy, at the apex of which is a large star radiating in all directions. The total height is 9 feet and 6 inches. Brilliant crimson velvet has been employed for the cushions, and wood and iron are used to a certain extent to afford the requisite strength to the structure: but both these materials are covered with bright plating, and inclosed in glass, so that their presence is imperceptible. The glass employed is white, of the purest quality, and every part of the surface has been cut, even to the spiral mouldings of the rear pillars, giving to the work a dazzing lustre. The front legs are solid crystal boldly modelled, and terminate above the arms in cone shaped finials each of which is cut into 324 mathematically accurate facets, causing it to look like a huge diamond. The canopy is Mooresque in design and forms half an octagon. Crocketed ribs divide the dome into panels, which are richly cut upon their upper surface. Round the margin runs a cornice having scallop-shaped ornaments projecting upwards and a drooping edge beneath, designed to look like pendant gems. It is said to be impossible to describe with accurancy many of the subordinate decorative features of this work. No fewer than 176 kinds have been fitted together with such remarkable ingeunity as to make them appear as though they were but one. The throne is accompanied by a footstool, also in crystal; and, altogether, the work possesses such instrousness and beauty, associated with imposing dimensions, as to make it worthy of the most magnificent of oriental displays.

Delicate and Feeble Ladies.

Those languid, tiresome sensations, causing you to feel scarcely able to be on your feet; that constant drain that is taking from your system all its former elasticity, driving the bloom from your cheeks; that continual strain upon your vital forces, rendering you irritable and fretful, can easily be removed by the use of that marvellous remedy, Hop Bitters. Irregularities and obstructions of your system are relieved at once, while the special cause of periodical pain is permanently removed. None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women.

Feels Young Again.

"My mother was afflicted a long time with Neuralgia and a dull heavy, inactive condition of the whole system; headache, nervous prostration, and was almost helpless. No physicians or medicines did her any good. Three months ago she began to use Hop Bitters with such good effect that she seems and feels young again, although over 70 years old. We think there is no other medicine fit to use in the family."—A lady, in Providence.

BRADFORD, PA., May 6, 1885.

It has cured me of several diseases, such as nervousness, sickness at the stomach, monthly troubles, etc. I have not seen a sick day in a year, since I took Hop Bitters. All my neighbors use them.

MRS. FANNIE GREEN.

$3,000 LOST.—"A tour of Europe that cost me "$3,000, done me less good than one bottle of Hop Bitters; they also cured my "wife of fifteen years" nervous weakness, "sleeplessness and dyspepsia.

High Authority.

Hop Bitters is not, in any sense, an alcoholic beverage or liquor, and could not be sold for use except to persons desirous of obtaining a medicinal bitters.

Baby Saved.

We are so thankful to say that our nursing baby was permanently cured of a dangerous and protracted constipation and irregularity of the bowels by the use of Hop Bitters by its mother, which at same time restored her to perfect health and strength. —The Parents, Rochester, N. Y.

TRY, TRY AGAIN.

Mr. Netter, aged 74, made several desperate attempts to commit suicide on Friday at Tonawanda, near Niagara Falls. He first hung himself, and was cut down by his son and was resuscitated. About an hour later he threw himself into the canal, but was fished out in time to save him. Soon after he threw himself in front of a train, but a policeman dragged him off the track and locked him up. He then tried to choke himself to death by running a large tobacco pipe down his throat, but was discovered when black in the face and again brought to life. He was greatly disgusted at his failures. He had been drinking hard for several days, and is thought to be demented; he will be closely watched, as it is feared he will try to make away with himself again.

Dr. Scott's Prepared Spice is put up in a round blue box, and printed with gold letters; the trade mark is a horse's head through a horse shoe, which is on the top of every box. When you get this medicine, you have got the best ever used for horses, cattle, sheep and swine.

THE FARMER'S STORY.

"Seen you sitting on the fence, sir, writing in your little book. I thought perhaps you might be writing poetry. A good many folks come down here of a summer and make poetry about the sheep and moon. Peggy reads 'em out to me in the paper, and the stories, too, sir. Do you write stories? Yes? Well, that's a gift. If I had it I think I could make one about what has happened to me. Peggy says it could be done.

"Now, it's all plain sailing, nothing out of the common, but I wasn't always a well-to-do farmer. Once I was a farmer's lad—a hand—with nothing of my own but a stout heart, and strong heart, and strong limbs and good health.

"Many's the night, when the stars were in the sky, I used to go out to the great pasture where the sheep browsed all day, and sit and think thoughts I had no words for, and made beautiful pictures for myself in my mind—not fine ones, sir. This is what I used to see the oftenest. A little cottage with a wide fire place such as they had in my day. A dresser with a row of delf upon it, four chairs and a table of white pine. When I had these I was to marry Peggy Grey. But when I should have them, and she her white wedding gown and the house linen, neither of us knew.

She put her sixpences into a red earthen savings bank, and I kept mine in an old glove. For two years we had been waiting and hoping, and were not much nearer than at first. Sometimes I felt downhearted. Sometimes her little letters were a bit sad. And just as I sat in the meadow I knew she sat before her kitchen fire in the house where she lived at service. Single folks we were, but we had hearts, and felt, perhaps, as deeply as greater folks might.

"My master, the farmer, was a close man. He squeezed as much work out of his hands as possible. But it was a steady place, and he paid all he promised; so I stayed, never thinking what trouble staying would bring me to—trouble that never would have come but for Mark Hulker. A good-for-nothing fellow he was a disgrace to the rest of us, and he cheated the master and left his work undone. So after hours master kept me at his stint, and, it being indoor work, I kept at it all night. The old man liked that and set me a new task every night. All the better for me, I thought he would pay me extra, and what was weariness to me if it brought me nearer my Peggy? So I counted the hours' work as so many shillings. But when Saturday night came he gave me just my week's work.

"Master, said I, 'I've worked over hours every night; you forget that.'

"'I hire you by the week,' he said. 'I'll give no more than one week's wages. So, if you don't like it, there are plenty of strong lads to be had if you are growing lazy.' Then he turned his back on me, and Mark laughed. That angered me, and words fell from my lips. We had a quarrel, master and I, and I called him a 'niggardly old rascal;' and with that he dismissed me from his service.

"'At dawn you go,' he said. 'You've worked to-day and have a right to your bed at night, but at dawn you go.'

"I marched out of the room with words I never should have used, and up to my garret, and threw myself on my bed. But I did not mean to stay to be turned out. At midnight I rose softly, made up my bundle, and climbed out of a window. I cut my hands with the glass of a broken pane, and the blood dropped down upon my clothes. But I was too angry to feel the pain: and I bound up the wound with a handkerchief. Then I trudged on, meaning to look for work next day. So I did, but found none. Then the thought struck me to make my way to——and see Peggy. It would be a comfort to me, whatever came. So I turned my steps in that direction, and kept on until night fell. Then, faint and weary I lay down under some bushes and I fell asleep.

"Out of that sleep I was aroused by a shout and the clutch of strong hands. Men stood around me. One shouted my name. They held me fast and bound me.

"I struggled, but it was of no use. Numbers were against my single strength.

"'What are you? Robbers? I've nothing worth the taking,' I said at last; and when standing still, I saw faces that I knew about me—those of the farm hands at my old master's.

"'You know well what we want, Jack Marlome,' said one. 'If he did speak an ill-word at last, he was a good man in the main, and you worked for him three years. You might have answered him as you liked, but to try and murder him was too horrible. We didn't think it of you, Jack—we didn't think it.'

"'Murdered!' I cried. 'Is old master murdered? Why lay it to me? I swear I never hurt him.'

"'If he's not quite dead it's none of your fault,' cried another man. 'Don't perjure yourself—look at the blood on your clothes.

"The blood from my hand was in blots and smears all over my vest. I felt my heart turn sick when I took heed of it.

"'Master will clear me,' I said.

"'He said it was you,' said one of the men. 'At least he nodded Yes, when we asked him if you did it.'

"'Then old master was not right in his mind,' I said. 'He'd never be against me.'

"After that I heard the whole. Master had paid the men and dismissed Mark He had only said: 'All right, I'm tired of work,' and had eaten breakfast there, and left in sight of all. But I was gone; and when they found that master, who was always up at cock-crow, did not rise at nine, they opened his door and found him on the floor senseless—they thought dead, at first. He had been robbed of pocket-book, a watch, and an old-fashioned pin, he always wore in his neckerchief—the painted head of a lady set around with what he use to tell us were pearls—an ornament older than his grandfather.

"They found nothing about me, of course; but the quarrel and my cut hand made the case hard against me. The master, dying, as they thought him, had been able to speak at odd times, and said that, to the best of his belief, I was his assailant. It was dark, to be sure, but in the struggle he felt that the man wore a cap, and I was the only hand who had anything but a straw hat. Besides, he came from the inner passage and down the stairs, and did not break in through the door or window, as a burglar would have done. And I was the only missing member of the household. So I lay in prison with this awful charge upon me, until they knew whether master would live or die; and my greatest grief was for Peggy.

"'Keep it from her,' I begged them, 'until she must know it.'

"And they were kind and did it; and her letters were sent to me in prison. It was a weary time, and the one drop of comfort in it came with those letters. I had had five from her when at the end of one came this:

"'DEAR JACK,—I never hid anything from you, and not to boast of my conquests, a thing I'd never do, but just to let you know that I keep no secrets to myself, I must tell you what has happened.

"'Our master has hired a man, a lazy fellow, that I disliked at first sight, Mark Hulker by name, and what should he do but take a notion to me, or pretended to do so, trying his best to sit up with me after hours, and following me about wherever I go of a holiday. Then he tries to make me like him by telling me how rich he is. Four hundred dollars he has laid by, he says, and has a gold watch, like a gentleman. The other Sunday I was dressed for church, and up he walks.

"'Why, Peggy,' says he, 'you've no pin to your collar.'

"Said I: 'I can't afford money for finery.'

"Then says he: 'Now, how lucky it is that I've one to give you,' and he pulls a pin from his pocket.

"Jack, I couldn't help looking at it. It was a lady's portrait, with hair all white—though she was so young—like an old woman's. He said it was powdered as they did in old times; and a pink dress—and all about tiny stones—and no bigger than a silver quarter, altogether. How he came by such a thing goodness knows. But, of course, I wouldn't have it.

"Says he: 'Now, do take it, Peggy. I want to keep company with you, and now you know the truth.'

"So say I: "I want neither your company nor your presents, and please remember that hereafter.'

"'It was rough, I know; but I hate him so. And I was none too rude, for he bothers me yet as much as ever. Though you know if he wore ever so good and handsome I am always your own Peggy, and I think of no one else.'

"When I read that you could have knocked me down with a feather. The pin was the one the old farmer had lost. I knew, and it was Mark who was the thief, and who had tried to murder him.

"I sent for the lawyer who was to take my side, and who had all along believed me innocent. I gave him the letter.

"'It's old master's pin,' I said. 'What shall I do, sir?'

"And he said: 'You can do nothing, my poor fellow, but wait and hope. I have a clue now, and I'll follow it.'

"Then he went away; and afterward I heard what he did. He went down to the place where Peggy lived, and took her out of danger of eaves-droppers and told her all that had happened. The brave girl trembled and wept, but she spoke out

"'He's innocent,' she said. 'I'd not believe him guilty if an angel told me he was.'

"And the lawyer said, out of his heart, though she was but a serving lass:

"'He's worthy of you Peggy Grey, I do believe, and that is saying a good deal.'

"Then he asked her about the pin, and the two had a long talk which ended in Peggy bursting into tears, and promising to do anything and everything he asked, if he would but tell me why she did it.

"He told me afterwards, and it was hard work for little Peggy with her honest heart. Bless her. She turned herself around and made a different creature of herself, and she tried to make Mark Hulker think that she had been coquetting all the while, and—oh, how she cried when she told me that she let him kiss her, and put his arm about her waist. But she gained her end by it. One eight my good old lawyer and two other men were shut up in a pantry with Peggy's master, and she dressed in her best, and waiting for Mark Hulker.

"That night she had promised Mark to take his pin, and if he proved he had the money he bragged of, to promise to marry him, and Mark came as merry as could be, and a little the worse for liquor.

"'Now, lass,' said he, 'a promise is a promise. There's the money to count, and the watch to look at, and the pin to wear. Now, you'll have me?'

"And just then the pantry door opened behind him, and a hand came down on his shoulder.

"'We'll have you, my fine fellow,' said a voice, and there and then they arrested him; for the money and the watch and the pin were old master's; and one who knew, his son James, was there with the detectives.

"He gave up all hope from that minute, and confessed everything. How he had seen me climb out of the window; and so dressed in clothes like mine, and made his plans to throw suspicion upon me.

"My Peggy brought me the good news first; brought it into my cell, and threw herself weeping into my arms, crying out: 'You're free, darling; free and clear, thank heaven.'

"They did not hang Mark, for master, after awhile, got better, and, in the end, quite well. But they punished him for the roberry and for something he had done of the same kind before ever he came to master's.

"'And as for the old man, when he was well, he was so sorry for the charge he had made against me, though he had honestly believed me guilty, as I well knew, that he made me the present of a little farm, and stocked it for me. And the wife gave Peggy her outfit; and here we are as happy as the sheep in the meadow yonder, or the bees in the hive hard by. And when we hear talk of books and plays, Peggy says to me: 'Jack, if they only knew our story, they'd make one of it, I'm sure;' and as they say you're a writer, why I tell it to you, sir."

A henpecked gentleman determined to sup with a party of friends against the will of his wife. He was resolved that he would, and she that he should not go. He did not go. His friends missed him, and, just for a lark, invaded his residence, where they found him and his wife sitting in their chairs fast asleep. DO YOU SEE THAT DOLLAR?

At a certain hotel in Peoria, where the meals are not always what they should be, a traveller one day sat down to the table. He put a dollar under a tumbler, and calling a waiter, said: "Do you see that dollar, Jim?" "Yes, sah," replied Jim, with a grin. "Well, now, Jim, I want you to get me a real good, first-class dinner. You understand?" "Yes, sah," and Jim set about furnishing a feast fit for a king. He had no time to see anybody else. He hunted up new dishes, put extra touches on everything, and kept his eye on the dollar. Finally the traveller finished, and wiping his mouth, he winked at Jim. "Yes, sah," grinned the darkey in anticipation. "Jim, do you see that dollar?" putting his hand on it in a generous way. "Yes, sah." "Well, you will never see it again," and it went into his pocket and he out of the dining room, while Jim indignantly remarked, "Fo' de Lawd, who turn dat hog loose in heah?"

In the treatment of Chronic wasting diseases, attended with low vitality, feeble digestion, torpid liver, constipation, and irritation of the kidneys and bladder, avoid the use of alcoholic stimulants, preparations containing strychnine, and all anodynes and nervines, as their immediate effect is to overstimulate the system, producing a feeling of temporary improvement, followed by a relapse and general prostration. Radical and permanent benefit results from the use of remedies that excite nutrition, and create pure blood. Before the Public to equal the IMPROVED SINGER. Our New High Arm, Light Running and Almost Noiseless Family Sewing Machine, just being introduced.

The New High Arm Improved SINGER MACHINE. Five Drawer Machine.

A FAVORITE STYLE.

THE SINGER MANUFACTURING CO'Y, Head Office for Ontario and the North-West, 66 KING ST. WEST, TORONTO.

Factories at—Elizabethport, N.J.; Glasgow, Scotland; Montreal, Canada; Cairo, Illinois; South Bend, Indiana.

For Range of Work, Perfection of Stitch, and Ease of Operation, it Possesses the following Advantages over all other Sewing Machines:—

1. Uses the shortest needle of any lock-stitch machine.
2. Carries a finer needle with a given size thread.
3. Uses a greater number of sizes of thread with one size needle.
4. Will close a seam tighter with linen thread than any other machine will with silk.
5. The shuttle holds the most thread.
6. Draws the needle thread both down and up while the needle is out of the goods therefore there is less friction on the needle and thread, consequently a tighter and more elastic seam.
7. It has a positive feed that will not choke in sewing any material.
8. Sews faster and with less noise than any other shuttle machine.
9. Will sew a greater number of sizes of thread without change of tension.
10. Will not change tension when sewing with a short or long stitch at varying speed.

FOR FAMILY SEWING IT IS SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHER MACHINES. No one should buy a Sewing Machine without first seeing and trying a Singer. PETERBOROUGH, MAY 8, 1884.

The Disallowance Indignity.

The Dominion Government in advising, the disallowance of the provincial act for fixing the license fees to be paid under the Dominion Act of 1883, has committed another outrage on the rights of this province. The ostensible reason for the disallowance seems to be that the provincial act discriminates in the matter of fees, against the licensees under the Dominion Act. The plea is evidently used that a poor excuse is better than none. This may be the excuse but it is far from being a justification; for the Dominion Act itself, specifically concedes the right or the Ontario Legislature to fix what fees it chooses, and of course in so doing concedes the right of the Legislature to pass the act which has been so arbitrarily disallowed. Read subsection 2 of the 7th section of the McCarthy act:

But hotel, saloon and shop licenses, and such other of the licenses by this Act authorized to be issued, as to which a provincial legislature may impose a tax in order to the raising of a revenue, shall be subject to the payment of such duty as the legislature of the province under the power conferred on it by the ninth enumerated class of subjects in section 92 of teh British North America Act 1867, may impose for the purpose of raising or in order to raise a revenue for provincial, local, or municipal purposes.

In accordance in particular with the provisions of this clause, and in accordance with the general principle of exclusive provincial jurisdiction in respect of shop, tavern and saloon licenses in order for the raising of a revenue, conferred by subsection 9 of section 92 of the Confederation Act, the Legislature of Ontario on March 24th passed an act with the following provisions contained therein:

1. The following license duties shall be payable upon and in respect of any of the licenses hereinafter mentioned which may be issued under and by virtue of the said Act of the parliament of Canada, namely: "The Liquor License Act of 1883," that is to say:

For each hotel or tavern, saloon or shop license in cities, the sum of....$300
For each hotel or tavern, saloon or shop license in towns, the sum of.....$250
For each hotel or tavern or shop license in an incorporated village, the sum of.....$100
For each hotel or tavern or shop license in townships, the sum of....$120
For each wholesale license within the authority of the Legislature of this Province.....$350
For each license for a vessel within the authority of the Legislature of this Province, the sum of.....$250
An additional duty of.....$ 20 shall be paid upon the transfer or renewal of any of the aforesaid licenses.

The above is substantially the Act which the Dominion Government has disallowed although it was enacted accordlng to the express permission of the Dominion Act.

The advising of the disallowance is simply an act of venomed spleen on the part of Sir John. His hostility towards Liberal Ontario has become proverbial. His defeat in the matter of the repeated disallowance of the Rivers and Streams bill has not improved his temper. The general failure of his machinations for the defeat of the Mowat Administration and the subsidiary of the province to fury this, has contributed to put the gallant knight in a rage and the disallowance of the act in question is the outcome. This act of spite is utterly without justification, and is an exemplary exhibition of the centralizing policy of the Federal government, which is doing all in its power to clip the privileges of the provinces of the powers conferred upon them by the British North America Act, and centralize all power at Ottawa, where the usurped as well as legitimate power will be exercised, with the most unblushing corruptness for the promotion of the schemes of the Tory party. The bond that unites the confederated provinces, will not always stand the strain to which Sir John and his party are subjecting it. There is a limit to the toleration of the provinces in the matter of disregarded and outraged rights.

A Dangerous Game.

In popular phraseology, the present seems to be a "cold day" for the Tory tacticians. The recent failures and crushing exposures that have befallen their attempts are, to say the least, discouraging. The only feeling, however, evoked is disappointment and disgust at being found out; there is no shame—no contrition. The Bribery Plot, with its object, the subversion of Reform rule in Ontario and the up-building of a Conservative Cabinet on the ruins, has turned out a blank failure. Sir John's bogus Licence Act has proved to be a delusion and a troublesome humbug. Sir John's efforts to degrade and harrass Ontario and promote the capture of it by his party, by means of arrogant "constitutional" dicta, have been relentlessly crushed, and still further humiliation in respect of his "constitutional" wisdom is in store for him. And, now, another element in the promotion of Tory schemes, which works the most quietly and, perhaps, the most successfully, in the long run, of any, has received a check that will put a damper on the practice. The work of Tory assessors, in fraudulently adding to the assessment roll persons who will make good Conservative votes at an election, will at least be more cautiously done in the future. One Craig, an ardent Tory assessor of the township of Camden, county of Middlesex, has got himself into trouble. He had put on the roll minors, hired men and parties who had no interest in property. In this way he added sixty names—enough to control the representation of almost any township in Ontario. During the Assizes this spring Mr. Craig was brought to trial in Chatham, and he was found guilty of the offence implied in the addition of bogus names. This is right; and this Mr. Craig is not the only Conservative assessor that would be worth watching and punishing.

Editorial Notes.

Hon. E. Blake contemplates a trip to the North-west this summer, accompanied by Mr. James Trow, M. P., and probably Mr. M. C. Cameron, M. P.

The Ontario Tory Opposition, hasn't within itself the "timber" for a new cabinet, so the next best thing they think is to buy or bribe themselves into control of the timber of Ontario,

The St. John New Brunswick Telegraph says:—Mr. Blake has not only fully justified the faith of his friends, but he has won the respect of his opponents, and to-day stands head and shoulders above any man in Canada in the respect and confidance of the people.

Mr. Thomas Hodgins, Q. C., who is in England working up additional evidence on the boundary dispute, has been going through the archives in Albemarle street. It is reported that he has found a number of documents in favor of the provincial view.

Now that the conspiracy trial has been postponed, Hon. Alex. Morris has so far recovered from his severe (?) attack of illness, as to be able to return to Toronto. Not unlike our own H. H., it may be presumed that he will have another when the term of the trial again draws near.

Still another snub for Sir John's usurpation License Act. The Quebec government has refused the money received by the Dominion officials for Federal licenses. The position occupied by Sir John in this matter now is a very humiliating one. There he stands, and none so mean to do his little Bill reverence.

Circulars have been issued to the officers and employees of the different systems, notifying them that on and after May 1, the Ontario & Quebec Railway, with its leased lines, the Credit Valley and Toronto Grey & Bruce, will be operated as the Ontario Division of the C. P. R., W. Whyte, Toronto, being general superintendent.

The petition against Geo. Guillet, conservative M. P. for West Northumberland, was heard Friday by Justice Cameron. Thomas Hinan admitted having given R. Beavnois $2, but swore it was an act of benevolence, R. Pringle bet John Parker $5 that he would not vote. It was contended that these were acts of bribery. Judgment was reserved until May 12ht at the Osgoode Hall.

Sir Charles Tupper has retired at last from the Dominion cabinet and will go into invalid retirement in the office of High Commissioner, occupying the "elegant corner mansion" that cost the country $50,000. The Mail, of course, on the occasion inundates the exminister with bucketsful of fulsome laudation, and other toadies are trying to get up a banquet to our calcimined High Commissioner.

OTONABEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. Ed. Reid of Otonabee, this spring keeps up his reputation for early seeding operations. He finished seeding on Friday, May, 2nd, ahead as is his custom, of the general run of farmers. He has put in 100 acres of spring grain in first class order. So early a finish for so large a crop is very creditable to his push and energy. Of course his land being high and naturally well drained is in his favour.

CARDIFF.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Seeding has started, and is well advanced in this settlement.

There are two families here with the scarlet fever. Samuel McFadden has lost two children with it, one on the 21st and the other the 25th ult. The afflicted parents have the sympathy of the settlement in their bereavement.

The River.

The river is falling nicely, and the possible danger from high water has been successfully overcome by the careful management, by Mr. T. D. Belcher, of the waters of our back lakes. It is said that some dams and works on a few of the other large rivers in the country, have suffered a considerable amount of damage, causing a great loss of property, but Mr. Belcher's careful attention to his duties has prevented anything similar taking place in the district under his supervision.

Mr. C. K. Riggins, Beamsville writes: "A customer who tried a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery says it is the best thing he ever used; to quote his his own words, "It just seemed to touch the spot affected." About a year ago he had an attack of bilious fever, and was afraid he was in for another, when I recommended this valuable medicine with such happy results."

You have only to examine the quality of Turnbull's Shirtings, Cottonades, Tablings, Linens, etc., to be convinced the prices are right. For reliable goods go to Turnbull's.

WESTWOOD AND VICINITY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

In becoming correspondent from this place we wish it to be distinctly understood that we will not pry into any family secrets, or raise the curtain in any scene that has the faintest moral right to privacy.

The spring has opened very auspiciously. During the winter grave fears were entertained that on account of the great depth of snow the land would remain wet longer than usual, but the fields have dried off very nicely, and already the farmers have made good progress with their spring work. The fall wheat in the majority of cases is reported all right; but very little of the latter has been sown in this vicinity of late years, the farmers turning their attention more to spring wheat.

The annual spring meeting of the Westwood Cheese Factory was held in this village on Wednesday, the 16th ult., when the following were appointed as officers for the year 1884:

PRESIDENT—T. Blezard, M.P.P., (re-appointed).

SECRETARY-TREASURER AND SALESMAN—J. Powell (re-appointed).

DIRECTORS—Messrs. Michael Welsh, John Cameron and John Fife.

The whey was purchased by Mr. Job Humphries, at the rate of 46 cents per standard. A large number of patrons from the east have joined this year, and we think that our factory is, with regard to the number of patrons, the largest in the East Riding.

Mr. Blezard, M.P.P., is now at home recuperating his mental powers, and to his Conservative friends betrays a very magnanimous spirit.

Like all communities, we have our joys and sorrows, our ups and downs, and that class of our citizens who worship at the shrine of John A., gave free expression to their joyful anticipation of the good time coming, when the late Registrar appointment was made, waxing eloquent in their cries of danger to our religious liberties, and trying to enforce on us the stern necessity of uniting the Grit and Tory for mutual protection. A few verdent ones were for a short time led to listen to their hypocritical whinings (for they were not one of them sincere in what they said), but the scandalous bribery plot, recently unearthed in Toronto, came on them like a thunder clap, and now they are clothed in sackcloth and ashes. Many an old political debt is now paid by informing a Mail devotee, in the most sympathetic tone, that you are very sorry that their much-adored editor is so near the door of the Penetentiary. All parties in this place (except a few who are dead to sense or reason, when politics is the theme,) unite in condemning the transaction as a foul, libellous slander on the fair name of our loved Ontario; and it behooves every lover of his Province to see that those villains get the severest penalty of the law. That any man, whom we had heretofore looked upon as a fellow citizen, should have the daring temerity to try to rob us of the true principles of responsible government—to try, by money, to pervert and turn aside the true voice of the people, should, and does, call the blush of shame to every true Canadian, and should this brawling brood of bribers (any one of them) ever show themselves here, their stay will be but a short one, and their exit very undignified.

OBITUARY.

Another of Canada's pioneers, one of those who came from that dear old land across the wave, has passed away. We refer to the death of Mr. Edward Wilson, who departed this life on the 3rd of April. Deceased was born in the year 1802, and came to this county in the year 1832, settling in the township of Dummer, from whence he removed to the township of North Easthope, in the county of Perth, in the year 1856. He was noted for his many Christian virtues, and was held in high respect by all those who were favored with his acquaintance. He leaves a wife and eight daughters to mourn his loss, among them, Mrs. Sargeant, of this village, to whom we tender our sympathy in her bereavement. One son, John, preceded his father many years ago to that land where there is no more death. Although many years have elapsed since he left us to reside in Perth, yet the friendships that he formed here were ever retained, and he made frequent visits back, when he was always received as a welcome guest, and those friends will hear with deep sorrow that their friend of yore has passed away. But our loss has been his gain, and may we live so that, when we shall pay the debt of nature, we may meet our old friend in that beautiful land, and enjoy a re-union of the friendships begun here on earth.

Dr. Wilson, a learned divine in the Anglican Church, is a nephew of the deceased.

At the last meeting of our Temperance Society the following persons were installed as officers:—

J. M. Cameron.....Master
J. McMillan.....D.M.
George Comstock.....Sec'y-Treas.
J. Wylie.....Chaplain
J. Sargent.....Lecturer

KEENE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Your Correspondent submits:

That the 24th will be a grand day in Keene.

That henceforth he will consider the Hastings' Star correspondence unworthy of notice in his correspondence.

That the wind on Friday had a demorlizing effect on some of the fences in this vicinity.

That he wonders if, in the Keene correspondance, for the Peterborough Times, the letters I. O. G. T., are the initials of "I Often Get Tight."

That he hears the Provincial Commissioners, have granted but two licenses for Keene.

That the good people of Allandale, having been successful in closing their only hotel, intend starting a lodge of Good Templars.

That the Grand Master of A. F. & A. M., of Canada, has consented to lay the corner stone of the new Presbyterian Church here, on the 24th of May.

That he would proffer the following items for the readers of THE EXAMINER:—

The rehearsal, held in the Town Hall by the Victoria Brass Band, on the evening of the 30th ult., was very successful, financially and otherwise. Don't fail to attend the next one, should the opportunity be granted. We won't, you may bet on that.

We only express the opinion of many of our townspeople, when we say that the ruinous condition of our wharf should be remedied and rendered more safe for the summer business. The wharf is in a disgraceful condition. Whose duty is it to fix this place? If it is yours, reader, see that you attend to it at once.

The price of muskrat skins has fallen and a corresponding change is noticeable on the lower jaw of some of the neighboring trappers. Keep your spirits up boys, for "frog time," approaches and even now we hear the croaking of these birds.

We notice an error in the Hastings correspondence to the Review, regarding the score made at the shooting match, held in that village recently, at which some of our boys competed. The score made by some of the individual members of the team being "hard to beat," at least we judge it to be so from such scanty knowledge of shooting-matches, as we possess. The real scores made by the members of the team we believe to be as follows:—

Captain, Birdsall.....17
Sergeant, McIntyre.....30
Sergeant, McFarlane.....30
Private, Wedlock.....36
Private, Miller.....36

Masonic and Orange Lodges here both meet on Thursday evening May 8th.

GOVERNMENT ROAD.

For some time past speculation has been rife regarding the route of the new road now being constructed by the Ontario Legislature. On Thursday last, Messrs. F. Elmhirst (Reeve of Burleigh,) W. Tucker and W. Kidd, (officially appointed,) with packs on back entered the primeval forest and were fortunate enough to select a good and level route, without a single obstruction. Starting from lot 38 on 12th concession the road proceeds by Captain Bridgewater's residence on lot 39 on 13th con. Eels Creek is to be spanned by a good and substantial bridge. The road then proceeds through a level tract of country joining the Burleigh road adjacent to Mr. Walter Kidd's, in the township of Cardiff. By this means the road to Apsley and Peterborough is much shortened and the bad hills on the old Burleigh road avoided. J. B. McWilliams, Esq., has been untiring in his exertions to have this road constructed and to him the public are much indebted. The traffic on this road will be something great in addition to which people in this section can more easily reach a railway at Haliburton.

LUMBERING.

Ullyott's drive of logs are passing down Eels Creek and are clear of the lake. We hear this will be his last season in this neighborhood, and we hope such is the case. When farmers turn their attention to stock raising and farming instead, of depending so much on lumbering, we may look for a more prosperous state of things.

WEATHER NOTES FOR APRIL.

Although the month came in cold and continued so up to the 18th, but continuing dry throughout, the month has, I believe, without exception, been one of the finest seeding times on record. Rain fell on 5 days but only to the depth of 50-100 of an inch, snow fell on 7 days and only to the depth of 1 inch and 5-10 of an inch. The lowest temperature was on the mornings of the 8th, 8th, 12th and 28th respectively, ranging 23 degrees. On the latter we had some snow, which, it is to be hoped, will be the last of the season. The highest temperature was on the 26th, at 4 o'clock, the thermometer standing at 78 degrees; the mean temperature of the month was 37.25-100 degrees, and our downfall of rain for the month was far below the average for April.

CROPS AND WORK.

Some time ago anxiety was felt regarding our fall wheat, owing to the frost at night and hot sun during the day, yet notwithstanding, a large amount has come out well; although some fields have been ploughed up, still we have seven-tenths of our wheat looking well. Farmers around here are mostly finished with their spring work, being from 10 to 12 days earlier than usual.

Since the Millinery opening several new shapes have come out (American styles,) Miss Irons has bought for Turnbull's show rooms, what she thought would be becoming. For choice Millinery go to Turnbull's.

Pure Bred Poultry!

The subscriber is now prepared to dispose of SETTINGS OF EGGS from the following varieties of Poultry:—Plymouth Rocks, Houdans, Black Spanish, White Leghorns, Buff Cochin, Silver Grey Dorkings, Silver Spangled Hamburgs, Pekin Ducks and Bronze Turkeys.

All the above varieties were either first or second prize birds at the fall and winter exhibitions. I have also added since the exhibitions some very fine birds of different varieties to my stock. Having bred the greater part of the varieties for three years, I think I know what suits the country.

Every pains has been taken to keep the stock pure, by keeping the birds in different yards, therefore the public can rely on a good article, either in Eggs or Chicks, second to none but in price, say and all of the above varieties being offered at $1.50 per 13, or 26 for $2.50, excepting the Ducks or Turkeys.

Any orders for eggs must be accompanied with the price. I would be glad to fill a large order, if required, with different kinds.

NOT NECESSARY NOWDAYS.

The bridal veil originated in the custom of performing the nuptial ceremony under a square piece of cloth, held over the bridegroom and the bride to conceal the blushes of the latter. At the marriage of a widow it was dispensed with.

What it Has Done.

MRS. GEORGE SIMPSON, Toronto, says: "I have suffered severely with corns, and was unable to get relief from treatment of any kind until I was recommended to try Holloway's Corn Cure. After applying it for a few days I was enabled to remove the corn, root and branch—no pain whatever, and no inconvenience in using it. I can heartily recommend it to all suffering from corns."

Mabel—True, I forgot they had to go near cows.

A Lawyer's Opinion of Interest to all.

J. A. Tawney, Esq., a leading attorney of Winona, Minn., writes: "After using it for more than three years, I take great pleasure in stating that I regard Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption as the best remedy in the world for Coughs and Colds. It has never failed to cure the most severe colds I have had, and invariably relieves the pain in the chest."

'Certainly,' replied the czarina, 'but what are you going to do?'

'I want to look out of the window to see what kind of a day it is.'

THE HAINES "Upright Pianos."

A few extracts from the numerous endorsements by the leading artists of the World as to their Superiority:—

The pianoforte of your make used at my last concert is the most admirable instrument I have ever seen. Please send to my address in London one of your Upright Pianos. This, I think, is the best endorsement of your instrument I can give you.—CHRISTINE NILSSON.

Neither in Europe or America have I seen an Upright to equal yours.—ELILKE GERSTER GARDINI.

In all the qualities an artist can require your Upright Pianos surpass anything I have ever seen.—SOFIA SCALCHI.

It is superior in quality of tone and evenness of action to any instrument I know of.—CLARA LOUISE KELLOGG.

Having had an opportunity of using your New Concert Upright Piano at the concerts given by Her Majesty's Opera Company, we beg to compliment you upon your great success. You can justly claim a superiority over any piano we have hitherto seen, for concert purposes and accompanying the voice.—ITALO CAMPANINI, ANTONIO GALASSI, ANNA DE PELOCCA, EMIL AMBRA.

The successful manner in which your Upright Piano has stood the severest tests, is such as heretofore has been applied to the Grand Piano only, and it commands our unqualified endorsement.—OLE BULL, EMMA THURSBY, ALFRED H. PEASE, MAURICE STRAKOSCH.

FACTS AND FANCIES.

HER.

What's the latest new fancy
That reigns in your heart?
Is it Alice or Lilly,
Or Fanny or Milly,
Or can it be Tilly—
Oh, why do you start?

In your wandering fancy
Who rules now supreme?
I remember when Lu
Sweetly cast upon you
From soft eyes deeply blue,
A radiant gleam.

But on your stray fancy
There dawned a new light,
When Hattie, the tall one—
Or was she the small one?
No matter, 'tis all one—
Appeared in your sight.

Now, do tell me the latest
New goddess, I pray!
Is she light, dark or brown?
Lives she up street or down?
In the country or town?
The real truth say!

HE.

You ask the last fancy
That glows in my heart.
If I give you true answer
Are you sure you'll not start,
And blush and look shy?
Are you wondering why?

'Tis true that my fancy
Has had a wide range,
But at last it is captured
Too surely to change;
Not by Alice or Lilly,
Or even sweet Milly.

This latest new fancy
That brightens my life,
Is the one I am true to
And mean to call wife.
Now Mollie—don't jest—
Let me tell you the rest.

My lifelong "last fancy"
Is sweetest and best;
She's so witching and winning
She gives life new zest,
She's brave and she's true,
She's—well, dear, she's you.

PRESBYTERIAN STIPENDS.

THE AUGMENTATION OF STIPENDS PRONOUNCED A THOROUGH SUCCESS

The Executive Committee on the augmentation of salaries of the Presbyterian Church in Canada met in Kingston on Tuesday and Wednesday. There were present:—Rev. Dr. Cochrane, of Brantford; Rev. D. J. Macdonnell, of Toronto; Rev. R. Campbell, of Renfrew, and Rev. R. H. Warden, of Montreal. The receipts of the year showed the scheme a complete success, and the committee resolved to pay immediately to all ministers the full amount aimed at by the General Assembly. The Presbyterian Church now stands on the fore-front in Canada as to the stipends of its ministers. More than the full amount asked from the Church has been received.

WHY HE STUMBLED.

A clergyman married a lady with whom he had received a substantial dowry of $10,000, and a fair prospect for more. Soon afterward, while occupying the pulpit, he gave out a hymn, read four stanzas and was reading the fifth,

Forever let my grateful heart
His boundless grace adore,

when he hesitated and exclaimed, "Ahem! the choir will omit the fifth verse," and sat down. The congregation, attracted by his apparent confusion, read the remaining lines:

Which gives ten thousand blessings now,
And bids me hope for more.

NEW MUMMY MINE.

The London Times says that Prof. Maspero, a French Egyptologist, has discovered at Edmeen the ancient Khemmis (the Panopolis of the Greeks), between Assioot and Thanes, an immense necropolis, which dates from the Ptolemaic period. Five catacombs so far have been opened, and yielded one hundred and twenty mummies. The sites of one hundred similar catacombs are still intact. It is believed that they contain as many as six thousand mummies. A large harvest of jewels and funereal treasures is expected.

CARE OF CHILDREN.

All babies and young children should have their frocks made high in the neck and with long sleeves during the cold part of the year. If short sleeves are allowed in summer they ought to come nearly to the elbow, as any cold or chill may be only too easily conveyed from the upper part of the arm to the chest, and children cannot be healthy and well unless they are thoroughly and comfortably protected against draughts and sudden changes of temperature.

FASHIONABLE GRIEF.

Miss Gushington (to young widow whose husband has left a large fortune): "That is the fourteenth mourning costume I have seen you wear in three days, and each lovelier and more becoming than the other." Young widow: "Oh! my dear, I have forty—but such a bother as they were to get them made! At one time I almost wished that poor George hadn't died!"

To assist nature most effectually in her efforts to throw off or resist serious disease it is essential that an impulse should be given to functions which growing ill health suspends or weakens, namely, the action of the bowels, bilious secretion and digestion. Oftentimes, though this is impracticable by the use of ordinary remedies it proves an easy task when Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure is resorted to.

VARIETIES.

"Lost the corset I long did know,
Many years I had it, you know;
Whalens the name on the tablet or tongue,
I cured the same with Downs' Elixir.

Thousands of affidavits prove,
That it doth man's life preserve,
Coughs and colds, and whooping cough
By its power soon are off."

Brought as a lamb to the slaughter—Last year's sheep.

There is nothing equal to Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator for distroying worms. No article of its kind has given such satisfaction.

It seems queer, but it is true, that the stuff that makes a man tight frequently loosens his tongue.

If you are bilious or have indigestion, sick headache or dizziness, try Baxter's Mandrake Bitters, used instead of pills; they cure constipation. Price 25c. per bottle. For sale by all druggists. 8-tf

A fox hound which had been brought to Halifax in a close car from a town 150 miles distant, recently disappeared, and two days afterwards his arrival at his old home was reported.

The new imperial palace at Strasburg is to be completed in three years, at a cost of $1,250,000. It seems a preposterous piece of extravagance, as the Emperor has a dozen palaces already.

A Painful Occurrence.

Some of the most painful sufferings that afflict mortals occur from rheumatism. Either the acute or chronic form may be eradicated from the blood by an early use of the grand purifying system renovator, Burdock Blood Bitters. 19-2t

A minister hearing a boy saying, "Bother the mosquitoes," reproved him, saying that, like all other creatures, they were doubtless made for some good end. "That may be," said the boy, "but I don't like the end at any rate."

—The reason why "Nonsuch Washing Compound" should be used in preference to all other washing preparations. First; It is perfectly harmless. Second; It saves more than half the labour. Third; It is the cheapest in the market. Many more could be given but this should be sufficient. For sale by all grocers. 49-52t

"Doctor," said the grateful patient, seizing the physician's hand, "I shall never forget that to you I owe my life." "You exaggerate," said the doctor mildly; "you only owe me for fifteen visits; that is the point which I hope you will not fail to remember."

A Wide Range Of Usefulness.

The great household remedy so popular among the people—Hagyard's Yellow Oil—is alike valuable for external and internal use, curing rheumatism, colds, sore throat, croup, frostbites, burns, bruises, and all lameness and soreness of the flesh. 2t

"If I catch that man in the house again I'll kick him out," said an angry father to his daughter. "But, pa," said the latter sticking up for her lover. "I don't see what you have against him." "I have nothing," replied her stern parent; "but I know a saloon keeper whose slate has over $5 against him."

A Bad Infirmity.

The loss of the sense of hearing is both annoying and dangerous. Those suffering from deafness should try Hagyard's Yellow Oil according to directions. This invaluable household remedy cured John Clark, of Millbridge, Ontario, restoring his hearing in one week. 19-2t

A Detroit woman wants a divorce because her husband, she has discovered, lied to her before he married her. He told her that he owned a horse and wagon, and possessed neither. But he claims that he told her the truth, inasmuch as he owned a sawhorse and a dog, and the latter's tail had a wag-on.

A Victim of Misplaced Confidence.

The individual who places trust in many of the claims of advertised remedies is often sadly disappointed, but the array of facts regarding the honest virtues of Burdock Blood Bitters are indisputable. It positively cures diseases of the blood, liver and kidneys. Investigate the proofs and testimonials. 19-2t

"Talk about your charitable women," said a Washington avenue man, "why, my wife is so charitable that she gives tramps all the clothes I don't happen to be wearing, and I firmly believe that if female tramp would call on her and ask for a husband, she would give me away.

John R. Vert, Hamilton, says: "McGregor's Speedy Cure for Dyspepsia and Indigestion is cheap at fifty times the price asked for it. I am a commercial man, and travel continually, and would no more think of leaving home without a bottle of McGregor's Speedy Cure in my valise than I would of leaving my team at home and going on foot." Free trial bottles at J. McKee's Drug Store. Regular Size, 50 cents and one dollar. 19-2t

The Austrian Government has prohibited the cities of Trent and Trieste, the inhabitants of which speak Italian, from sending any contributions to the Turin Exposition, with the single exception of electric machines, this branch of exhibits being of an international character, while the rest are Italian.

Spring Cleaning.

Every good housewife will renovate the entire house at least every Spring and Fall. Our systems often need renovating also, and there is nothing better to make pure blood and cleanse and regulate all the secretions than Burdock Blood Bitters, preventing diseases incidental to the season's changes. 19-2t

The mistress of a house in the city said to a young servant girl fresh from the country: "Maria, go see if Mr. Scott, the pork butcher, has pig's feet." The servant girl departed and returned a few minutes later. "Please, ma'am, I don't know; I couldn't see." "But what did you say?" "I didn't say anything. I looked at Mr. Scott—he had boots on."

WHAT THEY AGREED TO GIVE UP.

A poor woman in the village had lost her husband, and had nothing left to live upon, and five children.

All the little Harpers were very sorry when they heard their mother's tale.

"How can we help?" said Janie, the eldest, "We've no money at all."

Mrs. Harper smiled and said, "No, you have no money, but if you would like to give up some of your pleasures, you could earn some."

"How, mother?"

"You might give up having sugar in your tea, for one thing."

"But it's so nasty without, mother."

"Well, perhaps you can think of something else. All of you go in the garden for half an hour, and come and tell what you fix upon."

Off ran Janie and Harry and Sybil and was Johnnie, hand in hand, and walked solemnly round the garden for just half an hour. When the clock struck twelve, they ran in again, helter-skelter.

"Well," said the mother.

Janie spoke:

"We've thought of everything all round, mother, and if you please, we should like to give up our lessons!"

But that mother could not agree to.

Dear Sirs,—For over twenty years I have suffered greatly from Nasal Catarrh sometimes being unable to smell or taste properly. The disease caused a severe pain over the eyes, and frequently stopped my writing on account of dizziness. The phlegm in my throat gave me much annoyance, especially in company, balls of which would occasionally fall down into my throat, and I could seldom breathe through my nose. I have taken quarts of various medicines without any apparent benefit, until I was induced, by your agent of 89 Muter street, to try your Fountain of Health. After using five bottles I am prepared to give it as my honest opinion that for the cure of Catarrh it a grand success. I have recommended it to many of my friends, one of whom encloses his testimonial with mine.

Wishing you deserved success,
I am gratefully yours,
JOSEPH BROWN,
Bookkeeper, 25, Sherborne street,

A white squall caught a party of tourists moving across the lake to Scotland and threatened to capsize the boat. When it seemed that the crisis was really come, the largest and physically strongest of the party, in a state of intense fear, said; "Let us pray." "No, no, my man," shouted the bluff boatman, "let that little man pray; you take an oar.

"Got any caramels?" said a customer, addressing the clerk behind the counter of an Oshkosh candy store. "Got any that will stick to the roof of the mouth and won't come off?" MANHOOD
HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED.

We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediment to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.
Price in sealed envelope, only 6c. or two postage stamps.
The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from thirty years' successful practice, that alarming consequences may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicines or the use of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land
Address,
The Culverwell Medical Co.,
41 Ann St., New York
Post Office Box 450. 1-52ins

CONFIDENTIAL.
Thousands of young Men and Women—married and single—through the effects of vicious youthful habits, or excessive indulgence in later years, have so undermined their general systems as to induce almost every other disease, and the real cause of these troubles being scarcely ever suspected, they are drugged and doctored for everything but the right one. The ordinary modes of treating troubles of this nature do no good. The Jerubebem Combinatoin Remedy is offered as A Speedy and Certain Cure, as hundreds afflicted with every form of disease have been restored to complete health by its use, after all other remedies failed. This remedy is adapted to every condition of nervous debility and weakness in either sex, but especially in cases arising from imprudence. Its recuperative powers are truly astonishing, and its continued use for a short time changes the languid, debilitated condition, to one of renewed life and vigor.
Forwarded to any address, on receipt of Price. $2 per package—sufficient for one month's treatment.
M. FINDLAY & CO. Sole Agent.

A Fine Coach Horse.

Messrs. R. & W. Bothwell, in pursuance of the enterprising policy that has marked their stock breeding operations, have purchased from Mr. Kilblair of Orillia that superior entire coach horse, "Young Pilot." Height 17 hands, weight 1580 pounds. This animal will be available for service in this section, and presents a good opportunity for parties wishing to improve their stock.

Spring Seeding.

By the end of this present week the farmers throughout the county will have completed their seeding operations—a date fully ten days earlier than that on which the same work was finished last year. The dry April has been exceedingly favorable to seeding, while neither the fall wheat nor the meadows, both of which look to be in excellent form, have been injuriously affected by lack of rain.

O. & Q. Railway.

On Monday afternoon Mr. Hugh Ryan, Superintendent of construction of this road, drove the last spike, near Agincourt, east of Toronto, thus connecting the rails and finishing the track-laying for the Ontario branch of the Pacific Railway. Ballasting is going forward rapidly, the telegraph poles are placed for about ten miles west of Peterborough, and it will not be long before the road will be ready for traffic.

New Watering Wagon.

Messrs. Fitzgerald & Stanger have been awarded the contract of building the new town watering cart. The tank will be of the oval form, mounted on four wheels. The tank is seven feet and a half in diameter, and in height three feet three inches. The wheels will be solidly built, and with three-inch tires. The use of springs will prevent the terrible shaking which results in the present old tub, now in use, being so often at the blacksmith shop for repairs. The price is to be $270, and the work is in the right hands to insure a first-class job being made of it.

Another Sad Death.

On Thursday last, less than a fortnight after the death of the elder daughter of Mr. Thos. Edmison, Communication Line, death again visited the bereaved home and called away the younger and only remaining daughter, Laura, at the age of 23 years. Such a severe affliction following so rapidly in the steps of the first, is a grievous blow to Mr. Edmison and his family, and they have, in their hour of terrible trial, the most earnest sympathy of their wide circle of friends. The funeral, which took place on Saturday was very largely attended.

Our New Watchmaker, Mr. Hughan, comes well recommended, and we are sure any work entrusted to him will be done in good style. Office lately occupied by Elias Burnham, Simcoe Steet. 18-tf

Farmers and Horse-Owners, Attention.

The American Horse Powder has proved its just claim to a place in the front rank of Condition Powders. As a food and general medicine for Horses and Cattle its merits are unexcelled. For sale at the City Pharmacy, George street, Peterborough. J. D. TULLY, Chemist and Druggist. 16-tf

Lacrosse.

The local lacrosse club is diligently endeavoring to get a match for the 24th of May, but there doesn't seem to be a very brisk desire on the part of other clubs, to respond to their challenge. This reluctance, perhaps explains a paragraph in the Toronto Mail, in which it is announced that the Peterborough Lacrosse Club is open for challenges.

Special Notice to the Public.

W. Fairweather & Co. desire to inform their friends and the public that they have secured an Auctioneer's License for the town of Peterborough, and rented the large and spacious premises next door to Rush & Elliott's, where they will carry on the business of Trade Auctioneers, Valuators, Commission Merchants, Manufacturers' Agents, and dealers in Bankrupt Stock and Estates, Household Furniture, and Real Estate. An efficient staff of experienced hands always kept, and prompt settlements made. W. Fairweather & Co., Auctioneers and Valuators.

The Cemetery Fountain.

The directors of Little Lake Cemetery, have selected the style of fountain to be placed in front of the entrance gates. The fountain has been ordered through Mr. Adam Hall of the Giant T., from the Hamilton Ornamental Iron and Zinc Works. The design is a beautiful one, consisting of a basin ten feet in diameter with foliated rim. From this rises an ornate standard on which rests a richly ornamented pan. The finial of the fountain is a heron with uplifted beak, from which the jet issues. The fountain will be about twelve feet in height and add greatly to the beauty of our beautiful "God's Acre."

A Splendid Chance.

It will be seen by an advertisement in another column that Mr. D. W Dumble offers for sale a number of Building Lots in various parts of the town on ten years credit. No money down, interest only to be paid for first five years, and thereafter yearly instalments with the right to pay at any time as may suit the convenience of the purchaser. This offer enables a poor man to use his money in erecting a building, and so he gets rid of rent, and secures a home for himself. Building will be cheap this year and no doubt many will take advantage of this very liberal offer. Besides lots in town, Mr. Dumble offers a number of lots in Ashburnham, and several park lots on the same terms. Call at his office and see plans, &c. 12-tf

Wrought Iron Stoves.

Mr. Adam Hall, otherwise the "Giant T." is working up a good solid trade in his, now, celebrated wrought iron stoves and ranges, so excellent a speciality of the establishment; and such invariable satisfaction have they given, that the demand for them is constantly increasing, as many as one hundred of the smaller size, and twenty of the larger size,—10-pot ranges—being made to order annually. On Friday there was shipped for the commissariat department of Longford Mills, Orillia, a large ten-hole range with copper, and the week before a similar one was sent to the Orillia House hotel, Orillia. These ranges are well made, durable, and excellently adapted to hotel kitchens, or large boarding houses, such as those connected with large lumber camps, etc., etc.,

A Nice Piece of Work.

We have before us a nice piece of work in a double sense. It is an advertising card issued by G. W. Hall, proprietor of Hall's Biscuit Works, and shews that the enterprising proprietor is fully alive to the importance of a liberal use of printer's ink. The mechanical work of the card, a beautiful specimen of lithographic printing, executed by Rolph, Smith & Co., Toronto, is excellent. The other sense in which it is a "nice piece of work" is the super-sublimed quintessence of cheek, shown by the Peterborough Review Printing and Publishing Company (Limited)—except in the matter of cheek,—in printing a black line over the imprint of Rolph, Smith & Co., and putting the Review's imprint on a card, printed in Toronto, and endeavouring to palm off on the public, as its own work a job of printing beyond the capabilities of their establishment. If another printing establishment had been guilty of so scurvy and disreputable a trade truck, the Review would have been the first to shriek out after its usual high literary style, "forgery" and a dozen kindred delicate samples of journalistic billingsgate:

Who steals our purse steals trash • • •
But he that blotteth out our lawful imprint
And sets his own in bigger type beneath,
Robs us of all the credit of a goodly job
And getteth praise thereby, by false pretenses.

By express this week, at Turnbull's. 24 Call Sixes, to trim that favorite dolman his namesake customers are turning out.

Cricket.

There was a large number at the meeting of the cricket club held on Tuesday evening. A committee consisting of Messrs. Cooper, Hattoe, Stratton, Peck and Morris, was formed to arrange with the Bowling Club for the celebration of Dominion Day. Arrangements were also initiated for holding an 'Annual Dinner,' and a committee appointed to look after the matter of purchasing new grounds for the club. A match will likely be played with Lindsay on the 24th.

A Boom in Bargains.

Now that the season is on us when, in the natural course of business, money is scarce, the public will be pleased to know how to spend their cash to the best advantage—how to secure the best value for their money. Messrs. Fairweather & Co.'s "Big Sale" presents a rare good chance for securing unheard-of-before bargains. The stock of this firm is exceedingly extensive and of first-class quality, and as this sale is a genuine one, the present prices may not be expected to continue, and the stock offered at such low prices cannot be replaced. Therefore the public should be prompt to take advantage of the unusually splendid inducements offered. As a special inducement, there are offered for the low sum of 25 cents, desirable parcels containing a dozen different articles, viz: 1 pair cotton hose, 2 pairs children's gloves, 2 dozen dress buttons, one dress buckle, 3 spools, box of collars, and two pocket handkerchiefs. This is a sample of how the goods are sacrificed for the benefit of the public. In addition, special bargains are offered in carpets, house furnishings, dress goods, millinery and mantles, and clothing. Don't neglect to call and see the beautiful stock and the fabulously low prices at which it is offered. You will make money by so doing.

A Double "Bar."

The Lindsay Post gives the following handsome "bar" to two firms in Peterborough. In reference to Mr. Belleghem, it shows that when our neighbors want something really first-class they overcome their jealousy of this thrifty town, consult their own interest and come to Peterborough for it. The Post under the heading, a "Handsome Bar," says:

"The work of fitting up the rejuvenated Daly house is progressing rapidly and a couple of weeks will see the hotel out of the contractor's hands. On Tuesday the counter and fittings of the bar were placed in the room by the maker, Mr. D. Belleghem, the well-known furniture manufacturer of Peterboro'. The bar counter is twenty feet in length, of walnut, with handsome panels of fancy woods, bordered with suitable mouldings, the whole touched up with gold. Back of the counter is the bar, and exceedingly handsome piece of work. The design has been chosen with excellent judgment, and the artist in wood has turned out a work alike creditable to the builders and to the enterprise of the proprietors in ordering such a piece of furniture. Two immense mirrors crown the whole structure, surrounded by a chaste framing of rich woods. The effect of the whole is strikingly handsome and it is a question if any hotel in the Midland district can show as handsome a bar. The most complete conveniences for handling ales and liquors are included in the fittings, and the method of racking bottled goods behind the bar is novel and convenient. Mr. Belleghem has certainly sent a most excellent specimen of his work which will bear evidence of the skill and capacity of his shops to execute work in a thoroughly first-class manner. The Daly house, when finished will be fitted up thoroughout in a style quite as handsome as the bar now appears."

Prime Pumps.

The other day we had the pleasure of seeing in operation one of Mr. H. Owens' lift and force pumps combined. As a lift pump it has a strong stroke and throws a large stream. To show how quickly it is convertible into a force pump, a simple device fastened the hose to the spout in a very few seconds and the application of the handle threw a large stream of water through a long turn of hose, clean over the roof of the factory, forty feet high, into the street beyond. This pump, while being the very best of lift pumps makes a most effective force pump, adapted to the various uses to which such a pump is usually devoted. One advantage is that the detachable packing is used only when in use as a force pump, and thus saves the wear of constant use as a lift pump. This packing also prevents freezing and being adjustable lasts much longer than that of any other kind of pump. This pump has many other points of advantage. The air case is of zinc and placed inside the stock. The arrangement of the bearings gives the least possible strain. In all respects this pump is a most excellent one. It combines the observation and experience of Mr. Owens for seventeen years, and with all its improvements and excellence, it is as cheap as the ordinary pumps made by him years ago and cheaper than those made by others at the same time. A brief notice like this cannot convey an idea of the excellence of this pump and any person needing a thoroughly first class pump should not fail to call and see Mr. Owens' Patent Model Pump in operation. The question of what pump to buy will at once be settled.

The O. & Q. patronizes the Water Works. Pipes have been laid connecting the George street mains with the 1,200-barrel railway tank near Aylmer street. An apparent attempt was made to burn the old market building on Friday night. A bit of paper was thrust into the crack at the bottom of the western doors, but the "fire fiend" did not think the "game worth the candle," and declined to devour the classic pile, or what is more probable, the party to the hoax saw the paper burn out beyond danger before he left the spot.

Twenty years later —1883—the total expenditures were $113,801.69, and the receipts were $113,-891.22, leaving the bare surplus of $13.22. A PITHY EPISTLE!

We have received the following letter which we take pleasure in publishing:—

T. DOLAN & Co.

Dear Sirs,—A week or two since I purchased one of your spring suits, and thought I was doing the proper thing. I regret to say that the suit has turned out a failure—a deplorable failure. You warranted it as strong and serviceable and not to lose its shape soon. Well sirs, last night as I was getting home from the lodge about—well about—well I should say a trifle after ten, a friend whom I met near Mason's grocery, said I looked as if I was a trifle under the weather. This morning I examined my suit, and blessed if I'd know myself rigged out in it. The thing's collapsed, I call on you to make good the damage to my character and appearance, or I shall publish you.

Yours expectantly,

JOHN PLUNDERSKOFF.

To which we reply:—

OUR DEAR JOHN,—Yours to hand and contents noted—with grief, mortification and abashment of spirit. Also with a certain amount of commiseration. Your letter, John, dear boy, does not give us all the facts—you're keeping something back.

Always be honest John. What lodge were you at? Did you take an active part in the exercises? Were you "riding the goat," John, and did that mythical animal subject you to much diversion? Are you quite sure that you did not linger anywhere on the way home after adjournment? Things often look different after lodge night, and this may be one of the occasions. Was there any mud on your suit this morning? Have you a vivid recollection of trying to unlock your front door with a suspender buckle? You haven't!

Take it all back John. Don't let your letter go to protest. You have allowed your imagination to wander, and you've been in a burst of philanthrophy, trying to wipe the sidewalk clean with your coat.

In the meantime, undeterred by the melancholy fate of your suit, John, we shall sell others—but won't guarantee them for "lodge" nights.

3rd.—It secures an increase in profits from year to year, and equitable share to each kind of policy.

ANNUAL MEETING.

Report of Directors—The Agreement with the Grand Trunk Railway—Vote of Thanks—Mr. Cox Cordially Complimented—Mr. Joseph Hickson President and General Manager.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Midland Railway Company was held in the Board Room in Peterborough, on Thursday, May 8th. The following gentlemen were present:—Messrs. George A. Cox, President, in the chair; W. Gooderham, Vice-President; H. P. Dwight and R. Jaffray, Toronto; T. Kelso and John Bell, Q.C., Bellville; J. M. Ferris, M.P. P., Campbellford; F. W. Henshaw, Montreal; J. R. Dundas, M.P., and Hugh O'Leary, Lindsay; E. S. Vinden, Port Hope; W. Clarkton, Peterborough; A. White, Traffic Manager; W. Reid, Secretary, and J. D. Barnett, Mechanical Superintendent.

Mr. Cox presented the REPORT OF THE DIRECTORS,

as below:—

To the Proprietors of the Midland Railway of Canada:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Directors in submitting their report for the year ending 31st December, 1883, with the customary accounts and auditors' certificates attached thereto, have again the pleasure of reporting an increase of $39,244.49 over the earnings of the previous year, and this amount would have been very largely increased if the Company had been in a position to handle the traffic offering; but the exceptionally severe weather experienced during the months of January, February and March, seriously interrupted business during that time, and directly and indirectly affected the earnings of the year to the extent of not less than $150,000.

The benefits accruing from the construction of the new lines connecting the Nipissing, Whitby and Midland divisions were not fully realised until much later in the year than was at first anticipated, in consequence of the failure of the contractors to complete their work within the time agreed upon.

It was also necessary to employ a considerable proportion of the Company's rolling stock for some months in the ballasting and completion of these works, and the change of guage on the Nipissing division, that would otherwise have been employed in the movement of traffic, which had to be held over from inability to move it.

The increase that we are able to report, in the face of these and other untoward circumstances, now happily at an end, affords every reason to hope that the largely increased earnings and more economical working, which it was expected would result from the union of the various lines now forming the Midland system, will be very fully realized.

The gross earnings for the year were $1,108,729.92, as against $1,067,485.43 for the previous year. The working expenses for the same period were $713,940.39, or 64.44 per cent. on the gross receipts.

The net revenue for the period under review was $393,569.53 and has been appropriated as per net revenue statement, number 3, submitted herewith.

The very gratifying increase of $114,741.32 in the passenger receipts alone, as compared with the year previous to consolidation, very clearly indicates the more satisfactory service rendered by the consolidated Company, as well as the rapid development of the country that it serves.

It will be observed by reference to the report of the Chief Engineer, that while fully maintaining the line in an efficient state of repair, out of revenue, that five miles of new siding accommodation, one new engine house, four new stations and four trackmen's dwelling houses, have been added to the property during the year. It will also be seen by reference to the Mechanical Superintendent's report, that very considerable additions of new rolling stock have been added to the equipment of the Company—in short, a great deal has been done during the year in providing better facilities for the proper movement of the constantly increasing traffic of the line.

The agreement entered into with the Grand Trunk Railway Company, on the 22nd day of September, 1883, and ratified by a Special General Meeting of the Shareholders, on the 11th of December, was the natural outcome of the consolidation of the various lines now forming the Midland system, and is unmistakably in the interest, not only of both contracting parties, but of the entire community served by the consolidated lines.
